WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 6, 1895.

THE CALL SPEAKS FOR ALL.

All is Republican.

Prepare for Thanksgiving.

The revival is everywhere.

It is our Maryland this morning.

Grover was wise—he went to bed early.

The convention proposition is something that everybody can subscribe to.

Put your money in the convention fund, and the whole Nation will hear it talk.

Perhaps it was the Junta that made up its mind to retire from practical politics.

It will be a surprise party for Pittsburg, but she can come in and enjoy the frolic.

Even if there is enough of Democracy left to feed there is no ground for planting it.

Mr. Manly may live in Maine, but he is a good enough Western man for this issue.

Now in the School Department we have two heads—are they really better than one?

Tammany managed to get in a heavy swat on the beautiful cause of purity and reform.

New York might as well make a public holiday of the Marlborough wedding and be done with it.

Democracy once more shows Buckley's face upon its wrinkled front and acts as if it wants to kick.

Cleveland was wise in issuing his Thanksgiving proclamation before he heard from the elections.

Another trial of Durrant could hardly make matters worse for him, but it would be a hard trial for the people.

The new French Cabinet is evidently full of chestnuts; it promises a programme of economy and reform.

The strike on the Great Northern is on, but it is getting to be mighty cold weather up there for the boys to walk out in.

Cleveland has a splendid chance to illumine his message by asserting the Monroe doctrine in a few lucid words.

It appears the decent elements of the City will have all the work of downing Buckley to do over again, but they can do it.

There may be some truth in the story that the Spaniards fear we will recognize Cuba, for they do not know Cleveland as well as we do.

A trip across the continent will be a kind of higher education to the Easterners, but we must first educate them up to the point of taking it.

It is useless to ask it, of course, but it would not be just as well in the interest of American girls to have the Vanderbilt and Marlborough affair hushed up?

There are a good many Democrats who would like Cleveland to publish his message as a serial, and start out with the installment on the third term at once.

Van Alen is one member of the Four Hundred who can be absent from the crush at the grand matrimonial alliance without anybody asking the reason why.

Somehow the discussion over the appointment to the vacancy on the Supreme Bench has got lost in the air, but the bench is still there with lots of eyes on it.

In all the racket about Venezuela it is worth noting that we have never heard whether British Guiana took Chamberlain's advice and bought those Maxim guns.

Supervisor King may be right in saying he once went to school to the late Superintendent Moulder, but it is evident he would have profited more if he had gone twice.

Now that the campaign in Cuba has become aggressive we shall hear of battles nearly every day, and if you wish to keep posted on victories you must get a tally-card and watch the score.

There was a time when every community with water-power was satisfied, but now every such community is trying to convert the power into electricity in order to keep up with the world.

Now that it has been determined to pave the northern end of Van Ness avenue it is to be hoped the improvement will be carried forward as rapidly as is consistent with good work.

When the avenue is thus completed we can then look forward to the beginning of a boulevard running westward from it to the Presidio and so round to the Cliff House that will be one of the finest driveways in the world.

Commenting on the statement of the New York Sun that the Republican National Convention should be held either in that city or in this, and that Chicago is not worth noticing as a claimant, the Inter-Ocean says: "San Francisco will scarcely regard it as a compliment in being cast in company with New York. She has some claims which Republicans will consider, while New York has scarcely been thought of by anybody." The dispute is becoming altogether lovely. A few more of these amenities and the convention is ours.

THE ELECTIONS.

The State elections in the East have resulted in a series of Republican victories equal to the expectations of the most sanguine.

Even in those States where local issues were more vital to the campaign than National questions the results are equally reassuring.

It is not easy to estimate at this time the far-reaching consequences likely to result from the election.

NOV FOR HARD WORK.

The plan of campaign decided upon at the mass-meeting held in this City Monday to work for the holding of the Republican National Convention here includes a general committee of fifteen, which shall have the general management of the fight;

The plan is thus made entirely non-political. It is a people's movement, organized and carried out as a measure for the public good.

The campaign now begun will prove a perfect test of the temper of the individuals and of the people at large.

The matter is wholly different from any that has ever been presented to the people before.

The committee having the work actually in hand will rest under the most serious obligation that has ever fallen upon public committees charged with efforts for the public good.

GRAND JURY RECOMMENDATIONS.

The present Grand Jury is displaying an uncommon amount of hard common-sense.

It seems strange that the Supervisors have not passed an adequate pool-selling ordinance before this, as it has been several weeks since the decision declaring the present ordinance inadequate was rendered.

The proposed amendment requiring the Street Superintendent to accept no work which does not conform to the specifications is another of these confessions that we are unable to elect public officers who will do their duty in the absence of exceedingly strict specific regulations to govern them.

The other recommendation, that inspectors of public improvements made at the expense of private property-owners be appointed by the owners themselves, in-

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

From the Editor of the San Francisco Call—Sir: The statements in the newspapers that would serve to express their indignation in his innocence.

ENGLAND IS ENERGETIC.

With that bold conception and prompt execution of design which have made England mistress of the seas a British steamship line has been established which means more to the United States, and particularly to California, than any other commercial enterprise of recent times.

If this does not mean that the American merchant marine will be driven out of the Oriental trade we have no proper conception of the situation.

It does not seem credible at a glance that the new company can operate its line at a profit, judging from the rates exacted from trans-Pacific lines.

THE "CALL" THANKS.

To the Editor of the San Francisco Call—Sir: I thank you for the very kind notice of the services rendered by me in connection with the monument was a success and was ably reported in your paper to the entire satisfaction of a very large proportion of the people of this city and State.

A BRITISH VIEW OF BOWLER.

Comptroller Bowler, whose presumptuous refusal to pay the sugar bounties appropriated by Congress has made him so notorious in this country as a small-sized imitation of Cleveland, has won the satisfaction of knowing that the fame or at least the name of him has reached England.

ROUND VALLEY VENDETTA.

We reproduce below an article from the Humboldt Times, which contains the exclusive information that the Dispatch has been retained to defend George E. White from the infernal aspersions of a malignant and perjured press.

PERSONAL.

Dr. W. E. Osborne and wife of Eldridge, Cal., are at the Grand Hotel.

Edward M. Greenway will leave New York for San Francisco next Saturday.

F. A. Euel, a prominent lumber-dealer of the Stockton, is registered at the Grand Hotel.

Among the arrivals at the Lick House yesterday was J. B. Peakes, the popular hotel man of Stockton.

O. V. Eaton, manager of the Stanford football team, is in town and registered at the Palace Hotel.

E. W. Runyon, the Red Bluff banker, was among the guests registered at the Palace Hotel yesterday.

F. A. West of Stockton, one of the most prominent vice merchants of that city, is at the Occidental.

R. C. Walrath, the well-known mining man of Nevada City, arrived in this City yesterday and put up at the Lick House.

W. W. Stow in mining in Nevada City.

NEGOTIATIONS PENDING.

The Marysville Appeal says that the story from THE CALL to the effect that the Glenn ranch has been sold to the railroad is denied by F. G. Lusk, the attorney who has charge of the estate.

ONE CONVICTION ENOUGH.

What is the use of trying Durrant for the murder of Minnie Williams? He can only hang once, no matter how many murders he has committed.

A SUPERFLUOUS MURDER.

It were merely his purpose to be hanged Durrant must see by this time that two murders were superfluous.

ANOTHER FIZZLE FOR FARMERS.

The most serious complaint of the potato-grower this year is the low price of the product, particularly in the Northwest.

HORSESHOES—W., Los Angeles. John Aubrey, the English antiquary, says that most of the houses in the west end of London were protected against winter winds and storms in the seventeenth century by having horseshoes fastened to the house in various ways.

LETTERS—M. K. A. City. An employer is not bound to deliver letters left at his office for employees to such employees as soon as they are received.

A HUSBAND'S RIGHT—Oak Bluff. The law of California says that the husband has the management and control of the community property with the absolute power of disposal.

WAGES—M. K. A. City. The question of wages, as mentioned in your communication, is one of contract between the employer and the employee, and is one that cannot be answered without a full knowledge of the facts.

CONFIDENCE MISPLACED. "Well, I'm rather puzzled—does your husband drink?" "Drink! Why, no, doctor. I'm sure he doesn't drink, because he's always so thirsty in the morning."

HUNTINGTON'S GRIDIRON. Collins P. Huntington, president of the Southern Pacific Railroad, has stirred up a hornet's nest of contradiction and assertion over his recent answers to the editor of the San Francisco Call in regard to the Government's coming action toward the Central Pacific Railroad.

THE DURRANT JURY. San Francisco has at last had a jury that contained the confidence of the people when it was impaneled, that retains the respect of the people now that it is discharged.

TWO MEN FOR GOVERNOR. It's going to be a close race between Billy Barnes and Milk Inspektor Dockery for the governorship in 1896.

WELL WORN TRAILS. Lying within the fog belt on the west side of the Coast Range, never further than twenty miles from the coast, the giant redwoods breast the gales of the Pacific as though in the shelter of their even more gigantic brethren, the Sequoia Gigantea, who choose the warm breezes and genial sunshine of the western foothills in the interior.

FROM WESTERN SANCTUARY.

There is something in the atmosphere of this free Western world that makes men aspire; there are possibilities that never enter into the lives of the average Englishman, that kindle their courage and determination, and that lead them to fix their eyes upon the higher places of trust among the people, from which no lowliness of birth or poverty can debar them if they have that within them which makes men.

OUR CONVENTION WILL CURE ALL THAT.

Western people, particularly those on the Pacific Slope, think nothing of going East over to the Atlantic, but ninety-nine out of a hundred of Eastern people approached on the matter of paying this coast a visit think they "will hardly ever go that far."

NEWSPAPERS SHOULD STAND ON THEIR MERITS.

When a newspaper is compelled to resort to the device of offering baby carriages, fishing tackle, and other articles, it is a sign that the people to subscribe for it, there is something radically wrong with its contents.

A FLOWER ON DEMPSEY'S GRAVE.

Poor Jack Dempsey didn't pretend to anything he was not. Pugilism was his trade; he honestly strove to excel in it, and never struck a blow in his life. The man was better than his trade.
