

THE LATE NEWS OF SAN JOSE.

Clinton, the Absconding Contractor, in San Francisco.

FROM BRITISH COLUMBIA He Was Recognized on the Steamer and Kept His Stateroom.

THIEVING OF AN EX-CONVICT.

Nick Josich Invokes the Courts to Reinstating Him in a Society.

SAN JOSE, CAL., Jan. 22.—Mendoza Clinton, the contractor who absconded two months ago with several thousand dollars belonging to sub-contractors for work on the Jacks building on North Market street, reached San Francisco this morning on the steamer Walla Walla from British Columbia.

Robert Summers of this city came down on the same boat, and he saw and recognized Clinton. When the latter saw Summers he at once hid himself in his stateroom, and was not seen again during the trip.

Summers came direct to San Jose and reported seeing Clinton speak to Mr. Cherrie, who was one of Clinton's bondsmen.

Mr. Cherrie at once swore to a complaint charging Clinton with felonious embezzlement. Chief Kidward and Sheriff Lyndon are both in San Francisco looking for Clinton.

It is supposed that Clinton had about $3000 with him when he left. He had the contract to build the Jacks building on North Market street for $12,000.

A few days before he left he received a payment of $2500 on the work, and should have turned it over to sub-contractors. He left his wife and children in this city.

AUSTRIAN BENEVOLENT SOCIETY.

An Expelled Member, Mr. Josich, Is Trying to Get Back.

SAN JOSE, CAL., Jan. 22.—Nick Josich to-day began suit in the Superior Court to compel the Austrian Benevolent Society of this city to reinstate him as a member.

It appears that Josich belongs to a minority faction in the lodge, and in their endeavors to introduce up-to-date ideas in the society work, other issues were brought into the fight and Josich was expelled.

The action brought to-day is in the nature of a writ of mandate to compel the officers and members of the society to show cause why Josich shall not be reinstated into full standing in the society.

The society is one of the most popular and oldest institutions in the city. It counts among its members the most influential citizens of San Jose.

It is supposed that Josich belongs to a minority faction in the lodge, and in their endeavors to introduce up-to-date ideas in the society work, other issues were brought into the fight and Josich was expelled.

Medical Students Gone Blind.

SAN JOSE, CAL., Jan. 22.—C. M. Ehrlich of 572 South First street, this city, received this morning that his son, P. B. Ehrlich, and Duncan Milliken, also of this city, fellow-students at the Pennsylvania State Medical University, had gone blind from the effects of chemicals used in the dissecting-room.

It is thought the blindness is only temporary. Ehrlich left for San Francisco this afternoon, and will probably go East and bring the unfortunate young men home with him.

An Ex-Convict's Thievery.

SAN JOSE, CAL., Jan. 22.—The police have been notified to arrest Edward Summersett, an ex-convict, who is wanted on a charge of robbing E. C. Humphrey of Mayfield, with whom he has been living, of several hundred dollars' worth of jewelry.

Summersett hitched up Humphrey's horse and buggy yesterday morning, and after emptying the jewelry box away among the things taken are a diamond pin valued at $75, a diamond ring valued at $120, a diamond bracelet and several other pieces of jewelry.

Valuable Jewelry Stolen.

SAN JOSE, CAL., Jan. 22.—A Deputy Sheriff has succeeded in recovering a pair of diamond bracelets, valued at $100, that were taken by Salatoro Razosa when he burglarized the residence of W. C. Hamilton on the Los Gatos road.

Razosa had the jewelry on his person when he landed in jail, and he gave them to one James Clark, who occupied the same cell with him and was discharged some time ago, to sell.

Clark sold them to a woman on North Market street, and she will be made against Clark for receiving stolen property.

The Hart Estate.

SAN JOSE, CAL., Jan. 22.—Ella S. Hart, administratrix of the estate of William Hart, deceased, to-day filed her final account and asked for a distribution of the estate.

The estate is valued at $17,695. It is to be divided between the administrator and Ella Hart, a daughter.

BAKERSFIELD FIELD TRIALS.

The All-Age Stakes Proved to Be the Most Productive of Good Sport.

BAKERSFIELD, CAL., Jan. 22.—The third day of the field trials proved the best of all. The weather was all that could be desired, and the attendance was good.

The drawings for the all-age stakes resulted as follows: Nemo II and Rods Chaff, Betsy Mark and Silver Plate, Nimrod and Josephine, Glenbeigh Jr. and Orion.

An early start was made by the sportsmen, and the McClung ranch, the scene of the trials, was reached at an early hour.

The first brace, Nemo II and Rods Chaff, were put down at 9:45 and taken up at 10:35, the latter doing the best work.

Silver Plate and Betsy Mark were put down at 10:40 and taken up at 11:45. These dogs were very evenly matched.

Josephine and Nimrod were put down at 11:47. There they were, and Nimrod did the best work. They were taken up at 12:18.

Lunch was then taken and the party moved three miles northwest, and Orion and Glenbeigh Jr. were put down at 1:55. This brace gave fine work, each getting eight points and backing each other well. They were taken up at 2:55. Betsy Mark and Rods Chaff were then put down at 2:58. Good work was done by both, and they were taken up at 3:22. At 3:26 Nimrod and Glenbeigh Jr. were put down and did little work. They were taken up at 3:57.

This ended the day's sport. The all-age stake will be finished to-morrow, which will close the meeting.

SAN DIEGO'S MURDERER.

Ebanks Must Pay the Penalty for His Double Crime on the Gallows.

SAN DIEGO, CAL., Jan. 22.—The jury in the Ebanks murder trial to-night rendered a verdict of guilty in the first degree. No recommendation for clemency was expressed, and the jury was polled individually and reiterated that such was the verdict.

All day District Attorney Sweet poured a tremendous torrent of denunciation upon the head of Ebanks, and in a speech of masterly power and eloquence demanded that the law average the most atrocious double murder that has been committed in San Diego County.

The attorneys on both sides are men of brilliancy and a great crowd was attracted. Mr. Sweet's effort was by far the ablest of all. The evidence was purely circumstantial, bearing in this regard a resemblance to the Durrant case, but so strong was it not so ably did the District Attorney thrust the facts home, that no possible doubt exists that Ebanks is guilty.

After being out three hours the jury returned at 8 o'clock this evening and there found a large audience, composed largely of women, who had waited in the interval for the verdict. Ebanks was brought in, guarded by two deputy sheriffs, and he displayed less concern than any other person in the room.

When the clerk read the verdict all eyes were turned to Ebanks, but he simply looked at the clerk as a chance spectator might, and those who looked for a dramatic scene were disappointed.

His attorney gave notice of a motion for a new trial and the court fixed February 20 as the date of sentence, with the agreement that if the bill of exceptions could be prepared in the meantime the date will be fixed later.

The crime for which Ebanks will hang was committed on September 10 last at the Mussel Bend, a point on the coast about twelve miles north of Oceanside. There Leroy R. Stilles and wife, and her aged father, John D. Borden, were encamped for a few days' outing.

On that morning the two men went to fish in the surf, leaving Mrs. Stilles at the tent. They saw two men lounging about on the cliffs above them and Mr. Borden decided to return to the tent to be with Mrs. Stilles in case the men appeared at the tent.

Mr. Stilles continued fishing for an hour or so, and when he returned to the tent a bullet hole through the tent and his head and his father lying dead with a bullet hole through their bodies.

He hitched up his team and drove to the little station of Las Flores to give the alarm and on the way was accosted by Ebanks for a ride. This led to Ebanks' arrest, after a long search, in which the fugitive walked over a great part of the county.

Inquiries into his movements revealed that he had stolen a revolver at Fullerton before walking down the railroad toward San Diego, and that he had it when he passed the mussel bend.

He did not have it afterward and search revealed it hidden in the canyon near the tent. Four cartridges had been exploded. A host of minor details fastened the guilt upon Ebanks as tightly as circumstantial evidence can fix it.

A WOODLAND DECISION.

Judge Grant Hands Down an Opinion of Great Importance.

WOODLAND, CAL., Jan. 22.—Judge Grant of the Superior Court of Yolo County to-day rendered a decision in favor of the plaintiffs in the case of Swamp Land District 537 vs. Caroline Berger, an action for the foreclosure of a lien upon certain property, an assessment upon which for reclamation purposes has not been paid.

The decision itself, being consonant with the frequently iterated opinion of the State Supreme Court in analogous cases, is worthy of attention. It was as follows:

"With the policy of reclamation legislation I have nothing to do. As an individual I have always held the opinion that each land-owner should be entitled to go into the water out of a reclamation district at his own pleasure, and that the legislation which authorized a majority to impose upon the minority burdens which they do not desire to assume, which burdens in certain instances amount to confiscation of their entire property, was unjust and impolitic. I think so still; and if the question were an open one and were submitted to me in the opinion of a legislator no such legislation would be enacted.

"I, however, have to deal with the law as I find it, and under a long line of decisions of the highest courts of the State, the holders of title or evidence, of title, representing one-half or more of any body of swamp and overflowed land are authorized to form a reclamation district and to impose the burdens above mentioned upon the minority of land-owners in the districts."

ALASKA LIQUOR SMUGGLERS.

Senator Perkins Desires to Remedy Evil in the Territory.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 22.—Senator Perkins will try to secure the passage of laws regulating the liquor traffic in Alaska, and prevent the smuggling of liquor into that Territory. He will introduce a resolution in the Senate calling upon the Secretary of the Interior to furnish a statement showing to Congress the extent to which laws are being violated, and resolutions therefor, and to suggest such legislation as may be calculated to remedy the evils. Perkins believes Secretary Smith may recommend a high license.

The report of Governor Sheakley of Alaska is before the Secretary. Calling attention to the extent to which the Secretary's report shows that the liquor traffic is being carried on in the Territory, he says there are laws prohibiting traffic in liquor, but it is notorious that they are disobeyed and evaded, and that the smuggling and illicit trade are carried on along the coast.

Liquor is smuggled in from British Columbia, Washington and other States of the Pacific Coast and the Government is unable to stop it.

Sheakley states that grand jurors refuse to find indictments against offenders, who allege that they carry on business with the sanction of the Government, offering as proofs Government receipts issued by the Internal Revenue Commissioner for money paid into the treasury of the United States.

Grand jurors held that Alaska has no local law, and that when the provisions of the internal revenue law have been complied with one is not subject to indictment for violation of the prohibition act.

Up to the present time not one white man has been convicted of having violated the law.

Loud Argues for Action Upon Francisco's Government Building—Marine Engineers' Election.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 22.—The House to-day had under consideration the resolution to provide an assistant architect to the present supervising architect of the treasury for the purpose of hastening the completion of the United States building at Chicago. During the debate on the resolution Lord of California said he did not see why Chicago should be made an exception in this case, as there were between forty and seventy-five other buildings in the United States, including the one at San Francisco, provided for in the appropriation bills, whose foundations had not as yet been started.

"I have always heard the old cry, 'Help Chicago and she will help you,'" said he. "California has helped her many times, but she has not as yet reciprocated."

CADMUS WENT THE ROUTE

With Bergen Up He Won the Two-Mile Event Fighting for His Head.

LADIES' DAY AT INGLESIDE.

An Impense Crowd Saw Five Out of Six Favorites Finish in the Lead.

There were not cars enough to convey all of the people who wanted to get to Ingleside track yesterday. It was the last day of the two weeks' meeting as well as 'ladies' day,' and of course the fair sex predominated. Even after two races had been decided people were still flocking in through the gates. Not a few fond mothers took their babies along, probably that the spirit of sport might be imbued in them, and when they grew up they too might become Riley Grannans and Pittsburg Phils. There was a slight delay in getting home, one of the electric cars failing to safely navigate a curve, but as five out of six favorites had poked their noses past the wire in front of the occupants of the crowded cars were in good humor and there was no grumbling consequent upon the delay.

The racing was good and the betting of the liveliest sort. The men on the block for the field books were hoarse calling bets off when the day's sport was over.

The feature of the card was the two-mile event, and when the odds-on favorite, Cadmus, won fighting for his head it was the unanimous opinion that the game son of Flood under more auspicious circumstances could come dangerously near lowering the California record for the distance to 3:30. Opposed to him were a very mediocre lot, Julia O. Carmel and J. O. looking the most likely.

The brown horse opened in the betting at 1 to 2, which was quickly rubbed down to 9 to 20, the prevailing price at post time. Julia O. was held next at 10 to 1.
