

PUT OUT IN THE SEVENTH ROUND.

"Bright Eyes" No Match for the Rushing Joe Walcott.

WAS BADLY PUNISHED

There Was a Material Shortening of the Proposed Length of the Battle.

FREQUENTLY SENT TO EARTH.

Scott Collins Was Clearly Out of His Class When He Tackled the Favorite.

LONG ISLAND CITY, L. I., March 16.—The Eureka Athletic Club, formerly well known as the Puritan Athletic Club, was opened to-night with a 20-round bout between Joe Walcott, the colored wonder, and Scott Collins, better known in pugilistic circles as "Bright Eyes," for the premier attraction.

The Walcott-Bright Eyes battle was to have been decided at Stuart's memorable El Paso carnival. After an argument between Tommy West of California and William Quinn of Hatfield, Pa., in which the latter was given the decision, the stars of the evening were announced. Walcott was a favorite at 100 to 40 on. The bout was announced as a twenty-round encounter, which was five rounds shorter than was advertised for. Time was called at 10:40 P. M.

Round 1—After a lot of sparring Walcott landed a right hand swing on the body. "Bright Eyes" tucked his head to the left and Walcott landed a left swing on the shoulder. They mixed it up, and Joe swung his left twice on the nose, drawing blood. They were clinched when the bell rang.

Round 2—Light sparring. Walcott swung his right and caught "Bright Eyes" on the face. "Bright Eyes" swung and Joe ducked, the Texan overbalanced and slipped and Joe forcing "Bright Eyes" head down. Walcott fell short and "Bright Eyes" landed a corking right on the nose. "Bright Eyes" landed on the chest and followed his man with a "watermelon grin," when the bell rang.

Round 4—Walcott jabbed his man three times with the left on the face and sent a hard right on the body. He kept after him and landed right and left, but "Bright Eyes" evaded up with a corking right on the jaw. Just before the bell he landed a right on the jaw twice with the left on the jaw. The bell was sounding as Joe landed again and there were cries of foul.

Round 5—Walcott forced his man to his knees. "Bright Eyes" swung a hard right on the nose. "Bright Eyes" followed. They clinched and the referee stepped between them. While the referee was between them Joe swung his left hand on the neck, and the house rose to a foul, but it was not allowed.

Round 6—Joe rushed at his man and floored him six times on the face with right and left swings on the jaw. The bell sounded and left "Bright Eyes" from a count out. He was on the floor when the bell rang.

Round 7—"Bright Eyes" was groggy but game. Joe landed a right on the jaw, and the Texan went to his knees. "Bright Eyes" got up with a last despairing effort and planted his right on Joe's neck. It was only a flash in the pan. Walcott came back at him like a wildcat. Five times Joe swung fearful rights and lefts on "Bright Eyes' neck, sending him down, and each time he got up groggy, then before.

At last Walcott measured the distance carefully, and with a fearful left-hand swing on the jaw floored the Texan. "Bright Eyes" fell on his back and turned completely over. He put his face on his hands and tried to rub his limbs twitching. Before the referee could count him out his backers threw up the sponge. The last round lasted two minutes and fifty-five seconds.

CONFIRMED BY DEBS.

Telegraphers to Be Organized as a Division of the A. R. U. TERRE HAUTE, IND., March 16.—President Debs of the A. R. U. confirms the report from Pittsburg that the telegraphers are being organized as a division of the A. R. U.

He says it is expected the fact would leak out, but that it is now too late for the companies to endeavor to break the force of the movement. The companies may succeed in forcing the men to ask for dismissal cards, but that will not diminish the loyalty of these employees to the A. R. U.

NOT A SON OF JOHN.

A Correction Concerning the Huntington Embroachment. CLEVELAND, OHIO, March 16.—In the telegraphic reports sent out from this city concerning the Childs, Grott & Co. failure it was stated that W. H. Huntington, who confessed to having embezzled $40,000 from the firm, was the son of the late John Huntington.

The identification was erroneous. W. H. Huntington, John Huntington's son, who is well known in business circles and is interested in several companies here, had no connection with Childs, Grott & Co. The W. H. Huntington involved in the embroachment is a silent partner of the firm.

BLESSED BY GENERAL BOOTH.

Twenty Thousand Salvationists Turn Out at a Meeting to See the Booth-Tuckers Depart.

LONDON, ENG., March 16.—Twenty thousand persons today attended a meeting of the Salvation Army, held in the Crystal Palace, for the purpose of welcoming General Booth, the commander of the army, who returned a few days ago from India, and bidding God-speed to Mr. and Mrs. Booth-Tucker, who will sail shortly for New York to assume the command of the Salvation Army in the United States.

The principal feature of the meeting was an address delivered by General Booth, after which Mr. and Mrs. Booth-Tucker were called to the front of the platform. Two officers then lifted a large American and Salvation Army flag over their heads, which was followed by a remarkable, unanimous outburst of cheering and clapping of hands.

General Booth then grasped the hands of his son-in-law and daughter and in a few thrilling words dedicated them to their new work.

BOSTON, Mass., March 16.—When seen to-day regarding the announcement from New York that he had become a leader in the Salvation Army, Dr. Clark of the United Society of Christian Endeavor said:

"I have not joined the army as an active worker—simply as an auxiliary member, as lots of other Christian people have done. I simply paid a certain amount which made such a member. I thoroughly believe in the work, as the army reaches a class of people which no other organization can."

Pacific road under section 3670 of the Political Code of the State for the recovery of moneys alleged to be due the State for taxes and thirteen counties of the State in which the Southern Pacific road is operated under the assessment made by the State Board of Equalization for the purpose of State and county taxation for the year 1887.

In deciding this case the Chief Justice said: "This court affirmed the decision of the California Supreme Court in the Central Pacific case, and this case is practically the same."

Justices Field and Harlan dissented from the decision.

WHAT THE DECISION MEANS.

Attorney-General Fitzgerald Says the Taxes Must Be Paid.

Attorney-General Fitzgerald, when seen last evening, was busy preparing his argument to be presented in the railroad case in the United States court to-day, but he delayed his work long enough to say:

"The dispatch from Washington announcing the decision in relation to the tax case is too meager to enable me to make any extended statement as to the merits of the decision, but it means this: The railroads will have to pay their taxes to the State. It means that they will have to pay about $1,000,000 into the State treasury, and it means that this is an end to all quibbles about Federal franchises and the like. This decision also means that in the future the railroads will have to pay their taxes."

LAUNCHING OF THE IOWA.

Governor Drake's Daughter Will Christen the Battleship.

DES MOINES, IOWA, March 16.—Governor F. M. Drake to-night received from Secretary of the Navy Herbert a formal invitation to attend the launching of the battleship Iowa, March 28, from the Cramp shipyards, Philadelphia. An invitation is also extended to the Governor's daughter, Miss Mary Lord Drake, to christen the vessel. The invitations will be accepted and an Iowa party will attend the ceremonies. The plan is to have the party, including the Governor, private secretary, military staff of about thirty members in uniform, leading State officials, and a number of invited guests with ladies, go in a special train.

The launching will take place on Saturday, and the train will leave here on the Thursday previous, arriving in Philadelphia on the morning of the day for the ceremonies. After the launching and christening the train will go to Washington, and the party will make a call at the Navy Department and, if possible, on the President. It is also hoped to spend a day in New York, if time will permit.

THAT BLUEJAY DEAL.

Many Complications Between Brokers and Clients Will Ensnare.

DENVER, COLO., March 16.—Broker Randall successfully cleared at the Colorado Mining-stock Exchange to-day, and as no other broker failed to meet his obligations at the Clearing-house further trouble over the attempted Bluejay corner has apparently been averted. Many complications, however, remain unsettled between various brokers and their clients. A number of customers had left stock with brokers to be sold at stated prices. Owing to the failure of three brokers to clear Saturday the other brokers trading in Bluejay were obliged to liquidate as best they could, and they are now attempting to settle with their respective customers accordingly. The board of directors has decided to hold an investigation upon the Bluejay deal. It is stated that a conspiracy to defraud, and not a corner, was attempted, and that interesting developments affecting not only Brokers Randall and Royer, but the Lincoln Boy and the Bluejay Company will be disclosed. However, the general opinion is to liquidate as best they could, and they are now attempting to settle with their respective customers accordingly.

SAN JOAQUIN LABOR EXCHANGE.

Prominent Men Pledge Funds in Support of the Project.

STOCKTON, CAL., March 16.—The second meeting of those interested in the formation of a central labor exchange for the San Joaquin Valley took place in this city Saturday afternoon. About 150 persons from almost every walk of life stand pledged to become members of the organization. The exchange will be chartered under the Central Labor Exchange of the State of Missouri act and will be conducted on the same lines as those of Los Angeles, San Jose and San Francisco.

Briefly stated the plan of these exchanges is to handle the products of the country through the medium of its diverse membership and use labor exchange checks instead of coin of the realm. A committee was appointed at this meeting to secure the pledges of funds to start the exchange and select a place where the business shall be carried on. The by-laws and form of organization were adopted. The officers and directors will be elected at a special meeting for that purpose to be held on March 23. A large number of ranchers and fruit-raisers of the county have agreed to advance money to form an exchange fund.

Hall, but Mrs. Ross Campbell has climbed to third place. Only nine of the original forty candidates remain in the race, and only three new names were added to-day. Guerneville and Sonoma have not been heard from as yet, but it is known that each of these places will present a name for the honor.

Baron Harden-Hickey Comes Into Possession of the Cerreto Estate.

Intends to Make His Country Home One of the Most Beautiful in California.

LOS ANGELES, CAL., March 16.—The Daily Journal says Baron Harden-Hickey, otherwise known as James I. reigning monarch of the island of Trinidad, has possessed himself of another principality, the title to which Great Britain or other foreign nations cannot dispute. The baron has, through L. L. Bowen of this city, purchased of R. B. Taylor the beautiful Cerreto ranch at South Riverside. The property consists of 130 acres under the excellent irrigation system of the South Riverside Colony. The land is smooth and lies on a gentle sloping mesa, being nearly level except for a "butter" rises to a commanding height near the center of the property. On this eminence are a large house, barn and reservoir. There are 11,000 vigorous lemon trees, besides 7000 of other varieties and many ornamental trees and shrubs. The place is bordered by eucalyptus trees. Experts estimate that the product of the ranch will pay the purchase price in four years.

Baron Harden-Hickey is reported to be very enthusiastic over the purchase. He has announced that he will improve the property to a high degree, and he expects to have a country home that will not only rival but eclipse the famous Smiley Heights at Redlands in natural beauties and artificial embellishments. The baron carries out his intentions he will create a show place that people will go miles to see. The price paid was $77,000.

The terms of the deal R. B. Taylor takes in exchange a piece of property adjacent to the residence of the baron at Santa Monica and the baron's residence on Magnolia avenue in this city.

The people of South Riverside are pleased over the purchase by the baron, especially as it is hoped that the father of the Baroness, Henry M. Flagler, the Standard Oil magnate, may invest some of his millions in Southern California as he has in Florida.

THE NEWS OF SAN JOSE.

Edward Andrew Barron's Claim to Be Passed Upon by a Jury.

Ellen Sheehan's Mother Compelled to Distribute the Sullivan Estate.

SAN JOSE, CAL., March 16.—Judge Reynolds to-day set the trial of the suit of Edward Andrew Barron, the mulatto claimant to the Edward Barron estate, for May 5. By consent the case is transferred to the court of Judge Lorigan, who tried the Barron will contest. The trial will be before a jury, and the question at issue will be, "Has the plaintiff any heirship in the estate at all?"

In reviewing the case Judge Reynolds says there can be no distribution of the estate until the will contest inaugurated by George E. Barron is settled, but that the matter can be expedited by submitting the question at issue to trial at the time named. The other questions involved in the case will be tried by the court at a date yet to be fixed.

J. C. McKinstry, counsel for the San Francisco Protestant Asylum, to-day filed a notice that on March 23 he would ask the court to quash and set aside the original citation issued on April 10, 1894, in the contest of Edward Barron's will, inaugurated by George E. Barron, in which the persons interested were required to show cause why the probate of the will should not be revoked. The ground on which the motion will be made is that the citation was not properly served on the San Francisco Protestant Orphan Asylum and that it was returned without being served.

J. F. Devlin, attorney for Mary F. Barron, the mother of the child, to-day filed an answer to the mulatto boy's complaint, in which it is denied that Edward Barron, deceased, ever recognized the mulatto as his child and contributed to his support.

A resolution was also adopted making the California Sentinel, a paper about to be published by General J. H. Russell, the official organ of the Boys' Brigade. The council finished its business this afternoon and adjourned.

A camp-fire for the boys was held this evening in the parlors of the First Presbyterian Church.

MILLWOOD LAND CONTEST.

Boyles, Lyfords and Defenbachs Fail to Oust Casper Gardner.

The "Squatter" Completes His Fence Around the Seven-Acre Tract in Dispute.

MILL VALLEY, CAL., March 16.—Casper Gardner has completed his fence round the disputed seven-acre tract near Millwood, on which he "squatted," and which is claimed by the Defenbach heirs. Meantime the arrests of prominent men and women—owners of land abutting on this peculiarly located property—continue, but Gardner still holds the fort.

The Defenbach heirs, claimants to the disputed land, will bring suit through their guardian, Dr. Lyford, in the Superior Court of Marin County, for possession of the seven acres, and will also sue the bondsmen of the constable who arrested the women and men who tore down the fence that Casper Gardner was erecting. The constable made the arrests without a warrant, and the women claim that he acted without authority. They intend to sue for damages.

The constable, Eugene E. Gray, says that it was not necessary to have a warrant, as the fence-destroyers constituted an unlawful assembly.

The property in dispute is under water half the time because of its proximity to the marsh. The cabin built by Casper Gardner rests upon stilts, and the salt water flows underneath. From a standpoint of value, the land is worth very little, but the Boyles, the Lyfords and the Defenbachs are indignant that Casper Gardner should have "squatted" upon the tract, and they intend to fight the matter to the bitter end. Justice Fothell is kept busy issuing warrants of arrest which have no effect. When the arrests are made bail is immediately put up and the women go back to pull up the fence again.

SONOMA LOSES A VALUED MAN.

Isaac de Turk Passes Away at His Santa Rosa Home.

HAD LONG BEEN AILING.

His Death a Blow to the Viticultural Interests of the State.

OWNER OF VAST VINEYARDS.

He Built the Largest Winery in the World on His Guillicose Valley Ranch.

SANTA ROSA, CAL., March 16.—Isaac de Turk, one of the leading vineyardists of the State, died in this city at 8 o'clock to-night, at the age of 62 years. He had been in ill health for some time, and his death was not entirely unexpected.

Mr. de Turk was a native of Pennsylvania and came to California about twenty-five years ago. Since taking up his residence here he has been at the head of many viticultural and agricultural enterprises. His famous winery in the Los Guillicose Valley was long known as the largest in the world, until the late Senator Stanford caused to be built one of even more mammoth proportions. His vineyards covered thousands of acres, and his Los Guillicose Valley home, fifteen miles east of Santa Rosa, was a popular retreat.

Mr. de Turk was for years at the head of the State Viticultural Association and a member of the State Viticultural Commission; was a prime mover in the organization of the San Francisco Board of Trade and of the similar body in Santa Rosa; was connected with the Sonoma County Horsebreeders' Association and the Agricultural Fair Association, the former organization being the original owner of the celebrated stallion Anteeo. He loved a good horse, and many animals bred at his ranch have established enviable records on trotting courses. One of his racers, Silas Skinner, 2:19, is known to all American turfmen.

In Santa Rosa the deceased took an active interest in every movement for the town's advancement, and the Improvement Club had no more earnest member than Isaac de Turk. In addition to his Guillicose Valley interests, M. de Turk was part owner in several vineyards in other portions of Sonoma County.

Mr. de Turk never married. Though possessed of an abundance of this world's goods, he was content to journey through life without a companion; but his home was ever open and his hospitality was unbounded. The only relative he is known to have in the State is William de Turk, a drug clerk at Petaluma.
