

MAY RETURN TO VIRGINIA CITY.

Tangerman Is Willing to Brave the Miners' Wrath.

REQUEST FOR TROOPS.

Acting Governor Sadler Asked to Invoke Government Protection.

SHERIFF WILL DO HIS DUTY.

The Executive Says the State Cannot Furnish a Private Bodyguard of Soldiers.

CARSON, Nev., March 27.—Correspondence that passed between Attorney W. T. Baggett and acting Governor Sadler today leads to the conclusion that an attempt will be made to return H. W. Tangerman as superintendent of the Hale & Norcross mines at Virginia City.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 25, 1896. Dear Sir: The unlawful conduct of certain citizens of your State in kidnapping and by force compelling H. W. Tangerman, a reputable citizen of this State, to leave Virginia City, has naturally met the condemnation of all right-thinking, law-abiding people.

It is known that the application to the Sheriff of the county of behalf of Mr. Tangerman met with either a direct refusal or a resistance to inability on the part of that officer to afford him protection from the outrage which he received on last Saturday at the hands of certain individuals claiming to be members of the Miners' Union at Virginia City.

Mr. Tangerman spoke very highly of you and your sympathy for him in the embarrassing position in which he had been placed, for which allow me on behalf of him and his friends here, to thank you.

Acting Governor Sadler sent this reply: STATE OF NEVADA, EXECUTIVE CHAMBER, CARSON, Nev., March 27.

W. T. Baggett, Esq., San Francisco: Your communication of the 25th inst. duly received. In reply would respectfully refer you to section 18 of an act approved March 6, 1893, Nevada statutes, entitled "An act relating to the National Guard and the enrolled militia."

DULL DAY FOR STRIKERS

The Situation Among Painters Was One of Peace and Hope.

VISIT TO THE CITY HALL.

Incompetent Workmen, Bad Materials and Poor Work Said to Have Been Found.

The situation in the painters' strike remained unchanged yesterday, which fact was due largely to the rain and the partial victory of the strikers.

would not be any more men employed—not more than fifteen to twenty men. There is no work for all, so what can be done either way, anyhow? Whatever surrenders there may be on the part of the master painters it will only be as an expedient that certain pressing contracts may be finished. And then the union journeymen will be no better off than before.

CARPENTERS ASSIST.

The Powerful Union, No. 22, Sends a Helping Hand to the Painters.

Carpenters' Union No. 22 met last night in Odd Fellows' Hall, and without debating the question decided to take $500 tickets for the Painters' Union benefit to be given in Bush-street Theater next Wednesday night.

The carpenters also took notice of the open mass-meeting of the unions affiliated in the Building Trades Council to be held Tuesday night.

As many as fourteen carpenters took advantage last night of the present low initiation fee of Union No. 22 and joined. For the present the fee is $2, but one month hence it will be raised to $10.

SHOT IN A BARROOM.

"Bull" Harrington Probably Fatally Wounded by Saloon-keeper McNulty.

James alias "Bull" Harrington, a teamster living at 1445 Miuna street, was shot and probably fatally wounded by James McNulty, a saloon-keeper on Sixteenth and Mission streets, last night.

The wounded man was carried to the Receiving Hospital about 9 o'clock, Dr. Bunnell attending him.

Yesterday afternoon Harrington and one William McNamara, both well known in police circles, made a tour of the Mission-street saloons, reaching McNulty's place about 6 o'clock.

At 10 o'clock last night McNulty was arrested and lodged in the Seventeenth-street station, charged with assault with a deadly weapon.

MANY IMMIGRANTS DETAINED.

Undesirable Foreigners Not to Be Permitted to Land.

NEW YORK, N. Y., March 27.—Of 500 Italians who arrived from Naples on the steamship Hindostan 100 have been detained at Ellis Island because they have no money and no definite idea of what they are going to do in America.

On Tuesday, there were 1205 Italians, including only thirty women, only four of whom had railroad tickets west of Philadelphia.

As an incident of the strike R. T. McIvor paid a visit to the City Hall yesterday just to ascertain what was the condition of the men employed on the tower.

"I found a number of men painting, or more correctly daubing, the roof of the tower," said he, "with some stuff that looked like paint. It was evident from the first glance that they were not tradesmen, that they had not learned the trade of painting, but were simply nothing more nor less than laborers.

"When I went up there on the roof today I found that these laborers were putting on the stuff over everything—rust, dirt and water. They had not scraped or cleaned the roof in any way.

"I shall see the superintendent of construction to-morrow and lay this matter before him. He does not choose to do the right thing we shall make a stir about it that may surprise people.

"While the Cornice-workers' Union is not yet affiliated with the Building Trades Council they are with us to a man. There are not more than thirty or thirty-five workers in San Francisco, but nearly every one of them is a member of the union, so they are well organized and are expected to come into the Building Trades Council almost immediately.

"If the superintendent do not pay any attention we can only conclude that he is not in sympathy with us. Anyhow, a man in his position ought to know the difference between a novice and an experienced mechanic, not to speak of the jobbery that was apparent."

EVASION OF THE CARD.

Master Painters Claim to Have Found a Way Out of a Dilemma.

The master painters will not admit that the journeymen have anything the best of it, but on the contrary are inclined to be positive that the victory is on their own side.

"McCard had to do it," said Black. "His contracts were in dwellings, where the carpenters were all torn up and furniture packed away, and the people demanded that the jobs be finished."

"It was like getting an extension of time. The day this work is done McCard can tell his union men he has nothing more for them to do, but at the same time he can have non-union men on another job."

"The journeymen complain that the card is not properly understood. One can have different views on the subject. For instance, the card provides that no member of the Painters' Union shall work on a job where a non-union painter. It does not say anything about not working in an association shop. Now, members of our association might accept the card system, though I don't say they would, and have only union painters employed on a job where union carpenters, etc., were working.

"All the men who can—in and out of the union—are getting work some place or another. They have come to realize that if the master painters should give in there

OUT OF HIS SKIN.

An Oregonian Who Says That He Might Be in That Predicament.

He Proposes to Help in a Very Good Work, and Has Good Reason to Do So.

Some people in this world who are brimful of happiness have the faculty of keeping that fact to themselves, as though they were afraid that some of it might escape and they would be a little poorer on that account.

There are sensible folks, though—enough to make up for these poor misers, and one of these bright, whole-souled men is Mr. E. W. Fowler of Kamela, Or. Some time ago Mr. Fowler, who, as has been noted above, was celebrated on account of his good nature and his vivacity, began to droop a little. His smile had that sunniness nor his laugh that hearty ring as of yore. Those who knew him began to sympathize with him, to tell him how sorry they were to see him "going down the hill," and a hundred other equally dispiriting things.

And then they had Mr. Fowler as good as under ground. But they were reckoning without their host. They forgot that he was a man of good sense and knew where to look for help, and they had neglected to remember that the grand old Hudson Medical Institute was still in existence, and that its corps of great specialists were daily, nay, hourly, working wonderful cures. The following letter will show how wrong these prophets were:

HUDSON MEDICAL INSTITUTE, August 8, 1895. Hudson, Cal.—Gentlemen: Please excuse my negligence in not writing you before. I do not think I could have done so had I not been so busy. I feel so good now that if I felt any better I would jump out of my skin with joy. Many thanks to you for your valuable treatment. I can and will distribute about a hundred of your new circulars. Yours sincerely, E. W. FOWLER.

You see, all the joy has come back to that man's heart—all the life and hope. And there are many hundreds of hearts on this Coast that are glad to-day, and all on account of the great skill of the specialists at the grand old Hudson Medical Institute.

Mr. George B. Exall, of Rochester, Cal., says: "By the time I have the medicine taken that I have now I don't think I will need any more."

S. M. Hooker of Los Angeles: "I now feel as though I was a cured and well man."

Mr. J. T. Ward of Park City, Utah: "I am cured of the terrible disease that I had."

Now, when there is a never-ending stream of testimony like this continually pouring in to the management of the great Hudson Medical Institute (the grandest curative establishment on this continent, if not in the world) how can it be doubted that there is HOPE FOR EVERY ONE UNTIL THE FAMOUS SPECIALISTS OF THE HUDSON MEDICAL INSTITUTE HAVE TOLD YOU THAT YOU HAVE AN INCURABLE DISEASE?

All the Following Cases Are Curable: Catarrh of the head, stomach or bladder; all bronchial diseases; all functional nervous diseases; St. Vitus' dance; hysteria; shaking palsy; epilepsy; all venereal diseases; all kinds of blood troubles; all cases of vital forces; rheumatism; gout; eczema; all skin diseases, from whatever cause arising; parositis; all blood-poisoning; varicose; poison oak; lost or impaired manhood; spinal troubles; nervous exhaustion and prostration; incipient paresis; all kidney diseases; tuberculosis; sciatica; all bladder troubles; dyspepsia; indigestion; constipation; all visceral disorders, which are treated by the departing department. Special instruments for bladder troubles.
