

THESE MEN ARE FOR MORTON.

Platt, Depew, Lauterbach, Miller and Hackett on Record.

JOIN IN A SYMPOSIUM.

Their Reasons for Aiding the Governor as a Candidate for President.

CLAIMS OF NEW YORK URGED

Empire State Republicans Have Been Modest and Self-Sacrificing in the Past.

NEW YORK, N. Y., March 31.—T. C. Platt, Chauncey M. Depew, Warner Miller, Edward Lauterbach and C. W. Hackett, chairman of the New York State Republican Committee, contribute to the April number of the North American Review, to be published to-morrow, a symposium on Governor Morton as a Presidential candidate, in the course of which they set forth the Governor's claim upon the Republican party for a nomination to the Presidency.

Mr. Platt utters a warning against the confidence felt by many Republicans that the nominee at the St. Louis convention, whoever he may be, will be elected. "It is not safe for the Republicans," he says, "to assume that they are going to have a walkover at the Presidential election in November. Manifest as the blunders of the Democratic party have been, combined with the imbecility and incompetency of the present administration, they will not prevent the Democracy from making a hard struggle to retain control of the Government, and they will not keep the mass of the Democratic voters from going to the polls next November and voting their ticket straight. It is, unfortunately, a confirmed habit with Democrats to support their party, right or wrong."

In response to the objections urged by some to Governor Morton on the score of his age, Mr. Platt points to the fact that the great statesmen of Europe are mostly old men, and he expresses confident assurance that, after careful and deliberate consideration of the situation, the St. Louis convention will give its decision in favor of Governor Morton.

Mr. Depew, in the course of his paper, points to the Venezuelan question as demonstrating the value in the Presidential office of diplomacy.

"Governor Morton," he says, "while maintaining the rights of America and strongly and intelligently enforcing her imperious position upon the Monroe doctrine, would have done it in a message so clearly and decisively as to raise no question of argument upon the language of his paper, to the American position upon that doctrine, and at the same time have the ultimate question of war where the constitution places it, among the representatives of the people."

Mr. Depew says the Governor's influence upon legislation has been so conspicuous for reform and good government as to command, even while he is a candidate for the Presidency, approval by the press of all parties. Mr. Depew urges that the United States needs a business administration. "In the election of Mr. Morton the country would enter upon a long period of development and prosperity and would know once more an era of universal employment and good wages and that general happiness which comes from the increased and distribution of National wealth."

Warner Miller regards Governor Morton's record as a public officer as a sure guarantee that in his hands all of the interests in the country may be securely placed and will be absolutely safe. "He is known to be a thorough protectionist and a sound money man of the strongest character. If he is nominated and elected President there will no longer be any doubts in the minds of our people or in any foreign country as to what our financial policies will be, and our securities everywhere will be taken without hesitation and without fear that they would be paid in money other than the best money of the world. Our credit will be restored to the condition it was in when General Harrison turned the Government over to the Democrats. At that time we were able to borrow money at 2 1/2 per cent."

Mr. Lauterbach lays special emphasis on the claims of New York State on the Republican party. He says: "The Republicans of the Empire State have been modest and self-sacrificing. To them since the creation of the party has not been accorded the privilege of the selection of the nominee for this proudest office in the gift of any people. The destinies of the party and fortunes of the country have uniformly depended upon its political attitude. Doing much, giving much, sacrificing much, it has hitherto been accorded scant consideration by the Republicans of other States."

"It seems but simple justice to acquiesce in its unanimous suggestion for the elevation of its favorite son to the post which it covets for him as the crowning and deserved glory of a private and public life of singular merit and desert. His nomination, and the election which of course would certainly follow it, would secure the certainty, not only of the perpetual Republicanism of the State, but of the real stalwart, unfaltering Republicanism of this great metropolis."

"His citizens, by a vast majority, would respond to the compliment of the nomination of their fellow-citizen by affiliation with the party whose courtesies to him he has repaid by an unwavering devotion to its principles and purposes."

Mr. Hackett says Governor Morton is an advocate of the strictest economy in public expenditures. His untiring effort to prevent unnecessary appropriations by the State Legislature is most convincing proof of his attention to the needs of the taxpayers.

And while this is true, his equally watchful care for the welfare of the working-men has been demonstrated by his course in providing work for the laborers on the Capitol in Albany when the regular appropriation had been exhausted. His practical benevolence has been often and widely attested, and his generous contributions to the sufferers from famine in Ireland and for the relief of the victims of yellow fever in the South are masters of familiar record."

NEW HAMPSHIRE REPUBLICANS.

Willing to Support Any Worthy Member of the Party.

CONCORD, N. H., March 31.—The New Hampshire Republican State Convention to select delegates to the National convention was called to order this morning. United States Senator Chandler, on being introduced as chairman of the convention, was enthusiastically received.

The platform declares in favor of the Moral doctrine, a protective tariff and moral and material support for the Cuban revolutionists, and demands the enactment of currency laws "that will provide a circulating medium in gold, silver and paper that shall always be interchangeable at face value, because each and every dollar of it is of the same purchasing power as a gold dollar."

The platform concludes as follows: "We recognize as the most conspicuous candidates New England's noble and illustrious son, Thomas B. Reed of Maine, and that pure and able statesman and champion of protection, William McKinley of Ohio. We will give the electoral vote of New Hampshire to any nominee who worthily represents the party, but we prefer one of these, because each is in himself a platform."

The following were elected delegates-at-large to the National convention by acclamation: Stephen S. Jewett of Lacoona, Frank S. Streeter of Concord, James A. Wood of Acworth, and Charles T. Means of Manchester.

CRISP AND SMITH TALK.

Debate Between the Secretary and the Ex-Speaker.

AUGUSTA, Ga., March 31.—The debate between Secretary Hoke Smith and ex-Speaker Crisp took place to-night in the Grand Opera-house before a distinguished audience. On the stage were prominent Georgians and Carolinians, headed by Governor Atkinson, ex-Senator Patrick Walsh, Mayor Young and others. Chairman Doughty of the Richmond County executive committee stated the terms of the debate and introduced Mr. Crisp.

Mr. Crisp arose he greeted by a storm of applause. He began by saying this was a somewhat unusual spectacle for Georgia. "But unusual conditions exist and we hope that these conditions will justify the spectacle that is presented. Mr. Smith and myself are both Democrats and both expect to stand loyally by the Democratic National platform and nominees. But we differ on the subject of money."

"To begin with, you must know money is a medium of exchange and a measure of value and the measure of deferred payments. Price is determined, other things being equal, by the amount of primary money in the world. Value is determined by the law of supply and demand. This is a general law and applies to money as well as commodities. When we became a Nation we had to establish our money standard. Each country had to do this for itself."

"There is no such thing as international money. This country cannot decree that its money shall be legal tender in England, and England cannot make its money a legal tender here. Any law that diminishes the amount of standard money in the world is injurious to the masses of the people, and only benefits those who have fixed incomes."

Mr. Crisp closed with an argument to show that this country could maintain free and unlimited coinage of silver independently of other nations. He was given protracted applause as he took his seat.

Chairman Doughty immediately introduced Secretary Smith and he had to pause until the applause ended which greeted him. He then said: "We are to-night consulting together as Democrats upon party policy in opposing the free coinage of silver. I am not fighting silver and don't seek to reduce its use or its legal tender value. I favor all the gold, silver and paper that can be kept equally good."

In answer to the charge that they were seeking to stop the use of silver or to contract the currency he gave the amount of gold and silver in circulation in 1860, in 1873 and in 1895, showing that the total today is eight times that of 1873. "We are not trying to contract the currency, and our silver friends mislead you if they make you believe we do not mean to accomplish the use of both gold and silver as the money of final payment for all obligations of this country." (Applause.)

Jefferson, he said, found gold worth fifteen times as much as silver and fixed the rate at 15 to 1. Our latter-day statesmen find gold worth thirty times as much as silver, but want to fix the ratio at only 16 to 1.

ST. JOHN IS THEIR CHOICE.

Chairman Dickey Talks of the Prospects of Nominations.

NEW YORK, N. Y., March 31.—Samuel Dickey of Albion, Mich., chairman of the National Prohibition party, who is in the city, was seen yesterday and asked regarding the convention to be held in Pittsburg May 27. The split in the party, owing to the public declaration of ex-Governor St. John in favor of free silver and a union of force with the Populists, with a platform as a subordinate plank, is, he declares, the most serious complication that Prohibitionists have ever had to meet.

"My judgment is," said Chairman Dickey, "that so long as there is only one party in the field that declares for prohibition, ex-Governor St. John may be relied upon to stand with that party, though he is thoroughly in sympathy with free silver. In the last convention in Cincinnati free silver was defeated by nearly two-one, and a similar fate will attend it in Pittsburg."

MINOR CONVENTIONS.

Senator Cullom Badly Beaten in His Own District.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, March 31.—The Republican Congressional Convention of the Seventh District at Springfield adjourned late to-night in a deadlock till to-morrow. The fight is between the McKinley and Foraker factions.

DECATUR, Ill., March 31.—The Republicans of the Seventeenth Congressional District (Senator Cullom's home district) to-day renominated A. J. Connelly of Springfield for Congress.

Delegates to St. Louis were chosen and strong resolutions commanding them to vote for everything pertaining to the nomination of McKinley were adopted unanimously. It was a signal defeat for Senator Cullom.

MATTOON, Ill., March 31.—Republicans of the Nineteenth Congressional district to-day nominated unopposed delegates to St. Louis.

An English Point of View.

LONDON, Eng., March 31.—The Morning Post will to-morrow publish a leader on the subject of the Presidential campaign in the United States. It reviews the Republican candidates, and expresses the opinion that Reed is the most likely to secure the nomination, despite Mr. McKinley's powerful backing. It says it thinks that if the Democrats are wisely led they will recover much ground during the next two months.

ELOPERS CAUGHT NEAR STOCKTON.

Arrest of Two Runaways on a Warrant From Templeton.

MRS. WILSON'S FLIGHT.

Had Deserted Her Husband and Babes for an Itinerant Tragedian.

LOVE IN A COVERED WAGON.

The Comely Woman Is Unperturbed When Apprehended by Officers.

STOCKTON, CAL., March 31.—Chief of Police Kingsbury and Deputy Constable Sullivan brought two very crestfallen prisoners to the county jail shortly before noon to-day. They were Charles Paulson and Mrs. Minnie Nelson, and they were picked up on the roadside near French Camp. They were traveling in a light wagon and were resting in the vehicle when the officers disturbed their illicit honeymoon.

The couple in custody are elopers from Templeton in San Luis Obispo County in their flight last week creating a stir in rural circles. According to the reports from Templeton Hawley Nelson, a prosperous man in the community, returned home last Monday to find his children crying and his house deserted. An investigation proved that his wife had gone to Paso Robles during the morning and circumstances showed that it was her intention to join there Charles Paulson, a man whose name had been unfavorably connected with her own during his residence in that community. Mrs. Nelson is a bright and pretty little woman, but she was not familiar with the ways of the world and fell an easy victim to Paulson's blandishments.

The husband started upon the trail of the eloping couple, not so much intent upon revenge as he was upon securing his wife. Last week he came to Stockton and solicited the aid of the local officers. Good luck favored Deputy Constable Sullivan and he met the runaways on the French Camp road to-day. The husband had sworn out a warrant in San Luis Obispo County before he left, in order that the officers in other localities would have no trouble in arresting and holding the two should they find them.

Paulson has spent most of his life in the traveling show business. He is a heavy set, light-complexioned man, dresses well and has a fluent tongue. When asked what he was doing with the woman, he replied that he was merely driving through the country for her health, and added: "I guess I have as good a right to haul passengers and freight as the Southern Pacific."

Constable Sullivan and Chief Kingsbury heard that the couple were in the vicinity of French Camp early in the morning, and both started out in search of them, taking different roads. Where the county and toll roads meet the officers separated in order to make a more careful search. Sullivan came upon the runaways first. They were in a covered wagon with the curtains tightly drawn, and it was some time before the man responded to Sullivan's calls.

The constable talked against time in order to give Kingsbury a chance to come up. As the chief did not arrive soon enough Sullivan told Paulson he was under arrest and started in to help him hitch up the team in order to come to the city. Kingsbury soon showed up and took the man in charge and Constable Sullivan brought the woman to town in his buggy.

The officers do not know who the man driven by Paulson belongs to, and in fact do not know just upon what charge the San Luis Obispo warrant was issued.

At the jail Paulson took matters very coolly and declined to talk much. The woman does not seem to realize her disgraceful position or have any regrets over the desertion of her husband and children. The husband and San Luis Obispo officers were notified by telegraph, and it is expected that they will arrive here to-morrow.

DETERMINED TO DIE.

Third Attempt of Charles A. Shafer, a Woodland Journalist, to End His Life.

WOODLAND, CAL., March 31.—Charles A. Shafer, city editor of the Mail and one of the brightest young journalists on the Pacific Coast, made a desperate attempt to commit suicide to-night at the house of a friend by swallowing a teaspoonful of morphine.

Dependancy was the cause, it is said, that prompted him in this, the third attempt within the past month to take his life. The poison Shafer took to-night was stolen from a drugstore, and he swallowed a portion of it in the presence of County Assessor M. D. Chamberlain, at that gentleman's home on Second street.

When questioned by Mr. Chamberlain as to what the drug was and why he took it Shafer answered that he had a bad cold and was using quinine. But the contraction of the pupils of the eyes contradicted the quinine story and Mr. Chamberlain lost no time in securing the services of a physician.

Shafer was evidently determined to make a successful job on his third attempt, and fought desperately to thwart the efforts of the physician to apply a stomach pump.

SANTA ROSA ELECTIONS.

Municipal Contest Overshadows the Rivalry of the Aspirants for Regal Honors.

SANTA ROSA, CAL., March 31.—There was no change to-night in the positions of the leaders in the fight for regal honors. Mrs. L. W. Barris gained some during the day, but could not overtake her fair rival, Miss Sara Hall. Miss Hall leads by only twenty-six votes, however, and to-morrow's vote is expected to make a great change in the fight. The city elections, which take place to-morrow, have somewhat overshadowed the carnival Queen contest, and the mayorality conundrum is exciting more interest just now than the race for the floral crown.

Too much credit for the success of the carnival arrangements so far cannot be given to the Hon. Grant O. Richards, chairman of the finance committee. On this gentleman has devolved the whole work of raising money for the festival. Single-handed he has beard the silurian and the "mossback," and compelled one and all to contribute. President J. C. Sims has now honored Mr. Richards by appointing him poet laureate of the festival.

A representative of a fireworks house of San Francisco has an offer before the directors for consideration. He desires to supply a pyrotechnic display on Saturday evening, May 2. It is proposed to reproduce in lines of fire the courthouse and the American flag and to have the profile of the queen illuminate the heavens.

ROMANCE OF SPOKANE.

The Wife of L. C. Dillman Learns That Her Former Husband Is Still Alive.

SPOKANE, WASH., March 31.—L. C. Dillman, who for several years has been prominent in business and financial circles in this State and during the "boom days" was considered one of the boldest and wealthiest operators in the Northwest, today commenced proceedings to annul his marriage with Rebecca Dillman.

In the complaint it is alleged that, though they have lived together for eleven years as man and wife, they have just learned that a former husband of Mrs. Dillman, supposed to have been dead, is alive and living in Boston under the name of Williams.

The Dillmans were married in Kansas, the wife having been Mrs. Staley. Mr. and Mrs. Staley had come to Kansas from Pennsylvania. One morning Staley was missing. Some of his clothing was found on the bank of a stream. The stream was dragged, but his body was not found. The belief was, however, that he had been drowned.

Seven years passed, and, as nothing was heard of Staley, the matter was taken into court. He was declared legally dead and his property was divided. Mrs. Staley married Dillman nine years after the disappearance of her husband. Staley, or Williams, as he is now known, is said to be quite prominent in business circles in Boston.

SAN JOSE LAND WANTED

Second Suit Brought by the Santa Clara Valley Railway.

Property-Owners Demand Heavy Damages Because the Line Crosses Their Fields.

SAN JOSE, CAL., March 31.—The second suit of the Santa Clara Valley Railway Company to secure a right of way for a railway between this city and Alviso began in Judge Lorigan's court this morning. The action is brought to condemn a strip of land through property belonging to A. Malavos, the McKiernan estate and J. Viera.

The company wanted a one-acre tract through the McKiernan tract, and offered $200 for it, but the defendants want $300 for the land and $8800 damages. Viera has a seven years' lease of the McKiernan property, and he asks for $25,000 damages to his crop and for the inconvenience of having the land subdivided by a railway track. It is said a settlement will be made with Malavos.

JOHNSON DEFENDED.

A Lincoln Park Citizen Assails Fresnoes and the Governor.

LOS ANGELES, CAL., March 31.—J. M. Wood, a prominent citizen of Lincoln Park, who has known Rev. L. F. Johnson for twenty years, came warmly to the defense of that individual to-day. Said Mr. Wood with reference to Rev. Mr. Johnson's remarks about the girls of Fresno: "No doubt he alluded to the deplorable fact that many girls are early ruined in California, as well as elsewhere, and it is possible his remarks were indiscreet or exaggerated; but does that justify the rough element of Fresno in its extravagant and fiery indignation? Rev. L. F. Johnson is well known all over New England, and has labored with approval and decided success in more than a half hundred of our churches, many of them the largest in the towns and cities of the East."

"Thousands of useful and active members in our societies have been led to Christian lives in his meetings. I hardly know a man of his age who has been instrumental in leading so many of our young people to Christ. This Fresno bluster will make no impression upon thousands who have known him for many years. Quite a number of the ministers of the Southern California conference and not a few people living in Pasadena and Los Angeles know the truth of these statements."

"If our Governor said what he is reported to have said he has exhibited a pitiable weakness. Ministers of the gospel are under the same restrictive laws and liable to the same fines and penalties for wrong sayings and wrong doings that Governors, editors and politicians are, and they do not need, as he suggests, some special legislation with severe penalties to put a padlock on their mouths in the pulpit."

FRESNO'S DISTINGUISHED GUESTS.

Depew and Vanderbilt Visit the Great Rainier Belt.

FRESNO, CAL., March 31.—A party of railway officials and magnates visited Fresno this morning and was shown some of the raisin and fruit land which surrounds the city. The party was composed of Chauncey M. Depew and Cornelius Vanderbilt of the New York Central Railroad and First Vice-President Charles F. Crocker, A. D. Wilder and D. Burkhalter, division superintendents of the Southern Pacific. They came on a special train and remained here about two hours, leaving at 11 A. M. for Monterey, via Niles and San Jose. Messrs. Depew and Vanderbilt were greatly pleased with the country surrounding Fresno, as well as the city itself, and reported an enjoyable journey from the time they entered the State.

It has been said that the object of the visit to California of the Eastern railroad magnates was to view the country in contemplation of promoting the Salt Lake, Fresno and Los Angeles Railroad, which has been reported as being under consideration as a possibility in the railroad line. This is denied, however, and it is claimed that the trip is one of pleasure and recreation only.

BLAZE AT WINIERS.

Fire Destroys the Fine Residence of H. Brunson.

WOODLAND, CAL., March 31.—The fine two-story residence of A. H. Brunson at Winters was totally destroyed by fire last night. A heavy north wind was blowing, and in twenty minutes the building was reduced to ashes. The fire department did heroic work in preventing the flames from spreading to other buildings. The blaze started in the kitchen flue. The tankhouse and other outbuildings were destroyed. The only contents of the house

Arraigned for Burglary.

SAN JOSE, CAL., March 31.—John Howard was arraigned before Justice Gass this morning on a charge of burglary. His examination was set for April 3. Bail was fixed at $1000. Howard is accused of forcing a room in the Union lodging-house about two weeks ago and stealing a lot of clothing.

JOHNSON SUES FRESNO CITIZENS.

Mental Anguish of the Evangelist Valued at $25,000.

HIS COMPLAINT FILED.

Names as Defendants Four of the Men Who Forced Him to Apologize.

INDIGNATION AGAIN AROUSED.

The Suit Adds to the Popular Resentment of the Insult to the City's Daughters.

FRESNO, CAL., March 31.—One of Evangelist Johnson's promised suits for damages materialized to-day in a complaint against several members of the citizens' committee which prepared the evangelist's now famous retraction and apology touching the chastity of Fresno's daughters. The complaint, which was filed with County Clerk Hart at 6 o'clock this evening, was the following:

Plaintiff complains of defendants and alleges: First—That the plaintiff is now, and for more than ten years last past has been a regularly ordained minister of the Methodist Episcopal Church of the United States of America, and has been during all the said time, and now is, engaged in evangelical work of said church.

Second—The said defendants are, each of them is, and at all times mentioned in this complaint have been residents of the city of Fresno, county of Fresno, State of California.

Third—On the 26th day of March, 1896, at the city of Fresno, county of Fresno, State of California, the defendants, unlawfully, wrongfully and without any right or authority so to do, and against the will of the plaintiff, by force and threats causing plaintiff to fear bodily violence, compelled the plaintiff to go to the office of the First National Bank of Fresno, located on the corner of Main and I streets, in said city, and then and there said defendants unlawfully, wrongfully, and without any right or authority so to do, and against the will of said plaintiff restrained plaintiff of his liberty for the space of about two hours, whereby the plaintiff suffered great mental anguish and was injured in his feelings and reputation and calling to his damage in the sum of $25,000.

Wherefore plaintiff prays for judgments against said defendants, jointly and severally, for the sum of $25,000 and the costs of this suit.

The names of these several defendants are Harry Sherwood, Arthur R. Briggs, Louis Einstein, O. J. Woodward and W. M. Wyatt. The foregoing is the only complaint so far filed. This suit has stirred up considerable feeling again in the community against Johnson. The case will be apportioned to Judge Webb's department of the Superior Court.

saved were a piano and a small amount of furniture. Miss Eleanor Carlson of Santa Rosa and Miss Bertha Pearce of Woodland, teachers in the Winters school, resided with Mr. Brunson and family and lost all their wardrobe, together with $230 in money which they had put away in a bureau drawer. The dwelling was valued at about $6000, and is insured for $1500.

MITCHELL FIRE-SWEPT.

Lower Portion of the Oregon Town Almost Entirely Destroyed—Few Losers Are Insured.

PORTLAND, OR., March 31.—The lower part of the town of Mitchell, in Crook County, was almost entirely destroyed by fire Friday afternoon. The fire originated in Misener's new block, occupied by W. L. Palmer and J. F. Magee. It is not known how the fire started, Palmer's family being absent at the time. When the flames were first discovered they were bursting through the roof and sides of the building, and soon the whole structure was ablaze. The front part was occupied by J. F. Magee as a grocery store, and the upper part by the Knights of Pythias and the A. O. U. W. The flames soon connected with adjoining buildings, and as a strong wind was blowing up the canyon there was no hope of saving them. It was only by the most strenuous efforts that the fire was prevented from reaching the upper portion of the town.

The following is believed to be the only insurance: E. Branson, $500; R. Misener, $2800, and J. F. Magee, $500. The buildings burned were the Misener block, the old Mitchell Hotel adjoining on the west, three residences owned by R. E. Misener and occupied by S. F. Allen, H. E. Misener and N. S. Misener; A. C. McEthern's residence, blacksmith-shop, saloon and livery-stable, and Misener's saloon, Misener's wine cellar, an old store building, formerly occupied by L. Howard; the Monitor office.

Sasser's store building and barns and George Collins' shop alone remain in the lower town. Household goods were moved into the street, but most were burned. W. L. Palmer and J. F. Magee saved a tolerably nothing of their household effects. The others lost almost everything, much of it burning in the streets after being removed from the houses.

CARSON TRIALS.

John T. Jones and Tremnor Coffin Appear in Court.

CARSON, NEV., March 31.—The second trial of John T. Jones, the alleged bullion thief, was to-day set for April 20. The defense has been making a hard fight to have the case go over for the term, but was unable to win the point. The Government has all its witnesses here.

Tremnor Coffin was this morning ordered to stand up and listen to the indictment against him, read by the clerk. His face gave no evidence of emotion when he faced this ordeal in a courtroom where a few weeks ago he had been practicing as an attorney. He will be called upon to plead to-morrow morning.

COLVILLE RESERVATION GOLD.

Prospectors in the Recently Opened Field Make a Rich Strike.

SPOKANE, WASH., March 31.—Spokane was thrown into a whirl of excitement to-day by the news that William McKadden and David O'Neill of this city had made a wonderfully rich strike in the new gold fields on the Colville reservation. They located four claims on a sixty-foot ledge, which assays from the surface 360 in gold and is rich in silver and copper. The owners refused an offer from Marcus Daly to bond the claims for $250,000. Another stampede of prospectors has resulted from the strike.
