

CAPTAIN HEALY'S HEAVY SENTENCE.

Barely Escapes Dismissal From the Revenue Service.

DROPPED TO THE FOOT.

Suspended From Rank and Command and Placed on Waiting Orders.

THIS HOLDS FOR FOUR YEARS.

If Again Found Guilty of Using Intoxicants Excessively He Will Be Dismissed.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 9.—Captain Michael A. Healy of the revenue cutter service, Treasury Department, stationed at San Francisco, was today given the next most severe sentence to dismissal by Secretary Carlisle. The order reads: "That Captain Michael Healy be dropped to the foot of the list of captains of the revenue cutter service, and that he retain that place hereafter; that he be suspended from rank and command and kept on waiting orders for a term of four years, and that he be publicly reprimanded by reading this order on board all vessels of the revenue cutter service by the commanding officer of each at a muster of the commanding officers, and admonished if again found guilty of the excessive use of intoxicants during the term of his sentence thereafter, whether afloat or ashore, he will be summarily dismissed from the service."

Captain Healy commanded the United States steamer Bear, and charges were preferred against him by Lieutenants Daniel and Emery and Assistant Engineer Jones. In his review of the case, states that Captain Healy has served thirty years in the cutter service, during which time he "performed much creditable and valuable services," and while there are no mitigating circumstances, in view of the recommendation of the trial board that "such clemency as may be consistent with the gravity of the case and the welfare of the revenue cutter service" be extended to him, Secretary Olney modified the findings of the court as given.

Secretary Carlisle hesitated for some time before approving the sentence imposed, lest a bad precedent might be established which would return to plague the department. The treasury officials have been overwhelmed with letters and telegrams on the subject asking that leniency be shown the erring captain, and a number of members of Congress have called upon Secretary Carlisle for the same purpose.

As it stands the sentence is quite severe, placing Captain Healy as it does at the foot of the list of his grade for four years and directing that a reprimand for the conduct of that official be read to the crew of every ship and station of the service.

So far as known the charges against officers in the revenue marine service have not yet been acted upon.

WESTERN MEN AT WORK.

Hon. O. P. Salisbury of Utah also talked silver.

"The Utah delegation," he said, "is solid for silver, of course. We purpose doing the very best we can for the white metal in the convention, but we have little hope of accomplishing anything. The party seems determined to commit itself to the gold standard. If a declaration for gold is made the Democrats will carry the State without difficulty. The Republicans have a normal majority of from 2500 to 3000, but that would be wiped out entirely."

Among the late arrivals was ex-Governor Powell Clayton of Arkansas. He is firmly of the opinion that McKinley will win on the first ballot, and thought the only matter upon which there could be speculation was the platform.

"I favor the present monetary standard," he said, "and only such limitation on the coinage of silver money as will be necessary to maintain silver at a parity with gold. The present ratio of 32 to 1 should be maintained and supported."

The National Committee will meet tomorrow at 12 o'clock, and will then decide upon the names of the temporary officers. They will also take up the contests so far as settling them for the preliminary roll.

C. W. Fairbanks of Indiana, ex-Governor Merriam of Minnesota and George A. Knight of California, also Proctor of Vermont have been mentioned for temporary chairman.

That part of California's delegation now here will inaugurate a boom for Ulysses S. Grant for the Vice-Presidency.

George A. Knight of San Francisco will place Grant in nomination. It is predicted that unbounded enthusiasm will follow the oratorical effort, which is sure to associate father and son, and play to the Grand Army sentiment.

Sergeant-at-Arms Byrnes gave out the following for publication to-morrow: "Much inquiry having been made relative to the extent of the damage done to the convention hall by the cyclone, I think it proper to inform the public that the damage has been entirely repaired, and that the hall is as good as it was before the storm. Everything is in readiness for the convention. The assistants have nearly all been selected, and they will report at the office of the sergeant-at-arms in the Auditorium building on Monday, the 15th inst., at 10 A. M. G. N. Wiswell of Wisconsin, first assistant sergeant-at-arms, will, under the general supervision of the sergeant-at-arms, direct the work of all the employes in and around the Auditorium building.

"No commissions will be forwarded; they will be handed to the appointees individually, at the time and place above-mentioned, and on the same day the tickets of admission to the convention will be issued by the sergeant-at-arms from Room No. 220 in the Old Fellows' building on Olive street, between Eleventh and Ninth streets. T. B. BYRNES, "Sergeant-at-Arms."

The finishing touches of the Auditorium were put on to-day. The portraits of General Grant and Admiral Farragut were put up yesterday. The great naval commander looks down on the members of the convention from the gallery railing at the east end of the hall. Directly opposite is a portrait of General Phil Sheridan, representing the army. The still greater leaders, Lincoln and Grant, are on the two sides, the first almost directly over the speaker's stand and Grant at the center of the south gallery opposite. Higher than all, just above Lincoln, is Washington. Each is surrounded by American flags. Some have wondered why Sherman, who lived and was buried in St. Louis, and who outranked Sheridan when he retired from the army, was not selected instead of the latter for one of the four places of honor with Washington. The answer is that the local committee desired to have the cavalry as well as the infantry represented.

The absence of pictures and mottoes representing leaders of the Republican party of to-day is noticed. The omission was intentional. The local committee, supposed to be tintured with McKinleyism, was placed under restrictions in the matter. Here is one of the clauses of the contract signed by Chairman Kennard—a Democrat, by the way—and his colleagues: "The citizens' committee of St. Louis agrees to furnish to the Republican National Committee a hall of the seating capacity of 12,000 or more, handsomely and properly decorated and lighted, without any expense whatever to said National Committee, it being understood that in the decoration of said hall said committee shall not use the picture, photograph or name of any living Republican, nor shall any insignia or motto be used calculated to advance the cause of any candidate for the Presidency."

Probably no flag in the Auditorium will attract more attention or cause so much comment as that of the Cuban insurgents. It occupies a conspicuous place, in fact the most conspicuous place in the entire building. The colors of the Cuban Republic can be seen from any seat in the gallery or dress circle, and that is more than can be said of any other National emblem in the building. Even the President's flag or banner, just above the Cuban colors, will not be visible to some of the occupants of the dress circle.

TO REMAIN AT CANTON.

But McKinley Will Have a Private Wire to St. Louis.

CANTON, Ohio, June 9.—Major McKinley's private secretary, James Boyle, will leave to-morrow for Columbus, from whence he will go to St. Louis. Mrs. McKinley left to-day for Columbus to visit friends.

Major McKinley will remain in Canton until after the convention. A private wire connects his residence with Mark Hanna's room in the Southern Hotel, St. Louis, and there will be constant communication between the two gentlemen.

BRADLEY'S SENSATION.

Will Make an Expose of Certain McKinley Letters.

FRANKFORT, Ky., June 9.—The threatened expose of a lot of letters from Governor McKinley to Governor Bradley was not made public by the latter, according to promise, to-night.

Governor Bradley was at work at the executive office until a late hour, and it was authoritatively announced that he was engaged in the preparation of the forthcoming statement. The publication of the correspondence which Governor Bradley proposes to make public, it is intimated, will be of an extremely sensational nature.

Nominated for Congress.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., June 9.—In the Twenty-second Congressional Republican Convention held here to-day John Daizeil was honored for the tenth time by unanimous nomination for Congressman. The Republican Convention of the Twenty-third District renominated William A. Stone for the third time.

DID MUCH FOR STUDENTS.

Return of Dr. Harry J. Furber Jr. from France.

NEW YORK, N. Y., June 9.—Among the passengers on the steamship Touraine, which arrived in this port yesterday, was Dr. Harry J. Furber Jr. of Chicago, a man to whom all students owe a deep debt of gratitude for the efforts he has recently brought to a successful issue by opening to them the doors of the colleges, universities, institutes and schools of France on even more advantageous terms than are those of Germany.

Herebefore American students seeking a European education have generally gone to Germany on account of the many restrictions imposed by France. Dr. Furber devoted a year to his work, and as a result on January 22 a ministerial decree from the Conseil Supérieur de l'Instruction Publique was issued, which introduced changes into the facilities of science throughout France which enabled a student from the United States bearing proper credentials to take any course, or any part of a course, at any of the French institutions. He can, moreover, pass an American diploma in any subject and obtain a certificate, and when he has passed on all the subjects necessary he can, by sending in a thesis and undergoing a final examination, obtain his full diploma.

FREIGHT AGENTS CONVENE.

President Ripley Gives Good Advice to Railroad Men.

CHICAGO, Ill., June 9.—Fully 250 members, with their wives and daughters in many cases, attended the ninth annual convention of the National Association of Local Freight Agents, which opened to-day at the Tremont House. Mayor Swift extended the hand of welcome in a pleasant speech and the freight men listened during the morning to addresses from President Ripley of the Santa Fe system and President Carpenter of the Chicago and Eastern Illinois road. The convention was called to order by Lot Brown of the Burlington, president of the association.

denouncing certain legislation to which railroads are subjected President Ripley said: "One reason why railroads are subjected to so much preposterous legislation is the apathy existing among railroad men as to the manufacture of public opinion. They should take a more active interest in public matters and do everything they can to resist the efforts of the demagogues."

The convention will continue to Friday.

Approved by the President.

Latest returns indicate that Miss Wertebaucher is in the lead out of 20,000 votes, with Miss Bessie Collins a close second. All preparations for the festival are in excellent shape. Yesterday Director-General Harry A. Greene went to Sacramento to secure permission for the erection of a "City of Tents" with State military tents.

GRAVESEND RACETRACK, N. Y., June 9.—A good card, a large attendance, fine weather and some spirited finishes were the features of the races here to-day. ON THE BALL FIELD.

Meekin Proves Too Much for the Cincinnatiats.

NEW YORK, N. Y., June 8.—Meekin was too much for the Cincinnatiats to-day. The New Yorks on the other hand hit Inks freely during the first four innings after which he settled down and pitched good ball. The visitors put up a fine game in the field. Score: New Yorks—7, 13, 3; Cincinnatiats—4, 7, 4. Batteries—Meekin and Furber, Inks and Vaughn. Umpires—Wilson and Dwyer.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., June 9.—Cleveland again downed today. The visitors played all around the local club both at the bat and in the field. Score: Philadelphia—7, 7; Cleveland—9, 12. Batteries—Orth and Boyle, Wilson and O'Connor. Umpires—Hurst.

BALTIMORE, Md., June 9.—The Baltimore-Louisville score was 4 to 4, when Umpire Sheridan called the game on account of a heavy downpour of rain. The home team had scored three times and had a man on third, with two out, in the fourth inning.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., June 9.—Abbey was very cool and steady today. The Pittsburg players succeeded in reaching the bases. The solitary tally of the visitors was a gift of Stuch, who could have easily caught Elmer Smith in the first inning. Score: Brooklyn—5, 8, 2; Pittsburg—1, 6, 1. Batteries—Abbey and Grim, Hughey and Sugden. Umpire—Emslie.

BOSTON, Mass., June 9.—Breitenstein was an insuperable barrier to the visitors to-day. Not a Boston man reached second base and only one got as far as first. Score: Brooklyn—0, 3, 1; St. Louis—3, 12, 0. Batteries—Sullivan and Terry, Breitenstein and McPherson. Umpire—Lyons.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 9.—Washington-Chicago ball game postponed on account of rain.

Accidental Death at San Pedro.

SACRAMENTO, CAL., June 9.—Judge Catlin this morning dismissed the petition of Superintendent of Streets E. J. DUNHAM ROAMS NEAR SAN MIGUEL.

Two Persons Encounter a Man Resembling the Fugitive.

BEGS FOOD OF BOTH.

The Stranger Stops a Woman and Asks for a Morsel to Eat.

APPLIES AT A RANCHHOUSE.

He Is Heavily Armed and Bears Scars Indicating a Recent Encounter.

SAN JOSE, CAL., June 9.—Since the exciting news of Murderer James C. Dunham's appearance at Smiths Creek no reports have been received at the Sheriff's office that afford more hope than a message which came this afternoon from San Miguel, and which seems to give reliable information that Dunham was within a mile of that town Monday night. The message was received at 3:30 P. M. and was from U. S. Holmes of San Miguel.

It stated that a man supposed to be Dunham was seen on Monday afternoon at 5 o'clock on the road one mile south of San Miguel. A lady who was driving along the road was stopped by the fellow and he begged her to give him some food. She noticed that he wore dark clothes, a black cloth hat, had a scar on his face and another on the back of his left hand, which had evidently been badly scratched. His feet were wrapped in sacks. His trousers were badly torn and about his waist was a belt filled with cartridges. Before leaving her the stranger begged that she say nothing about meeting him.

That the description in the dispatch does not fully correspond with the many other descriptions given by people who have imagined that they had seen the murderer adds weight to the supposition that the man was Dunham, inasmuch as it shows that the woman did not model her description from what she had read as to Dunham's appearance.

When last seen Dunham did not have a cloth hat, as she reported this man to have worn, but it is not unlikely that he had an extra hat along with him.

In addition to this message a letter was received at the Sheriff's office from W. P. Carey of Carey Bros., East San Jose butchers, written under date of this morning from Bradley, conveying further evidence that Dunham is in the San Miguel country and is making southward as rapidly as possible.

Several miles had been in Chote Valley, where he was purchasing cattle. On his way home he stopped at a place called Slacks Canyon, and remained at John Meadows' house last night.

Meadows told him that a suspicious-looking fellow stopped at his house about 9 o'clock Sunday night and asked for something to eat. He described the stranger to Carey as a man wearing a black sack coat and a soft brown hat. When he came to the door he had a revolver in his right hand and, on being invited in, he left an overcoat outside by the door, under which he put a rifle or shotgun. When he had finished eating his meal he left a half-dollar on the table and went away without asking any questions. He had considerable ammunition in a belt which he wore.

The landlord did not suspect the stranger of being the much-wanted murderer, because of the fact that he and his wife had heard nothing of the case, but he did believe he was a criminal.

On Monday he told a neighbor of the fellow's visit, and when shown a picture of Dunham he identified it as being a likeness of the visitor.

The traveler was on foot, and Mr. Carey stated in his letter that the country in that locality is so extremely rough that he could stay there for a long time without being seen.

These reports caused a complete change of the plans made by Sheriff Lyndon, for before they were received he and Deputy Juan Edson had started for Bakersfield. The reports from Bakersfield on Monday, to the effect that Dunham, or a man very much resembling him, was in that locality, were the best the Sheriff had to work upon, and he therefore decided to go south.

Mr. Edson boarded the 1:15 train for Oakland this afternoon, and would have gone on to Bakersfield had they not been headed off by a telegram from Under Sheriff Benson apprising them of the reports from San Miguel. They returned to San Jose this evening on the 5:30 train.

Bradley is hardly more than a stopping-place on the railroad, eleven miles north of San Miguel, and Slacks Canyon, where Dunham was seen Sunday night, is a few miles east.

Sheriff Lyndon upon his return decided that he and Edson would board the 10:17 o'clock train to-morrow morning for San Miguel, and from that point endeavor to get on Dunham's trail and run him down. Under-Sheriff Benson sent telegrams to all of the officers he could reach in the San Miguel country, and also to Sheriff Ballou of San Luis Obispo, Sheriff Matthews of Salinas and Sheriff Holbrook of Hollister. Both Ballou and Holbrook will probably join Sheriff Lyndon to-morrow morning, the former at San Miguel and the latter at Sargents station. Sheriff Matthews may possibly become one of the party.

Division Superintendent Frazer was at San Luis Obispo to-night and a telegram was sent to him asking that railroad conductors and brakemen on his division be notified as soon as possible to be on the alert for Dunham.

Both clues being more than ordinarily plausible, the officers conclude that Dunham traveled from Slacks Canyon to San Miguel during Sunday night and Monday. He is, therefore, expected to have about forty-eight hours the start of them when they reach San Miguel.

A message from Salinas says that a Sheriff's posse started on the search as soon as the woman who had encountered Dunham made known the incident. Men are now scouring the country.

ASTORIA CALLS FOR MILITIA.

Oregon Guards Ordered in Readiness to Move at Once.

COLUMBIA RIVER WAR.

Renewed Excitement Caused by the Burning of a Large Cannery.

FURTHER BLOODSHED FEARED.

Striking Fishermen May Resist the Attempt by the Military to Restore Order.

PORTLAND, OR., June 9.—It was learned from a private source to-day that between midnight and 9 o'clock to-morrow morning the First Regiment of the Oregon National Guard will be summoned to embark for the Lower Columbia River to take a hand in preventing fishermen's riots. There is an understanding among the companies that they are to be prepared to go on an hour's notice. There is a strong under-current of excitement pervading Portland to-day over the prospect of war on the river. The secrecy covering the movements of the National Guard leads to numerous baseless rumors, which are ridiculous on the face of them. The militia officials evidently are afraid to deny street rumors because by so doing it would appear that they are attaching too much importance to them.

Notwithstanding the fact that the gravity of the situation down the river demands some action (unless the counsel for arbitration is listened to) there is a feeling here that the presence of the National Guard below will only foment more strife, and at the end of the campaign leave matters in worse condition than they were at the beginning.

The burning of the cannery at Cook's fishing station, on the Washington side of the river, last night is responsible for the fresh agitation and for the call for the militia. That, however, is Washington's trouble, and has nothing to do with the Oregon side of the trouble.

Brigadier-General Beebe of the Oregon National Guard is absolutely non-committal upon the Columbia River situation, neither denying nor affirming the report that the First Regiment had received marching orders. It is certain, though, that if the militia come into contact with the desperate fishermen there will be actual war and great loss of life. The fishermen are well armed, and will resist the encroachment of all military regulars or militia.

Portland Threatened by a Flood.

PORTLAND, OR., June 9.—Willamette and Columbia rivers are still rising rapidly. Nothing but the cool weather now prevailing in Willamette Valley prevents the water from flooding Front street. Should the weather turn warmer tomorrow or three days it is safe to predict that the water will reach Third-street celars. For the past forty-eight hours business men on Front street have been moving all goods from the lower floors in anticipation of a flood. The river is now twenty-one feet above low tide, and some damage is being caused along the water front.

Called to a Redwood Pulpit.

REDWOOD CITY, CAL., June 9.—The trustees and officials of the Congregational Church of this city have decided to extend a call to Rev. Frederick Moor of nine years to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Rev. L. D. Rathbone. Mr. Rathbone has been called to the pastorate of the Congregational Church at Santa Rosa after a service here of nine years. Mr. Moor is a graduate of the Pacific Theological Seminary.
