

NEW FIELD FOR LOCAL COMMERCE. Utah Will Be Virgin Ground for California Shippers.

STORY TOLD IN FIGURES.

Victory for the Traffic Association Soon to Be Enjoyed.

LOW RATES ON SATURDAY.

San Francisco Can Then Meet Her Rivals on a Basis Conducive to Trade.

The Traffic Association of California, having won a victory in the fierce contest for Utah business, is now preparing for the added satisfaction of seeing San Francisco merchants enjoy the benefits thus brought to them.

The southeast portion of Utah, which was hardly accessible before because of discrimination in favor of Eastern merchants, is regarded not only by shippers, but by the railways as well, as an important region.

Heretofore it was supplied from Chicago and cities on the Missouri, although San Francisco, by reason of its closer proximity, was entitled to the business.

The result has been made known in general terms, and now the Southern Pacific has come out with a new freight tariff between stations on its lines in California to stations on the Rio Grande Western in Utah and Colorado.

This Junction, several miles eastward of Salt Lake City, is made a "common point" in Utah, as it is a distributing point for the mining districts.

The Republic County Committee has selected United States Senator George C. Perkins to preside at the ratification meeting. The Senator said yesterday that he had notified the committee of his acceptance.

The clubs will take position on Mission and Howard streets, near New Montgomery. The column will enter Market street at the Palace Hotel and march directly to the Pavilion.

The Enterprise Republican Club of the City will furnish their own special features and fireworks. Many bands of music have been engaged for the ratification.

The case was called in Judge Low's court Monday morning, but Marlow failed to appear. The Judge continued the case till yesterday and issued a bench warrant for Marlow's arrest.

The police want to find Marlow. If he was robbed of $40 by two men they want him to explain how he became possessed of so much money.

Marlow was arrested on December 12 last by Sergeant Mahoney of the harbor police for grand larceny. The charge was afterward reduced to petty larceny, and on December 19 Judge Jochimsen sentenced him to six months in the County Jail. He was only released a few days ago.

The closing exercises of the Hebrew and religious school of the above congregation will take place on Sunday next, June 21, at 7:30 P. M.

This being the first time in the history of said school that the advanced pupils have finished the reading and translations of the main prayers of the Jastro ritual, an extraordinary and highly interesting programme has been prepared, consisting of Hebrew and English recitations concerning the Day of Atonement, accompanied by appropriate poems, quotations and sacred music.

In France it is decided that the makers of bicycles are responsible when an accident occurs through a structural fault in a machine.

The term Utah common points embraced the following, located on the Union Pacific system on the Rio Grande Western Railway: American Fork, Atkinson, Battle Creek, Bingham Junction, Brick Spur, Centerville, Coalville, Crockett, Devil's Gate, Draper, Echo, Farmington, Germania, Grass Creek Junction, Hooper, Jordan Narrows, Kays Creek, Kayville, Laramie, Layton, Lehi, Lodi Junction, Lovendahl, Morgan, Murray, Ogden, Park City, Peterson, Pleasant Grove, Frovo, River-ton, Roy, Salt Lake City, Sandy, Spanish Fork, Springville, Stand Pipe, Strawberry, Summit, Syracuse, Uintah, Washburn, Wanship Tank, Wyo. Cross and stations between such points.

It will be seen from this list that a very important field for the enterprise of San Francisco merchants has been opened. The new ratio in rates for Utah freight business stands in favor of San Francisco at 75 per cent of Missouri River rates and about 60 per cent of Chicago figures—a clear gain for California through the Traffic Association.

THE OLYMPIC BATHS. Three Thousand Dollars Will Be Expended in Improvements. The Olympic Club must economize, so say the directors. Some months ago, when interest in the affairs of the club was flagging, the directors decided, after long deliberation, that something must be done to keep down the expenses, which were considerable in an institution of this kind.

Everything went along swimmingly for a while, and the directors were congratulating themselves on the favorable prospects and the financial success they had achieved from a boxing entertainment which netted a very nice sum.

Recently something occurred which affected the club, and as a consequence, the secretary received several resignations. Many of those who in a moment of impulse, signified their intentions of resigning, changed their minds when they had an opportunity to consult with the directors and leading members of the club, and are now staunch supporters of the Olympic.

Harry Clarke, the swimming instructor who was discharged a few weeks ago, presented a petition for reinstatement to the directors at last night's meeting. The petition was signed by a majority of the members of the Olympic Club, who are strongly in favor of having Clarke restored to his old position, which is that of swimming teacher.

His services will not be required in July and August, as the present bathing compartments are to be torn down and substantial bathrooms will be erected and of material which will stand the ravages of the salt water and its parasites.

When women will commence removing the decayed woodwork of the bathrooms on July 1.

REPUBLICAN RED FIRE. St. Louis Nominations to Be Ratified in Great Form.

Procession and Music on the Streets. Speeches at the Pavilion.

Red fire, music, a general parade of clubs and speeches at the Pavilion will be features of the great Republican ratification meeting in San Francisco next Saturday evening. Since it is regarded as a sure thing that McKinley is to be the nominee for President, it only remains for the Vice-President to be named in order that the banners and transparencies may be painted.

The Republican County Committee has selected United States Senator George C. Perkins to preside at the ratification meeting. The Senator said yesterday that he had notified the committee of his acceptance.

The clubs will take position on Mission and Howard streets, near New Montgomery. The column will enter Market street at the Palace Hotel and march directly to the Pavilion.

would have been attempted, before now; for it is notorious that no single subject has provoked such long continued and bitter controversy among our people as the subject of unequal taxation; the supposed misconduct of assessors, the alleged unequal taxation they have levied on the property of the poor, the rich and have discriminated against the poor—has constituted an enduring theme of discussion by the press in the forum and upon the stump; yet it would appear that until now it has never been thought to attempt the prosecution of an Assessor for felony committed by him in rendering his decision upon the subject of values.

The proceeding against Siebe having been dismissed, all mere collateral questions go with it. There are certain proceedings pending for contempt which must be discontinued also, and arose only upon a question made in good faith and under the advice of learned counsel as to the lawful authority of the court to enforce the production of the books of the company. The parties and their counsel respectfully questioned the power of the court here to make an order that the books be produced. They had the right to make the objection in that way—in fact, there was no other way practically open to them.

HIS CONDUCT TO BE INVESTIGATED. Serious Charges Made Against Attorney M. M. Foote.

THE BAR ASSOCIATION. Will Soon Probe Into the Mysteries of the Morris Lubeck Case.

ADVICE WAS NOT GIVEN FREE. A Counselor-at-Law Falls the Victim of His Own Advertising Dodgers.

M. M. Foote, the attorney, is about to be subjected to the cathode ray of judicial investigation by his fellow-members of the Bar Association.

Let it not be understood that it is W. W. Foote, the eminent attorney and Democratic politician, who is to go through this ordeal, but his brother, "Inverted" Foote, as he is better known, his initials being M. M. instead of W. W.

Well, "Inverted" Foote has brought heaps of trouble upon himself through a client, one Morris Lubeck, who loans money on collateral security for every dollar he loans out, and makes a charge for interest based principally on what the victim will stand.

Lubeck loaned out nearly $1000 on the unsecured notes of a man he believed to be as good as gold. This paper matured and it was protested. Then Lubeck engaged Attorney Rosenthal to enforce collection. The latter, however, was not prompt enough to please Mr. Lubeck.

Between these two lines in each case, a cheap stamp of the attorney's face was displayed. From time to time, however, after getting Lubeck's business, Attorney Foote made demands upon him for expense money, court and shorthand reporters' fees and a thousand and one other petty affairs that must be paid if one cares to indulge in litigation. In all, Lubeck paid Foote some $55 and awaited results.

The cases progressed to the extent of two suits being brought in the Justices' Court and one in the Superior Court, where they are still pending for the matter of that, no decision having ever been given. To bring these suits, Attorney Foote paid as much as $13 out of the $55 he received.

But Lubeck did not care so much for that. What angered him and caused his withdrawal of clientage from Attorney Foote was the fact that while the latter was thinking matters over the sued party had eight months to sell out all his property and make an exit for parts unknown, presumably Germany.

The result is that the $1000 worth of notes held by Lubeck are not worth the paper they are written on.

In this dilemma Lubeck sought the advice of Attorney James K. Ross, who, at the investigation of his new client, has formulated charges against Foote, setting forth certain acts contrary to the ethics of the profession as accepted by the Bar Association.

While said charges were being compiled Attorney M. M. Foote brought suit in the Justices' Court against Lubeck to recover $187 attorney's fees for advice. Three days ago Justice Groezinger decided in favor of the defendant, Attorney Ross showing as his chief evidence Mr. Foote's advertisement dodgers offering "advice free."

Some of the other evidence developed a phase of character not unusual with men in Mr. Lubeck's business. It appears that he was very anxious to know how his cases were progressing, and he called at least once or twice each day on his attorney to ascertain. In his bill of charges going to make up the $187 claimed by Foote the latter charged his client with $5 for each visit.

The more serious charge, however, in the complaint filed with the Bar Association by Attorney J. K. Ross and Mr. Lubeck, is that either Mr. Foote or his clerk yielded to a monetary consideration at the hands of the debtor, who was allowed to escape. Testimony to that effect was produced in the Justices' Court when Lubeck won the case.

"I do not know anything about a disbarment proceeding," said Mr. Foote last night. "I suppose I have many enemies who are capable of attempting such a thing, but for the life of me I do not know who it can be unless that client of mine, Lubeck, has got his back up."

"I brought five or six suits for him, and had a fee of $187 to collect. I had much difficulty in getting a financial recognition, and finally brought suit."

"He has laid himself liable on several occasions to prosecution for libel if I had seen fit to press the matter. He is a closed fist dog, anyway, and what he may say or do will have no effect."
