Bell was caught in the same storm that wrecked the Katherine. A private letter by the Rio de Janeiro says that her foremast went by the board and her upper works were badly damaged. She had 565 skins aboard, which were safely landed at Hakodate.

San Francisco will have the pleasure of entertaining the crew of another British man-of-war in a few days. As soon as the Comus reaches Victoria, B. C., the flagship Imperieuse will start on a cruise south, making her first stop at this port. She is a sister ship to the Warspite, but her armament is much heavier. The Imperieuse relieved the Royal Arthur and Admiral Sir L. B. Palliser files his pennant at her mizzen.

Another American ship, the J. B. Thomas, has got a bad name. During the run to Honolulu the officers and men were constantly fighting and when the vessel came to an anchor five of the sailors escaped. They jumped overboard during the night, but one of them, John Schmidt, a native of Germany, aged 30 years, never reached shore. His body was recovered and as it was covered with bruises murder was suspected. The four men who swam ashore were captured and returned to the ship. The Hawaiian authorities were still investigating the case when the Rio de Janeiro left Honolulu. Schmidt was a member of the Salvation Army and had been the butt of every man on board the Thomas during the voyage.

A fishing-boat was picked up by one of the life-saving stations yesterday. It is probably one of those from which the steamer City of Para and schooner Phelps rescued the crews. The boat can be got by applying to Major Blakeney at the headquarters of the life-saving service in the city.

The Union-square Market Company was yesterday incorporated by Bernhard Miller, Jean L. Vermeil, Edward L. Gatten, Jules Le Maître, Samuel Stephens, Jacob Herz, Joseph Marshall, Michael J. Kelly, Hermann A. Rosenbaum, Dean R. Avery, Adam Karl and

FOR NEW LABOR LAWS. The Next Legislature Will Be Asked to Consider This Matter.

After Labor Commissioner E. L. Fitzgerald had been in office a few months he discovered that there were many laws on the statute-books relative to labor that were either dead letters or so faulty in construction as to be inoperative.

Under the present law the mechanic has no lien upon the product of his labor, and hundreds of laboring men are swindled by unscrupulous contractors.

Now it is charged that he is a deserter. They say that he has gone into the Rainey camp, and that Rainey, Daggett and Lanigan have pulled him over by promising to make him Sheriff.

Mr. O'Brien, being in Santa Cruz, cannot defend himself, but the late pet of the Buckleyites is no longer the sweetest thing on earth to him.

And there's Andy Clunie, too, in trouble

When the Grand Jury adjourned last Friday it was thought no more evening sessions would be held until the streets were again lighted.

All the petty thieves in the city seem to have congregated on the water front. Hardly a night passes but what some saloon is broken into and other establishments are robbed in broad daylight.

along with Jim. There is more than a suspicion that A. J. has given them the double-cross, and curses are hissed at him. For some little time before the convention the Buckleyites hoped that somebody would steal Clunie away from them, and now it is charged that Clunie has gone into the Rainey camp, too.

It may be a devilish lie, of course, but the story is that Rainey, Daggett and Lanigan have taken up Andrew's brother, Thomas J. Clunie, as their candidate for Congress, and that Andy has switched with that deal. Joseph P. Kelly is much excited about this news, but says he can beat Clunie for the nomination yet. As there will be new candidates in the field before the Congressional convention in the Fifth District, July 20, all this is perhaps more interesting than important.

None others of the Buckleyites are yet known to have deserted to Rainey's camp, but the Rainey-Daggett-Lanigan combination, which now has the Junta in its power, is losing no tricks in strengthening its forces.

The joint meeting of the Buckley general committee and State convention delegation at B'nai B'rith Hall to-night, which will express the vigorous life remaining in the faction and its determination to stand by its well-founded claims to be the regular party machine, will be enlivened by opinion of the Sacramento credentials committee, by Peter F. Dunne and Joseph Rothschild, and by more or less fiery and eloquent speeches by Colonel O'Byrne, Reel B. Terry and other Democratic orators.

Dr. James I. Stanton, chairman of the late convention delegation, will make a report on the said convention, and when the meeting is through with reminiscences of Sacramento a primary election for delegates to a national convention will be ordered. The dates for the primary and for the convention, which will not be held for earlier than September, will be referred to the executive committee, with power to the Sacramento delegation.

The Junta has got ahead of the Buckleyites by announcing first that they will conduct a huge and grand ratification of the work of the Chicago convention. Chairman Sullivan is now busy with plans for the ratification which the Junta proposes to take charge of.

What the Buckleyites will do about a ratification under the Junta auspices remains a problem. They say that they will be in on any ratification of the Democratic party, and that they will show by their numbers where the party strength lies.

Dr. W. J. Gavilan has just abandoned the active practice of medicine and has turned to his profession of law. As a lawyer he can figure more freely in politics, and he will likely cut a prominent figure in the municipal politics of the next few months.

JUDGE CONLAN WELLS FOR A GUN.

Most Sensational Incident in the Police Court.

A MINER FROM ARIZONA. J. H. Berry Puts His Hand in His Hip Pocket as if to Shoot.

SEIZED AND SENT TO PRISON. On Explaining That He Merely Wanted to Show the Judge Some Papers He Is Released.

A Judge yelling for a gun and a man with his hand in his hip pocket and struggling in the grasp of about a dozen men was one of the incidents in the Police Court yesterday.

The preliminary examination of Abraham Green of the firm of Carrau & Green, jewelers, 220 Sutter street, on the charge of felony embezzlement was continued before Judge Conlan yesterday afternoon.

J. H. Berry, the miner, who was the complaining witness, was asked on Saturday to produce other alleged rough diamonds similar to the one valued at $5000 which he charged Green with embezzling. He again refused to produce them and this closed the case for the prosecution.

The defendant, Green, then took the stand and swore that the alleged rough diamond was nothing but a crystal and was not worth a cent. He had cut it with a file and told Berry that it was merely a crystal, as Berry told him to get it out, anyhow, as it might make a nice-appearing stone. The stone had been lost by W. H. Forester, a boy in the store. Forester and another witness corroborated the defendant.

The Judge said he would dismiss the case as there was no evidence to show that the stone was anything but a crystal. He thought "Berry had been born with wheels in his head, and they had been with him till now."

"On Saturday," continued the Judge, addressing Berry, "you said that if you did not get a square deal in this court you would take the case to another court. I would advise you to take the matter before the Grand Jury, and I will be present so that the jury can hear both sides of the case, and it is my opinion that instead of bringing in an indictment against Green for embezzlement they will bring in one against you for insanity."

Berry had been standing beside Prosecuting Attorney Mogan and Detective Ed Gibson listening intently to the Judge's remarks. Just as the Judge concluded Berry suddenly placed his right hand in his hip pocket. The Judge jumped to his feet and yelled "Some one give me a gun."

Billy Brennan, a friend of the Judge, had been watching Berry, and in an instant he sprang upon him and seized his right hand before he could draw it out of his pocket, and Detective Gibson grabbed him round the waist, while several others piled upon him.

There was for a minute or two a wild scene in the court. Those in the range of fire ducked their heads and some crawled underneath the seats.

Berry tried to explain, but his voice was drowned in the din. The Judge ordered Billy Brennan to take Berry to the City Prison and search him for a weapon, but was taken there and the only thing found in his hip pocket was a leather wallet containing some papers.

"I can't understand this," said Berry, who appeared completely dazed. "I put my hand in my hip pocket to pull out the wallet to show the Judge some papers that would prove I am the man I represent myself to be, a miner from Arizona, and they pounced upon me and hustled me down here."

The Judge and Prosecuting Attorney Mogan came to the prison in a few minutes and on being told what Berry had intended doing the Judge told him to go home.

"Well," said the Judge, "the man's action was so suggestive that being from Arizona I naturally concluded he was going to pull a gun. Besides, after making the threat to shoot today that he would have a square deal, I didn't know but what he would get ugly after I dismissed the case."

A MILLIONAIRE'S SANITY. A. Cuneo, a Wealthy Wall-Street Broker, Said to Have Lost His Mind.

A. Cuneo, a Wall-street broker, who is reported to be worth between $4,000,000 and $5,000,000, was sent to the Receiving Hospital last evening to await an examination by the Commissioners of Insanity.

Several Small Fires. An alarm was sounded from box 157 at 10 A. M. yesterday for a fire in a row of sheds in the rear of 255 Fourth street, owned by E. H. Pardee. The cause of the fire is unknown. The damage amounted to about $200.

NEW TO-DAY. The Bane of Beauty.

Beauty's bane is the fading or falling of the hair. Luxuriant tresses are far more to the matron than to the maid whose casket of charms is yet unfilled by time.

Beautiful women will be glad to be reminded that falling or fading hair is unknown to those who use Ayer's Hair Vigor.

The fire was maliciously started by tramps. It is estimated that $100 will cover the damage.

Children playing with matches started a fire in Albert Fowler's dwelling-house, rear of 1308 Steiner street, which damaged that building and adjoining properties to the extent of about $1500.

Trilby and Svengali Having an Outing in Mission Bay. The Steamer (Trilby) While Going Alongside the Scow (Svengali) Was Caught by the Tide and Carried Almost Bow On Against the Heavy Laden Barge.

as her upper works were damaged and it was some time before she got away from her uncomfortable quarters.

Trilby is a stern-wheel steamer that is well known on the bay. For some time she ran opposition to the Southern Pacific on the Sacramento River, but finally she had to be withdrawn for lack of patronage.

Svengali is the big barge that for weeks has been used as "a receiving-ship" in Mission Bay. Sometimes she is loaded with lumber and a few days later coal crowds her ample decks.

The Trilby wanted some of the coal and was trying to get alongside when the tide caught her and took command. The men on the Svengali did everything in their power to prevent a disaster, but failed. In spite of the trouble Svengali and Trilby are still good friends, and when the latter wants a supply of coal again she will probably go out to Mission Bay.
