

TO FIGHT FOR BETTER TIMES.

Organization of a Local National Republican League Club.

LARGE NUMBERS JOIN.

Tirey L. Ford Chosen President and Eugene F. Bert Secretary Amid Enthusiasm.

LIVE ISSUES ABLY DISCUSSED.

Protection and Prosperity to Be the Slogan of the Workers in the Cause of Republicanism.

At the meeting of the prominent Republicans of San Francisco at the rooms of the Union League Club last night there was organized "The National Republican League of San Francisco" in accordance with the suggestions and plans published in THE CALL of yesterday.

The first business was the adoption of the suggestions recommended by the committee as already referred to.

Senator Tirey L. Ford was elected president of the club. He made a brief address, showing the necessity to the country of the success of the Republican party in the coming National election, concluding as follows:

There is but one great party in this country to which a confiding people can look for relief at this time. It is not necessary for me to name that party. Everyone knows the history of that organization and what it has accomplished, and under the leadership of Ohio's favorite son we must again place that party in power.

On motion of Judge Dibble the president was empowered to appoint a committee of five whose duty it should be to select eighteen candidates for vice-presidents—one from each Assembly district.

Senator Eugene F. Bert was elected secretary; Albert Castle, treasurer.

The committee appointed to select the vice-presidential candidates was also instructed to select six candidates to act as a committee on finance in connection with the treasurer.

At this point a recess of fifteen minutes was taken to allow those present not already enrolled to become members. There were already fifty-four members on the roll, and when the recess was over this number had been swelled to 126.

Chairman Ford named the following committee on nominations: Judge H. C. Dibble, Sigmond Patton, T. C. Masteller, E. L. Wolfe and George E. Moore. His announcement that the last-mentioned gentleman was a nephew of Major William McKinley was received with applause.

Judge Dibble asked permission to emphasize the position of the newly formed club. He declared it was not to aid in the nomination of any man for office, but to secure the election of the candidates put into the field by the regularly organized party clubs and conventions.

C. W. Kyle advocated a campaign of education among the working people. He suggested that the committees be appointed who should be supplied with the right kind of literature, and instructed to work among the shops and the other places where men earn their living by manual labor.

Supreme Court Commissioner John Hayne, after calling attention to the fact that California has always been a gold State, stated the banks of San Francisco had $130,000,000 in gold loaned out on mortgages. "Even the prospect of silver legislation," he said, "will force gold to a premium, and then all these mortgagors will have to pay this premium to get the gold to pay off their indebtedness. Thus the burden will fall on the debtor class. There will be two prices to everything one wants to buy—one in gold and another in silver."

Judge Waymire denied that the Republican party was an enemy of silver. He declared it was in favor of silver, but on a logical basis, and with the co-operation of the nations with which the United States does business.

Other speakers spoke of the benefits of protection, pointing out that with the resumption of industrial prosperity, brought about by a protective tariff, there would be plenty of gold and silver for every one. Adjournment was taken until next Wednesday evening.

The Women's Justice Central Republican Club met in State Groezinger's courtroom last night.

Mr. Ballou, president, read the following communication from Mrs. J. Ellen Foster of New York, the National president:

I write a few lines this morning to ask you what is the effect of the St. Louis platform on our woman's work in California. Will the Chicago platform get many supporters among Republican women, or will dissatisfaction with the St. Louis platform make courage out of the women so they will be inactive during the campaign? The issue will be sharply every-where between the present gold standard and silver monometallism, which many believe would be the results of the free and unlimited coinage of silver. I realize now, perhaps, than the gentlemen that this is a critical time among California women, and do hope they will not "sour" on the Republican party now.

Committees were then appointed for the entertainment to be given by the club on August 12.

Dawson Mayer delivered a brief address. He said that women as well as men should study the question returned day and fully understand the issues of the hour. Too many men did not understand the questions and could not, therefore, explain them to women. He complimented the club on being able to keep order and upon the attention paid to the speakers.

Attorney H. W. Hatton said this campaign with its issues was more to women than men, for if the right party did not get into power it would be hard upon the women so many men went out of work. Everybody in the State should vote the Republican ticket.

Speeches were also made by Mr. Custer, Mr. Leavitt and Mr. Stoner. A rising vote of the club on being able to keep order and upon the attention paid to the speakers.

At the previous meeting of the club Miss Marjory McKinley Morse was made an honorary member and was named the mascot of the McKinley campaign. She is the little daughter of Mrs. G. E. Morse, a niece of Major McKinley.

Republicans in Line.

The Silver Tide Has Turned and Brings Estrays Back Into the Ranks.

Fourth District Republicans Will Soon Name a Congressman, and Dinkelspiel Leads.

Amid the early campaign reports from all over the State which float into the Republican headquarters in rapidly increasing numbers the one that is oftener repeated in many forms is the one Republican defections on account of silver are decreasing and that everywhere there is noticeable a general tendency among "silver Republicans" to get in behind the superb leader McKinley and support the Republican ticket.

S. K. Thornton, who visited the headquarters in the Palace Hotel yesterday afternoon, gave one of the latest of these reports. He reported that he had returned from a somewhat extended business trip through San Mateo, Santa Clara and Santa Cruz counties, during which he paid particular attention to the political feeling of the communities in which he stopped.

"I found everywhere a confident feeling and bright prospects on the Republican side," said Mr. Thornton yesterday. "The most noticeable thing which I observed, however, was that those Republicans who in the first outburst of the silver craze thought to betake themselves out of the Republican party are everywhere getting back into the ranks, as they realize that the reiteration of the Republican party means."

This word is typical of many reports which reach headquarters by letter through the State forces and by observant Republicans who call at headquarters. The silver Republicans, even before the educational campaign has begun, are realizing that the truest promise of bimetalism and the only safe and possible path to it are offered by the Republican party, the rule of which means so vastly much besides to the Nation, and they are standing by their principles, standing by protection and trusting the grand old party to find the quickest and safest way to the best financial legislation that wisdom can devise.

Bank Commissioner J. B. Fuller, who has been about the State a good deal within the past few weeks and who has just returned from his home in Woodland, was at the rooms of the Union League Club last evening, when he stated that his observations in Yuba and Sutter counties showed that there were many more Democratic voters who would vote for Bryan and anarchism than there were Republicans who are at this early stage doubtful about supporting McKinley. Mr. Fuller found the Republican outlook bright everywhere.

If there have been any Republican doubts about success they appear to have been in San Francisco," said Mr. Fuller. "In the country there are no fears for the party."

The Republicans of the Fourth District will soon nominate a Congressman, though no definite convention arrangements have been made. It cannot be foretold who will run against Judge Maguire during this campaign, so prominent for Republican success, but the leading candidate is now Attorney H. G. W. Dinkelspiel, the law partner of H. C. Gestord in the firm of Dinkelspiel & Gestord.

Mr. Dinkelspiel is an especially strong position, because he is a bright, able and successful man of high character and wide popularity and because he appears to be the man to whose support every party element in this district would warmly rally.

This promising candidate was two years ago elected to the Assembly from the Thirty-ninth District, and his personal popularity was shown by the fact that he secured the largest majority received by any legislative candidate of any party. He has never been a practical politician, but is a man of culture and high character. His record in the Legislature was marked by his cleanliness and his championship of the people's cause at every opportunity. He fathered in the Assembly the bill for the regulation of the working hours of barber-shops, and he also championed other labor measures.

Mr. Dinkelspiel is a Native Son, and is especially popular in this order, in which he is a past grand officer and an active and influential worker. He is now president of the Library and Reading-room Association of the order in San Francisco, and is a member of the hall association of the order, in which capacity he took an active part in the erection of the new Native Sons' Hall. If nominated, Mr. Dinkelspiel will make a hard and aggressive fight, and he and his friends are sure that he can win the district for Republicanism.

The Austrian-American McKinley Club held another of its big regular meetings last evening at Temple Hall. Thirty new members were enrolled, making the membership 325. H. H. Williams spoke in honor of John D. Spreckels and in behalf of prompt registration and the Republican cause. Secretary J. J. Feeley discussed the financial question ably and A. B. Treadwell was among the other speakers. The club will adopt a uniform and become a feature of campaign life.

INDORSEMENT OF LOUD. Named for Congress by the Central Republican Club Last Night.

The executive committee of the Thirty-fourth Assembly District Central Republican Club met last night at Sixteenth and Mission streets, Charles Mayer in the chair.

A committee of five, composed of F. J. Hurst, E. E. Smith, W. W. Whan, William Cashman and C. C. Butt, was appointed to make arrangements for a ratification meeting to be held at the Grand Hotel.

The following resolution was offered and carried unanimously:

WHEREAS, The Hon. Eugene F. Loud is one of the most influential and active members of Congress from California, and has been distinguished by his appointment to the chairmanship of the Committee on Postoffices and Postal Roads, one of the most important positions in the House of Representatives of the United States; and whereas, through his untiring and successful efforts for the improvement of our harbor, his diligent and effective labor for the improvement of the postal system and his special and productive work in procuring an appropriation of $250,000 for restraining-dams for the hydraulic mines have endeared him not only to the people of his district but to the people of the whole country; and whereas, it has been shown that the policy of the people of this district in keeping the Hon. Eugene F. Loud in Congress for several terms has been productive of good results and beneficial to the people of the State, therefore be it

Resolved, That we, the members of the executive committee of the Thirty-fourth Assembly District Central Republican Club do hereby endorse the Hon. Eugene F. Loud as our choice for renomination for Congress, so that the Fifth Congressional District and State may be represented by an experienced, faithful and energetic servant of the people.

OLYMPIC CLUB BOXERS, Pugilists Who Are in Fine Trim for Friday Evening's Exhibition.

Joe McAuliffe, Who Is to Fight Slavlin, Is Reducing Flesh Rapidly.

The Olympic Club is now sanguine of having a big house on Friday evening, when it will give its second professional boxing entertainment in the gymnasium.

Director Short said yesterday that the tickets for the entertainment are selling like hot cakes and that the club will certainly realize a nice sum from the scheme to help along the financial end of this grand athletic institution.

Van Buskirk and Davis are in the pink of condition and the big Olympic heavyweight is very confident of putting the Omaha champion to sleep in short order. It will surely be a quick and spirited contest. What promises to be the prettiest bout of the evening will be a meeting between McArthur and Green. This will be four rounds and the spectators can rest satisfied that they will witness a scientific contest worth going many miles to see.

Butler and Rochette will have a hot argument for eight rounds, and it can safely be said that the clever bantams, Mahoney and Smith, will give a rattling performance. The Olympic boys are backing Smith strongly because he is said to be stronger and a much harder puncher than the man from Sausalito. Davis is favorite over Van Buskirk, Rochette is favorite over Butler and even money is being placed on the bout between McArthur and Green.

The following circular, which is self-explanatory, has been sent by the Olympic Club's secretary to each member of the club:

On Friday evening, July 31, there will be held in the gymnasium of this club three eight-round professional boxing contests. It has been decided to charge the members of this club $1 for tickets to witness the exhibition, and to non-members the charge will be $2.50. In explanation of our course in this matter we have to say that first-class amateur talent is almost impossible to obtain, owing to the fact that the Amateur Athletic Union will not admit of a $35 prize being given, and we find it very difficult to induce men to train for weeks at a time and then to contest for a $35 prize. We therefore have concluded to follow in the footsteps of all the large clubs in the East and give a gentleman's night, when all contestants are professionals. Such an entertainment will cost about $100, and in order to give it we are obliged to charge as stated above.

For the accommodation of members half of the seats will be partitioned off and members will be admitted at the main entrance to the club upon presentation of their membership card, accompanied by an admission ticket. No seats will be reserved.

Should this entertainment meet with the success anticipated similar ones will be given in the near future. The world's champion, James J. Corbett, will act as referee.

On Monday evening, August 3, a general meeting of the club will be held for the purpose of electing a committee of five, who shall nominate candidates to fight for the ensuing term, and their nominees shall be known as the regular ticket. Yours respectfully,

CHARLES J. BOWEN, SECRETARY.

George Miehsing, the club's wrestling instructor, returned from the East yesterday after enjoying a very pleasant vacation. Miehsing says that he had not seen his journey through the large Eastern cities an athletic club that seemed to compare with the Olympic in any way.

Peter Maher and his manager will leave for New York to-day. Chovynsk was anxious to fight Maher in this City, but now that the prospect of contest has been knocked on the head Joseph says that he is ready to meet the next best man under the auspices of any club that will offer a good purse.

Joe McAuliffe is getting into fine condition. He has taken off twenty-five pounds of avoidipoids since he commenced training and the obess stomach which gave him the appearance of a highly conditioned Aiderman is fast disappearing. The friends of McAuliffe were pleased to learn that Professor Farley's protegee has still a good chance of winning fame and coin by whipping some of the big fighters who are doing more talking than actual fighting.

OLYMPIC DIRECTORS. Corbett Will Referee the Boxing Contests With One Exception.

The Olympic Club directors met last evening and the sole topic was the boxing tournament of Friday evening. Director Short said that the outlook for a large gathering was excellent, and that the chairs in the gymnasium will be arranged in such a manner that everybody will have a first-class view of the contests. James J. Corbett, champion pugilist, will referee every contest excepting the bout between McArthur and George Green, which will be judged by some person selected by the participants on the evening of the entertainment. It is rumored that Corbett had set, because he is a particular friend of Green's, Steve Cassidy has been selected as the club's official timekeeper. Nothing was done regarding the applications from the rowing association.

Police Tribunal. The Police Commissioners met last night and heard charges against two policemen. A charge of unofficer-like conduct against R. J. McGowan was dismissed. Charles A. Hennessy was charged with neglect of duty and was fined $20 and to be reprimanded by the Chief.
