The sloop Spray of Boston arrived at Apia, Samoa, when the Oceanic Steamship Company's Alameda was in port. The little craft is only fifteen tons burden, and covered 18,000 knots during her run from Boston to the Southern Seas. Captain Slocum is great faith in his little craft, and says he intends circumnavigating the globe in her. Chief Engineer Little of the Alameda was aboard the little sloop, and says she is a remarkably comfortable boat for her size. On her way from Boston she stopped at numerous ports and made her way into the Pacific through the Straits of Magellan. From Samoa Captain Slocum will visit all points of interest in the Southern Seas and will then go to the Orient, returning home via San Francisco.

The schooner Ocean Spray played havoc with section 1 of the sealaw yesterday. Captain Nelson attempted to sail for Iversons Landing, but his crew was more or less under the influence of liquor, so the schooner ran into the grain and poked two holes in it. Then another start was made and again the Ocean Spray came about and ran into the shed. On the third attempt Captain Nelson got his vessel as far as Powell-street wharf, where he came to an anchor. The schooner's masting and bowsprit were badly damaged, and she will have to be docked for repairs.

The Oceanic Steamship Company's Australia sailed for Honolulu yesterday with the following named cabin passengers: Brother Albert, Sister Albertine, Miss Anest, T. J. Birch, John Boehn and wife, Miss Grace Carroll, Miss C. A. Carter, Miss C. J. Carter, C. M. Cooke, C. J. Cooper, Mrs. J. B. Daniels and four children, S. H. Davis, Brother Edward, Ellen Eiwel, Mrs. T. R. Foster, Mrs. H. Gunn and child, W. B. Godfrey Jr., Miss Hadley, A. B. Ingalls and wife, Brother James, Brother Joseph, Miss E. P. Judd, Dr. S. Kirkpatrick, Mrs. J. M. Kitchen, J. H. Kirkpatrick, wife and child; John Landers, Miss Lawrence; H. F. Lewis, wife and maid; W. F. MacMillan, Miss Moore, Colonel George D. Morse. The Southern Pacific overland train was late, as usual, and a number of people who are en route for a visit to the Paradise of the Pacific missed the boat. One gentleman was particularly anxious to get away, and took a hack to Meigs wharf in a vain attempt to intercept the steamer. He is a consumptive and was anxious to reach the genial climate of the island republic.

The Pacific Mail Company's steamer Rio de Janeiro arrived from Hongkong via Yokohama and Honolulu yesterday. Her cabin passengers were: Colonel Witkowski, Miss Witkowsky, George D. Wise, H. O. Raynor, Miss H. Lewis, Mrs. Nyrup and two children, G. Lefevre, Mrs. Hineton and two children, James G. Harwood, S. P. Harwood, Captain Lindstrom, Rev. L. L. Conrady, A. Egli, P. L. Abery, George Melendez, Mrs. W. R. Eckart, Miss Eckart, H. H. Hough, U. S. N., C. R. Gimingham, S. H. Pell, John J. Leach, G. B. Geneva, A. H. Wilkie, J. H. Fax, David Mizendorff, J. Gurnig.

Father L. L. Conrady has been for eight years in charge of the Catholic mission at the place of the most favorable climate in the world, and he has been here for treatment will be the guest of Archbishop Riordan. The reverend gentleman has no faith in the Goto cure, and says it is only palliative. It was used in the Kalili station under the most favorable conditions, and a cure was never accomplished, although the patients got much relief. This will be bad news for the people now using the cure at the Pesthouse.

The Rio was swept by a typhoon during her last trip to China, and was on the drydock at Hongkong when the second storm broke over the Orient. The German gunboat Isis was driven ashore and eleven of her crew were drowned. A Chinese gunboat went ashore, but was got off. Over seventy junks were wrecked.

The German warship was driven between two rocks and her back broke. The forward part held fast with eleven men on it, but the after part went down with all hands. The only names of the drowned brought over by the Rio are: Commander Braun, Lieutenants Holbach, Fraustadt, Frasse, Seigron and Hilderbrandt, Navigator Hlathon, Assistant Paymaster, Engineer Hill, an Englishman.

The eleven men on the forward part of Cold Water Said to Be Thrown on the Undertaking by the Voice of Labor.

The Populists in this City will start a weekly paper. Middle-of-the-road men do not propose to surrender everything to the Democrats, and so they are going to establish an organ of their own, a weekly, for which a large sum of money has already been subscribed by wealthy advocates of Populistic doctrines. While strongly championing the election of Bryan the paper will vigorously object to Watson's being relegated to the position of tail to the Democratic kite. That is, some of those interested in the venture so assert, while others are slightly dubious, and do not know whether they are willing to throw a bombshell upon the chance of fusion or not.

The idea of such an organ was evolved about three weeks ago, when a California journalist, well known also in the legal profession, approached certain members of the Populist State Executive Committee and proposed the plan to them. If it met with favor in their eyes, he stated, he would be perfectly willing to undertake the management of the paper.

After a good deal of powwowing in the People's party wigwam the idea was finally declared to be feasible. The paper will be published under the management of the State Executive Committee.

The field has already been canvassed, and a purely business venture it is deemed a success. Every Populist will be asked to use his best efforts to forward the interests of the paper.

The first issue will come from the press September 12. At least, the paper will be issued on that date if nothing untoward occurs to mar the harmonious action of the gray-bearded chiefs of the wigwam Populists.

Hon. J. Taylor Rogers yesterday admitted that such a weekly is to be issued. He said it is not to be considered as a newspaper, but simply as a political weekly, devoted to the interests of the People's party in this State.

"It will be a bright, breezy paper of about the size of the Argonaut," he added, "and will probably be edited by Populists of high standing in the community. The management will be under a California journalist, who has also a copious knowledge of the law."

"The first issue will be on September 12. When I mention this date it must be understood that the statement is not ironclad. Something may occur in the interim to warrant a change."

Dr. George W. Daywalt also admitted the important facts of the case.

"We have long felt the need," he said, "of a paper that will speak forth the true Democracy of Jefferson, the exalted Republicanism of Lincoln, and will appeal to the patriotism of all parties to get the administration of government back to the fundamental truths of political economy."

"But there is a bare possibility that the weekly may yet fall to cast its sparkling rays o'er the multitude and set up a rivalry to the shining orb of day. E. S. Barney, editor of the 'Voice of Labor,' has purely philanthropic motives perhaps, is known to be bitterly opposed to it and is using all his influence, the knowing ones whisper, to discourage the movement. Many other editors of Populist organs throughout the State who have been consulted are secretly throwing cold water on the project."

Another Store Added
Joe Poheim, the Well-Known Tailor, Opens Another Handsome Place on Market Street.

There is not a better known merchant tailor on the coast than Joe Poheim. For many years past he has been supplying his legions of customers stylish, perfect fitting clothing made to order at a low, and in many cases, lower price than clothing of equal grade can be had for ready made. During these years he has built up a splendid reputation and a constantly increasing business and in order to accommodate his rapidly growing trade Mr. Poheim has found it necessary to open another store at 846 Market street, just opposite Fourth.

This makes four stores that he has in operation in this City—one at the corner of Montgomery and Bush streets, another at 724 Market street and a third at 1110 and 1112 Market street.

Mr. Poheim attributes his success to the fact that he always deals squarely with all his customers. His stock is an immense one, of varied grades and patterns, and includes every fabric used in the manufacture of men's clothing. In fit he will cut a superior, as he employs none but high-class cutters.

The best workmen are employed and every garment is most carefully finished. The price of his ready-made clothing is used and the finished garments equal in every respect those turned out by the swiftest tailors in the land.

There is only one difference. It is the price. Mr. Poheim's clothing, while equal to the best, costs only about one-half what others charge. For instance, $10 will buy a good suit, $15 an excellent one, $20 one that is a thoroughbred, while $25 will buy a suit that most other places ask $40 or $50 for. Mr. Poheim challenges comparison with any other tailors in the land and says that in the all-important essentials of fabrics, fit, finish and trimmings he is far and away in the lead of all competitors. On his reputation he is willing to stake his long-time customers shall be the judge—confident that they will uphold all his claims of superiority for his made-to-order clothing.

GREAT PREPARATIONS.
Mrs. Carrie Chapman-Catt Will Make Her Debut in San Francisco.

Encouraging News of Equal Suffrage in All Parts of the State.

On the evening of the 10th of September the Woman Suffragists will open their battle for the ballot in California. The opening engagement will take the form of a mass meeting in Metropolitan Temple, and promises to be a grand affair.

"Thus far," exclaimed Miss Mary Hay, chairman of the State Central Committee, "our work has been of a preparatory nature. To be sure there have been talks and skirmishes, but we were only testing our weapons, so to speak. The fight will commence on the 10th of September, and I can assure you that it will be kept up until the very day of the election. Then we will be able to rest on our laurels."

"We are taking measures to render our coming rally a great event in the political history of this State. Californians seem to love music, so we shall have a little of that, and we shall have a little of San Francisco's best, which I know is far ahead of that heard in many larger cities. As for speakers each political party will contribute its best orator for the occasion, while we women will do what we can. Miss Anthony and Miss Shaw are well known for their eloquence by this time, so we will have a new attraction in Mrs. Carrie Chapman-Catt, whose oratorical powers have called forth innumerable plaudits from Eastern audiences."

"Mrs. Catt can almost be called a Californian, as she has resided for years of her life in this State. She is one of the most charming women I ever met and has a way of gaining the sympathies of her hearers which is truly magnetic. Her debut before a San Francisco audience is sure to be a brilliantly successful one, and we count on her as one of the big guns of the campaign."

"By the way," continued Miss Hay, "I ought to say something about the way in which THE CALL stands for woman suffrage has affected our movement. People in the interior look upon it as our official paper. It may seem rather early to crow over our expected success, but I venture the prediction that when November comes it will be found that THE CALL has been with the winning horse."

"In obedience to directions from this bureau, the county organizers waited upon the chairmen of all the political clubs in the interior towns with a view to ascertain whether suffragist speakers would be acceptable at the larger meetings. In every instance the proposals met with the most cordial acceptance. Not permissions to speak, but pressing invitations to do so have come from Republican, Democratic and Populist leaders all over the State. My time is so much taken up in the making of appointments for lecturers that I feel like saying with the old proverb: 'Beasts do not quarrel in negotiation.' Which I suppose means in English,

The Blue and the Gray.
Both men and women are apt to feel a little blue, when the gray hairs begin to show. It's a very natural feeling. In the normal condition of things gray hairs belong to advanced age. They have no business whitening the head of man or woman, who has not begun to go down the slope of life. As a matter of fact, the hair turns gray regardless of age, or of life's seasons; sometimes it is whitened by sickness, but more often from lack of care. When the hair fades or turns gray there's no need to resort to hair dyes. The normal color of the hair is restored and retained by the use of

Happy the woman suffragist who can get a holiday.
 The faces at the rooms of the Suffrage leaders in the Farrott building are tired but happy. Mrs. Hay says there are so many things happening to encourage them that they haven't had the blues for a week.

They are to have one of the prettiest booths in the Mechanics' Pavilion. The exhibit will be one of decorated china, the work done by members of the different clubs, a convincing proof that the ladies can do something besides wanting to vote. The famous lemonade set, which gives a rather dissipated look to the cozy office, will of course be there in all its glory.

Miss Anthony, who can bake the best bread in Rochester, will put some biscuit in as her exhibit if she can find time. The leaders will take turns in presiding over the booth and entertaining visitors. The booth will be prettily decorated and the ladies hope to win the prize for decorated china.

At the State Fair in Sacramento the suffragists have a room. They applied too late to be given a booth, but the room will probably do even better, as it can be utilized when receptions are held.

Of course coloring in tea is good for something. The soapstone and gypsum that they put on keep air out and the flavor in.

But it wouldn't do to let you see that soapstone and gypsum (it isn't pretty) and so they put on some pretty stuff—call it paint if you like.

This is the only reasonable excuse for coloring; the other excuse, not reasonable, is: you buy tea by looks.

Your money back if you don't like Schilling's Best—good tea, tight package.

A FORTUNE FOR A FEE.

Attorney W. H. H. Hart Receives $400,000 From the Blythe Estate

Sued for Money Advanced by W. F. Goad When the Litigation Was in Progress

W. H. H. Hart has received a fee of $400,000 from Florence Blythe-Hinckley for his services in her behalf in the litigation over the estate of Thomas Blythe. At least that is what W. F. Goad claims in a complaint filed in the County Clerk's office yesterday. It seems that Hart borrowed $10,000 from Goad some time ago, giving as security for the money an agreement to pay Goad the $10,000 and interest out of the first money he received for services as attorney in the Blythe litigation then pending.

Hart had an agreement with James C. Perry, guardian of Florence Blythe, by the terms of which Hart was to receive 12 1/2 per cent of the estate in case his client won. Subsequently another agreement, under date of February 29, 1896, was made, by the terms of which Hart's 12 1/2 per cent of the estate was to be allowed to remain with the major part, and he was to receive one-eighth of the income from month to month.

The value of a one-eighth interest in the estate is $400,000 and Goad claims that by reason of the agreement Hart has received compensation for his services and, therefore, sues for the $100,000. An order for a sale of the property is asked and such relief as the court may deem equitable.

At the same time that the complaint was filed in the County Clerk's office, Attorney Goad had a writ of his pendens recorded covering Attorney Hart's interest in the Blythe estate. The writ enumerates all of the Blythe properties in the City and the country real estate as well. This will have the effect of preventing a settlement of the estate until the litigation is settled or a bond sufficient to cover the amount in dispute is forthcoming.

TENNIS CRACKS COMING

Neel, Larned and Wrenn, Three Eastern Champions, to Compete at San Rafael.

Private advices received here yesterday state that three great Eastern tennis players are soon coming to California. They are Robert D. Wrenn, holder of the singles championship of America; Carr B. Neel of Chicago, formerly an Oakland boy, who with his brother recently won the doubles championship of America, and W. S. Larned, the runner-up at the National tournament held at Newport.

A special tournament will be arranged on the San Rafael courts for these victors and the cracks of California. The date of the meet is not definitely settled but an endeavor will be made not to have it conflict with the regular fall tournament. This meeting will probably give one of the Hardy brothers an opportunity to meet Neel, who was a fellow clubman of the Hardys when they were all developing in to skillful players several years ago in Oakland.

A Decision by Judge Trout Which May Form a Precedent.

It is feared by the Methodist Chinese Mission that Judge Trout's decision with regard to the two little Chinese children taken from a disreputable house on Ross alley will form a precedent which will make it almost impossible to rescue Chinese children from immoral parents hereafter.

The Judge decided that the officers of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children had no right to go in and take the children from their parents without first citing them to appear in court," said Mrs. Hull of the mission yesterday. "I have not the least lack of confidence in the honesty of the Judge's decision, but
