

FATAL COLLISION IN A DENSE FOG An Electric-Car Is Cut in Two by a Locomotive.

Three Persons Killed, Two Fatally Injured and a Score of Others Hurt.

THE NAMES OF THE VICTIMS.

Traction Company's Office at H z e t ion, Pa., Besieged by Frenzied Relatives.

HAZLETON, Pa., Oct. 14.—Three men were killed, two others were fatally hurt and a score of other people injured in a collision between a locomotive and a trolley-car here this evening. The dead are:

- David J. Williams of Plymouth, Pa. William Stapleton, a traveling man, of Milton, Pa. Jefferson Kirschmer, telegraph operator, of Hazleton.

- Those fatally injured are: Morris Ferry, boy, skull fractured and internally hurt. Patrick Doud, conductor of trolley-car, skull fractured.

- The most seriously hurt among those not fatally injured are the following: William Dixon, leg crushed. Burt Boone, head crushed. Charles Houlder of Jeansville, Pa., body crushed.

- Mrs. Huzhes, face cut. Samuel Couffer, moorman, head and hands cut. A sister of Mercy of Scranton, Pa., face cut.

Miss Mary Bruce of Oneida, sister of the Scranton nun who was hurt, body crushed. James P. Gaughan of Hazleton, body crushed.

Charles Hughes of Jeansville, body and head crushed. Charles Humes, face and hands cut. John Herron of Hazleton, face cut. William Davis of Plymouth, leg broken. Annie Boyle of Hazleton, face and arms cut.

Of the thirty passengers aboard the trolley-car none escaped injury of some kind, but the above suffered the most seriously. The cause of the accident cannot be stated definitely to-night. The coroner is investigating, and an exhaustive inquiry will have to be made to determine it.

PACIFIC GROVE MOURNS.

Funeral of Frank Oyer, the Victim of Tuesday Night's Disaster on Toro Grade.

PACIFIC GROVE, CAL., Oct. 14.—Frank Oyer, the lad who was killed Monday night in the carriage accident on the Salinas road, was buried to-day at 2 o'clock from the picturesque Episcopal church of St. Mary-by-the-Sea.

The service was impressive and deeply affecting. When the funeral cortege left the church for El Carmelo cemetery the line formed was the largest ever known in Pacific Grove. At its head rode the Salinas football eleven, against which the Pacific Grove boys had played on Monday.

Then came school pupils on wagonettes, accompanied by their teachers, led by Professor Sanborn, the principal of the High School, and Charles Rosenstade, who coached the local football eleven just previous to its match with the Salinas eleven.

He is a post graduate of Stanford University. Next rode the honorary pallbearers, the remaining nine of the football team, the tenth, James Mori, being too ill to attend.

The active service was performed by other boy friends of the deceased, as the members of the team had not sufficiently recovered from their injuries to act. Rev. Mr. Packenthal and the family followed, and after them a long line of private carriages containing relatives and friends.

SANTA CRUZ'S WELCOME. Elaborate Preparations for the Coming Session of the Odd Fellows' Grand Encampment.

SANTA CRUZ, CAL., Oct. 14.—The Odd Fellows' Grand Encampment to be held here next week, from Monday until Thursday, is being prepared for by local Odd Fellows and Rebekahs. The programme provides for a reception on Monday night by Isabella Rebekah Lodge No. 17.

On Tuesday evening the encampment degree will be exemplified in Odd Fellows' Hall, the patriarchal degree being conferred by Watsonville Encampment No. 91, the golden rule degree by Oriental Encampment No. 57 of San Francisco, and the royal purple degree by Santa Cruz Encampment No. 30.

Which this work is in progress in the main hall Isabella Rebekah Lodge No. 17 will confer its degree and give an entertainment in the smaller Odd Fellows' Hall for the benefit of visiting Rebekahs. This will be followed by a banquet tendered by Isabella Rebekah Lodge to the Grand Encampment and visiting Odd Fellows.

On Wednesday there will be a session of the Grand Encampment, and on Wednesday evening at the armory several cantons of the Patriarchs Militant will engage in a competitive drill, to be followed by the conferring of the degree of chivalry on a number of candidates.

Five cantons will engage in the drill, cash prizes to the extent of $400, in addition to the Grand Encampment trophy, being awarded the winners. The Young Ladies' Drill Corps of this city will also entertain the visitors.

The grand parade, participated in by the Patriarchs Militant, the Grand Encampments and various subordinate encampments, lodges and Rebekahs, at the depot of Santa Cruz County will start on Thursday morning. Thursday afternoon will be devoted to a session of the Grand Encampment and the Military Council Patriarchs Militant.

VICTIMIZE A DRUMMER. Montana Bunko Men Pick Up a Tenderfoot From Sleepy Philadelphia.

The Stranger Drugged and Then Robbed of His Simple Case of Jewelry.

PORTLAND, OR., Oct. 14.—Leopold Adler, representing Philadelphia jewelry manufacturers, arrived in Portland last night minus his simple case, containing $7000 worth of jewelry. He departed on to-day's train for Livingston, Mont., where he hopes to recover at least a portion of his missing valuables.

His case is not more than 28 years old, and is his first trip to the "wild and woolly" West. A few hours before the train on which he was a passenger reached Livingston two well appearing young men engaged him in conversation, which finally wound up in a friendly game of whist.

While the play was progressing a third gentleman-looking fellow invited the party to join him in a bottle of wine. The invitation was accepted, and not only one bottle but three were emptied before the trio returned to the game.

Before the end of the second deal Adler was asleep, and he awoke only after the train had left Livingston several miles behind it. His three social friends had left the train at that point. Adler paid no attention to his valuable sample-case until he awoke in a rooming house at Livingston, where he found all his other packages of baggage, but the most valuable one was missing, and in it was $7000 worth of diamonds and jewelry.

Adler, a young drummer, quickly realizing that his friends on the cars had drugged and robbed him, having by some means ascertained he was a jewelry drummer with a valuable stock in his possession, he left for the City of Livingston, where he received a reply later to return at once to identify his men, who are notorious bunko sharpers in that locality and within reach of the authorities.

CAUGHT AT RIVERSIDE. Officers Apprehend a Forger Wanted in New York City.

RIVERSIDE, CAL., Oct. 14.—A forger named John Quinn, wanted in New York City to answer to a charge of forgery and passing a $700 check, was arrested together with another man and a woman who came here with him, at Lakeview, a small town in this county, where they located about a month ago.

When arrested by Detective Goodman of Los Angeles and Sheriff Johnson of this county Quinn denied that he was the man wanted, but later he confessed that he was guilty. He expresses a willingness to go East and stand the consequences of his act. Quinn implicates the forger man in the crime, saying that he knew all about it.

DIED IN A SAN EMIDIO CANYON Corpse of a Lone Traveler Found on a Desert Tract.

Proved to Be That of Edwin O. Hahn, a San Francisco Attorney.

HAD SUCCEEDED TO THIRST.

Effects Found Near the Body Leave No Doubt as to Its Identity.

BAKERSFIELD, CAL., Oct. 14.—The remains of a man, believed to be Edwin O. Hahn, a young attorney of San Francisco, were found on Saturday morning, about sixty miles west of here, in a canyon of the desert foothills of the San Emidio Mountains and near a wagon road leading from Bakersfield to San Luis Obispo. A French shepherd made the discovery. The information was received by Coroner Helm of this place Sunday evening. The next morning he sent Jean Pool as his deputy to hold an inquest, and it was not until this afternoon that Pool returned.

EDWIN O. HAHN, the Young Attorney, of San Francisco, Whose Corpse Has Been Found in a Canyon of the San Emidio Range.

Pool says the body was located in a lonely canyon, in a country nothing more than a desert. There was neither inhabitant, timber nor water within miles of it. The body was lying on its face, close to the road, apparently where it had fallen. Every indication tends to prove that the man had perished for the want of water and food, for there were no marks on the body to show that death had resulted from violence from either beast or man.

The body was coatless, and beside it lay a hand-satchel and a memorandum-book. Light trousers, a black shirt and black felt hat constituted the main portion of the clothing. The hair was brown and the beard, apparently of a week's growth, was of a reddish cast. The satchel contained papers and several business cards of lawyers and real-estate men, all showing connection with San Francisco and that the man had resided in that city. Among the cards were a number unused, bearing the following:

EDWIN O. HAHN, Attorney and Counselor-at-Law, 522 Montgomery street, Rooms 1 and 2.

This name appeared on the front of the scratch-book, which contained many notes regarding lands, etc. Many of them were in shorthand. The book and entries are just such as an ordinary attorney might carry into court with him and in which he would jot down casual notes.

Among the entries was one showing the name of "Dan A. McColgan, attorney-at-law, 22 Montgomery street," and another "Henry L. Horn, notary, corner of Washington and Battery streets."

In the satchel was also a steamship ticket from San Francisco to Port Harford and return. The ticket bore the date of October 2. It showed that it had been used by him or some one else to ride to Port Harford.

It appeared that death had resulted something like two days before the body was found. The man was about 28 years of age, and the body indicated that it had been that of a man who did not toil. It was buried near where it was found. The unfortunate man was evidently coming toward Bakersfield when overcome.

sadly grief-stricken, and his poor mother was completely prostrated. He was the only son and 24 years of age. The young man was born in Baltimore, Md., and came to this State with his parents twenty years ago. Hahn received his education in the Hamilton Grammar School and the Boys' High School.

He was graduated from the Hastings Law College and a year and a half ago was admitted to practice in the profession of his choice. Since then he has devoted much of his practice to land cases, and for a young man was very successful. He was highly respected and had a large circle of intimate friends.

His family at once sent to Bakersfield to have the body forwarded to this City for interment, and the news that it had been buried somewhere away in the desert added to their distress.

REDWOOD CITY FAIR. Catholic Ladies of Mount Carmel Church Open Their Benefit Exposition.

REDWOOD CITY, CAL., Oct. 14.—The ladies' fair for the benefit of Mount Carmel Catholic Church was opened to-night under most favorable auspices. Germania Hall had been for several days in possession of the decorators, and its appearance was ample evidence of the taste and originality of the ladies who had designed the decorations. Judge Edward F. Fitzpatrick delivered the address formally opening the fair.

There are three fancy tables. The first is in charge of Mrs. Kearse, assisted by her daughters Mrs. Winters and Miss Dollie Kearse. The Misses Flannely and McCarthy, assisted by Mrs. McCarthy, conducted the second table. Mrs. James Curran, Mrs. P. J. Foley and Miss Minnie Stafford preside at the third table, assisted by Miss Magie Dolan and the Misses Solen. Mrs. M. Hedge and Mrs. Reynolds are in charge of the lemonade table with Miss Rose Swift and Miss May Hanley to assist. The icecream booth is looked after by Mrs. Miramontes and the Misses Miramontes.

Young Christians' Meeting. SAN JOSE, CAL., Oct. 14.—The Christian Endeavor Societies of Santa Clara County will meet in convention at Santa Clara next Friday. It is expected a couple of hundred Endeavorers will be in attendance. Officers for the ensuing year will be elected, and action taken in regard to this county's work in arranging for the National Christian Endeavor Convention, which meets in San Francisco in July, 1897. In the evening Rev. E. R. Dille of San Francisco will deliver an address.

Lived by Her Wits. SAN JOSE, CAL., Oct. 14.—Mrs. A. H. Drew, a woman who has been living by her wits in this city for the past couple of months, was arrested late yesterday afternoon on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses. She obtained an order from City Physician Harris for a bottle of medicine at Wagner's drugstore, and then exchanged it for $1, its value in coin, at J. E. Kelly's drugstore, claiming her husband had bought it there. The fraud was subsequently discovered and the woman arrested.

Rodgers Elected Moderator. SAN JOSE, CAL., Oct. 14.—The San Jose Presbytery, which has been in session in this City for the past two days, has elected Rev. Robert Rodgers moderator for the ensuing year. Rev. Alexander Eatken of Boulder Creek was elected secretary. Letters of dismissal were granted T. M. Boyd of Benicia, E. W. Brown of San Francisco, Rev. W. J. Grayson of Sacramento, Rev. D. F. Taylor and Charles J. Dyke were admitted to the Presbytery.

Death of Benjamin Burt. SAN JOSE, CAL., Oct. 14.—Benjamin Burt, a pioneer of this State, died at his home in East San Jose this morning. He was a native of Assonet, Mass., aged 76 years. His wife died about a week ago. The deceased came to California in 1849, and settled in Amador City, where he engaged in mercantile business. Four grown daughters survive him.

FRESNO'S LEGAL SCANDAL. A Sensational Suit in Which Attorney Jackson is Accused of Misappropriating $35,000 of a Client's.

FRESNO, CAL., Oct. 14.—What may prove to be the most sensational civil case in the history of Fresno County was instituted to-day in the Superior Court. Samuel Jackson, the well-known attorney, is accused by Rebecca A. Rawlins of having misappropriated many thousands of dollars.

In her complaint Mrs. Rawlins asserts that during the month of August, 1891, she entered into an agreement with Jackson, under the terms of which he was to invest certain sums of money for her. In all $3500 passed through Mr. Jackson's hands, it is alleged, and only a small portion of this sum has been accounted for.

Sarah F. Jackson, wife of Jackson, has been made a co-defendant in the action. It is charged that much of the money alleged to have been fraudulently obtained by Jackson was, by devious means, transferred to the possession of his wife. It is further alleged that much interest money paid to Jackson has been by him diverted from its proper channel. H. H. Welsh is the plaintiff's attorney. The case will be bitterly contested.

RAISING THE UNATILLA. Damages to Vessel and Cargo Will Come Within $100,000.

PORT TOWNSEND, WASH., Oct. 14.—Unless all the plans fail, the steamship Unatilla will be floated from its sandy bed near Wilsons Point and brought to Port Townsend to-morrow by noon. All the big pumps are now in place for the final effort which will be made to-morrow morning. Over 100,000 tons of water was discharged from the leaking vessel in eight hours yesterday, so it will no doubt be pumped out successfully with all pumps running. The Unatilla will be docked at Quarterdeck wharf for repairs.

SEATTLE, WASH., Oct. 14.—Local Agent Trowbridge of the Pacific Coast Steamship Company, who has just returned from the scene of the Unatilla disaster, estimates that the damage to the vessel and cargo will come within $100,000.

HIGH COURT GOES TO SANTA ROSA Foresters Will Meet Next Year in the Sonoma Metropolis.

Officers for the Ensuing Term Are Chosen by Ballot at San Jose.

BANQUET TO THE VISITORS.

Mount Hamilton and Other Points of Interest Will Be Viewed To-Day.

SANTA ROSA, CAL., Oct. 14.—Interest in the session of the California High Court of the Independent Order of Foresters increased to-day. Dr. Oronhyatahs, supreme chief ranger of the world, presided. Encouraging reports were received from the various offices and committees. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

- High chief ranger, G. A. McElfresh, Los Angeles. Vice-chief ranger, Charles H. Perry, San Francisco. High secretary, W. H. Perry, Los Angeles. High treasurer, H. S. Eberle. High physician, Dr. S. S. Bogie, Monterey. High counselor, O. G. Hopkins, Sacramento. High auditors, James Mills of Riverside and E. H. Eberle of Downey. High chaplain, J. B. Hanna, Colton. High junior secretary, J. J. Ryan, Los Angeles. Senior woodward, S. J. Duckworth, Monterey. Junior woodward, J. W. Thayer, Gilroy. High senior beadle, H. S. Bennett, San Jose. High junior beadle, M. Packard, Ventura. High marshal, M. J. Beckman, San Francisco. High messenger, J. H. West, Gardena.

Santa Rosa was selected as the place of meeting for the High Court next year. The delegates were tendered a banquet and reception this evening at the Hotel Venetian. To-morrow many of the delegates will visit Mount Hamilton and take drives to other points of interest about the city.

PORTLAND'S SENSATION. Woman of a Good Social Position Arrested for Alleged Pocket-Picking.

PORTLAND, OR., Oct. 14.—Mrs. Nellie C. Jones, occupying a good social position here, is under arrest for alleged pocket-picking at the exposition last night. For some time pocket-pickers have had a good harvest in the exposition building, and last night the wife of Superintendent George W. Baker lent herself as a decoy. In the pocket of her jacket she carried a stuffed purse, projecting almost two-thirds above the edge. An ex-detective who arrested Mrs. Jones declares he saw her take the purse and drop it on the floor, but the part of the building where Mrs. Jones is alleged to have committed the theft was very much crowded, and it is quite possible that the pocket-book might have been jostled out of the decoy's pocket by the packed, surging mass.

Mrs. Jones is a fine-appearing, well-mannered and intelligent woman. Before her release on bail this evening, she said: "This is simply terrible. I did not realize my position in the excitement of the moment following my arrest. But during the night, when I awoke, the horror of the charge against me presented itself. Particularly this is so when I realize that I am perfectly innocent of any wrongdoing. While I do not wish any one any harm," she said in conclusion, "yet I sincerely hope that the man who has picked my pocket at the exposition might be arrested. The crimes can easily be proven against them, while I shall establish my innocence."

MRS. BOOTH AT STANFORD The Commander of the Volunteers Talks to Students and Faculty.

Explains the Necessity of a Separation From the Old Salvation Army.

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, CAL., Oct. 14.—Mrs. Maud Ballington-Booth lectured here this afternoon to a large audience of students and faculty members. The chapel was crowded long before the lecture hour, and when Dr. Jordan stepped forward to introduce the speaker there was not even room for standing, every available vantage point being taken.

Mrs. Booth's discourse was delivered in that sincere, ringing style which has made her fame as a speaker so great. Mrs. Booth said that she came to address those present as the representative of an organization that believed in practical work rather than in talk.

"Our movement," she said, "is very young as yet, but with the love of God, by whom it is inspired, it will grow in size, strength and usefulness. We may be derided, contemned and criticized at first, but, looking to the power that guides the movement and the movement itself, we know that victory is assured."

Referring to the separation of the Volunteers from the regular Salvation Army Mrs. Booth said: "We came to find from constant relation and work with the people of this land that we were broadened by its democratic character. We loved the land and the people and we found that we could better serve those we wished to reach by changing from the regular order; but it was necessary to send 3000 miles away across the ocean to those who didn't understand the conditions and needs and requirements for permission to move to these changes. We were told the answers would come back. 'No, you can't do it. We don't do that way here and you mustn't there.'"

"We came to feel like throwing these answers back on the ocean as the tea had come into Boston harbor before it. We came to feel that this was too broad, too varied a land to have its policy outlined 3000 miles away. So we formed the Volunteers of America. We began to work independent of all churches and every church, to do that work which they couldn't do or were not doing. We gave up to the old order everything we possessed and started out with just $100 of borrowed money. We did not endeavor to change Mrs. H. E. Brown, a single adherent from the Salvation Army, for we desired only such as came to our standard voluntarily. We desired no mushroom growth that flourished in a night and died in the day. Now we have over 400 commissioned officers and 416 commissioned posts, besides great offices in New York and our own printing establishment. Our mission is the mission of hope and we pray God that he may bless it and prevent it from falling into any rut that would curtail its usefulness."

PETALUMA CONVENTION. Officers Elected by the Women's State Christian Temperance Union.

PETALUMA, CAL., Oct. 14.—The California Women's Christian Temperance Union elected officers to-day, as follows: President—Mrs. B. Sturtevant Peet. First vice-president—Mrs. H. E. Brown. Second vice-president—Mrs. S. J. Churchill. Recording secretary—Mrs. D. J. Spencer. Corresponding secretary—Mrs. H. E. Brown. Treasurer—Mrs. E. Hoppin. Auditor—Mrs. Blanche A. English. Editor Pacific Ensign—Mrs. A. Van Pelt.

The president of the Ensign will be chosen to-morrow. Delegates to the national convention—Mrs. Winslow, Mrs. M. E. Harrison, Mrs. D. McIntyre, Mrs. N. J. Crooke, Miss L. C. Dwellling, Mrs. L. M. Carter. The president, two secretaries and treasurer are ex-officio delegates.

Miss S. M. Severance spoke to-day on "How to Carry the Sixth Amendment." Hoppin's financial school and financial catechism were features of this afternoon's session. The Anna R. Shaw addressed 800 people in the large tent on "The Relation of Woman Suffrage to the Home." Mrs. H. R. Coit of Petaluma sang "The Holy City."

Yosemite Stage-Robber Convicted. MADERA, CAL., Oct. 14.—The trial of John Tatum, which had been in progress for the past three weeks before Judge Conley, was brought to a close last night, the jury bringing in a verdict of guilty. The trial of Tatum has been a long, tedious and expensive one. He was charged with the robbery of the stage which travels into the Yosemite Valley. He obtained only about $30 in cash, which he took from the passengers.

Wedded at Santa Cruz. SANTA CRUZ, CAL., Oct. 14.—James Williamson and Miss Clara May Linscott were united in marriage to-day by Rev. J. G. Taylor. Mr. Williamson is a member of the firm of Williamson & Garrett of Santa Cruz, and Miss Linscott is the eldest daughter of Superintendent of Schools Linscott of Santa Cruz County. Bride and groom are widely known in this State, and their wedding was the opening event of the fall season.

Killed on a Junction Street. SEATTLE, WASH., Oct. 14.—The steamship Willapa, which arrived in port to-day from a street of Juneau of an aged Indian by 18-year-old William Wright, son of A. A. Wright, formerly a resident of this city.

HOYTE APPEALS TO GOVERNOR BUDD The Actor Declares That He Is Starving in France.

Asks That His Stepson's Guardian Be Compelled to Send Money.

DELAY MEANS IMPRISONMENT.

Predicament of Llewellyn Williams' Heiress and Her Husband and Son.

SACRAMENTO, CAL., Oct. 14.—The following cablegram was received by Governor Budd this afternoon: CANNES, FRANCE, Oct. 14, 1896. To Governor Budd, Sacramento, Cal.: Find C. W. Clarke's wife, boy and self starving. Compel him to cable me $1000 immediately. Delay means prison. HERVEAU HOYTE. The foregoing message is from the husband of the former Sacramento, Mrs. Lucy Williams Auzerais-Hoyte, who at the present time is evidently in serious financial distress in the sunny South of France.

Mrs. Hoyte was the adopted daughter of the late Llewellyn Williams of Sacramento, who bequeathed to her something like $175,000, which she proceeded to "blow in" in unprofitable theatrical ventures. About $100,000 was also left to her young son, for whom C. W. Clarke, the wealthy stockman of Sacramento, is guardian. The funds of the young son are in the hands of trustees, and as Clarke is absent from the city it is impossible to ascertain whether he will consent to accede to this demand or not.

At all events it is no way concerns the executive head of the State, and as far as can be learned the Governor will take no official notice of the demand other than to place the cablegram in the hands of the attorney for Mr. Clarke.

NEW WHATCOM AFFRAY. Mayor Dematos and Citizen Dibble Fight in Public.

NEW WHATCOM, WASH., Oct. 14.—James P. Dematos, Mayor of New Whatcom and silver candidate for the Legislature on the Populist ticket, and Carmi Dibble, a prominent and well-to-do New Whatcom citizen, had an encounter near the Bellingham Bay and Columbia depot yesterday afternoon, as a result of long-standing ill feeling, intensified on Dibble's part by the recent reversal by the Supreme Court of the decision of the Superior Court of Whatcom County in the Dematos-Jordan case. There were very few witnesses to the fight, and accounts vary as to which was the aggressor.

Dematos broke his cane over Dibble's head, cutting a long gash, which bled profusely. Dibble then wrenched the cane from Dematos and thrashed him badly, so that he is still confined to his room.
