

MRS. FRONA WAITE TALKS FOR SILVER

Speaks Before the Women's Bryan Free Silver Club.

Governor Budd Also Spoke on the Issues of the Campaign.

C. D. LANE WAS THE CHAIRMAN

Thomas V. Cator and Reel B. Terry Discuss the Free Silver Question.

The Women's Bryan Free-Silver Club entertained the voters of San Francisco with a spirited meeting at the California Theater last night.

The meeting was called to order by George P. Keeney, who introduced Charles D. Lane, the noted gold-miner of Angels Camp, as chairman of the evening.

Mr. Lane said he was proud to be chosen as chairman of the evening, and he was especially gratified to be honored in this way by the ladies, for he has a warm place in his heart for the ladies.

Mr. Lane thought that California would give 50,000 majority for Mr. Bryan. Miss Cushman recited a parody on Marc Antony's oration at the funeral of Cæsar, after which the Treble Cleft Quartet, composed of ladies, sang sweetly about "The Silver Dollar of the Dads."

M. J. WELCH

M. J. Welch, the Republican and Citizens' Non-Partisan nominee for State Senator in the Twenty-third District, is a man whose agreeableness and business-like personality make him popular with young men and respected and admired by his elders. He was born thirty years ago in Springfield, Mass., and is the son of M. J. Welch, one of the pioneer miners of this State. As a mere child of 4 young Welch entered the public schools of Massachusetts and before he was 9 years of age he was graduated from the grammar school. It was then that he came to California with his mother and other members of the family to join the father, who was already located in this City. The boy at once entered the first grade of the grammar school here and was graduated in the following year, whereupon he entered St. Joseph's College, now known as the parochial school of St. Joseph's College. At the age of 14 he discontinued active school study and began a course of business experience that after seventeen years has left a noticeable trace upon his character. He began as an office-boy in the railroad service and worked his way up from one position to another as his fitness became evident to his employers. From ticket agent he was promoted to traveling passenger agent, then to traveling freight and passenger agent, and finally was made general Southern California freight and passenger agent of the Gould system of railroads. After fifteen years' service with one company he gave up his position two years ago at the time the company was reorganized. Since then he has been engaged in private enterprises.

INSULTED HIS SISTER.

A Charge of Battery Against Bert Fanning Summarily Dismissed.

Bert Fanning appeared in Judge Conlan's court yesterday morning to answer a charge of battery preferred by Julius F. Thal, a commercial agent, living at 1296 Oak street.

That had been annoying Fanning's sister. She complained to her brother, and on Monday, when Fanning met Thal, he gave him a sound thrashing. Fanning in court yesterday said that Thal had not only annoyed his sister, but had insulted her, and he thought it was his duty to chastise him for it.

The Judge said he quite approved of Fanning's conduct in protecting his sister from insult, and he ordered that his sister be dismissed. The courtroom was crowded, and there was loud applause from the spectators, which was instantly suppressed.
