

FAST AND CLEVER
FIGHT TO A DRAW

Jimmy Barry and Sammy Kelly Are Evenly Matched.

For Twenty Rounds They Punch Each Other in a Scientific Manner.

Vicious Swings, Pierce Rellies and a Copious Flow of Claret Mark the Contest.

NEW YORK, N. Y., Jan. 30.—Jimmy Barry of Chicago and Sammy Kelly of New York fought a very fast and scientific twenty-round draw at the Broadway Athletic Club to-night. Barry was the aggressor after the first round, but was nearly out with a left swing on the jaw in the fifth. He revived wonderfully, however, and forced the pace after the eighth round.

Kelly showed remarkable cleverness, and his advantage of height, weight and scientific boxing in his second stand. Barry put up a great battle and many of the spectators thought he had a spade the better of the argument, but it was a very even thing and the decision was a good one.

The betting was 100 to 80 on Barry. The opening bout was between Billy O'Donnell of Memphis and Jack Hannigan of Pittsburg. They were advertised to go ten rounds at 122 pounds, but O'Donnell simply punched Hannigan's face into a mass of blood and had him all but out in the sixth round, when the referee stopped the bout in one minute and thirty seconds.

The second pair were "London" Campbell of Philadelphia and Jack Smith of Norfolk, Va. Campbell got the decision. There were about 2500 people present when Barry and Kelly got into the ring. Barry's seconds were Joe Choyinski, George Dixon and Bob Armstrong. Kelly was looked after by Larry Burns, David Moran and Frank Peabody. Dick Roche was referee and Jim Lavelle timekeeper. The fight by rounds:

Barry opened with a left that was stopped. He tried the right and missed, getting a light right in the body. Kelly went up evenly, both landing, then Kelly went in and forced his man against the ropes, putting both hands on the face, and Barry put up a good fight again and repeated for a time it looked as if Barry was in trouble.

In the second they exchanged swings and Barry sent a hard left on the nose. Kelly shot his left to the wind, but Barry retained with one on the neck.

Barry opened the third with a left on the mouth and followed it up with a right on the body, which he expected Kelly to catch, but was countered hard on the wind. Both landed lefts on the face. Kelly pushed Barry close to the ropes, putting a left on the jaw, and before the round closed Kelly tried to get to the body and face. It was Barry's round.

Both were a bit wild in the fourth. Barry landed a swinging left on the jaw, but Kelly evaded up with a hard one on the body. In the fifth Kelly landed a terrible left swing on the jaw that sent Barry down, and the Chicago boy took nine seconds to get up. Kelly rushed at him, but though very tired he managed to stay.

Barry came up strong for the sixth and sent in three blows on the head without a return. Kelly landed hard on the nose, but Barry countered on the neck. Kelly sent another left to the jaw that sent Barry down, and the little fellow sent his right to the nose and Kelly's blood commenced to fly. Twice before the bell rang Jimmy sent the left to the sore nose and mouth.

Barry showed some of his old-time cleverness and hitting power in the seventh, and punished Kelly badly in the face. Kelly appeared a little weak, but put one hard swing in the wind. Barry was standing his jaw carefully.

The eighth was about even, and toward the close both were sparring for wind. Each was staggered with rights on the wind in the opening of the ninth. Barry landed a right to the ribs and left to the jaw, but Kelly came back hard on the wind.

Barry made the tenth a close one. Kelly was very tired and was strictly on the defensive when the bell rang. Just as the bell rang Kelly landed a left on the face. Kelly countered hard on the jaw once in the sixteenth, but Barry had a left to the body round.

Barry had Kelly on the run at the end of the seventeenth round, but Kelly did some clever work at the start.

Both exchanged hard lefts on the nose and body in the eighteenth, but a straight left on the mouth at the end drew the blood afresh from Kelly.

Kelly left an opening in the nineteenth which Barry was quick to take advantage of, and he sent in a volley of rights and lefts before Kelly recovered. Barry had clearly the best of all the exchanges that followed.

Barry sent his man half way to the floor with a jab on the throat in the twentieth, and some hot rallies followed, which were fairly even up.

EQUAL SUFFRAGISTS ADJOURN.
Western States Selected as Battle-grounds of the Future.

DES MOINES, IOWA, Jan. 30.—With a meeting of the executive committee today the annual convention of the National American Woman Suffrage Association concluded. The policy of the association for the coming year was outlined, and it was practically determined to remove the national headquarters from Philadelphia to New York and to place it in charge of the committee on organization.

It was determined to devote efforts in the East and devote all attention to the Western States. Washington, Oregon, California and Nevada will be made the battle-grounds.

A chief effort will be made to induce the enfranchised women in States that already have equal suffrage to take an interest in the cause in other States. At present they are of almost no help to the organization.

The next meeting will be held in Washington, Jan. 11, 1897. Tomorrow night all the leading pulpits of the city will be occupied either morning or evening by prominent members of the convention.

BOLD KANSAS CITY ROBBERY.
Three Masked Men Get Away With $1200 Worth of Crozier.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Jan. 30.—Shortly before 7 o'clock this evening three masked men entered the Catholic bookstore of John A. H. ... and robbed him of $1200 worth of crozier and church fixtures and $90 in cash.

The store is within half a block of one of the busiest streets in the city, and many people were passing the door at the time. The men entered, and as he looked up he saw three murderous-looking men.

He was told to keep quiet, and the men searched his cashbox. They then took the contents of the safe and placed them in a valise which they had with them. They then cut the telephone wire and fled, locking the door.

He got out, however, and gave the alarm to the insurance patrol in the rear of the store, but the robbers had escaped.

CHICAGO, ILL., Jan. 30.—Mrs. William McKinley was the guest of honor at a performance by amateurs of a play entitled "The Coming Woman," which was given at the Oakland Music Hall, Hyde Park, close to the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Lafayette McWilliams, whose guest she is during her visit.

Receivers for the Dime Bank.
CHICAGO, ILL., Jan. 30.—Judge Freeman today appointed Ruff Metcalf receiver of the Dime Savings Bank, requiring him to give a bond for $200,000.

There was no opposition on the part of the directors, who consented to the appointment. The court proceedings came as a big surprise, and have given rise to the rumor that the affairs of the bank are in a deplorable condition.

Seven Persons Burned to Death.
NEW YORK, N. Y., Jan. 31.—A fire that broke out at midnight in the large wheel works of Fred Schaefer, 410 Newark street, Hoboken, made four families homeless and burned seven persons to death.

Schaefer's place is a three-story frame structure. The fire was occasioned by Charles Schroeder, his wife and five children. When the fire was under control the entire Schroeder family was found burned to death. Two alarms were sent in, the firemen fighting hard to save the adjoining property. The loss cannot be estimated. Schaefer, however, will be the heaviest loser.

An April Woman Burned to Death.
COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Jan. 30.—Mrs. Kate Hitchcock, aged 64 years, was burned to death in a fire which started at 8:30 o'clock to-night. The old lady, who was a rheumatic cripple, occupied a small frame building at 109 South Weber street.

By the time the department had arrived the house was completely enveloped in flames and it was not discovered until the fire had been subdued that a human life had been lost. The overturning and explosion of an oil lamp is supposed to have been the cause of the fire. The woman had three sons living in Illinois.

Manager Brady Wires to Reno to Learn if Accommodations Can Be Provided.

RENO, Nev., Jan. 30.—A telegram was received here to-day from William A. Brady, manager for James J. Corbett, asking if suitable training accommodations for the champion pugilist could be secured at Steamboat Springs, a few miles south of Reno. He was answered that everything desirable in the way of quarters could be found there, consequently it is regarded as almost certain that the GOVERNOR SADLER GIVES REASONS.

CARSON, Nev., Jan. 30.—A large majority of the people of Nevada favored the glove-contest act. This was manifested by letters and telegrams received at the Capitol.

The Legislature passed the bill by a decisive majority and the executive does not consider it his province to let up his opinion against that of the majority, as he could not find any constitutional grounds for vetoing the bill. The license ($1000) prohibits fake fights, and the general opinion expressed by the people is that scientific contests with gloves are less demoralizing to society and less dangerous to life than football games.

SONG BIRDS OF MILL VALLEY.

Large Number of Imported Singers to Be Given Their Liberty in Marin County.

MILL VALLEY, CAL., Jan. 30.—It will be pleasing information to the lovers of birds to know that the attempt of the citizens of Mill Valley in raising and importing feathered songsters has met with greater success than the projectors of the enterprise expected. Anton Michaltschke, the secretary of the Society for the Acclimation and Protection of Singing Birds of Mill Valley, has just filed a report of the work accomplished by the organization since its inception.

The birds now confined in a large aviary on the Barkan property in Mill Valley will be given their liberty on the 15th of February. Since their arrival in Mill Valley only six have died. One thrush and two inches of the work of the organization have been unable to stand the long trip from Europe. The same number and kind were killed by sparrowhawks, who made violent attacks upon the birds in the aviary, compelling the society to erect extra nets as safeguards.

The birds have found Mill Valley climate suitable, and the skybirds were frequently seen flying overhead. They are also increasing in number, and the members of the society are having small houses built in the trees on their property, where the imported songsters can live and find protection from the bluejays and sparrowhawks.

To Beautify Santa Cruz.

SANTA CRUZ, CAL., Jan. 30.—The Santa Cruz Improvement Society, an organization composed of women, and which accomplished a great deal of good in this town a few years ago, has been revived, and is planning some valuable work. The society found that it had a balance of more than $300 in its treasury. The work proposed for the present is the beautifying of a triangular piece of land on Center street, along the narrow-gauge railroad track, that catches the eye of passengers coming into the city by that route.

The new officers elected are: Mrs. H. M. Blackburn, president; Mrs. E. A. Wolfe, first vice-president; Mrs. Louise Drennon, second vice-president; Mrs. Duncan McPherson, treasurer; Miss S. A. Tyrell, secretary.

Julian Gold Mine Bonded.

SAN DIEGO, CAL., Jan. 30.—The Helvetia gold mine, one of the largest in the Julian district, and owned by County Clerk W. H. Holcomb and others, was bonded to-day for $40,000 to a party of Denver capitalists now on the ground with a large force of men. Machinery is at work driving a 1200-foot tunnel to tap a ledge 700 feet below the surface. The contract calls for the expenditure of $30,000. This is the largest mining movement in the district since the shutdown of the Stonewall mine in 1891.

THATCHER GAINS AT SALT LAKE

Comes Within Three Votes of Being Elected Senator.

His Followers Claim He Will Win on the First Ballot Monday.

The Opposition's Motion to Adjourn Carried by a Majority of But One.

SALT LAKE, UTAH, Jan. 30.—In the Senatorial contest Moses Thatcher to-day gained nine votes, making his total twenty-eight—only three short of the number required to elect, two members being absent. Five ballots were taken, the first resulting: Thatcher (D), 24, Henderson (D), 14, Rawlins (D), 13, Mrs. E. B. Wells (R), 3, Kellogg (Pop), 4, scattering 2.

The four Populists voted for Thatcher. At the end of the fifth ballot the Rawlins and Henderson men were demoralized, and prevented the election of Thatcher only by a motion to adjourn, which was carried by a majority of but one. The Thatcher men declare their candidate will be elected on Monday, while the Rawlins and Henderson factions assert that he has polled his full strength and that on the next ballot he will lose votes.

PROBING BREWERY CHARGES.

The Olympia Investigation Reported as in the Nature of a Farce.

OLYMPIA, WASH., Jan. 30.—The investigation by the House committee on the charges of bribery preferred against certain members in connection with the Senatorial contest, was a farce in so far as to-night's proceedings were concerned. Assemblyman Warner, who is one of the members under suspicion, was not allowed to attend the meeting, being informed that nothing concerning him would come up during the evening. He insisted upon being admitted to the meeting chamber, but was finally ejected in spite of his vigorous protest.

HARBOR BOARD'S INVESTIGATION.

Soundings Off Santa Monica and in the Outer Harbor at San Pedro Completed.

LOS ANGELES, CAL., Jan. 30.—Soundings off Santa Monica and in the outer harbor site at San Pedro have been completed as far as directed by the Harbor Board. The United States steamer Gedney, used by the engineers, was moored in the inner harbor, and the results of the soundings are being plotted. The work of plotting consists of locating the various soundings on a map or chart for ready reference. This is done with data obtained from rough notes made when the soundings were in progress. The lines of the soundings are at distances of about one-eighth of a mile.

Soundings along these lines were made at long or short intervals, according to the depth of water, greater depths they were made further apart. As the soundings were made to ascertain the depth of the water from its surface to the bottom, pains were taken not to permit the lead to sink into the mud at any place. The results would not, therefore, show the character of the bottom.

The results of the soundings show comparatively little change from the measurements recorded after the last survey. The principal differences noted are in the outer harbor site in San Pedro, near the mouth of the inner harbor, the Government jetty having produced a material change. Signals have been posted along the sides of the inner harbor and soundings will be made in the area which will be closer together than those in the outer harbor site.

Los Angeles Herald Transfer.

LOS ANGELES, CAL., Jan. 30.—There will be a change of importance in the management and ownership of the Daily Herald on Monday, although no official action will be taken by the board of directors until the following day. Telfair Crockett, N. S. Crockett's son, who has owned a controlling interest and conducted the paper for the past year, will retire in favor of Abbott Kinney, a well-known capitalist, who will take the stock. According to the agreement Kinney gives the Crocketts four months in which to redeem their stock. W. J. Spaulding takes hold of the paper on Monday as general manager. The Herald is Democratic and will so continue.

Death Rather Than Suffering.

LOS ANGELES, CAL., Jan. 30.—Matthew Burkhardt, a German, 27 years old, attempted suicide to-day by firing a bullet through his body, just missing the heart. He said he had such pain in his heart that he wanted to die. He will live only a day or two. Burkhardt was almost dead from consumption.

FRESNO FORGERY CASE.

Sheriff Scott Tells of the Futile Search for William Wootton, the Missing Rancher.

FRESNO, CAL., Jan. 30.—The most important witness in the Sanders trial to-day was Sheriff Jay Scott, who testified that he had made a thorough search for Wootton in the southern part of the State, whence came letters purporting to have been signed by the rancher to various persons in this county.

Not a trace of the missing rancher could be found. No one had seen Wootton in the cities where the letters had been mailed. No one could be found who had consulted with the alleged manufacturers, and the two capitalists of whom Sanders tells.

Attorney Short resumed the cross-examination of George Wiseman when court convened this morning. "I have had news for you," the witness had said to Sanders. "Uncle Billy (Wootton) is sick."

Sanders had then replied, hanging his head sadly: "Well, it can't be helped."

"What do you think of him?" the witness had asked his son, who was standing near. He referred to Sanders. "Give him rope enough and he'll hang himself," was the young man's reply.

Attorney Short quickly moved to the testimony of the witness he stricken out, and the court so ordered.

Prior notice and wife testified that they lived in Hills Valley, and from their place led the trail across the mountain to Wootton's house. It was over this trail that Sanders, Knausch and Graves walked with their bar of $20,000 in gold, when they came to Wootton's place and bought the ranch from him.

Nance and his wife both swore that they were positive that no one had gone over the trail that day.

Sheriff Scott then told the story in detail of his futile search for Wootton, Knausch and Graves throughout Southern California.

SWINDLERS AT STOCKTON.

Two Suave Strangers Induce a Bank Clerk to Loan Them Several Hundred Dollars.

STOCKTON, CAL., Jan. 30.—Several weeks ago two well-dressed young strangers dropped into Stockton and put up at the leading hotel. They seemed to have plenty of means and said that they proposed to engage in manufacturing here.

So plausible were they that they induced the owner of the premises at the corner of Washington and California streets in this city to eject a tenant in order to give them the building in which to store the machines with which, they said, they proposed to establish a shirt factory.

Shortly after their arrival they went to a broker and said that they needed more money in order to bring an additional lot of machinery from San Francisco.

PORTLAND'S FEMALE BURGLAR.

Taught Stenography to a Fashionable Class by Day and Stole at Night.

PORTLAND, OR., Jan. 30.—On the night of January 26, between 10 and 11 o'clock, the show window of the pawn-broking establishment of L. A. Meyers on Third street, between Morrison and Yamhill, was robbed of a manful sum of three umbrellas and a quantity of jewelry.

This crime was considered an extraordinary one, because of the store's prominent location, the early hour and the time required to cut out the glass pane, of which they visited the home of Mrs. Edith A. Brown at Irvington, where, after a short colloquy, Mrs. Brown surrendered nearly all the property stolen from Meyers.

Mrs. Brown was taken by the detectives to the Central Police Station, where she confessed to having done the work single-handed.

Mrs. Brown is about 35 years old. Ten or twelve years ago she married a well-known Southern Pacific train dispatcher named Dudley, from whom she has been separated for some years. Of late she has been teaching stenography and typewriting in the Hamilton building, with a fashionable class.

A little more than a year ago Detective Welsh arrested this woman for larceny in the rooms of Mrs. River, in the Hamilton building, but as she made restitution and begged for her reputation, that charge against her was not pressed.

Death of Mrs. Welch.

SAN JOSE, CAL., Jan. 30.—Mrs. J. M. Welch, wife of City Attorney Welch, died this morning, after an illness of several months. Her funeral will take place on Monday. Mrs. Welch was a daughter of Samuel Loomis, formerly of Wrights, but now residing at Oroville with his son Fred. Another brother of Mrs. Welch lives at Oakland and an unmarried sister at Santa Cruz. Mrs. Welch was a woman of bright intellect and a devoted wife and mother. She leaves four children, the youngest two years old.

SESSION OF THE HOUSE.
After Much Discussion the Agricultural Appropriations Bill Is Passed.
WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 30.—The agricultural appropriations bill was almost the sole object of discussion in the House to-day, this being the third day it has been on the parliamentary stocks. As usual, the distribution of seeds gave rise to an animated discussion, which lasted two hours and comprised the usual motions to strike out the appropriation ($120,000) altogether.

This failed—39 to 70—Speaker Reed casting one of the affirmative votes, the first time in this Congress that he has exercised the privileges of an ordinary member.

An amendment was made giving the members larger control over the selection of the seeds purchased by the department. On points of order the proposed reorganization of the salaries of the Weather Bureau and Bureau of Animal Industry recommended by the chiefs, the Secretary and the Committee on Agriculture were stricken out of the bill and the provisions of the present law inserted in place of them.

The bill was passed and after the passage of two or three private bills the House, at 4:55, adjourned until Monday.
