

WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY CELEBRATED AT THE SCHOOLS.

Patriotic Exercises Generally Rendered Consisting of Flag Salutation With Appropriate Song and Story.

The occurrence of George Washington's birthday anniversary next Monday caused an order to issue from the School Superintendent that the great occasion be formally celebrated by the pupils yesterday.

At the various schools observed the occasion yesterday with patriotic exercises, flag salutation and appropriate music. Among others the following programmes were rendered: Everett Grammar School, seventh grade, taught by Miss N. Deane and Miss Lewis...

Did Not Say She Was His Wife

Butler Denies He Made Such a Remark About Mrs. Weller.

His Brief Evidence Before the Commissioner Yesterday.

Says He Was Bound for England and Did Not Wish to Remain Here.

The fortunate few, comparatively speaking, who attended the Ashe extradition proceedings before Commissioner Heacock yesterday were rewarded for their trouble by witnessing more than one episode which may be characterized as at least interesting if not sensational. Incidentally the defense scored several technical triumphs, though no serious attempt was made to rebut the accumulated mass of testimony against the prisoner.

Attorneys Who Would Not Obey Counsel for Chinese Gamblers Adjudged in Contempt.

They Refused to Bring Forward Their Client When Ordered.

The Committed Lawyers Sue Out a Writ of Habeas Corpus and Will Fight It Out.

Another considerable snag was encountered yesterday in the prosecution of the Chinese rounded up in the recent raid on the so-called social clubs. The trial of Yee Chung for visiting a gambling-house was to have taken place before Judge Joachimsen at 2 o'clock yesterday, but the aloofness snag loomed up with the proceedings.

eliminated and the cause of action still remain. That plaintiff met with the injury while engaged in the performance of his duties and met with the injury because the road was out of repair and the company was responsible for its unsafe condition.

Therefore there was no irreconcilable conflict between the general verdict and the special findings of the jury and the court should have entered judgment for the plaintiff.

Accordingly the judgment was reversed and the course remanded with instruction to the trial court to set aside the verdict for Lee under the general verdict of the jury, or for $8000 damages.

SAUSALITO MAILS. The Town Across the Bay Will Have a Regular Daily Delivery Hereafter.

Sausalito is to have a regular mail delivery once a day under the system for which Congress recently made a large appropriation for experimental purposes.

Those who will furnish boxes and place them at convenient places, where carriers can reach them, and place along the roads, can have their letters and papers delivered once every twenty-four hours and the carriers will also collect mail for concentration at the postoffice.

The system will not extend far to begin with, but if it is found to work well it will be extended to other parts of the bay.

TRUSTED A STRANGER. Gussie Arnold Assaulted by a Man to Whom She Applied for Information.

James O'Connell, a laborer, was arrested yesterday afternoon by J. T. Harris, a citizen, and charged with felonious assault. The complaint was filed by Gussie Arnold, who resides at 156 Thoma street.

About 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon Miss Arnold started to the Alms House to visit a relative, who is an inmate of that institution. When near the junction of Seventh and M streets she inquired of a man for the address of the Alms House.

The latter volunteered to direct her and, according to her story, led her through a ravine, which she said was the most direct route to the Alms House.

At a point between Seventh and Eighth streets and Land M streets a grasper seized the throat and a struggle ensued. J. T. Harris, who was passing at the time, placed O'Connell under arrest. O'Connell made no resistance and Harris marched him to Division street, where he turned him over to Policeman Foley.

SHOT THROUGH THE HEART. C. Paulson, a Cabinet-Maker, Takes His Own Life.

C. Paulson, a cabinet-maker by occupation, 45 years of age, committed suicide by shooting himself through the heart in his room at 108 Sixth street some time yesterday afternoon.

The suicide called at the house in which he took his life Thursday evening and applied for a room. He told the landlady that he had been drinking heavily.

Yesterday morning he was heard moving around in his room, but nothing was thought of the matter and he was not disturbed. Later in the evening the landlady was awakened by a noise and when she knocked and on her way to the door she found the door and discovered the body.

A pawn ticket showing that the dead man had pledged his watch for $10 Thursday was found on the body when it was searched. Nothing that would throw any light on the cause of the suicide could be discovered.

On the Ocean Beach. An early hour yesterday morning Miss Lottie Robins, who lives at the Ocean House, two miles south of the Cliff House, discovered the body of a man who had been shot.
