

SHE LOVES HIM IN SPITE OF ALL

Anna M. L. Steen Married to Paul Graves, a Burglar.

The Ceremony Performed by Justice of the Peace Groezinger.

Paul With Tears in His Eyes Declares His Innocence, but the Police Think Otherwise.

"Love laughs at locksmiths," and Anna M. L. Steen has demonstrated that it laughs at prison bars.

Anna is 19 years of age and all arrangements were made for her marriage to Paul Graves, a stepson of S. Seymour, salesman at S. P. Taylor & Sons, last Sunday.

Paul had bought the wedding ring and taken out the marriage license last Friday morning. That afternoon, it is charged, he broke into the house of Joseph J. Tierney, 832 Portsmouth street, and was chased and captured by Policeman Irvine.

Mrs. Tierney had discovered him before he was able to steal any of her property. Graves lived at 319 Ellis street and Detective Reynolds found in his room a pair of field glasses and five silver nut-picks which Mrs. Schenck, 4342 Twenty-third street, identified as having been stolen from her house on February 23, so Paul was charged with burglary.

When searched at the City Prison the wedding ring was found in his pocket. Anna heard of his arrest and hurried to the prison, where she told him that she would marry him, as she did not believe that he was a burglar.

Paul's brother had obtained possession of the marriage license and refused to give it up, so on Saturday Anna, accompanied by Mrs. Ida L. Seymour, Paul's mother, went to Cupid Danforth and procured a duplicate of the license.

It was settled that the marriage was to take place Sunday, but Anna's parents objected so strongly that she fled them to believe she would bend to their will and Sunday passed without incident.

Yesterday arrangements were quietly made for the ceremony, Justice of the Peace Groezinger being led into the secret. At 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon Paul was taken from the City Prison by Detective Reynolds to the private chambers of Justice Groezinger, where Anna, his mother, stepfather, and two or three friends had already assembled.

Paul, before the ceremony was proceeded with, protested his innocence of the crime of burglary and burst into tears. Anna, with the tears rolling down her cheeks, threw her arms around him, and in terms of endearment assured him that she was satisfied of his innocence, and to show her sincerity she was there to meet him for weal or woe.

Seeing the two lovers crying in each other's arms was too much for the witnesses to the ceremony and they, too, joined in the weeping.

As soon as they had recovered their composure the Justice in a few brief words made the prisoner and Miss Steen husband and wife. She went away with Mr. and Mrs. Seymour. The prisoner is only 19 years of age.

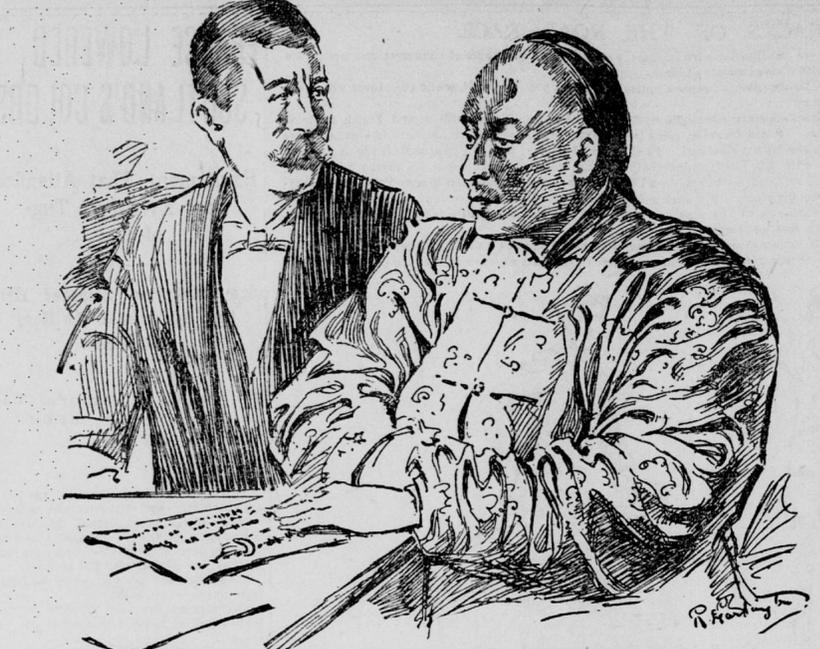

Graves was arraigned in Judge Joachim's court yesterday morning for the burglary at Mrs. Schenck's house, and the case was continued until to-morrow.

Meanwhile another charge of burglary will be entered against him. Yesterday William Pierce, 150 Noe street, had a look at Graves and thought he looked like a young man who broke into his house on February 17. Some articles of silverware, a gold pen, a small iron arvil, a revolver, pair of suspenders and other articles were stolen.

Graves was made to take off his coat and vest and Pierce at once identified the suspenders he was wearing as the ones stolen from him. Besides the articles taken from Mrs. Schenck's house, Detective Reynolds also found in the prisoner's room the gold pen, small iron arvil and revolver stolen from Pierce's house, and Pierce identified them. There are other articles yet to be identified.

TEN THOUSAND IN PRIZES The Carnival Committee Hopes to Give Work to the Unemployed. Arrangements for Elaborate Floats. Fifty Thousand Posters to be Issued.

As soon as sufficient subscriptions are received to justify commencing the work of building floats, it is the intention of the carnival committee to select from the ranks of the unemployed such carpenters, ironworkers, paper-hangers, painters, decorators and laborers as may be needed in the work of preparation.

FONG YUEN HING, the Chinese Consul, Testifying With the Aid of Interpreter Harry Huff in United States Commissioner Heacock's Court Yesterday. He is Being Sued by the See Yup Society for $5000 Damages for Breaking Up Their Headquarters.

$125; fourth prize, $75, and fifth prize, $50. Parties intending to enter their floats for competition should communicate with Carnival Director Friedlander, who will shortly issue a set of rules and regulations governing the competition.

A large number of wagons will be required to carry the floats work on which will soon be commenced. Letters have been addressed to all the large firms engaged in the teaming business in order to ascertain how many can be had. This information is necessary as each float will have to be built in a special wagon.

The California State Floral Society has appointed the following committee to take charge of the floral display during carnival week: Professor Emery E. Smith, chairman; John Hinckel, Steiner and Washington streets; John Henderson, 134 Ellis street; Mrs. L. C. Hodgkins, 3430 Sacramento street; Mrs. C. D. Baldwin, 3700 Washington street; Mrs. J. R. Martin, 2918 Howard street; Mrs. George C. Ross, Belmont.

Eastern railroad companies have been informed the carnival dates corresponded with them with a view of securing an idea of the number of strangers that will be attracted to the city during the carnival week. The contract for 50,000 posters containing the official copyrighted design will be given out this week. The poster will be one of the most beautiful works of art of its kind ever issued in San Francisco.

Bids for printing the official souvenir programme will also be asked for from all printers. It is proposed to make this the most elegant programme San Francisco has ever seen, and it will be one that will be sent to all parts of the globe. It will be issued in carnival colors, handsomely bound, and full of illustrations of San Francisco from the days of '49 up to the present time, and contain much other useful information.

TWO WERE TO BE BEHEADED

How the Chinese Government Punishes Rebellious Subjects.

Startling Developments of the Case Against the Chinese Consul.

Relatives of See Yup Merchants Said to Have Been Imprisoned in China.

Some startling testimony, showing the manner in which the Chinese Government deals with its rebellious subjects in foreign lands, came to light in United States Commissioner Heacock's Court yesterday, in the case of the See Yup Society against the Chinese Consul.

Fong Yuen Hing is being sued by the See Yups for $5000 damages, for having employed Captain Calundann to break up their headquarters.

Attorney Campbell, who represents the See Yup Society, stated that he intended to prove that the Chinese Minister at Washington, through the information he received from Fong Yuen Hing, had ordered seventeen See Yup merchants to return to China for punishment for their opposition to the Sam Yups.

"We can prove," said Mr. Campbell, "that the father of one of these merchants, an old and decrepit man, is taken into custody, and that the Minister shamefully to force his son to return. We have copies of the indictments against these men found by a Chinese court and charging them with high treason."

The Consul denied that he had threatened the seventeen See Yups or their families with punishment if they did not comply with the order to return, and stated that he knew of such orders.

He admitted, however, that at the order of the Chinese Minister at Washington, he had told the See Yups here that if they did not close the boycott on the Sam Yups they would be punished.

Fong Yuen Hing gave the See Yups a very bad name, saying that in view of the fact that the See Yups had made an agreement with the Chinese Minister some time between January 14 and February 12, 1896, not to allow any more shooting in Chinatown. They were to disband if the Minister so ordered.

Mr. Campbell's line of questioning was intended to show that the Consul was against the See Yups and in favor of the Sam Yups, and that the Minister had acted on Fong Yuen Hing's reports.

This line of examination was blocked by Attorney Garter, who appeared for the Consul, by advising his client not to answer.

The Consul took advantage of the advice and refused to answer all questions relating to the correspondence between himself and the Chinese Minister.

Fong Yuen Hing was attended by two body guards while on the way to and from the court, and the precaution was apparently well taken, for among the horde of Chinese who crowded Judge Heacock's court until they were driven away were several well-known highlanders who are known to belong to societies affiliated with the See Yups. Their lowering looks followed the Consul at all times, and they listened closely to the statements of the Consul and the questions of Interpreter Harry Huff.

WON HIS SUIT AND DIED HAPPY

Millionaire Quackenbush Passes Peacefully Away.

His Sole Heir Is Said to Be His Daughter, Mrs. Swortfiger.

The Funeral Will Take Place To-morrow Afternoon From St. Stephen's Church.

Thomas M. Quackenbush, the aged millionaire, whose life has been a matter of public interest in connection with the Nancy Abbott suit, died early yesterday morning at his residence, 911 Webster street.

The immediate cause of his decease was heart failure, but there is no doubt that his end was hastened by the trouble and anxiety due to the protracted lawsuit against Mrs. Abbott, which was decided in his favor shortly before his death.

Quackenbush had reason to fear that Mrs. Abbott, with whom he had lived for some time as a boarder, would step in after his death and claim the whole or a part of his large fortune on the strength of a spurious marriage contract, some intimation of which he had privately received. He therefore took the initiative and carried the matter into the courts.

The funeral services will be held to-morrow afternoon at 1 o'clock in the parlors of his late residence. Dr. Stebbins will officiate. The body will then be taken to the Odd Fellows' Cemetery and cremated, and the ashes will be placed in the family plot at Mountain View.

Mr. Kirketerp was married in this State, but has been a widower for the past seven years. Four children survive him, Mrs. J. N. Rodgers of Vacaville, W. C. and Emily Kirketerp, and a stepdaughter, Julia Haste.

The sons, daughters, descendants and friends of Wales, the "Land of Song," celebrated St. David's day by a concert and ball in Odd Fellows' Hall last night. The hall was well filled and many visitors from the interior were among the number. The affair was a pronounced success in every respect.

The vocalists were: Mrs. Millie Flynn-Wratten, Mrs. Eunice Westwater, D. M. Lawrence, J. C. Hughes and Rhys Thomas; harpist, Miss Marie Kimball; violinist, Professor Ardognoni; pianist, Miss Maggie Davies; accompanist, Professors Burness and Craels. The Gymnasium Club, consisting of over thirty male voices, also sang several choruses in splendid style.

The success of the affair was due to the following committees: Executive—H. J. Lloyd (chairman), H. Jones, R. J. Hughes, Thomas Longworth, David Hughes, David Lewis, R. W. Jones and H. T. Roberts; music—Hu Jones (chairman), H. J. Lloyd and David Lewis.

WHY THEY BREAK DOWN.

Not Only Animals, but Men—A Strong Object Lesson.

"He was a splendid racer once, but is all broken down now," was the remark of a gentleman who saw a well-known horse hobble by. The horse has been overtaxed and "broke down." The man of business strains his energies and breaks down. The wife, mother or workingwoman goes beyond her strength and breaks down. People, and unfortunately, it generally seems to be their own fault. When nature begins to give way assist her. Do it sensibly, and do it wisely. Stimulate her weakening powers with pure, whiskey taken as a medicine and not as a beverage. Nine times out of ten, the breaking down will cease and health will return.

It is necessary, however, that only pure and medicinal whiskey be used, and doctors all agree that Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey is the only pure and reliable preparation in America. It has its endorsement of clergymen, owing to its great medicinal qualities. It is used in hospitals in cases of fever, and where a reliable stimulant is required, but its great power is in restoring the broken down, building up the weak and debilitated, and giving new life to the aged. Do not permit any dealer to sell you a worthless article, claiming it as good as Duffy's, which is the only medicinal whiskey before the public.
