NOTES. August Belmont, the millionaire New York patron of the turf, was an onlooker at the races yesterday.

Pat Dunne asked Owner Boots to price the horse after the race, but Mr. Boots said he guessed he would keep the colt.

Many thought that with a more even start Etta H would have beaten Scarf Pin, but this hardly seems probable as the latter won with plenty in reserve.

Following are to-day's entries: First race, three-quarters of a mile.

Second race, selling, three-quarters of a mile.

Third race, handicap, one mile.

Fourth race, selling, one and a sixteenth mile.

Fifth race, one and a quarter miles, handicap.

Sixth race—Joe Terry, Babe Murphy, Dan Hogan, the St. Louis horseman, slipped in a warm one in the six-furlong selling sprint...

A CHAMPION FROM THE WEST

Wells Eclipses the Stars of Eastern Professionalism.

He Carries the Scalps of Eaton, McFarland and Stevens at His Belt.

Sensational Racing at the Pavilion Indoor Cycling Tournament.

To the surprise and delight of his many admirers Charles S. Wells of the Bay City Wheelmen defeated the host of crack Eastern and local professional racers at the Pavilion cycle meet last night.

It was in the half-mile event that Wells turned the trick. The big field had been narrowed down by heats to four—Wells, Eaton of Chicago, Stevens of Iowa and McFarland of San Jose.

It was a clean victory and marks the time pandemonium reigned. The referee's decision remained unchanged, however, though many thought he was discriminating.

In the second semi-final were Wells, McFarland, "Bob" Terrill and Morris. Wells started one of his famous long springs on the second lap and kept it up to the tape, winning cleverly.

The starters in the third were Eaton, Foster, Harry Terrill and Whitman. This faster to be and proved a hot run for the money.

Wells rounded into the homestretch in the lead, with the others right on top of him, but try as they would they could not pass him, and he rode home a winner, defeating Eaton by a wheel's length, with Stevens just back of him.

The opening event of the evening was the five-mile club cup race, third heat, contested this time by E. P. Russ of the Olympic Club, Whitman, E. A. Bogio of the Imperial Cycling Club and Walter Leitch, riding for the Alameda Cyclists.

The pace was a steady 2:20 clip from the start, and was a pretty exhibition of amateur racing. It has been seen on the track. The tandem dropped out when "boy wonder" as one of the speediest riders of the world, for he earned his laurels only by defeating champions.

Longhead disappointed his admirers last night. He qualified in his heat, but was shut out in the semi-final of the half-mile.

T. H. White caused a bad fall in the second heat of the amateur handicap by his reckless riding. He tried to take the hole from Langueton on the last lap and was thrown, bringing down both the other contestants.

Alborelli treated himself to a tumble in the third heat after the finish. He ran the track and then tried to ride up one of the steep banks. Result, a badly damaged bicycle, after the rider had been thrown.

The star event of last evening's programme was the half-mile open professional race in six preliminary heats, three semi-final and a final. In the first heat were Longhead of Canada, Downing of San Jose, Stevens of Iowa and Dow of Seattle.

In the second heat were McFarland, Olympic, Max Morris of Texas, F. M. Byrne, Imperial, and Clarence Davis of San Jose.

Starbuck of Philadelphia, Whitman of Los Angeles and Bovee of Texas contested in the third. The much-vaunted Starbuck did not qualify, the heat going to Bovee by three lengths from Whitman.

C. S. Wells and W. A. Terrill were the only contestants in the fourth. Wells won by a narrow margin, in the fifth were Jay Eaton of Chicago, Terrill of the Bay City and Eddie Allen of Spokane.

This was a pretty ride. Allen tried to steal a march on the others by jumping out early in the race, but the latter were hot after him and caught and passed him just before the tape was reached.

Terrill got the decision, Eaton second. Then came the semi-final race in number, in the first of which the starters were Longhead, Becker, Bovee and Stevens.

Becker jumped to the front early in the ride and held that lead, but the others could diminish but little. Stevens got the place. Referee Plummer disqualified Becker and gave the lead to Stevens, which gave Bovee second. The decision pleased some of the audience, but the noisier ones yelled for Becker, and for a half of the last mile had been completed and left the men to themselves. Russ had lead and the others could not pass him, try as they would. Bovee finished second. The time for the five miles was 1:39:1-5, the best mile being covered in 2:14.

The following is the summary: One-mile handicap, amateur: First heat—Won by J. E. Wing, Olympic, scratch. Time, 2:10.

Second heat—Won by E. Langueton, Bay City, 55 yards. Time, 2:47:3-5. Third heat—Won by W. W. Squires, Acme, 25 yards. Time, 2:21:2-3.

DURRANT ASKS FOR A REHEARING

His Attorneys File Their Petition in the Famous Case.

They Use Very Strong Language in Condemning the Jury Impaneled.

Claim Made That the Newspapers Had the Defendant "Massacred" Before His Trial.

The petition for a rehearing in the case of W. H. T. Durrant was filed by his attorneys, Eugene N. Deuprey and John H. Dickinson, with the clerk of the Supreme Court yesterday.

The document is rather voluminous, having been printed in pamphlet form, and covers thirteen pages. The first point submitted was that the court had no power or authority to make a record which did not exist, and under such circumstances supply a document in order to authorize the proceeding with a particular trial.

As regards the jurors it was asserted nothing unreasonable existed in requiring that all should be on the last preceding assessment roll. A general summary of the unfitness of the jurors was summed up in the following strong language:

We again call the attention of this court to the point XV, pp. 92 to 96 inclusive, in relation to this proposition, and transcribe, in full, the portion of the opinion which we believe to be of importance, and which we think will be discovered that persons presented themselves whose names had been selected for jury service, fourteen in number, except two of whom were not citizens, twelve who did not understand the English language, several were of a number were incompetent from old age, there were several professional men, several United States employes, several city officials, a number of the militia and a number of Grand Jurors.

None of these were either suitable or competent to act as jurors.

The Superior Court Judges were accused of failing to comply with their duty by failing to provide a competent panel of jurors. The special venire was not, in the opinion of Messrs. Deuprey and Dickinson, selected according to law, either.

In relation to the action of the court in the cases of Jurors Crocker and Nathan it was insisted that the defendant did not have the privilege given him by the sixth amendment to the constitution of the United States, "Under no circumstance," reads the petition, "should he be called upon to waive the most sacred right in relation to trial, viz, the selection of jurors, by being forced to use peremptory challenges when a challenge for cause is plain and direct upon which the court should, with impartial mind, adjudicate."

Juror Brown came in for his little verbal dose also. "Juror Brown" in fact has come to be a stereotyped phrase in discussing the Durrant trial. In his case, it was argued "that the court did invade his (defendant's) right to an impartial trial by jurors."

In commenting upon the attitude of the public press toward the defendant during the trial the petition asserts that in most instances the stories were ascertained to be fabrications.

In conclusion, Deuprey and Dickinson make an eloquent plea for rehearing and the privilege of oral argument in the following language:

In regard to several of the questions passed upon by this honorable tribunal in its opinion in affirming the judgment of the inferior court, we call more particular and positive attention to the privilege of oral argument, and in the name of all that is humane, of all that is just, of all that is fair in an enlightened age and in an enlightened country, we beg and we pray that this court will grant our application for a rehearing, and in any event the privilege of an oral argument before finally determining the application now made on behalf of one who, as his counsel believes to be innocent of the awful crime now charged against him.

Grand Larceny Charged. Carrie Stone, 26 years of age, was booked at the City Prison yesterday afternoon on a charge of grand larceny. The complaining witness is H. J. Hooper. He met the woman last Friday night and they went to a saloon on Third and Stevenson streets, where they had several drinks. After the women left Hooper missed $30 in coin and a diamond stud valued at $400. The woman was arrested by Sergeant Donovan and Policeman H. A. Mouton.

SPANISH CARNIVAL READY TO SELL BACK

A Grand Parade Through the Public Streets. On April 24 the Madrid Mutual Benevolent Society will give through the streets of San Francisco a grand evening pageant which will cost $10,000, in which the New World will be illustrated in twenty floats, which are now under construction at the corner of Golden Gate avenue and Gough street.

On the afternoon of the 24th a grand opening performance is to take place at the Mechanics' Pavilion. In the evening the procession will take place, followed immediately by the king's ball and reception at the Pavilion. On the following day at the Chutes there will be fireworks, followed by a ball. All the Spanish colony is working earnestly to make this a feature long to be remembered. The proceeds of the fete is to be devoted to the beneficial fund of the Madrid Mutual Benevolent Society.

The Spanish carnival has been successfully conducted for the past seven years. The carnival colors are to be red and yellow. Five thousand buttons are to be given gratis to the public two weeks prior to the carnival. The affair is in the hands of the following gentlemen: Jose Ferrando, honorary chairman; Juan Nava, chairman; John L. Noriega, treasurer; Anton J. Colobo, secretary; Andrew L. W. J. Dinger Positively Denies John Aylward's charges. OAKLAND, CAL., March 23.—The Livermore Water Company, William J. Dinger, Frank J. Moffit, William F. Boardman and others have filed their answer to the suits brought by John Aylward of Livermore.

They outline the procedure by which the water company was formed, and state that they paid to improve the property $10,000, and not $9000 as the complaint states. They make an offer that, as an evidence of their good faith, they are willing to transfer to the plaintiff, or to any person whom he may name, all of the stock of the corporation upon repayment to them of $10,000 in money they have expended. The personal charges of fraud are positively denied, and it is stated that the assessment of $10,000 was made at a meeting of the stockholders in conformity with the law governing corporations, and that all of the stockholders have paid the assessment, except James Stanley. They deny that the assessment was made for the purpose of depriving Aylward of his rights, or that F. H. Moffit took his office as president for any other purpose than to serve the corporation, and assert that the carrying out of the assessment will not deprive the plaintiff of his property.

For the Volunteers. To-morrow evening there will be a benefit concert for the Volunteers of America in Hope Hall by the Herman Brandt amateur orchestra, assisted by Rev. Dr. Voorsanger, who will read the address on the "Redemption of Prisoners."
