

THE FAVORITES MOVED UP A PEG

Managed to Take Four of the Events at Ingle side.

The Plungers on Strathrol Are Beaten Out by Amelia Fonso.

The Querly Nared Dusterswivel Wins—Ray Salazar Carried Educated Money—Torsina Bid Up

Favorites did a little better at Ingle side yesterday, taking four of the six events on the card. The attendance was quite up to the average and the betting good.

The race that caused dismay, suffering and sorrow in one camp was the second Strathrol, running in Sam Hildreth's colors, came out for the first time in many months and to have been the medium of a "killing." It was such a "good thing" that many speculators in the East had it passed to them over the wire.

On Thursday, in a mile race, Refusee opened favorite and the betting good. It was a race that occasioned some of the best betting of the season.

According to reports Estaca has been going great guns and is sweetly smiling on by the stable employes. The track, which has been narrowed up, is just to his liking, and he will be hard to beat to-day.

Molleo R. Very luckily Willie Martin's effort on Candor escaped the official eye. Mrs. Murphy of 2005 Hayes street says in the statement that she made to Detectives Gibson and Wren, and which is now in the possession of Captain Bohan:

Following are to-day's entries: First race, five-eighths of a mile, two-year-olds. 897 Twinkler, 111 1/2 lbs. 887 Alumnus, 111 1/2 lbs. 898 Duke York II, 114 lbs. 901 Salazar, 110 lbs.

SELECTIONS FOR TO-DAY. First race—Elmore, Torsina, Salazar. Second race—Sutama, Yeman, Major Cook.

THE BIRD CAME HOME.

After Three Months and a Half He Escaped His Prison Bars.

Homing pigeon 1033, with a filmy aluminum band on one of its ankles, set alight in Sacramento on January 5 last and strangely lost since then, yesterday arrived at the home of his owner, John Filmer, at 337 Jersey street.

Undoubtedly, as his owner believes, the bird has been in captivity somewhere between here and Sacramento, and has just been let loose because of the law recently passed making it a misdemeanor to hunt or detain a pigeon.

THE LAW OF SACRIFICE.

As we study the gradual casting off of the fetters which bind the soul to rebirth we come to that which is the most efficient agent in this work—the law of sacrifice. All must have been struck with the fact that there is not a religion in the world that has not sacrificed some of its essential ideas to the highest religion that the world has known, or take the lowest, and still you can discover no religion, whether of the highest sect or of the lowest savage, that has not the sacrificial idea at its center.

Consider the impulse of the moment; in one of its lowest and crudest forms. Take it among the most ignorant people, who put it in form repulsive to higher thought, and you will find it in its working out in the lives of the people, in the inner regions where words are so little and thought is so much—you will find that out of a burlesqued idea of sacrifice there has grown the same high and exquisite devotion which is the glory of every religion and every phase of creed.

But not only for the purest and noblest is this divine sharing of all things possible; not only for those who are absolutely pure that the divine life can send them forth as saviors of the world; not only to them is this privilege given, but to others also according to their smaller measure of purity.

That is part of the law of sacrifice. As the disciple grows higher and higher he can do this more and more; and so the disciple, as he rises higher, can do it more and more.

Another way in which sacrifice is possible. When the disciple, climbing upward, has reached a stage at which consciousness can work freely on the higher planes, but at which he may not yet bring back perfectly memory of all he does, there is a possibility that pain may be accepted in order to bring back memory of all he does.

It is only the voice of the worldless that can voice it truly for the words are not of earth; and if the words of the speaker have marred the vision, and lack of words have made the beauty seem less beautiful, then the speaker, when he has the light, makes good his word not with these poor words my tongue can utter, but from my heart to yours, from my soul to yours.

A Butcher Claims to Have Suffered From Its Operation.

The Remains to Be Interred Tomorrow in the Odd Fellows' Cemetery.

After an illness of a few weeks' duration Thomas J. L. Smiley, ex-Auditor and ex-Registrar of Voters, passed away at the French Hospital yesterday at half-past 12 o'clock.

Mr. Smiley was 78 years of age, and came to California from his native city of Philadelphia in 1849. He had been a schoolteacher, but on reaching San Francisco became an active man of affairs.

GOALS TIGHTENING AROUND LORING

Police Have More Evidence Regarding the Death of His Wife.

The Deceased's Ante-Mortem Statement Corroborated by Several Witnesses.

The Coroner Examined the Remains, but They Were Mutilated and the Autopsy Was a Fair one.

Captain Bohan of the detective department is quite confident that he has woven a net of evidence around Robert Loring, the tinsmith, that will send him to the gallows for the murder of his wife.

In response to the request of the police, Coroner Hawkins had the remains of Mrs. Loring exhumed from Holy Cross cemetery yesterday and taken to the Morgue.

It was the hope of the police autopsy was performed by the partitioned room which the unfortunate woman died in, which was brought on by a kicking and beating administered by her husband.

Investigation developed the fact that after Mrs. Loring died at the Waldick Sanitarium Dr. J. C. Sinton and Doctor Nathaniel Seiling, who had attended her in her illness, determined to make a post-mortem examination in order to determine the exact cause of death.

By dying statement of Mrs. Mary Loring of 5 Gordon street: Dr. Mary Loring, believing myself at the point of death, do hereby state that I am a widow, do hereby state that I am a widow, do hereby state that I am a widow.

Captain Bohan has an important list of witnesses who will give evidence against the man who is now sweltering in one of the City Prison "tanks."

A HEALTHY WIFE Is a Husband's Inspiration.

A sickly, half-dead-and-alive woman, especially when she is the mother of a family, is a damper to all joyousness in the home.

If a woman finds that her energies are flagging and she is suffering from nervousness, and that she often wakes suddenly in the night with a feeling of suffocation and alarm, she must at once regain her strength.

It matters not where she lives, she can write a letter. Mrs. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., will reply promptly and without charge. The following shows the power of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, accompanied with a letter of advice:

"Dear Mrs. Pinkham—I have suffered for over two years with falling enlargement and ulceration of the womb, and this spring, being in such a weakened condition, caused me to flow for nearly six months. Some time ago, urged by friends, I wrote to you for advice. After using the treatment which you advised for a short time, that terrible flow stopped. I am now gaining strength and flesh and have better health than I have had for the past ten years. I wish to say suffering women, do not suffer longer, when there is one so kind and willing to aid you."—MRS. F. S. BENNETT, Westphalia, Kans.

NOTARY PUBLIC.

CHARLES H. PHILLIPS, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW and Notary Public, 637 Market st., opposite Palace Hotel. Telephone 374. Residence 1628 7th street. Telephone "Fins" 3551.

Loring denies the charges made against him, but when sent last night declined to go into a detailed explanation, further than to say that his wife's death was the result of an operation she performed herself. He says he never struck or kicked her.
