

WISDOM FROM MANY PULPITS

Rev. J. Clarke Robbins of Berkeley Scores Cambridge.

Rev. Louis C. Sanford Preaches on the Testimony of the Resurrection.

"Enthusiasm" the Theme of Rev. Mr. Gardner—Rev. Mr. Shepard on "Education."

BERKELEY, CAL., May 23.—In his sermon this evening at the North Berkeley Congregational Church Rev. J. Clarke Robbins upbraided in vigorous language Cambridge University for refusing any longer to grant degrees to women.

He went on to point out the qualities of womanliness in Miriam, such as the desire to rule over men, to look like man and to wear man's clothes.

He said the type of new woman such as Miriam represents does not suggest anything of womanliness, of gentleness, love of devotion and sweetness, but rather the spirit to boss other women, and, as far as she can, to boss men.

She was the first woman on record to dispute man's superiority to women. There are women of all types, but the woman who wants to be a man, who wants to wear man's clothes, to look and act like a man, is a woman who is not a woman.

The story of Cambridge debaring women from taking degrees there reads like an anachronism when we consider that it transpired at this time of the nineteenth century. The fact that such a question has arisen shows that the women undergraduates have the requisite ability to win a degree and that the university is not behind the times.

How far can such an institution of learning be said to meet its great end when the university is so far behind the spirit of the age? The suffrage question met defeat in California because the men knew the women were in the right and that if they refused to give the death warrant would be read over their criminal records of reform.

Testimony of the Resurrection.

"Ye shall be my witnesses," Acts 1: 8, was the text of Rev. Louis C. Sanford at St. Paul's Episcopal Church yesterday.

"This commission was issued to the church by our Lord just before his ascension. His followers were to be witnesses to all the world of his resurrection.

The word witness is used first in the historical sense meaning an eye-witness that Jesus showed himself alive after his passion by many infallible proofs. It is also used in an ethical sense referring to the testimony which the first Christians should bear in their upright and holy lives.

"Enthusiasm is not the frenzy of self-control. No truly great things are accomplished in any department of life without enthusiasm. It makes men strong, active and brave. It is like steam to a locomotive. Until the steam generates the train will not move. So a man may be strong, educated and cultured, but without enthusiasm he is like a steam locomotive without fire.

"Every church that succeeds every Christian who is worthy of the name is moved by the spirit of zeal and earnestness. Holiness is the result of a genuine Christianity. A close view of the relation of the New Testament discloses a religion of great stability and peace. Happiness is within. If you depend wholly upon others for happiness you will be disappointed.

Enthusiasm and the Enthusiast.

At the West Side Christian Church yesterday Rev. William Gardner's theme was "Enthusiasm and the Enthusiast."

"Enthusiasm is seldom popular. The enthusiast is denominated a fanatic, and that points him out as one who should be shunned by the sober-minded and cultured. The fanatic is intemperately zealous over small things; the enthusiast has a burning zeal for things as great as God and the universe.

"Enthusiasm is not the frenzy of self-control. No truly great things are accomplished in any department of life without enthusiasm. It makes men strong, active and brave. It is like steam to a locomotive. Until the steam generates the train will not move. So a man may be strong, educated and cultured, but without enthusiasm he is like a steam locomotive without fire.

Rev. H. T. Shepard on "The True Education."

The Rev. H. T. Shepard delivered a sermon at the Olivet Congregational Church yesterday on the subject of "Education."

In the course of his remarks he said: "The error of many who condemn education lies in mistaking a part for the whole. Knowledge and skill are blamed for man's misuse of them. When education does not make a man more useful and successful and true to himself and the world, it is imperfect and misdirected. It is not education. The fact is that education is a good one, and the venture may prove a success."

Manager Walter Morosco of the Grand Orpheum was at the Columbia Theatre last night. He said in substance that the Eastern houses depended on the traveling public for their patronage, and that afternoon shows, especially rarely paid. On the whole, Manager Morosco thought the continuous show plan a loser.

"The Orpheum is as always kept faith with the public and will undoubtedly do well in the future," said Manager Morosco. "As far as I'm concerned, I wish them success."

The author, Supervisor Hawkins, introduced the order in the Board of Supervisors to prevent the sale of cigarettes in San Francisco has been referred to the Judiciary Committee and a hearing of interested parties will take place Tuesday of next week.

Supervisor Thomas H. Hawkins, who introduced the re-entention, believes that the order will be passed by the board, but he will not insist on its adoption if it should be shown that injury to retail merchants will follow.

On this point he said: "So far as I am able to ascertain the dealers favor the prohibition. They comprehend that the profit in handling a cigarette is very slight, owing to the monopoly in the business. Many dealers have told me they wanted a law adopted absolutely prohibiting the sale of cigarettes, and they expect that buying a glass of beer will say: 'Give me a cigarette.' The request is too small to be refused, yet when the package is broken the cigarette is given away. Hence again so many new dealers are coming out that the dealer in a business even so small must keep from $30 to $50 profit on a cigarette, and one brand proves unsalable the profit on all is lost."

"The law against the sale of cigarettes is in force in Alameda," said Mr. Hawkins, "and from all accounts it gives general satisfaction. I shall ascertain what cities of the East the law is in force and present the facts to the committee. We do not anticipate objection from the retail trade, but we expect that agents of the factories or wholesale firms may present objections. My idea is to abolish a nuisance and an injury without interfering with the rights of trade or the convenience of individuals."

The universities and colleges of Austria afford employment for 1400 professors.

mightily incentive to boldness in not being ashamed to confess Christ; a strong bulwark against the awful influx of worldliness. While it teaches moderation, patience and moderation of language, it inspires absolute sincerity and consecration of our entire being to our Creator as nothing else can do. It powerfully exerts its ministerial faithfulness, pastoral diligence and purity of life. The beauty and glory that shall attend the return of our King will render it no sacrifice to give up now in favor of a more perfect reach this doctrine to the church has in a great measure lost her purity, and with it her power from the endowment of the holy spirit.

The Universality of Natural Law. Rev. J. S. David spoke on "The Universality of Natural Law" at Washington Hall last night. In part he said: "By natural law is meant normal law, or law that inheres in the nature of things as distinguished from arbitrary or man-made law. Natural laws are universal and eternal on all planes of being. They originate in eternal being itself, or God, and eternally proceed from him. Hence they can never be violated, changed or suspended. The creation of the universe and of man proceeds eternally from God, according to unchangeable laws of evolution and revolution. Revelation is divine truth descending like light and yielding itself in familiar earthly forms according to a law of correspondence or symbolism. Regeneration is an unfolding of the higher planes of the mind according to a law of spiritual evolution. The resurrection is a natural emerging of the spiritual form from its physical husk. Heaven and hell is the spiritual expansion or contraction, the happiness or misery naturally resulting from a good or evil will. All angels were once men and developed into angels by normal processes. All miracles, so-called, are extraordinary manipulations of nature's laws and are never suspensions of law. True science is a perception of nature's harmony and a conformity of the life thereto."

Righteousness, the Kingdom Within. Rev. William Rader of the Third Congregational Church preached yesterday on the subject of "The Kingdom Within." He said: "The phrase 'Kingdom of God' is a religiously expressive political language. It was used in an age of thrones and principalities. Our Lord used the term kingdom in a religious sense. With it he described his universal reign. He said that it would come invisibly as the leaven worked and as the seed developed; that it was not an external wonder, but an inward life; 'the kingdom of God is within you.' This kingdom within is not 'that and drink'; that is ceremony and form and rite. It is not church membership. The church shelters, conserves and develops the kingdom within. It is not any particular form of belief. The kingdom within is righteousness. Righteousness is character. Religion is character. He who is righteous is religious no matter to what church he belongs. The kingdom within is happiness and peace. Happiness is within. If you depend wholly upon others for happiness you will be disappointed.

WILL HELP THE NEW DEBS PLAN

The Brotherhood of the Co-operative Commonwealth Confers.

Religion and Politics Will Be Banned From the Proposed Colony.

Local Members Stand Ready to Forward the New Propaganda Without Delay.

There was an interesting meeting of the Brotherhood of the Co-operative Commonwealth at 418 McAllister street yesterday.

The purpose of the organization is to do everything possible in a legal and peaceable way to realize some such scheme as that advocated by Baulmy and other socialistic writers.

An impetus has lately been given their movement by the indorsement of Eugene V. Debs, who sees in some such plan a hope of the emancipation of labor from the thrall of private greed, colony in colony.

It was agreed in a general way at yesterday's meeting that the members are to do all in their power to prevent religion and politics from entering in any way into the issues discussed by the members of the brotherhood.

A committee from the local body stands ready to co-operate with the national society in a movement to acquire a large territory where the socialistic experiment may be fully tried. It is probable the start will be made in Middle Tennessee, which offers a wide variety of soils and an equable climate. If the plan is carried out there members from all parts of the Union will be expected to contribute 10 cents a month to the success of the enterprise.

Departments of manufacture and distribution will be founded, and a thorough experiment will be made along the lines indicated by the prospectus of the society.

A CONTINUOUS SHOW. The Latest Scheme of the Walter Orpheum Company.

It Has Leased the People's Palace Building, and Will Open Inside of Two Months.

A deal was consummated Saturday afternoon that may revolutionize the theatrical business in this city. A five years' lease of the property known as the People's Palace, corner of Eddy and Mason, was obtained from the owner, J. K. Pratt, by the Walter Orpheum Company, of which Gustav Walter, director-general and H. Meyerfeldt secretary, the purpose being to open a first-class place of amusement and put on continuous shows.

The lot is 137 1/2 x 137 1/2, and it is proposed to entirely remodel the building; a strip of ground on the south will be utilized also. The work of remodeling will commence at once. The stage will be made large enough to accommodate the most extensive productions, and the seating capacity will be 3500.

The alterations are to be concluded in two months, and the new house will probably be called the Olympia. Continuous houses, as they are called, have been successfully run in the Eastern cities for some years, but this will be the first venture of the kind in San Francisco.

The show will consist of plays rendered by a good dramatic company, with vaudeville turns between acts, or following the dramatic performance. Short operas are also given in the New York and Boston houses in conjunction with variety acts; the combination proving very popular with the theatrical public.

In the Eastern house, the performance begins at 10 o'clock in the morning, and with two short intermissions, lasts till 11 at night. The San Francisco house will probably give two performances a day, afternoon and evening. Gustav Walter is now in the East looking for both the Orpheum and the continuous house. He will sail for Europe Thursday to secure the talent on the other side.

"The town is too small for the continuous show, in my opinion," said Jacob Gottlieb of the Columbia Theatre last night. "Of course I don't pretend to know it all, but it strikes me our population is too small, and we have too few transient patrons. The continuous show is a good one, and the venture may prove a success."

Manager Walter Morosco of the Grand Orpheum was at the Columbia Theatre last night. He said in substance that the Eastern houses depended on the traveling public for their patronage, and that afternoon shows, especially rarely paid. On the whole, Manager Morosco thought the continuous show plan a loser.

FIELD EXERCISES TO-DAY. Soldiers of the Presidio Will Defend a Wagon Train at Golf Hill.

There Will Be Outpost Duty N. X. Wednesday—The Muster and Inspection Next Monday.

Lieutenant-Colonel Evan Miles of the First Infantry having been promoted Colonel of the regiment, as has already been announced in the CALL, assumed command of the post at the Presidio and the place he vacated at the Benicia Barracks has been filled by James S. Pettit, Company D, First Infantry. It is probable that Major William H. Bisbee will be appointed lieutenant-colonel of the First, vice Miles promoted.

There is some talk to the effect that the Tenth Cavalry, of which Troops C, D, F, G, H and I are stationed at Fort Assiniboine, Mont. and Troops A, B, and K at Fort Custer, Minn., will be ordered to the Presidio. First Lieutenant Charles S. Bromwell of the Corps of Engineers has been ordered to report to the superintendent of Yellowstone National Park not later than July 1 to locate the boundary of the park.

Small arms target practice during the current year will be carried on under new instructions, which, it is expected, will be issued before the close of May. First Lieutenant Edwin B. Babbitt of the ordnance department is busy at this time superintending the installation of the 12-inch guns at Fort Point and at Fort Baker. There have been two more promotions from the Cavalry. Captain John B. Baker, Troop 1, First Cavalry, has been commissioned second lieutenant and assigned to Company Fourth. Captain John B. Baker, Troop 4, Fourth Cavalry, has been commissioned second lieutenant and assigned to Company B, Tenth Cavalry, Fort Snelling.

There is a change in the revolver used by the troops. All Colt's of 38-caliber, model of 1892, are being replaced by those of the model of 1893, made at Hartford, Conn. The addition of a locking lever, which prevents the hammer from being cocked except when the cylinder is closed, is the chief improvement. A portion of the troops, including the first seven regiments of cavalry, have already been supplied with the new W. Grobeck, Judge Advocate.

The Secretary of War is considering a proposition from General Miles to substitute rifles for black powder in the Cavalry. The addition of a locking lever, which prevents the hammer from being cocked except when the cylinder is closed, is the chief improvement. A portion of the troops, including the first seven regiments of cavalry, have already been supplied with the new W. Grobeck, Judge Advocate.

Lieutenant Preston of the Ninth Cavalry invented a combination of the rifle and cup which he is having made of aluminum, with a view to submit the same to the War Department and ask that it be adopted in the army.

First Lieutenant Robert H. Noble, First Infantry, has been announced as inspector of small-arms practice for the Department of California. First Lieutenant A. P. Reynolds, Tenth Cavalry, has been ordered to remain at department headquarters for several weeks until the arrival of the new rifles. Major John B. Babcock, A.
