JORDAN OFF TO BERING WATERS

Goes as a Member of the United States Commission.

Accompanied by Students Who Will Aid in Branding Female Seals.

The Stanford Educator Says Sherman's Note to Salisbury Was Terse Worded.

SEATTLE, Wash., July 6.—Dr. David Starr Jordan, president of Leland Stanford Jr. University, arrived at Seattle last night on route to Alaska, whither he goes as a member of a Government commission created for the purpose of studying the condition and methods for the better protection of the fur seals around Pribilof Island, in the far northern waters. He is accompanied by Professor Wood and five Stanford students, the latter as assistants, especially in the matter of branding the young female seals so as to prevent extermination of the species by making pelagic sealing unprofitable. By means of electricity and a platinum-wire device it is proposed to burn or imprint a letter "S" six or eight inches long on the back of every young female seal, thus rendering the skins practically worthless for marketable purposes. While this is going on and during the pelagic sealing the young male seals will be fenced in.

Dr. Jordan, treating "S" continued his journey to Victoria, in which city he will spend a day on the wharves and docks mingling with the pelagic sealers for the purpose of ascertaining something of their plans and schemes for this season's work.

"I think these Victorians will find pelagic sealing very unprofitable this season," the doctor smilingly observed. "At least the commission will endeavor to make the enterprise so," he continued.

Dr. Jordan to THE CALL correspondent confirmed the truth of the Chicago and Washington City dispatches relative to President McKinley's message to Lord Salisbury, the British Premier, informing that statesman that Great Britain was not living up to the letter of the law as to the American seal promulgated by the Paris tribunal. He also authorized the statement that a tract of the message was submitted to him as a member of the seal commission by Secretary Sherman for suggestion and approval before it was communicated to the Government of Great Britain.

"It was a very emphatic and strongly worded document, but beyond that I must decline to tell what it contained," Dr. Jordan replied in answer to a request for the substance of the message. His reference and manner concerning the subject clearly indicated that he considered that Premier Salisbury had never been "called down" in more caustic and emphatic diplomatic language.

Concerning the statement that American branded seals have been found with the seals along the Japanese and Siberian coast Dr. Jordan said:

"I wish you would say that there is absolutely no truth in the report. The three species of seals have three distinct ways of migrating. The Russian seal invariably goes down the Japanese coast, the Japanese seal through the inland sea back of Japan and the American seal down the Pacific Coast as far as Santa Barbara."

SAN QUENTIN PRISONER'S FATE.

Peter Derrenbecker's Application for a Writ of Habeas Corpus Heard at San Rafael and Denied.

SAN RAFAEL, Cal., July 6.—Peter Derrenbecker, the convict in San Quentin prison, who, through his attorney, petitioned the Superior Court of Marin County for a writ of habeas corpus, will have to serve his time. Judge Angelotti so decreed to-day and the prisoner was taken back to the big penitentiary.

The case is an interesting one, but it took less than a half-hour to dispose of it to-day. Derrenbecker was convicted by a jury in Judge W. L. Pierce's court at San Diego of "an assault with a deadly weapon with intent to commit murder," and received a sentence of fourteen years. Under the law a man convicted of assault with a deadly weapon can be imprisoned for two years only, and Derrenbecker's attorney contended that there was no such crime under the statutes as "assault with a deadly weapon with intent to commit murder"; that the prisoner was guilty of assault only, and that he could not be imprisoned for longer than two years.

Derrenbecker has been confined in San Quentin prison since August, 1890, and the contention was that he had served the two years and more. Judge Angelotti held that the offense committed as set forth was more than a mere assault with a deadly weapon and that the writ would have to be discharged and the prisoner remanded to the State prison.

Derrenbecker made quite a record for himself when he was taken in custody by Warden Hale at San Diego. While the Warden had him in charge and the train was proceeding at a rapid rate Derrenbecker made a leap through the window of the car. He was handcuffed and it was thought he had leaped to his death. The Warden got off the train at the next station and started to walk back in search of the man. As he was proceeding along the track he met Derrenbecker coming along, uninjured, and placed him under arrest.

SAN JOAQUIN ASSESSMENTS.

Corporations Called Upon to Pay an Increase of Taxes.

STOCKTON, Cal., July 6.—County Assessor Orman has completed the assessment of San Joaquin for 1897. The following are the figures: Real estate, other than city and town lots, $14,261,221; improvements on the same, $1,665,578; city and town lots, $6,931,202; improvements on the same, $4,972,944; personal property, $3,840,868; money, $300,294; solvent credits, $633,243; total, $32,695,358.

The feature of this assessment is that, although farm property and much of the city real estate is reduced, personal property and corporation franchises are increased. The assessment of the Stockton Water Company was increased $282,868; Stockton Electric Railway $25,780; Stockton Gas and Electric Company $203,409. Altogether there is about $300,000 increase in the county in assessed for the first time at $22,000. In what there has been a falling away of over $300,000. Solvent credits also fell away to a considerable extent.

PHOENIX ASSAULT CAPTURED.

PHOENIX, Ariz., July 6.—Two years ago John Heifert, a Greek, was murdered in a brush arid west of Phoenix, the deed being done with an ax. A woman who was an eyewitness told of a drunken orgie participated in by the man and his two partners, Juan Lucas and Vicente Franco, the two Mexicans finally joining in the assassination of their associate. The Mexicans were aided to escape and were supposed to have fled to Sonora. A telegram to-day from Babeas tells of their apprehension at that place. A local officer has been dispatched after them.

SAILORS CLASH WITH OFFICERS

Pitched Battle Fought on the Streets of Sausalito.

Shots Are Fired, Clubs Used and Many Heads Are Cracked.

Town Marshal Creed Sinks a Boat While Effecting the Capture of a Rioter.

SAUSALITO, Cal., July 6.—There was plenty of excitement on the streets of Sausalito at 12 o'clock last night. A battle between officers and sailors took place, arrests were made, shots fired, a boatswain and many heads cracked in the general melee.

A party of about thirty sailors from the English ships lying off Sausalito visited the town, and after parading the streets went to the Geneva Hotel, where they were entertained until late in the evening. As they were coming down the long steps leading from the hotel to the water front they were soaked to the skin by a hose in the hands of a party at the foot of the stairs.

It appears that the Sausalito fire department officials, fearing that there may have been some smoldering firecrackers about, had played the hose in various dry places, and one of these was the Geneva Hotel steps. As luck would have it, the English lads were coming down at the time the hose was played on the steps and they were doused. The young son of Antoine Lawrence, the Treasurer of the town of Sausalito, was at the nozzle, and the English lads immediately attacked him.

Matthew Garrity, a sailor, rushed at the little fellow and struck him a blow on the face. Deputy Marshal Martin Hoffman stepped in to interfere and Garrity turned on him, tripped him up and kicked him on the hip.

Then the row began in earnest. Deputy Marshal Eugene Creamer rushed in, and drawing a club, attacked the crowd, which was hard pressing the little band of officers. Creamer was knocked down a couple of times, but the plucky little officer stuck manfully to his job and laid his club across the heads of the sailors, who fell under the blows.

Prosecuting Attorney A. G. Sylvia, William Harrison, the rooming proprietor, Deputy Marshal John Silva, Manuel Lawrence and Marshal John E. Creed took a hand in the battle. As one big sailor was about to strike Harrison, P. prosecuting Attorney Sylvia rushed forward, and, thrusting a pistol barrel against his face, made him best a hurried retreat.

Matthew Garrity seemed to lead the fighting sailors on in their battle, and when the party was at last put to rout the officers made an attempt to place him under arrest. Then followed an exciting chase. Marshal Creed approached Garrity, but the sailor made a charge at him and tripped him. Creed picked himself up and started after the fleeing sailor, with fire in his eye. Garrity kept straight on and headed for the North Pacific Coast Railroad wharf. When he came to the edge of the pier he gave a leap for the bay and, as the Marshal seized him, Creed was almost pulled off the wharf into the water. Garrity fell into the water, and when he came to the surface he struck out for a boat near at hand. Creed drew his revolver and fired into the bow of the boat, making a hole in the craft, through which the water poured. Garrity, finding himself in a boat that was fast sinking under him, shouted to the Marshal that he would give himself up if the firing was stopped.

Creamer and Silva took the prisoner and he was placed in the Town Jail. The rest of the sailors were allowed to depart for their ships, and for a while the trouble was over.

ASTORIA'S SENSATION.

Treasurer W. P. of Clatsop County Fought to B. $20,000 Short in His Accounts.

ASTORIA, Or., July 6.—B. L. Ward, Treasurer of Clatsop County and member of the firm of Howell & Ward, grocers and hardware merchants, is short in his accounts nearly $20,000. The fact leaked out last night, but it was thought the shortage would be adjusted to-day, and the matter was kept quiet because of the high standing of Ward. To-day Ward & Howell conveyed all of their real estate to the former's bondsmen, Messrs. C. W. Fulton, J. W. Welch, George Noland, G. Reed, G. Wingate and C. Ward. Portland creditors will attempt to prove the conveyance a fraud. The real estate is said to be heavily mortgaged also. The county will lose nothing, as the bondsmen are ample security.

Ward has had an excellent reputation, and his friends say that he was simply foolish in allowing his partner, Howell, to draw on county funds for use in the store, by giving him general power of attorney, which the bondsmen to-day had canceled. Others blame Ward, stating that he must have known all that was going on and should have permitted such use of county funds.

The opportunity to use these funds is shown by the fact that $12,826.70 of warrants drawn in 1892, 1893 and 1894 were called and interest stopped in September, 1895, and were not turned over to the County Clerk by the estate to which they belonged until May 28, 1897. The money to pay these warrants was supposed to be kept on hand by the Treasurer.

Scored by a Los Angeles Judge.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., July 6.—Judge Allen of the Superior Court is going to lose popularity among applicants for divorces. To-day he scored Mrs. Luisa Majors, who has a divorce suit now under advisement. Mrs. Majors filed a stipulation that she had discharged her attorney, Neath, and employed Calvert Wilson, but Neath was on hand to protest against being taken out of his fee. The court sympathized with Neath, and gave Mrs. Majors ten days in which to settle with him, as he could not encourage the practice of employing counsel, setting advice and then discharging the lawyer without paying fees.

TURF GOSSIP.

Short Items of Horses and Horsemen Now Before the Public.

It has been pretty well established, according to telegraphic reports, that the horse Little L. Am, which won a race one day last week at St. Louis, is a "ringer." The judges summoned the owner to appear before them and establish the identity of the horse, but up to yesterday that worthy had failed to put in an appearance. "Ringing" is a penitentiary offense in Missouri and more than likely horse and owner are now ensconced in some other locality.

Little Holmes, the clever light-weight rider, under engagement to Zeke Abrahams, is doing some excellent saddle-work in Montana. Barney Schureber's colt Greyhound, with eighty-eight pounds up finished second to Ace at St. Louis. He was plotted by little Johnnie Wood. The subject of turf notes in good form. "Doc" Tuberville was "too good" for the judges at St. Louis and they have requested the Turf Congress to revoke his license. T. Leigh has also earned the same recommendation for professional displays in the saddle.

The Racing Publishing Company of 313 Bush street has issued a very handsome souvenir of California that can be secured for a nominal sum. It is profusely illustrated and contains a full list of names of all the close and exciting finishes which occurred during last year's long period of racing. It is now claimed that the same was discovered by William McClelland and he was disposed of on July 15.

Ed Corrigan, recently purchased Captain Pieroni and Fredrico from the McLean stable. They will be schooled over the jumps.

ON THE DIAMOND.

Scores of Yesterday's Games in the National League and the Standing of the Clubs.

committed suicide yesterday at Ferndale. He was over 90 years of age, and had fought under Napoleon. Geisselman was considered half demented. He was a collier by trade.

LOS ANGELES ACCIDENT.

Two Workmen Repairing a Broken Zanja Are Buried Under Tons of Caving Earth.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., July 6.—A shocking accident this afternoon caused the death of William Rheischild, 45 years old, whose home is in Alameda, and David Scott, 47 years of age. The two men were engaged repairing a zanja near Ninth street, on the bank of the Los Angeles River. The break had been caused by a washout, and the men, working under the direction of the city zanjero, O. S. Casey, sought to fill the gap by excavating an adjacent bank, which was expected to fall into the breach.

The two men, with a third, who escaped by the intervention of a tree that stood in the way of the falling earth, made an excavation in the bluff. They were taken unawares and the bluff caved in upon them, burying Rheischild and Scott beneath fully fifteen tons of earth. Yorick, the third man, miraculously escaped, and gave the alarm.

Within twelve minutes assistance was at hand and willing hands were at work with shovels to attempt a rescue; but in vain. The rescuing party worked as vigorously as though the life of each member was at stake; but when the buried men were finally uncovered both were dead.

Acorns Stranded at Seattle.

SEATTLE, Wash., July 5.—James F. Post's Carnival of Madrid Company, numbering eighty-five people, is stranded in this city. Post undertook the feat of giving six performances during the Fourth of July celebration in a tented theater in Madison-street Park, Lake Washington, when people were wearing furs and overcoats in the evening.
