

TROOPS FED BY BOLD PLUNDERING

Weyer in Sore Straits to Provide for His Soldiers.

Cattle Men Who Protested Against Robberies Are Threatened With Death.

Meanwhile the Insurgents Are Well Supplied and Continue Their Daring Operations.

HAVANA, Cuba, July 18.—The situation in Havana City is very alarming, because the whole population is threatened with famine. Cattle from the country can only be obtained in such small numbers that only the very rich can pay the enormous prices demanded.

When orders complained, Weyer said that they had not paid taxes. When the receipts for taxes were shown, he arrested the complainants.

They were told that cattle belonged to the troops, and if they should continue their protests they should be shot without even a court-martial. Weyer issued orders to the cattle-owners, butchers and bakers of the town to immediately supply milk, meat and bread to the military hospital at Sancti Spiritus.

Meanwhile the Cubans, with their stores full of supplies, maintain a guerrilla warfare in six provinces of the island. A train from Matanzas was blown up by insurgents near Guaranas and several Spanish officers and soldiers killed.

NEW YORK, N. Y., July 18.—Clara Bell Brown, director-general of the Woman's National Cuban League, Washington, D. C., has issued an address to "mothers, wives and daughters," in which she says: "With pity and indignation we have learned from the testimony of eye-witnesses of the horrors of the Inquisition that have been revived by Spain, and we, in the name of God and humanity, ask pity, prayers, aid and assistance from every woman in America for the relief of these women and children and for the independence of Cuba."

VERA CRUZ, Mex., July 18.—The Spanish man-of-war Nueva Espana has arrived from Tampico and is cruising along the Mexican coast for Cuban filibustering expeditions. It is reported that a large expedition got off under her nose while she was at Tampico.

PEACE NEGOTIATIONS DELAYED.

Turkish Diplomats Trying to Wriggle Out of a Promise Made by the Porte.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Turkey, July 18.—Notwithstanding the fact that Tewfik Pasha announced at the meeting of the ambassadors Thursday that the Porte accepted the principle of still strategic frontier, the Government is still wiggling in an attempt to escape from the result of the acceptance. The ambassadors held another meeting yesterday. The proceedings were considerably delayed by the late arrival of Tewfik Pasha. When finally he did arrive he explained the Sultan had devised him, and then proceeded to submit a new plan for the delimitation of the frontier. The ambassadors found the plan not acceptable. They informed Tewfik the conference would meet again as soon as he brought a written acceptance of the frontier as traced by the military attaches of the embassies. The Foreign Minister then returned to Yildiz kiosk, and matters have not advanced in the slightest degree.

ATHENS, Greece, July 18.—The Government has summoned to the colors those members of the reserve who were exempted the first two classes now under arms. It also summoned the class who were destined under ordinary circumstances to join the colors in October. This measure is considered necessary to fill the ranks of the army.

SHOT BY A FORMER HUSBAND. Fate of a Wife Who Had Been Described and Remarried.

HENDERSON, Ky., July 18.—Melissa, wife of Fred Darrow of Stanhope, was shot dead while sitting on the porch last evening by Joel Warner, her former husband, who suddenly left her five years ago. After three years' absence the deserted wife considered him dead and married Darrow. Without warning Warner appeared last night, demanded that she give up Darrow and resume her former relations with him. She refused, ordering him to leave the place. He shot her thrice. As the alarmed neighbors ran to the rescue he fired a shot into his own body and severely, but not mortally, wounded himself. He was disarmed and arrested, but refused to divulge the reason for forsaking his wife for so long a time.

ALL DIFFERENCES SETTLED.

Satisfactory Culmination of the Controversy Between Bishop Bonacum and the Priests.

LINCOLN, Neb., July 18.—It was officially announced today from the pulpits of Catholic churches here to-day that the differences existing for some time between Bishop Bonacum and several of his priests had been settled to the satisfaction of both factions, and an investigation proves such to be true. The quarrel has extended over a period of five years and provoked some very animated scenes and discussions. At one time twenty priests of the diocese were in open rebellion against Bishop Bonacum. They formed a powerful secret organization to promote their interests known as the Holy Alliance of St. Barnabas. The trouble grew out of the alleged tyranny of the Bishop in removing his priests in an arbitrary manner. At one time Bonacum was in the police court charged with criminal libel, growing out of the excommunication of one of the priests. The cases have been several times reviewed by Monsignors Satolli and Martinelli, once tried by a specially organized canonical court at Dubuque and once reviewed by the Holy Father at Rome. By the final settlement both sides make concessions. Fathers Fitzgerald and Murphy, the most aggressive of those in opposition to the Bishop, are well provided for. The former is given a good charge at Grafton and the latter will go to Seward, both Nebraska towns. Father Fitzgerald has also been offered the position of private secretary to Hon. Charles Howe of Nebraska, who goes to Samoa as the representative of the United States, and he has not yet fully determined upon his course.

POSED AS AN ADMIRAL'S WIFE.

Ellen Peck, a Notorious Confidence Woman, Swindled Rich Men Out of Many Thousands.

NEW YORK, N. Y., July 18.—In Mrs. Mary Hansen, who posed in Brooklyn for more than a year as the wife of "Admiral Hansen of the Danish navy," the police of this city think they have discovered Ellen Peck, a notorious confidence woman who has swindled many wealthy men in this city and Brooklyn during her long career of crime, and who is known throughout the country and abroad as one of the cleverest swindlers. Mr. and Mrs. William Simpson, who aided the swindling, posing as her son and daughter-in-law, are now under arrest. The principal victim of the latest game is Dr. Christopher Lott, a wealthy Brooklyn physician, and a trained nurse, Nellie Shea. The services of both were employed and their bills promptly paid. Mrs. Hansen told them in various conversations that the admiral was coming home soon. Meanwhile his fortune of $60,000,000 was tied up in the treasury vaults at Washington. She excoerated Secretary Carlisle for refusing to allow her to get the funds. She exhibited telegrams, to which she had forged his name, to convince them, and so wholly gained their confidence that she was soon able to borrow $800 from the nurse and $10,000 from the doctor in small sums on notes, promising rich returns when the admiral returned. The doctor died last May as a result of worry over the swindle. Mrs. Hansen has been indicted, and is at large. Several years ago she swindled Soapmaker Babbitt out of $19,000.

ALMOST A FATAL FAILURE.

Insects Have Caused Great Havoc With the Maryland and Delaware Peach Crops.

BALTIMORE, Md., July 18.—Special Agent Mills of the Philadelphia, Wilmington and Baltimore Railway Company, has made an estimate of the Maryland and Delaware peach crop. He predicts the crop an almost total failure. Peaches have nearly all vanished from the trees. The "June drop" this season is the heaviest in the history of peach culture on the peninsula, and growers who anticipated the lifting of mortgages by this crop have had their hopes blasted. The damage was done by the curculio. Wherever the insect stings the peach it is sure to fall. So numerous have been these destructive insects that Mills noticed in an orchard near Seaford a peach that had thirteen stings on it. This orchard is no exception.

The cause of the rapid increase of the curculio is a mystery to fruit-growers, but Mills says it is the fault of the farmers themselves. In 1895 and 1896 there were large crops of peaches, and the ground under the trees was covered with peaches that had either rotted and fallen off or had been thrown there as culls and left to rot. Instead of the growers picking the decayed fruit up, as is done in California, it was left there for these insects to breed in.

RECONCILIATION COMPLETE.

Colonel Bradbury Declares That He and His Wife Have Buried the Past and Are Again Happy.

CHICAGO, Ill., July 18.—John M. Bradbury, the young California millionaire, and his wife are on route for New York and Mother-in-law Banning is speeding toward the Golden Gate. The reunited couple left on the Lake Shore limited at 5:30 o'clock, while Mrs. Banning had to wait four hours longer for her train. Before their departure Bradbury said:

"Our reconciliation is complete. I am again happy and so is Mrs. Bradbury and Mrs. Banning. Of course the past is to be regretted, especially the notoriety given us by the newspapers, but we will try to forget. We are both young yet and have a long life before us. We have agreed to bury the past and forget the cause of estrangement. As our plans they do not wholly settled yet. We go to New York, where we may remain for some time. It is possible we shall go to Newport and some of the other Eastern resorts. At any rate we expect to stop in and about New York for a few weeks at least. We have a host of friends in New York, so we shall not lack for entertainment. Later we may go to Europe. We shall not return to California in the near future, although, of course, that is our home and there we will go when we have tired of traveling. My mother is already on her way to the coast on the Canadian Pacific. The report that she sailed for Europe is a mistake. It was another Mrs. Bradbury who sailed on the St. Louis last week."

"My husband has said all that I care to give for publication. We will be happy if let alone," added Mrs. Bradbury.

Killed in a Friendly Boxing Bout. COLUMBIA, La., July 18.—During a friendly boxing bout last night Eliah Whittington struck Carey Townsend a heavy blow over the heart, killing him instantly. Whittington was arrested and is awaiting the action of the coroner's jury.

BILLOWS OF FIRE ENGULF THE HAMA

Forest Blazes Near Red Bluff Sweep On Unchecked.

Eight Dwellings and a Schoolhouse Known to Have Been Burned.

Orchards Blighted by the Flames and Pastures Denuded of Vegetation.

RED BLUFF, CAL., July 18.—The fire which started on Blue Tent Creek yesterday morning has burned over a large section. There was a hard wind blowing from the north and the flames were carried with almost incredible speed through the dry grass, low brush and stubble fields, carrying everything before them with a roar and a rush that were awful. Fences, barns, sheds and houses were destroyed, in addition to the vast amount of feed for stock. The distance from the place where the fire started to where it is now burning is at least eighteen miles. The width of the path made by the flames varies from five to ten miles.

The origin of the fire is not known, although it is said by residents from the country which has been traversed by the flames that it was started by two young men. Mutterings are heard among the people and if it were proved that an incendiary had applied the torch that has caused so much damage some of the scorched and blackened trees would bear a grewsome weight from one of its limbs.

Just at present the people are excited and worn out from their long labor and it has been almost impossible to get accurate news from the fire. The CALIF. correspondent, however, visited the scene. He found men, women and children exhausted from the severe strain they had undergone during the past two days. In some instances the fire has run up to within a few feet of a house and then been extinguished. Eight dwellings—houses and two schoolhouses have been burned. The houses of Cash Smith, William Shoemaker and Louis Wright, together with barns and sheds, were burned yesterday morning, and at noon the Dibble Creek schoolhouse was razed by fire.

The burning of this building enabled the flames to cross Dibble Creek. They had come over the hills and down to the creek with great rapidity, but for a time it was thought they would be stopped there. The schoolhouse caught, however, and the burning shingles carried the flames across the creek. As they went again, now seeming to stop for a moment as if to gather strength and then dashing on, sometimes jumping as far as 300 feet at a time.

The fire on the north side of Dibble Creek continued to move on up and down the side of the dry creek bed, endangering many homes. Sheriff Bogard got together a crew of men and sent them to the Fortier place, four miles north of town, where they were forced to remain all night to save the buildings of Ranchers Fortier, Ewing and Plimire. After a hard struggle and well-timed back-firing, the wall of fire was stopped.

When the fire crossed Dibble Creek it went to Pen Creek and down the canyon like a racehorse. It seemed to break in three places here, and one part came down Brickyard Creek and wiped the Nelson place, four miles from town, and the other part went west, and it is this wing that is now burning as fiercely as ever toward the fields of R. H. Blossom, twelve miles west of Red Bluff.

All last night and to-day crews of men have been going out to fight fire, and as none of them have returned it is evident that their services are very much in demand. From the tops of tall buildings in Red Bluff and other places, flames were seen by many people. The entire country north and west of town seemed a mass of fire, and here and there could be seen the brighter and higher blaze which announced the destruction of the building.

The loss occasioned by this fire cannot be estimated, and it will be several days before it is known. Many people are homeless. It is known that eight houses have been destroyed, but the names of all of the owners cannot be learned. Miles and miles of pasture land have been denuded, and the loss is therefore inestimable. The people who live in the country over which the fire has burned are not in a position to stand this ill fortune.

The speed with which the high wind was bringing the fire toward Red Bluff last night made the people here very uneasy, and preparations to turn out at a moment's notice were made. This danger has passed now and the town is safe. A great many small orchards have been burned, and it is almost impossible to find a fence in the path of the conflagration. The CALIF. correspondent was at Dibble Creek when the fire came over the hills. It took the flames about fifteen minutes to travel a mile and a half. The fire would seem to strike a bunch of grass or brush and then bound 300 feet before striking again. A crowd of men attempted to stop the flames there, but were compelled to run to get out of the way of the first and most furious onslaught. The fire could be seen running before the conflagration, and an agonizing squeal would announce that one had been overtaken and burned.

SONOMA THREATENED.

Forest Fire Driven by a Heavy Wind Toward the Town.

SONOMA, CAL., July 18.—The large fire which was started near Kenwood yesterday is still raging in the mountains near Glen Ellen and is traveling this way before a stiff wind. Large volumes of smoke can be seen rising from the mountains to the north and northwest and many hundreds of acres of grain and pasture lands have been burned over on the ranches of James Shaw, Martin Peter and other mountain farmers. The extent of the damage is known to be great, but no definite figures can be given. The fire is still moving forward and is threatening this place before morning. The ranchers for many miles around are fighting fiercely, but their back-firing has had but little effect.

Fire on a Lodi Ranch.

LODI, CAL., July 18.—Fire to-day destroyed the residence of J. L. Harney near town. The flames spread to the out-buildings and the tankhouse and sheds were burned. The wind carried the sparks to a large wheat pile, but after hard fighting nearly all of the wheat was saved. The loss is $30,000, partially covered by insurance.

SANTA CRUZ SUNDAY SERVICES.

Christian Church Delegates Hear Two Splendid Sermons. SANTA CRUZ, CAL., July 18.—There was a large attendance at the Christian Church convention at Garfield Park this morning and evening. The early prayer-meeting was led by Rev. J. E. Denton and the Sunday-school was conducted by Superintendent Henry Shade. At 11 o'clock a splendid sermon was delivered by Rev. A. C. Smith, and at 3 o'clock the Lord's Supper was partaken of.

The Christian Endeavor was led by Mrs. Birch at 6:30 o'clock and was largely attended. At 8, Dr. B. B. Tyler of New York, one of the best-known ministers of the Christian Church, delivered one of the best sermons that has been listened to at the convention. He preached from the text: "Then saith the Lord, Stand ye in the way, and see and ask for the old paths, and ye shall find rest for your souls."

"The primitive love is supreme love to God," said he, "with such an affection for men as will lead to service in their behalf, because of their relation to Him. If we love God, we must love the children of God. If any one fails to love his fellow men, he does not truly love God. Thus far the restoration of Primitive Christianity is desirable and practicable."

"But what about the ordinances—baptism and the supper of the Lord? It is evident from the teaching and conduct of the apostles that they understood Jesus to purpose at the perpetual observance of these rites by his people. Baptism and communion stand as fitting expressions of the essential faith and hope and love. They are the divinely prescribed language in which believers declare their faith and love. In this connection they possess special value; out of this connection and apart from this purpose they are destitute of meaning."

The attendance at this convention is the largest in the history of the association, and the interest this year exceeds that of any previous session.

SANTA CRUZ ENCAMPMENT.

Guards of the Fifth Infantry Appear on Parade Before Two Thousand People.

SANTA CRUZ, CAL., July 18.—The Fifth Infantry, National Guard of California, in camp at the beach, appeared this evening at 5 o'clock parade before 2000 people. For the first two or three days the exercises in camp will be ordinary drills, and then it is expected that under direction of Captain Carrington, inspector and instructor, United States army, the command will work out some of the tactics of the regular army. On Wednesday night there will be a reception to the officers at the Pacific Ocean house and on Friday night another at the Seabeach. On Thursday Brigadier-General Shafter of the regular army is expected to visit the camp, and on Saturday General James, commanding the National Guard, will be received.

The officers of the regiment here encamped are: Colonel D. B. Fairbank, commanding; Lieutenant Colonel A. K. Whitson, Major J. E. Juillard, First Battalion; Major J. K. Hayes, Second Battalion. Following are the staff officers: Captain D. A. Smith, adjutant; Major J. P. Dunne, sergeant; Captain T. A. B. Ross, assistant surgeon; Lieutenant A. L. Borlin, battalion adjutant; Lieutenant E. S. Heller, inspector of rifle practice; Lieutenant J. H. Hendy, quartermaster.

SAN JOSE PIONEER GONE.

Funeral of Michael Coyne, Who Crossed the Plains in '49.

SAN JOSE, CAL., July 18.—The funeral of Michael Coyne, one of the most widely known residents of Santa Clara Valley, was held this afternoon from the family home on San Francisco road, four miles west of Santa Clara. Coyne was a native of County Galway, Ireland, and 77 years of age. He crossed the plains in 1849 and arrived in San Francisco in 1850. After viewing the surrounding he decided to settle in California, and in 1852 he purchased about 2000 acres of Red Bluff, and later he bought another tract near Saratoga, and was bounded on the north by the old Murphy grant and on the south by the Arguello rancho.

Run Down by a Horse.

SAN JOSE, CAL., July 18.—George Smith of Pescadero was run over by a horse at the corner of Market and Santa Clara streets last night and seriously injured. The man was badly hurt about the face and head and received severe internal injuries. He may die.

Baseball at Santa Cruz.

SANTA CRUZ, CAL., July 18.—The Santa Cruz baseball team this afternoon played a picked nine, under the captaincy of George Sharp of the California League, and beat them by a score of 5 to 4. The picked nine was composed of some good players, including the Fontler brothers of Oakland, George and John Sharp and two of the regular team of Santa Cruz, Devereaux and Streib, who formed the battery.

Watsonville's Fifth Victory.

WATSONVILLE, CAL., July 18.—In the baseball game to-day, between the Pajaro Valley Wheelmen of this city and the Dyer Crockett team of Watsonville, the former nine won by a score of 7 to 7. This is Watsonville's fifth consecutive victory.

Won by Iveson's Team.

FRESNO, CAL., July 18.—The tournament game of baseball between the Redmen and the Republicans drew the usual crowd to-day. There were no particularly fine plays and few earned runs. The Republicans won by a score of 17 to 3.

FLOGGING IN GEORGIA.

Barbarous Methods Employed to Shorten Prisoners' Sentences.

ATLANTA, Ga., July 18.—Recent disclosures of a novel court of procedure at Blakely by the County Court have stirred up a storm of indignation throughout the State. It appears that it has been the custom to allow convicts to redeem part of their sentences by receiving whippings. Yesterday a negro, convicted of the theft of a pair of cuff-buttons, was sentenced to corporal punishment, and execution of the sentence was personally superintended by Judge Arthur Powell Gray on his own premises. Had not Sheriff Black interfered the woman would have been lashed to death. The Sheriff ordered the remainder of the penalty to be observed in jail. A sweeping investigation will be made.

PLOTTED FOR HER OWN ABDUCTION

Monterey Romance in Which Mongols Are Principals.

Pretty Ah Sigh Carried Away by Men Engaged by Her Lover.

Goed Disguised as a Boy, Only to Be Overtaken and Returned to Her Father.

MONTEREY, CAL., July 18.—The sensational kidnaping episode in the local Chinatown last Tuesday night has reached a new phase and bears a flavor of romance. When the two officers set in pursuit of the girl and her captors brought the fugitives back to Monterey last night the story came to light.

A San Francisco Chinaman whom Ah Sigh, the fourteen-year-old daughter of a Monterey fisherman, had once seen took the youthful fancy of the girl, and as she was bright and pretty after the Mongolian type the attraction was mutual. The suitor offered to buy her from her father, but Quong Sue, having another prospective son-in-law in mind, declined to sell her, and immediately set afoot negotiations with the other man. Ah Sigh did not wish to marry the man her father preferred, and so managed in some way to communicate with her lover. The result was an offer of $1000 from the San Francisco man to the three men who stole her for her safe conduct to him. The plans were laid and all would have gone well had not some celestial "Peeping Tom" reported the affair to Quong Sue and thus started the pursuit.

The ruffians were traced from here to Salinas, but there the trail was lost, and was only recovered by diligent use of the wires. The party was finally located in Watsonville, where officers arrested them, bringing them to Monterey last night.

The girl has ever since her capture been disguised as a Chinese boy. The abductors made such stubborn resistance that it was necessary to handcuff them. Little Ah Sigh preferred her San Francisco beau, but seemed not at all unhappy over the failure of the plan which was to give her to him. The hearing of the case will come before Judge E. Michaels tomorrow.

SAL JOSE, CAL., July 18.—Deputy Sheriff Black to-day arrested Sing Hong, the third of a trio of highbinders who kidnaped a Chinese girl at Pacific Grove a few days ago. The man arrived here last night on the 12 o'clock freight. The Watsonville authorities have been notified and it is expected they will come for the man tomorrow.

Drawn in the Sacramento.

SACRAMENTO, CAL., July 18.—The Sacramento claimed two more victims this afternoon, making five within eight days. They were Charles Grant, aged 11 years, a son of J. C. Grant, a Southern Pacific engineer, and his little chum, Harry Lee Horick, who lives with his father at San Jacinto, and who was in this city on a visit to his mother, the parents having separated. The boys went for a swim, and shortly afterward their clothes were found on the river bank. Within a few minutes the bodies of both lads were found lying together in a deep depression in the river known as "the well."

Endeavors at Los Angeles.

LOS ANGELES, CAL., July 18.—The churches of this city had an almost unprecedented attendance to-day. The Christian Endeavor mass meeting at Simpson Tabernacle this afternoon drew a crowd that was several thousand in excess of the capacity of the great auditorium. The President, Rev. Francis E. Clark, delivered an address and other speakers added to the interest of the meeting. At other churches during the morning and evening services the visiting Endeavorers appeared in great crowds. Comparatively few of the Endeavorers have continued their journey eastward. The boys went for a swim, and shortly afterward their clothes were found on the river bank. Within a few minutes the bodies of both lads were found lying together in a deep depression in the river known as "the well."

College Ranch to Be Resurveyed.

LOS OLIVOS, CAL., July 18.—A half-carload of survey stakes has arrived at Los Olivos, to be used in a resurvey of the famous College ranch. Negotiations are pending whereby a large portion of this ranch is to be sold to a German colony. The agency for the property has recently passed from the hands of Supervisor de la Cuesta to Rev. Father Stockman of Santa Barbara.

The Currency Comes Next.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 18.—After the news of the agreement of the tariff conferees became known Saturday it was stated authoritatively that the President's currency commission message would be sent to Congress as soon as the tariff bill is passed.
