

MILITARY TORCHES ON THE WALL

Heavy Demand on the Indigent Fund for Textbooks

LIST OF TWO THOUSAND NAMES.

Over $10,000 Extra Expense for Heart and Other New Culture.

NO INDIGENT FUND PROVIDED FOR.

The Law Imperative in the Case of Orphans—Those Agents' Champagne Suppers.

Never was the hardship that has been wrought upon the poor parents of this community, who are struggling to give their children the advantages of a good public school education, by the introduction of useless textbooks into the course of study more fully demonstrated than at a meeting of the Committee on Supplies of the Board of School Directors yesterday morning.

When the question of the new books for the children was brought up by School Director Bantell, the rolls of petitions of those parents who are obliged to take advantage of the relief supplied by the indigent fund were laid before the committee, and an estimate made of the necessary draft this would make upon the fund.

At the present time, said Director Bantell, "no appropriation for the School Department has been made in the tax levy. Until some other action is taken in the matter, the committee is authorized to take the matter up nothing can be done. Of course no appropriation can be made for this committee until it is in some way or other authorized for the use of the School Department in the new tax levy."

"So much talk about the Mayor vetoing the next tax levy unless it comes within a certain limit has been indulged in that dealers are not willing to furnish goods until they are sure that they will receive the proper remuneration, so we are perfectly helpless as regards furnishing the books."

"One thing is certain—these books must be supplied to orphans. The law makes this obligatory. But what is to become of the others? It is going to take an immense number of books to get around. The present demand ever known is coming in from indigent parents at this time, which shows that the adding of these new books to the course of study is far-reaching in its effects."

Parents of children who are too poor to buy the new books and too proud to ask aid from the indigent fund will keep their children at home until such time as they are able to purchase the books and send their children to school again. This will not only keep the children back in their studies, but will give them an opportunity to roam the streets and meet the temptations due to idleness. I have often seen this proposition advanced, and stated that nobody wanted these books and nobody asked for them, except the agents of the different book companies in San Francisco. They are the ones most enthusiastic."

"You have doubtless heard of their giving champagne suppers to certain members of the board immediately upon the adoption of some new book. I am glad to say that the Board of Directors have invited at various times to join them in these banquets. I know of none who accepted."

The public seems to look upon the matter in the same way. There is a great deal of talk that some persons, like Egan, have sold their birthright for a mess of pottage. They think that champagne suppers may be all right in their way, but that when by indulging in them many parents are obliged to keep their children from school for a longer or shorter period, and a demand is made upon the indigent fund for thousands of dollars, there is something "rotten in Denmark." Especially is this believed to be true at this time, when there is as yet no indigent fund upon which to draw.

A gentleman who lives in the Denman district and has children attending school said last night:

"I have been doing an immense amount of good by the stand it has taken regarding schoolbooks. But there are a lot of impostors that as yet have not been set forth. For instance, take the Denman School. This book matter does not stop there who has published a little book of her own exercises and rules in arithmetic. This book is not laid down by the Board of Education as necessary, but the lady has got it out as a short cut to the children. She explains that the book is not required to be bought by the board, but at the same time if it is not the children have to spend time copying the substance of it, so that the cost of the book is 50 cents, is dead cheap compared with the work."

"The children buy it, and thus it is quite a profitable private snap for the teacher. It is a book that it does not cost 50 cents to publish. This book matter does not stop there with the Board of Education. It does not stop with the principal even. The teachers had a play at it."

"At the Denman School the order arrived yesterday for a change of books. A wrong list had previously been given, and I had paid $4 for them. Luckily for my part I only had to get one book changed."

"I can't give you my name in connection with this, for it was published that a teacher would see in my child only a little heathen, and she would probably have to get out and go into another school."

The other day one of my children brought home a blank sheet of paper and said that she had written something like this:

I may bring _____ cents per month for delaying the expense of getting _____

When this came my wife said to tell the teacher we could not give anything.

But the child who brought it said not to do that, for if she brought back that kind of a reply the teacher wouldn't like it and wouldn't be as kind as formerly. We all know how these things work out. The child had hit it right.

A MARRIAGE AT SEA.

Was the Outcome of an Evening's Revelry in an Uptown Restaurant.

Another impromptu marriage took place on the high seas yesterday morning. A couple who had been celebrating at one of the uptown resorts resolved to get married. They engaged the launch Amy and with a clergyman went to sea. No names were given when the vessel returned a cabaway from the happy couple, who were at once driven uptown. They were to have returned to the launch to-day to sign the captain's logbook, but they failed to put in an appearance. The entire party was well dressed, but all except the clergyman showed signs of having been over-caroused.

Officers James Mackey and P. A. Mahoney are making a record for themselves among water-front thieves. Last Tuesday night George McElroy broke into 309 East Street. The captain of the launch, who was brought to the officers on the scene, McElroy jumped from a balcony and made off, but Mahoney caught him on Commercial street and locked him up in the Harbor Police station. He was booked on a charge of burglary.

The little steamer Uplun that has been built for the Hawaiian inter-island trade will be brought over from Oakland to-day and the Kingston will begin to begin the work of putting in the engines and boilers. The steamer has been built for Hinds & Co. of Honolulu and is 90 feet long, 18 feet broad and 9 feet deep. She will go to the islands under her own steam.

Among the arrivals yesterday was the brig J. D. Spreckels and bark S. C. Allen from Hawaii and the bark Orion, 143 days from South Shields, England. On April 22 last Captain T. Johnson died of heart failure and Captain T. Johnson brought the vessel into port. The particulars of Captain Cronrade's death have already been published in THE CALL.

Somebody's profit is to be got ready for the return of the City of Puebla from Port Harford. There is no other place on which her cargo of grain can be placed, so the pier is to be fixed up. All the ruined goods that were wrecked from the Falls of Dee, after the fire, are to be removed, and to-day one of the fireboats will sluice the entire wharf down.

J. D. Spreckels & Bros. Co. announce that the sailing of the Australia has been unavoidably postponed until to-morrow at 2 P. M.

NOTES OF THE THEATERS.

Francis Powers' New Play is Making a Success of Curiosity at the Alcazar. Next Week's Bills.

Curiosity continues to take a large number of people to the Alcazar Theater to see "Turk Meets Greek," Francis Powers' new play, in spite of the small encouragement the work met with at the hands of the critics.

The grand opera season at the Tivoli Opera-house has opened most auspiciously. "Romeo and Juliet" will be repeated this evening and Saturday evening. The production of "Aida" on Friday and Sunday evenings. Next week will be devoted to a careful presentation of "Lohengrin." Miss E. Stewart, a dramatic artist who was in the season with the Carl Rosa Opera Company in England and has sung with success in this country both in public and private, will make her first appearance in this city, performing with Mme. Kronold as Elza of Brabant.

"The Charity Ball" continues to please the patrons of the Columbia. It has only the week to run, however, as on Monday next the Frayley Company will present another of the Lyceum variety shows, which will be given at the Francis Castle will make his first appearance with the company.

John Drew and his company in "Rosemary" will close their season at the Baldwin on Saturday. Next Monday "The Heart of Mary" will be presented. The production of "Aida" on Friday and Sunday evenings. Next week will be devoted to a careful presentation of "Lohengrin." Miss E. Stewart, a dramatic artist who was in the season with the Carl Rosa Opera Company in England and has sung with success in this country both in public and private, will make her first appearance in this city, performing with Mme. Kronold as Elza of Brabant.

"The Tornado," with its startling storm effects, is running smoothly at the Grand Opera-house. Much of the superfluous dialogue in which the play abounds has had the blue pencil run through since the opening performance with the happiest results. The play calls for the full strength of the company, and affords each and every member ample opportunity.

Most of the acts at the Orpheum are going well, and the performance is attracting crowded houses.

The International Ladies' Orchestra continues to give interesting and varied programmes at the Oberon.

SCHOOL FIGURES.

Foreman Maskey Shows How the Funds Are Expended.

Frank Maskey, foreman of the late Grand Jury, gave the following interesting report on the expenditures of the Board of Education. It was filed on July 6:

The Board of Education for the fiscal year 1896-97 expended $1,000,000 for the support of the public schools of the City. For the coming fiscal year of 1897-98 the Board of Education has estimated that the expenditure will be $1,100,000, an increase of over half a million dollars. Of this $1,100,000 was asked for new buildings alone.

The demand for new school buildings was not met by the Board of Education, but by actual requirements of pupils or demanded in the interest of taxpayers.

The Board of Education for the fiscal year 1896-97 expended $1,000,000 for the support of the public schools of the City. For the coming fiscal year of 1897-98 the Board of Education has estimated that the expenditure will be $1,100,000, an increase of over half a million dollars. Of this $1,100,000 was asked for new buildings alone.

The demand for new school buildings was not met by the Board of Education, but by actual requirements of pupils or demanded in the interest of taxpayers.

The Board of Education for the fiscal year 1896-97 expended $1,000,000 for the support of the public schools of the City. For the coming fiscal year of 1897-98 the Board of Education has estimated that the expenditure will be $1,100,000, an increase of over half a million dollars. Of this $1,100,000 was asked for new buildings alone.

The demand for new school buildings was not met by the Board of Education, but by actual requirements of pupils or demanded in the interest of taxpayers.

The Board of Education for the fiscal year 1896-97 expended $1,000,000 for the support of the public schools of the City. For the coming fiscal year of 1897-98 the Board of Education has estimated that the expenditure will be $1,100,000, an increase of over half a million dollars. Of this $1,100,000 was asked for new buildings alone.

The demand for new school buildings was not met by the Board of Education, but by actual requirements of pupils or demanded in the interest of taxpayers.

The Board of Education for the fiscal year 1896-97 expended $1,000,000 for the support of the public schools of the City. For the coming fiscal year of 1897-98 the Board of Education has estimated that the expenditure will be $1,100,000, an increase of over half a million dollars. Of this $1,100,000 was asked for new buildings alone.

MERCHANTS ARE FURNISHED

May Refuse to Furnish the City With Needed Supplies.

Auditor Froderick Replies to the Arguments of Mayor Phelan.

Claims That the Chief Executive Has No Right to Veto a Tax Levy.

Mayor Phelan's expressed intention of vetoing the tax levy should be presented in the form recently proposed by the De-vany-Haskins combine in the Board of Supervisors has frightened the merchants who are under contract to furnish the City with supplies to the extent that they are beginning to consider the advisability of furnishing the municipality until the matter of the tax levy has been finally decided.

The possibility that the City will be without supplies has aroused the Auditor to explain his position, that the Mayor is wrong in assuming that under the existing laws he has the right to veto the levy, no matter what it may be.

He begins by quoting the law on which the Mayor bases his claim of having the right to exercise the veto power. The section is as follows:

Every ordinance or resolution of the Board of Supervisors providing for any specific improvement or for the expenditure of public money for any purpose, or for the laying of tax or assessment, and every ordinance or resolution imposing a new duty or penalty shall, before it takes effect, be presented to the president of the Board of Supervisors. If he approves he shall sign it, if not, he shall return it within ten days to the board with his reasons in writing.

Then he goes on to say:

It will be found that the act passed in the Legislature in 1897, approved March 27, 1897, page 190, by and through which the Mayor affects San Francisco, and the law in effect more or less than another evidence of the interference with our right to government by the Mayor, and that the Mayor is in an indirect manner amending section 68 of the consolidation act. While it may be claimed that it is a good law, inasmuch as we have a good Mayor, it is not a good law because it is a legislative act which we owe much of our troubles and loss of home-land rights, and which is supposed to serve a good purpose under good hands it is no reason that those who are in the hands of such legislation governmental rights should bow down and accept such favors. In other words, we should not be expected to "surrender our rights for a few dollars' worth of improved streets."

I am opposed to legislative interference with our local rights in any sense, and particularly so because the Mayor is not a legislator. The past few sessions shows that San Francisco has suffered too much therefrom, and that the Mayor is not a legislator. Much of the legislation that is in truth and in fact but special acts in application intended to veto laws or county laws. Such legislation is bogus, or deceptive in title, and should be resisted and opposed by all who are interested in the welfare of the city.

The title of the act of March 27, 1897, is "An act to require ordinances and resolutions passed by the City Council or other legislative body of any municipality to be presented to the Mayor or other chief executive officer of such municipality for his approval, and if he disapproves the same he shall return it to the Legislature or to the Board of Supervisors with his reasons in writing." The title of the act of March 27, 1897, is "An act to require ordinances and resolutions passed by the City Council or other legislative body of any municipality to be presented to the Mayor or other chief executive officer of such municipality for his approval, and if he disapproves the same he shall return it to the Legislature or to the Board of Supervisors with his reasons in writing."

The title of the act of March 27, 1897, is "An act to require ordinances and resolutions passed by the City Council or other legislative body of any municipality to be presented to the Mayor or other chief executive officer of such municipality for his approval, and if he disapproves the same he shall return it to the Legislature or to the Board of Supervisors with his reasons in writing."

The title of the act of March 27, 1897, is "An act to require ordinances and resolutions passed by the City Council or other legislative body of any municipality to be presented to the Mayor or other chief executive officer of such municipality for his approval, and if he disapproves the same he shall return it to the Legislature or to the Board of Supervisors with his reasons in writing."

The title of the act of March 27, 1897, is "An act to require ordinances and resolutions passed by the City Council or other legislative body of any municipality to be presented to the Mayor or other chief executive officer of such municipality for his approval, and if he disapproves the same he shall return it to the Legislature or to the Board of Supervisors with his reasons in writing."

The title of the act of March 27, 1897, is "An act to require ordinances and resolutions passed by the City Council or other legislative body of any municipality to be presented to the Mayor or other chief executive officer of such municipality for his approval, and if he disapproves the same he shall return it to the Legislature or to the Board of Supervisors with his reasons in writing."

The title of the act of March 27, 1897, is "An act to require ordinances and resolutions passed by the City Council or other legislative body of any municipality to be presented to the Mayor or other chief executive officer of such municipality for his approval, and if he disapproves the same he shall return it to the Legislature or to the Board of Supervisors with his reasons in writing."

The title of the act of March 27, 1897, is "An act to require ordinances and resolutions passed by the City Council or other legislative body of any municipality to be presented to the Mayor or other chief executive officer of such municipality for his approval, and if he disapproves the same he shall return it to the Legislature or to the Board of Supervisors with his reasons in writing."

The title of the act of March 27, 1897, is "An act to require ordinances and resolutions passed by the City Council or other legislative body of any municipality to be presented to the Mayor or other chief executive officer of such municipality for his approval, and if he disapproves the same he shall return it to the Legislature or to the Board of Supervisors with his reasons in writing."

The title of the act of March 27, 1897, is "An act to require ordinances and resolutions passed by the City Council or other legislative body of any municipality to be presented to the Mayor or other chief executive officer of such municipality for his approval, and if he disapproves the same he shall return it to the Legislature or to the Board of Supervisors with his reasons in writing."

The title of the act of March 27, 1897, is "An act to require ordinances and resolutions passed by the City Council or other legislative body of any municipality to be presented to the Mayor or other chief executive officer of such municipality for his approval, and if he disapproves the same he shall return it to the Legislature or to the Board of Supervisors with his reasons in writing."

The title of the act of March 27, 1897, is "An act to require ordinances and resolutions passed by the City Council or other legislative body of any municipality to be presented to the Mayor or other chief executive officer of such municipality for his approval, and if he disapproves the same he shall return it to the Legislature or to the Board of Supervisors with his reasons in writing."

The title of the act of March 27, 1897, is "An act to require ordinances and resolutions passed by the City Council or other legislative body of any municipality to be presented to the Mayor or other chief executive officer of such municipality for his approval, and if he disapproves the same he shall return it to the Legislature or to the Board of Supervisors with his reasons in writing."

The title of the act of March 27, 1897, is "An act to require ordinances and resolutions passed by the City Council or other legislative body of any municipality to be presented to the Mayor or other chief executive officer of such municipality for his approval, and if he disapproves the same he shall return it to the Legislature or to the Board of Supervisors with his reasons in writing."

The title of the act of March 27, 1897, is "An act to require ordinances and resolutions passed by the City Council or other legislative body of any municipality to be presented to the Mayor or other chief executive officer of such municipality for his approval, and if he disapproves the same he shall return it to the Legislature or to the Board of Supervisors with his reasons in writing."

The title of the act of March 27, 1897, is "An act to require ordinances and resolutions passed by the City Council or other legislative body of any municipality to be presented to the Mayor or other chief executive officer of such municipality for his approval, and if he disapproves the same he shall return it to the Legislature or to the Board of Supervisors with his reasons in writing."

The title of the act of March 27, 1897, is "An act to require ordinances and resolutions passed by the City Council or other legislative body of any municipality to be presented to the Mayor or other chief executive officer of such municipality for his approval, and if he disapproves the same he shall return it to the Legislature or to the Board of Supervisors with his reasons in writing."

WING, THE CRACK SAN JOSE RACER, AND JOHN DERMOODY, HIS TRAINER. THEY WILL COMPETE AT THE BIG MEET TO BE HELD IN PORTLAND NEXT SATURDAY AND SUNDAY, AND AT TACOMA THE WEEK FOLLOWING.

The racing season has been already in Portland for the last purpose.

President Swain's last official acts before leaving were to give the charge of the association's booth at the coming Mechanics' Fair to Charles Albert Adams, chairman of the racing committee, and to appoint Henry W. Spalding, cycling editor of THE CALL, as chairman of the organization and recruiting committee, vice Judge Frank H. Kerrigan, representative.

The Olympic Club Wheelmen will have a blind run next Sunday under Captain Hadenfeldt. On Sunday, August 22, there will be a five-mile handicap road race. The racing committee have been left with George H. Stratton, formerly chairman of the Associated Clubs' road-racing committee, which is an assurance of their completeness.

The racing season has been already in Portland for the last purpose.

The racing season has been already in Portland for the last purpose.

The racing season has been already in Portland for the last purpose.

The racing season has been already in Portland for the last purpose.

The racing season has been already in Portland for the last purpose.

The racing season has been already in Portland for the last purpose.

The racing season has been already in Portland for the last purpose.

The racing season has been already in Portland for the last purpose.

The racing season has been already in Portland for the last purpose.

The racing season has been already in Portland for the last purpose.

The racing season has been already in Portland for the last purpose.

The racing season has been already in Portland for the last purpose.

The racing season has been already in Portland for the last purpose.

The racing season has been already in Portland for the last purpose.

The racing season has been already in Portland for the last purpose.

The racing season has been already in Portland for the last purpose.

The racing season has been already in Portland for the last purpose.

The racing season has been already in Portland for the last purpose.

The racing season has been already in Portland for the last purpose.

The racing season has been already in Portland for the last purpose.

The racing season has been already in Portland for the last purpose.

The racing season has been already in Portland for the last purpose.

The racing season has been already in Portland for the last purpose.

THIS IS A WAKE UP CALL TO THE CHINESE

All Adieu-Bidding Chinese May Ride the Pacific Free of Charge.

Better Than Excursion Rates Enjoyed Under the Guise of Deportation.

It Is an Awkward Predicament the Outcome of a Clever Juggling of Registration Certificates.

BALDWIN TO BE IMPROVED.

New Electrical Elevators to Be Put in and the Grill to Be Touched Up.

The lease for the Baldwin Hotel by the Baldwin Hotel Company, from M. Stone & Co., was signed on Tuesday for a long term of years. Messrs. Stone, Asher and others of the old association are now out and the members of the new company have full swing.

H. W. Wake for a good while past assistant manager, has been promoted to general manager. Mr. Lake has been fifteen years in the hotel business on the Pacific Coast. The company is incorporated for $100,000, of which $50,000 has been subscribed. Frank R. Whitcomb is president of the company and W. E. Lee secretary.

The real owner of the hotel, Mr. Stone, Mr. Lake says, are well-known business men. "A number of improvements will be made, but just how much money as a whole will be spent has not been agreed. It is settled, however, that there will be two new electrical elevators. The cafe formerly run by Otto Norman will also be opened. The lease includes all the building except the stores. Prosper Reiter will be allowed also to park his cars in the hotel. Our object now is to make it a complete and comfortable hotel for families especially."

An effort will be made to lift the place in the eyes of the public by advertising. Mr. Stone has large butchering, mine and draying interests which will now receive his attention.

THE MECHANICS' FAIR.

Programme Arranged for the Opening Exercises Next Tuesday Afternoon.

Several Important Matters Disposed Of by the Board of Directors at Its Meeting.

The board of directors of the Mechanics' Fair met in the Pavilion Tuesday night and transacted a large amount of business. The opening exercises will be held in the Columbia Theater next Tuesday afternoon, commencing at 2 o'clock. President E. A. Denicks will make an address and Irving M. Scott will deliver the oration. There will be music by bands, duets, solos, quartets and a sketch by Leo Cooper.

Valuable cash prizes are offered for the best prepared and most complete exhibits on the opening night. Eleven jurors have been selected from the regular list to judge exhibits ready on that night.

The Pavilion has been newly decorated and equipped with electric lights. It presents a most artistic appearance. A new bandstand has also been built.

A recommendation of a committee of management was adopted that a chemist be appointed to be approved by the Board of Health, and that all exhibitors wanting analyses of food exhibited shall pay the cost of same and that the expert's report be made up for the sanitarian. It was also decided that the board of directors will issue a certificate therefor, and that the standard adopted by the San Francisco Board of Health shall prevail.

The display of fresh-water fish of California prepared by the California Fish Commission, and also the display of the forestry exhibit, promises to be very fine. The jury of artists will meet this afternoon to reject such pictures as in their judgment would detract from the beauty of the gallery. The work of the sculptors will be received on Saturday and is far superior to last year in variety and merit.

Friday evening, August 20, will be a gala night for bicyclists. Invitations have been sent out to all bicycle clubs in the City, and all bicyclists in uniform will be admitted free. Prizes will be given to the clubs making the best display in the night of numbers in uniform, and also to the club making the best appearance. The display will be under the auspices of the California Associated Cycling Clubs and the trophies won by clubs affiliated with that organization will be placed on exhibition.

LUCCAS WANTS DAMAGES.

M. V. Thomas and T. Stanton McGown, Accused of $30,000 Worth of Libel.

A. E. Lucas, by John R. Aitkin, his attorney, has begun a number of suits for damages, alleging that he has been libeled and damaged in his good name.

M. V. Thomas seems to be the principal offender against the reputation of the plaintiff. It is asserted that Mr. Thomas placed a big sign in his window containing some libelous statements.

Containing a reference to Mr. Lucas sets forth his injuries in this way:

And said defendant, with the intention to scandalize plaintiff and bring him into contempt, hatred, infamy and disgrace, did draw up and publish a paper containing the statements, a pictorial representation of the upper half of a man, which purported to be a picture of his plaintiff.

This drawing together with libelous words are alleged to have been placed in a show window at 1203 Market street, and by the defendant kept there on the 9th, 10th and 11th of August, 1897.

Mr. Lucas against T. Stanton McGown, Mr. Thomas for libel on account of another placard slightly differing from the original document.

NEW TO-DAY.

Saxony Axminster Carpets

At a great special reduction during this week of our DISSOLUTION OF PARTNERSHIP CLEARANCE SALE.

150 Rolls of the Celebrated Saxony Axminster, in all the latest shades, colorings and designs, at 95c per yard.

When a healthy man tired of this country and wants to return to his native flowery kingdom nowadays he does not have to bother his barbered head about a grub stake, passage price or anything else in the way of expense. He is sent home by this Government—and that's where the joke on Uncle Sam comes in.

When Congress passed a law requiring all Chinese residents of America to register and provide themselves with certificates showing that they had bowed to the will of the Government it was hoped that by this means the Federal authorities could keep tabs on the Chinese population and effectually regulate immigration of this class.

The officials were clothed with authority to seize and deport, after a given date, all Chinese found within the boundaries of the United States who could not show that they had complied with the regulation by exhibiting the necessary certificates. This was good enough as far as it went, but it appears that it went not far.

It is now found that they could not show that they had complied with the regulation by exhibiting the necessary certificates. This was good enough as far as it went, but it appears that it went not far.

It is now found that they could not show that they had complied with the regulation by exhibiting the necessary certificates. This was good enough as far as it went, but it appears that it went not far.

It is now found that they could not show that they had complied with the regulation by exhibiting the necessary certificates. This was good enough as far as it went, but it appears that it went not far.

It is now found that they could not show that they had complied with the regulation by exhibiting the necessary certificates. This was good enough as far as it went, but it appears that it went not far.

It is now found that they could not show that they had complied with the regulation by exhibiting the necessary certificates. This was good enough as far as it went, but it appears that it went not far.

It is now found that they could not show that they had complied with the regulation by exhibiting the necessary certificates. This was good enough as far as it went, but it appears that it went not far.

It is now found that they could not show that they had complied with the regulation by exhibiting the necessary certificates. This was good enough as far as it went, but it appears that it went not far.

It is now found that they could not show that they had complied with the regulation by exhibiting the necessary certificates. This was good enough as far as it went, but it appears that it went not far.

It is now found that they could not show that they had complied with the regulation by exhibiting the necessary certificates. This was good enough as far as it went, but it appears that it went not far.

It is now found that they could not show that they had complied with the regulation by exhibiting the necessary certificates. This was good enough as far as it went, but it appears that it went not far.

It is now found that they could not show that they had complied with the regulation by exhibiting the necessary certificates. This was good enough as far as it went, but it appears that it went not far.

It is now found that they could not show that they had complied with the regulation by exhibiting the necessary certificates. This was good enough as far as it went, but it appears that it went not far.

It is now found that they could not show that they had complied with the regulation by exhibiting the necessary certificates. This was good enough as far as it