STARTLED BY AN EXPLOSION

Emperors William and Joseph Receive a Shock.

Some Arres Made and a Newspaper Confiscated for Its Comments.

However, the Rulers Held a Banquet and Express Some Pretty Sentiments.

LONDON, ENGL., Sept. 21.—A dispatch to the Daily Mail from Vienna says: It is reported that as Emperor William and Emperor Francis Joseph were leaving the station at Budapest a sharp detonation was heard, which was followed by a thick cloud of dust and smoke. The crowd took flight, broke through the military cordon and swarmed around the imperial carriages.

Emperor Francis Joseph was greatly agitated and shouted to the police to keep the people back. Some arrests are reported, but owing to the silence maintained by the officials it is difficult to ascertain details of the affair. The newspaper Wiener Journal was confiscated for publishing an article as to the occurrence. The Austrian Emperor wore the uniform of a Prussian grand marshal and the ribbon of the Black Eagle. The German Emperor wore the uniform of an Austrian Hussar regiment and the grand cross of St. Stephen. When the sovereigns first met they kissed each other twice.

The carriage which conveyed them from the railroad station to the castle was drawn by five horses ridden by postillions. As their Majesties drove off there were loud shouts of "Eujen," mingled with the thunder of the artillery salutes. The decorations were especially brilliant at the entrance of Kerespesi street in Franz Josef square, where a statue had been erected personifying Hungary, and the emperor in one hand and a sword extended toward the imperial visitors. The enthusiasm of the people visibly pleased the monarchs, and Emperor William showed signs of the greatest satisfaction.

The city is profusely decorated in honor of the meeting of the Emperors.

The German Emperor later bestowed the grand cordon of the Prussian crown upon the son of Count Andrássy. BUDAPEST, HUNGARY, Sept. 21.—At the state banquet given to-day in honor of Emperor William of Germany, Emperor Francis Joseph, in proposing his Majesty's health, referred to him as "My faithful friend, ally and unwearied fellow-laborer in the great work of peace to which we ever devote our best powers."

In conclusion the Austrian Emperor remarked: "I am glad that a similarity of sentiment guides us in this exalted mission. I empty my glass."

Emperor William in reply remarked: "It was with a feeling of the most profound gratitude that I listened to your Majesty's cordial greeting. Thanks to your Majesty's invitation I have been permitted to visit this beautiful city, whose splendid reception has literally overwhelmed me."

The speech of Emperor William caused tremendous applause, and especially was he applauded to Count Zerin's defense of the fortress of Szimgey in 1896, when he blew up the citadels rather than capitulate to the Turks.

After the banquet Emperor William and Emperor Francis Joseph attended a gala performance at the opera, following which they inspected the street illuminations. They then drove to the railway station, where the German Emperor had farewells to his imperial host and took his departure after mutual kissing and amid loud cheering.

TREATY WITH THE MAHDI. Conditions Upon Which Hostilities Are to Be Suspended.

PARIS, FRANCE, Sept. 21.—The Figaro this morning says that a treaty has been concluded between Slatin Pasha, representing Great Britain, and Zobein Pasha, representing the Mahdi, by which the latter will not oppose the advance of the Anglo-Egyptian expedition as far as Khartoum, and Osman Digma's forces will remain at the Bara River so long as Great Britain desires.

The following are said to be the conditions upon which this treaty was signed: The Mahdi remains King of Khartoum, and Zobein Pasha continues to exercise the functions of Governor of Darfur under the protection of Great Britain.

The Figaro also asserts that the mission of James Drennill Reid to the King of Abyssinia obtained a promise of neutrality on the part of King Menelik by guaranteeing the western frontier of Abyssinia to the King of Menelik.

MOTIVE OF THE SAUSAGE-MAN

Why the Death of Mrs. Luetgert Was Desirable.

Enamored of Mary Simmering, According to the Aged Watchman.

Nocturnal Meetings at the Factory Covering a Period of Three or Four Years.

CHICAGO, ILL., Sept. 21.—The direct evidence in the Luetgert case is in and the prosecution closed. Frank Blak, the aged watchman who, besides watching the factory at night, kept fires burning in the furnaces, was the first witness to be called this morning to show the motive. He said that Mary Simmering paid frequent visits to Luetgert in the latter's office in the sausage factory at night. Luetgert, because of his unpleasant domestic affairs, had a bed placed in a room just off his office and slept there. The last time the witness remembered seeing Mary Simmering there was one week before May 1, the date of the disappearance of Mrs. Luetgert. It was 9:30 o'clock in the evening and Luetgert and the young woman retired to the bedroom and closed the door.

The witness said that Mary Simmering visited Luetgert on an average of three nights each week for months before Mrs. Luetgert disappeared. This had been going on for three or four years before May 1 of the present year.

Upon one occasion the witness said Luetgert called him about 10 o'clock at night, and told him to go and get Mary. Luetgert said he was asleep, but he went to Mary's bedroom window and tapped upon it with a stick. When she appeared he told her that Luetgert wanted her. She soon appeared at the sausage factory and entered through a window adjacent to Luetgert's bedroom.

Ex-Judge Vincent sharply cross-examined Blak. He asked him if he had not been constantly with Detective Klinger since a month before the trial opened, and the witness said he had. Then the lawyer wanted to know if he was not telling a story which had been prepared for him by the prosecution. The old man shook his head slowly and replied: "No; I am telling the God's truth."

Frank Odoarski testified to substantially the same facts. Shortly after 2 o'clock this afternoon the last witness of the prosecution was heard. This witness was Mrs. Lonnie Johnson. She came into court supported by Captain Herman Schuetzler of the Sheffield-avenue police station. Mrs. Johnson has been ill for several weeks and the prosecution feared the woman would not be able to appear to testify. Her evidence was important, as showing Luetgert's attitude toward his wife.

A carriage was sent to her home on the North Side, and Mrs. Johnson made the trip to the Court House, attended by a friend. She was quite exhausted when she reached the Criminal Court building and almost fainted at the elevator leading to Judge Tuthill's courtroom. When Mrs. Johnson testified that upon one occasion she saw Luetgert in a rage chase his wife out of their house. The big sausage-maker, the witness said, was armed with a revolver. He called his wife names and threatened to shoot, but did not.

Ex-Judge Vincent did not cross-examine this witness. When she left the stand the State's Attorney said: "If by the court please, the State rests."

There was a general movement in the crowded room as the spectators looked toward Luetgert and his counsel. Luetgert leaned forward and whispered to ex-Judge Vincent. The latter arose and made a formal motion that the case be taken from the jury on the ground that the State had failed to make out a case. Judge Tuthill promptly overruled the motion without argument. Then ex-Judge Vincent stated that owing to the lateness of the hour he would like to postpone his opening address to the jury until tomorrow morning. There was no objection to this and an adjournment was taken.

It required twenty days for the presentation of the evidence of the prosecution. Ex-Judge Vincent said to-night that the defense would present its side of the case in just half of that time.

"My address to the jury in opening will be short and directly to the point," he said. "We deny the murder—the corpus delicti has not been proved as the law requires. This fact cannot be assumed but inferred from such testimony as has been presented here. We will explain away all the evidence brought out here by the Police Department after months of investigation and manipulation. We do not care to give our own defense until we get started, but I promise some startling developments before we are through."
