

YESTERDAY'S GRID-IRON GAMES.

Table listing football games between Stanford Freshmen and California Freshmen, including scores and player statistics.

STANFORD FRESHMEN OUTPLAYED CALIFORNIA.

In the presence of the largest, most brilliant, most enthusiastic and most demonstrative crowd of the present football season the Stanford University freshman team defeated the University of California freshmen yesterday afternoon at the Recreation Grounds in this city by a score of 16 to 8.

The result was a surprise, for it was generally thought before the game that the California eleven had the better chance. They had previously defeated in any of the preliminary games, and their line was much heavier than that of the Stanford team.

Hundreds of the Berkeley students were present, and with them—in the covered grand stand particularly—were hundreds of pretty girls becomingly gowned. Everywhere the gorgeous blue and gold of the State University predominated to a remarkable extent.

The compact rows of animated and gesticulating humanity, rising tier on tier from the southern side of the field, formed a solid mass, dotted with innumerable giant yellow chrysanthemums, made all the more evident by two large patches of cardinal flowers indicating where the Stanford followers were gathered in numbers in the midst of that long sweep of color effects, brightened by the direct rays of a warm afternoon sun.

The occasion had been looked as California's certain chance of the year to score a gridiron success, to gain an intercollegiate victory that might in a measure offset the probable outcome of the Thanksgiving match. But California sympathizers went away disappointed. They were disappointed before they went away.

Only early in the first half was there any serious indication that the Berkeley freshmen were going to do what was expected of them.

For a number of plays in succession the California line baled over the lighter Stanford men as though they were helpless infants in their way and with little apparent effort California had scored a touchdown of 12 to 6. The game was hotly contested from start to finish, and brilliant plays at critical moments were special features. The attendance was fair, but the crowd was enthusiastic, the cardinal rosters far outnumbering the Oaklandians. The Reliance team did all their playing in the first half, and from the start they made gain after gain. The Stanford seemed to be perfectly contented to simply play the defensive, which fact was soon apparent to the Reliance, for they took every chance for an end play or a kick that presented itself, and by fast, steady work they soon had the ball over into the Stanford territory and dangerously near the goal.

It was now time for Frick and Carter, Reliance's clever halfbacks, to show of what clever work their team was capable. The ball was first passed to Carter and a gain of two yards was made through the center. Frick then made a similar gain on the same style of play. Carter was again sent through the center and gained 10 yards. The ball was then within one yard of the goal and the Reliance rooster's enthusiasm knew no bounds. The teams lined up and Stanford braced to make a stand, but they were too late, for quick as a flash the ball was passed to Carter and over the line he passed to Cart r, and a touchdown of the game and scoring for Reliance a lead of four points. Wyckoff kicked the goal and then the score stood 6 to 0. The ball was then taken to the center and Murphy kicked off thirty yards for Stanford, but Carter caught the ball and brought it back ten yards.

Carter was then sent through the center, and gained three yards. Reliance then tried a kick. The ball was passed to Arlett, and the pigskin went sailing through the air for twenty yards, but Murphy was under the ball when it came down, and back he carried it five yards. The Stanford, now in possession of the ball, started in to play. Daly went through the center and gained five yards. He then tried a kick, but the ball was blocked and rolled out of bounds. Reliance gained the ball, and the pigskin was passed to Carter for a kick, but again the ball was blocked, and Stanford secured the ball. The ball was passed to Murphy, who by a clever kick sent it forty yards into Reliance territory. Carter caught the ball, dropped it, but fell on it in time to save it. The war was called and the first half was over, with the score standing 6 to 0 in favor of Reliance and with the ball on Reliance's twenty-yard line.

The second half of the game the Stanford clearly showed their superiority and although they started in with heavy odds to work against they soon demonstrated that they were equal to the occasion. All interest soon centered on Murphy for time and again he would catch a long kick and back he would flash through the Reliance's interference and when finally downed would have the ball back to where it started from. Cotton, the Stanford fullback, and Daly, the left-half, also played an excellent game, and to him is due the credit of making Stanford's first touchdown.

Throughout the first part of the second half the ball was kicked back and forth considerably, but in this Stanford was again by a large margin. Murphy was certainly the star player of the game, and every time Reliance tried a kick Murphy would return the play with a gain. Stanford steadily gained ground and when within ten yards of the goal the ball was passed to Fisher, who took advantage of an opening through Reliance's right end and went over the line for a touchdown. Murphy kicked the ball into the field to Fickert and then kicked a goal, tying the score and giving the Stanford rosters the chance to turn the tables upon their opponents.

The ball was taken to the center and given over to Reliance, but it was not before it was again speeding toward the Reliance goal, due to the terrific rushes and clever kicks of the Stanford's. The ball was gradually worked up to within twenty yards of the goal, and then passed to Daly, who made the best run of the game. He went right through all interference and landed the ball safely over the line, scoring the second touchdown. The ball was kicked out into the field, and again Murphy won stories of applause by kicking the ball over the rail and between the posts, securing two more points for his team and doubling the score against their opponents. There still remained a few moments to play, but Reliance realized that strive as hard as they would the score could not be changed. The Reliance, however, determined to while away the remaining minutes keeping the Stanford's exceedingly busy.

LOCAL BOORBONS GRID FOR WAR

Dictator Sullivan's Committee Work at a New Party Machine.

Rainey's Forces Formulate Their Plans for Aggressive Retaliatory War.

A Meeting of the General Committee to Throw Sullivan and Some Others Out.

The local Democratic forces under the leadership of Colonel W. P. Sullivan, the dictator, were in camp at the Grand Hotel last night.

At the Lick House, Boss Sam Rainey's faction of the city Democracy, under the immediate command of Major Harney of the State Harbor Commission, assembled.

It is a sure thing that the factions are not taking. Each side means to fight to the finish. A quorum of Colonel Sullivan's new campaign committee attended the session.

Enzene Deuprey appeared in faultless evening attire, and his associates fancied that he was introducing a new style of campaign uniform for the followers of Mayor Phelan and Colonel Sullivan.

When Mr. Deuprey explained that he was on the list of speakers for the Knights Templar banquet at the Masonic Temple the other members of the committee were relieved of some apprehension as to the requirements of party service in the future.

The session of the committee was executive. The first business, and in fact the only business, for consideration was the appointment of a Democratic County Committee of 110 members, five from each Assembly district and twenty at large.

Many names were suggested, and the names of several men were listed as unacceptable. The names of the names would be given out for publication until the list was complete.

The committee "views with alarm" all Democrats who are now holding public office, especially Federal or State offices. Not an office holder is to be named at the meeting last night. Boss Rainey is supposed to have some sort of a cinch on Democrats who are feeding at the public crib; hence they are excluded. The committee managers do not draw the line of exclusion against Democrats who hope and expect to hold office.

Colonel Sullivan is confident of winning. He believes that the campaign committee of his selection will be reorganized by the party. He believes that the Democratic State Central Committee would so decide should the question be brought before that body. In the reorganization it is necessary to exclude Rainey from the councils of the party. He is mentioned as a notorious and disreputable boss.

In order to down Buckley and Maguire just before the last election it became necessary for Gavin McNab, Colonel Sullivan and others to accept Rainey's assistance. The boss through this opening got on the inside of the then reorganized party, and since that time has managed to capture the party. Now the plan is to get rid of Rainey once and for all.

The council of war in room 39 of the Lick House was long, grave and fruitful of vigorous warlike measures planned with the wisdom of experienced politicians.

Harbor Commissioner P. J. Harney, the new chairman of the committee, who is soon to be chairman of the old Democratic general organization, presided, and ten other members of the campaign committee present were: Secretary John F. McGovern, M. Tierney, George Love, T. Donovan, J. O'Donnell, R. L. Mann, P. Quinn, Dr. J. W. Gavigan, J. N. Mueh and Joseph H. Hayes.

George T. Marye was not present, but was represented by proxy, and the Rainey forces are priding themselves on the reported fact that a gentleman of Mr. Marye's respectability should have used an appointment of Dictator Sullivan's campaign committee and is sticking by the old organization on the ground that Sullivan's course is revolutionary, unnecessary and undemocratic.

The programme to call a meeting of the general committee of 450 right off, declare Sullivan thrown out of the organization, elect P. J. Harney chairman and endorse the acts of the campaign committee, was heartily approved and furthered in executive session.

It was decided that the meeting should be on either Wednesday or Thursday night next at Metropolitan Hall, but an uncertainty about the hall left the date open to this extent.

Those who retain control of the old regular organization are anticipating the possibility of a contest in court before the law is over, and they are being careful to sacrifice the regularity of their proceedings according to their constitution. Hence it was decided that a special committee of seven should be appointed to wait Mr. Sullivan, who is still nominally the chairman of the general committee, with a petition for the meeting. It is not expected that he will do anything but ignore it, but they will go through it to get him right in the presence of witnesses, and there may be some interesting conversation.

A petition for the meeting is being circulated among the 450, and it was reported that there would be many more than the necessary fifty signatures, but no figures on its progress will be given out. The petition for the meeting is being signed in triplicate, one each to be presented to the chairman, vice-chairman and secretary. The petition will be issued by Secretary McGovern on Monday or Tuesday and the forces hustled together for the meeting.

It was also decided that Chairman Harney, Secretary McGovern, Dr. W. J. Gavigan and R. L. Mann should be the committee to draw up the fierce resolutions to be presented for adoption at the general meeting. These resolutions will be presented to the Dictator, who is the dangerous and revolutionary force which has ever produced, recite his recent actions and generally declare for the principles of Thomas Jefferson, popular party president, and to truly non-partisan Board of Freeholders. Sullivan and others will be read out of the party for disloyalty, etc., and Mr. Harney elected chairman. This programme will be elaborated amid much busting and commotion during the next two or three days.

CLERK CURRY'S GOOD WORK.

Will Collect $25,000 Due the City for Neglected Probate Court Fees.

County Clerk Curry has made some important discoveries in regard to the non-collection of Probate Court fees due the city and county of San Francisco. These delinquencies have occurred in several years past and have grown out of the neglect of officials who had charge of such affairs before Mr. Curry took office. Several deputy clerks and accountants have been sent to the city and county to make an examination of the records. The work is far from completed yet, so it is impos-ible to give a detailed statement of the results. The investigation has progressed far enough, however, to bring to light a state of affairs that, to say the least, is remarkable.

Upon the probate of all estates certain statutory fees are due from the executors to the city and county.

These fees range from the cents presently to be noted from $5 to over $250. In none of the cases thus far discovered in the long list of unsettled estates are the individual fees due the city and county less than $5, and in many the sums due reach a much larger figure. While, as stated, it is impossible to say the exact amount due, it is safe to say that the total will be somewhat in excess of $25,000, and it may be much more.

Mr. Curry says he has no comment to make in regard to the neglect or responsibility of others in this regard. He is simply trying to do his duty, and will, so far as possible, collect the money that is due to the city and county.

Among some of the larger sums thus far brought to light is the estate of Alexander P. More, in which the unpaid fees amounted to $27. In that case notification was sent to the attorneys, and they came in and paid the money. In the estate of George P. Sharp, $194 is due and still remains unpaid, and in the estate of Andrew J. Leary the fees are $75, as yet unpaid.

The examination of the records will be continued, and when the total of indebtedness is ascertained an application will be made to the Probate Court by Mr. Curry for the purpose of enforcing collection of all amounts due.

A FAITHFUL SERVANT.

After Forty Years of Service Thomas M. Jewett Forced to Resign.

Thomas M. Jewett, who for forty years past had been clerk to the United States Attorney in this city, resigned his position yesterday. Several months ago Mr. Jewett went on a vacation to friends and relatives in Guadalajara, Mexico. His health at that time was such that the vacation and change of scene were imperatively demanded, but his constitution had been already undermined and he was there seized with a stroke of paralysis which rendered him speechless and un- conscious for weeks, during which period his life was despaired of. But his strength gradually returned and he was able to move about slowly, but he never wholly recovered the power of speech. While his faculties were clear and while he could read and write he was unable to speak intelligibly.

On his return to this city he resumed the duties of his office by daily attendance, but the manual part of the work was done by a substitute, John E. Sherrard. The fact of Mr. Jewett's incapacity were laid before Attorney-General McKenna, who was well acquainted with him, and he was asked whether it would be legal to allow Mr. Jewett to continue drawing the salary of the office.

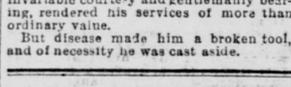

Mr. McKenna was in no hurry to reply, and the communication remained unanswered until yesterday, when a letter was received to the effect that the rules of the department would not permit Mr. Jewett to continue drawing his salary.

In 1857-forty years ago—Mr. Jewett was appointed clerk to the United States Attorney, which position he occupied uninterruptedly from then until now. Before 1857 he had served a short time as clerk to the United States Marshal.

His long experience and knowledge of the affairs of the office, coupled with his invariable courtesy and gentlemanly bearing, rendered his services of more than ordinary value.

But disease made him a broken tool, and of necessity he was cast aside.

IT HELPS MANHOOD

DR. SANDEN'S ELECTRIC BELT

Electricity is a nerve tonic—an invigorant. It carries vitality into the system.

Nature's remedy for weak men; it builds up vital energy and makes manhood complete.

WHERE IS THE MAN WHO, IN HIS YOUTH, HAS NOT FELT THE SURGE of passion? Strength of purpose, ambition and will power: are overcome by physical appetite, and youthful follies and desires become habits that are too strong to break off. Why is it that youth should be a fight against nature? Why should a habit begun in ignorance make slaves of its victims? Man is a slave to his habits just to the extent that he fails to control his desires. When he realizes the full extent of his folly and tries to overcome the effects of his early indiscretions he must first stop the drain upon his system that is sapping away his vitality and his manhood. He needs the tonic and invigorating effects of a current of electricity to carry new life and energy to the weakened nerves and to soothe the irritation and excitement. To do this thoroughly it is what has given to

DR. SANDEN'S ELECTRIC BELT

Its world-wide reputation. It helps manhood by stopping the losses and building up and strengthening the weakened organs. It has cured hundreds of men who were weak and despondent.

Quickly Cured.

DR. A. T. SANDEN—Dear Sir: When I bought your Belt six months ago I was all broke down. I could not sleep at night and I was greatly troubled with constipation. I used your Belt for one month and I felt like a new man. I have worn the Belt about four months and am now quite well and hearty. My emissions have not returned, thanks to your Belt, which I shall always recommend. Yours truly, F. S. MAYER.

SAN RAFAEL, Cal., July 29, 1897.

There is not another remedy in the world to-day that has proven as effective as Dr. Sanden's Electric Belt. Its cures speak volumes for the good work it has accomplished. Do you want to regain your lost manhood? Call and consult the Doctor or send for the book, "Three Classes of Men," which tells how many strength can be restored. It is sent free by mail. A personal call or a study of this little book may be the opening of a new life to you. Call or address

TO CURE NERVOUS DYSPEPSIA.

To Gain Flesh, to Sleep Well, to Know What Appetite and Good Digestion Mean, Make a Test of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Interesting Experience of an Indianapolis Gentleman.

No trouble is more common or more misunderstood than nervous dyspepsia. People having it think that their nerves are to blame, and are surprised that they are not cured by nerve medicine and spring remedies; the real seat of the mischief is lost sight of; the stomach is the organ to be looked after.

Nervous dyspepsia often do not have any pain whatever in the stomach, nor perhaps any of the usual symptoms of stomach weakness. Nervous dyspepsia shows itself not in the stomach, but much as in nearly every other organ; in some cases the heart palpitates and is irregular; in others, the bowels are constipated; with headaches; still others are troubled with loss of flesh and appetite, with accumulation of gas, sour risings and heartburn.

Mr. A. W. Sharper of No. 61 Prospect street, Indianapolis, Ind., writes as follows: A motive of pure gratitude prompts me to write these few lines regarding the new and valuable medicine, Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. I have been a sufferer from nervous dyspepsia for the last four years; have used various patent medicines and other remedies without any favorable result. They sometimes gave temporary relief until the effects of the medicine wore off. I attributed this to my sedentary habits, being a book-keeper, with little physical exercise; but I am glad to state that the tablets have overcome all the obstacles, for I have gained in flesh, sleep better and am better in every way. The above is written not for notoriety, but is based on actual fact.

Respectfully yours, A. W. Sharper, 61 Prospect st., Indianapolis, Ind.

It is safe to say that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will cure any stomach weakness or disease except cancer of stomach. They cure sour stomach, loss of flesh and appetite, sleeplessness, palpitation, heartburn, constipation and headache.
