

the latter will be aggressors in that matter. And this may allow the close margin of the Republicans on joint ballot for Senator to go uncontested in any of the close counties or before the Committee on Elections in the General Assembly.

CHAUNCEY DEPEW GROWS DESPONDENT.

He Says the Division of the Forces Against Tammany Was Fatal.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—The Press says that the new State House of Assembly will consist of 79 Republicans and 71 Democrats.

Chauncey M. Depew, who supported Tracy, said today that the election result just as he feared it would. "We made the best possible fight, but the hope of a victory against Tammany with the anti-Tammany forces divided is almost futile. The wonderful showing made by Mr. Low is surprising, to say the least.

"The election issue in New York has no national significance; but, with an alarming falling off in the Republican vote in the State, with heavy losses in New Jersey, Ohio and other States, the Republican party is confronted with the incontrovertible truth that Bryan and bimetalism are not dead. It warns them that they must take steps to meet, and, emphatically, to settle this currency question beyond any hope of reopening it."

COLORADO RESULTS STILL IN DOUBT.

It Will Take the Official Count to Decide Who Has Won.

DENVER, Nov. 3.—The result of yesterday's election in this State is still in doubt so far as the Justice of the Supreme Court is concerned, and it will take the official canvass to decide who has won. The Times, which supported Hay, candidate of the Republicans and Silver Republicans, claims his election by less than 1000. Returns and estimates so far received show Hay 82 votes in the lead. Counties yet to be heard from are divided and some doubtful. The chairman of the Populist and Democratic parties claim the full returns will give their candidate, Gabbert, from 1000 to 1500 majority.

In this (Arapahoe) county the entire Silver Republican ticket was successful except Horstard for Sheriff. The Republicans claim his election, but the vote between him and the Civic Federation candidate, is so close that the official figures will be necessary to decide it. The county gave Hay, for Supreme Judge, a majority of about 6000. This is a little more than was received by any of the candidates for county offices.

In all the most populous counties the Silver Republicans claim victory. In Pueblo County their majorities range from 500 to 1500. In El Paso and Lake counties the majorities have about the same range. From returns now in it appears that Hay and Gabbert each carry the same number of counties.

The Rocky Mountain News will print tomorrow morning a statement giving the results of the election in the various counties in the State, which will include nearly all the counties in the State, which together with Republican estimates from the other side give Abbott a majority over Hay of 4000. The News makes the point that the Republican majority will not be below these figures.

The Denver Republican still claims the election of Hay by a small majority, but says the official count may be necessary to decide the matter. Late returns seem to indicate the election of Horstard, Silver R., for Sheriff by probably not to exceed twenty-five votes.

IOWA MAJORITIES JUST CUT IN TWO.

The State Has Done Very Well for an Off-Year Election.

DES MOINES, Iowa, Nov. 3.—The returns by counties are nearly all in now. Chairman McMillan of the Republican State Committee has complete returns from ninety-four counties, and estimated from the five remaining counties, and figures a plurality for Shaw R. of about 31,782. He thinks that these figures will vary but little from the corrected returns when the five estimated counties come in. The plurality may be set down as above 31,000 and below 32,000. Chairman Walsh of the Democratic State Committee has given out no formal statement. He thinks that later returns may reduce the plurality for Shaw to 20,000.

MASSACHUSETTS NOW IN LINE.

George Fred Williams Offers a Few Remarks Upon His Defeat.

FOSTON, Nov. 3.—The entire vote of the State, with the exception of the town of Gosnold, was completed to-night, and the returns give Wolcott 165,370, Williams 70,414, Everett 14,134.

Owing to the closeness of the vote in the Second Eastern Senatorial District the result was definitely ascertained today and it now appears that W. B. Mahoney D. is elected over D. H. Ives R., the incumbent. This makes the Senate of 1898 stand 33 Republicans and 7 Democrats. The House remains unchanged, 132 Republicans, 51 Democrats, 6 Independents and 1 Prohibitionist.

SAME OLD STORY IN PENNSYLVANIA.

It Is an Off-Year Republican Majority, but Large Enough.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 3.—The complete vote of Pennsylvania is as follows: For State Treasurer—Bacon R. 364,537, Brown D. 240,218, Swallow Pro. 116,153, Thompson Ind. 18,283; Bacon's majority 124,319.

For Auditor-General—McCaughey R. 400,695, Ritter D. 290,184, Lathrop Pro. 55,882; McCaughey's majority 110,511.

Dr. Sallow, the Prohibition candidate, has a plurality in ten of the sixty-seven counties.

The total vote for State Treasurer is 734,259, and for Auditor-General 1,194,355 in 1896.

FUSION MAJORITY GIVEN IN NEBRASKA.

Further Returns Only Bear Out the Original Estimate of the State.

LINCOLN, Neb., Nov. 3.—Returns during the day and early in the evening simply confirmed what was evident at midnight last night, that the fusion ticket had been elected by a plurality fully as large as that given to Bryan last year, if not larger. Early in the afternoon it was generally admitted at Republican headquarters that the State was lost, and Secretary Sizer of the State committee emphasized the common belief at 8 o'clock to-night when he authorized the following statement to be made to the Associated Press:

"Returns thus far received by the Republican State Committee point to the

THE RUSSIAN CHURCH HORROR.

Further Details of the Awful Calamity That Resulted From an Alarm of Fire.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 3.—Further details have been received of the terrible casualty which took place on October 26 last in the village church at Kheifoff, in the Kizloff district, on the western coast of the Crimea, when an alarm of fire was raised and a panic ensued, resulting in the death of seventy-four persons and the severing of 107 members.

It appears that the form of fire was due to the lighting of candles at the moment when the windows were opened to allow the clouds of vapor to escape from the packed and seaming congregation.

Special Dispatch to THE CALL.

VICTORIA, Nov. 3.—H. M. S. Imperieuse has returned from South America after an unsuccessful search for $30,000,000 in gold, silver and precious stones which Charles Harford claimed to have located on Cocos Island. Lieutenant Lee and 100 men spent two days digging for treasure under the direction of Harford. As fast as they dug a hole the water ran in and filled it. Several of these engaged in the search say that the state covering the hiding-place of the treasure was discovered.

The weather being very bad and the anchorage entirely unsuitable for such a large vessel as the Imperieuse, Admiral Palliser decided to abandon the search. On the way down, while near San Jose de Guatemala, one of the Imperieuse's crew was washed overboard and drowned.

Although returning without the treasure of Cocos Island the trip of the Imperieuse was not made without considerable profit. The secret of the treasure trove of the Pacific has at last been wrested from the sandbanks of the desert island. This view of the case is borne out by the fact that an armed party of fifty blue-jackets under a commanding officer was sent ashore when the warship sailed north to hold the island against all comers. Not only this but H. M. S. Amphion is now under orders to sail south immediately. Her visit to the island will, according to the officers, form part of a programme which, although this is the last move, will not be in compliance with any written order.

The flagship left Esquimaux on September 22, under orders from England to rendezvous at San Jose de Guatemala, in order to protect British interests in the recent dispute in that country, but as the fighting was well over on arrival, the admiral remained but a few days, when he again put to sea and headed for Cocos Island.

On the flagship when it sailed from here were E. Harris of Lowenberg, Harris & Co. of this city, and Charles Harford, the man who claims to have located the treasure. He interested Harris and together they prepared the secret of the treasure of the flagship in the treasure to such an extent that the admiral decided to make the search. Harris was taken down as a guest of the admiral, and during the voyage was known as a news correspondent. Harford was a man whom the men knew as an "interpreter."

As soon as the island was reached an armed party went on shore under Harford's direction and commenced operations, but although a large party of men, owing to the deluge of rain the excavations in the sandy soil filled as rapidly as they were made. After the few days' hard work little headway was made, and there was no anchorage for the Imperieuse Admiral Palliser decided to discontinue work for the present, although satisfied that the treasure had been located, and a detachment of fifty men under a lieutenant was put ashore to continue the work.

When the warship arrived at the island Gustave Gessler, a German belonging to Stockholm, who is engaged in searching for the treasure, was also on the island with Gus Livingston, one of the Victoria sealer's who was left there by the Aurora expedition, after provisions. Captain Whidden, another Victorian left by the Aurora expedition, was also on the island. The only people on the island were two Germans, the wife of one of them and the wife of Gessler. As soon as Harford went ashore he covered his face with a handkerchief, but Gessler knew him at once, and shouted to him:

"I know you, Harford. It's useless for you to cover up your face, and don't you dare to put a speck in this island."

Admiral Palliser stated today that the Amphion had been ordered south and would go as far as Coquimba, but declined to say that Cocos Island would not be visited. It is generally understood on the vessel that her sailing orders, which are indicating a visit to the island, would permit of such a trip, and it will be taken.

Harford was landed at San Juan de Guatemala on the trip north and the captain of the Imperieuse says that the officers of the United States steamship Alert, which was at that port, had agreed to pay a visit to Cocos Island with Harford on board, he having located the signal-stone which, according to the directions left by those who buried the treasure, marks the spot where the millions were hidden.

Santa Clara Medical Society Lays Down Law for Allopaths.

Adopt's Resolutions Prohibiting Members From Advertising Sp. cialties.

Special Dispatch to THE CALL.

SAN JOSE, Nov. 3.—At a spirited meeting of the Santa Clara Medical Society this evening the resolutions were offered by Dr. Southworth interpreting article IV, section 1, of the Code of Ethics of the American Medical Association as prohibiting allopath physicians from consulting with homeopaths or eclectics for a fee.

These resolutions were bitterly opposed by many of those present, as it was claimed that the present code of ethics was sufficient on the subject, and that it was folly in the local organization to take a step which the American Medical Association at its session in San Francisco in 1894 had, by a large majority declined to act upon.

The older members of the local society, however, insisted upon the passage of the resolution, as they claimed the National Code of Ethics was ambiguous and its meaning should be clearly defined and lived up to by those desiring membership in the society. After a warm discussion, in which the term "bigotry" figured prominently, the resolution was adopted by a vote of 17 to 7.

Resolutions were then adopted prohibiting members of the society from advertising specialties.

Several of the members gave notice that they would not accept the interpretation of the local society regarding consultations with homeopaths and eclectics, but no action upon their position was taken.

HARLEM TRACK'S NEW OWNER.

James Anglin, a Wealthy Miner of Montana, Pays $92,600 for the Property.

CHICAGO, Nov. 3.—James Anglin, a rich Montana miner, to-day became the owner of Harlem racetrack by paying into the hands of its agents $72,600 one minute before the option expired. Anglin obtained the option ninety days ago, paying $20,000 down, making the property stand him $92,600. Martin McHugh and Hankins, the former owners, had not heard from Anglin since the deal was made, and, hoping he had forfeited, leaving the track to be sold at auction, which surprised them to be called on to make good that amount at the last moment. Anglin proposes to make the track one of the best in the country and give races of the highest order.

NETHERLANDS SUGAR DUTIES.

A Question Submitted to the Treasury Department.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 3.—The Minister to the United States from the Netherlands appeared before the Assistant Secretary of the Treasury to-day to discuss a "countervailing" duty against sugars imported from that country. Collectors of Customs were notified several weeks ago that the Netherlands had paid a bounty on sugar which it manufactured and exported final liquidation on the entries should be held in abeyance until the matter could be determined.

The Minister acknowledged to-day that his Government paid such a bounty on sugar produced, but no specific bounty on sugar exported. He said that the manufacture of sugar in the Netherlands is not in addition to the bounty on sugar produced. He argued, therefore, that the bounty was paid on its production and not on its exportation. The department took the matter under advisement, and will announce its decision within a week.
