Splendid Contests at the Interstate Club's Meeting.

FAST HOUNDS MATCH SPEED.

Throughout the Day the Nimble Hare Has Troubles of His Own.

GREAT GATHERING OF DOG OWNERS.

Every Available Vehicle Pressed into Service by the Crowds of Visitors.

MERCED, Nov. 9.—The first day's racing of the Interstate Coursing Club was a pronounced success. The day was all that could be desired and order on the field was perfect, thanks to the instructions issued by the president of the club, D. Minick Shannon, prior to the first dog being called to the slips. The coursing was held on grounds about ten miles west of the city and commenced at 9:15 o'clock.

The largest gathering of ladies and gentlemen that has ever witnessed a coursing meeting on the Merced plains was present on the field to-day. Every vehicle in town of respectability, age and stability was brought into requisition and the livermen charged fancy prices, as there was a big demand for anything that looked like a good ride.

The hares ran like demons, and out of forty courses not more than ten natives suffered the penalty. Some races were exceptionally long, and carried the dogs miles away from the spectators. Zoe, owned by George Whitney, died to-night from the effects of a double run. Mercy May, the property of H. V. Sullivan, ran into a wire fence and was badly cut.

The slipping and judging could not have been better. Owners of dogs praised the work of the course, senior and junior, respectively. E. J. McInnis made an excellent field watch.

The ground coursed over in the morning had a growth of high stubble, which made running difficult. In the afternoon better land was found. Hares are very plentiful.

It was 7:30 o'clock when the sportsmen returned to Merced. They will leave here early to-morrow morning for the same locality.

The following dogs won to-day: Zoe, Deceiver, Conemara, Minnehaha, Skylark, Joy Bells, Johnny B. Wave, Skyball, Right Bower, Waytner, Rusty Gold, Busy Bee, Gaslight, Mission Tip, Wabash, Fireball, Sylvia, Eclipse, Eastwick, Fannie, Firelight, Mialmo, Granuaie, Queen B., Magician, Rosie R., Blackette, Mercy May, Emerald, Moondyne II, Procrastination, Pat Malloy, Anchoria, Leand, Santa Alicia, St. John, F. M. Ernie, Laurie and Little Wonder. The last race was not started, it being too dark.

This is the way the races were run: Zoe vs. Lady Blanche—Zoe took the lead from the slips and never let the Lady score. He was in sight of the spectators. The short-tail animal ran away from its pursuers. Zoe won, score, 34 to 2.

Deceiver vs. Fireball—Zoe left the lead to the front and soon had the hare well in sight. He scored 6 points before the dogs got out of sight. Deceiver never headed. Deceiver won, score, 24 to 1.

Conemara vs. Front and Good Slip, Conemara took the lead and held it. He scored 10 points before the hare was in sight. Conemara won, score, 24 to 1.

Minnehaha vs. Fireball—Minnehaha took the lead and held it. He scored 10 points before the hare was in sight. Minnehaha won, score, 24 to 1.

Skyball vs. Move On—This was a punishing race. The favorite, Move On, led from the slips, but ran off the line of his hare, allowing before the turn was made by Move On. Skyball got in and scored. It was now even, and Skyball got in again, scoring 10 points. Skyball won, score, 16 to 8.

he was passed by Tom Fitz, who turned the hare to the right and scored a first and kill. Winner, Mission Tip, score, 6 to 3.

Tod Sloan vs. Wabash—Wabash, a very much better hare than the one which allowed him to get the hare only once, the kill was made. Wabash ran a swift course, keeping close to his game until the kill. Score, 26 to 2.

Fireball vs. Fireball—The hare favored Fireball by turning from its course. He was first to get in, and scored a first and kill. He made a go-by and took the hare in charge. Fireball again got in and worked the hare for three turns, after which the dogs were run out of sight. Winner, Fireball, score, 26 to 2.

Sylvia vs. Snowbird—The hare ran away from the dog, but he was in the lead until the race finished. Winner, Sylvia, score, 18 to 0.

Eclipse vs. Tessie Fair—Tessie was first to the hare and turned it. Then Eclipse got in and scored. Then it was points equally distributed until the hare got well into the distance, when Eclipse took charge and scored rapidly, making a beautiful kill. Winner, Eclipse, score, 28 to 10.

Margate vs. Margate—This was a fine race. Margate was first to the hare, which swerved toward Margate, but Margate by a great burst of speed and a fine turn, made a beautiful kill. Winner, Margate, score, 20 to 3.

False Flatterer vs. Senorita—Senorita made a very poor showing, not getting in until a respectable distance of False Flatterer, who won the race without assistance. Score, 24 to 3.

Granuaie vs. Beatrice—Beatrice was first from the slips, but was passed when she was in the lead, picking up and killing. This was one of the shortest races of the day. Winner, Granuaie, score, 24 to 1.

TO FLOAT THE POTRIMPOS.

Strong Effort Being Made to Get the Grounded German Ship Into Deep Water.

ASTORIA, Or., Nov. 9.—Lawrence Ford of San Francisco, brother of Martin Ford of Ford & Stokes of this city, owners of the German ship Potrimpos, which was stranded on the beach north of the mouth of the Columbia a year ago, has arrived and taken charge of the work of floating the vessel. Two of the 10,000-pound anchors of the United States warship Vandalla, which was wrecked some years ago at Samoa, will be shipped up from San Francisco at once, and it is anticipated that with the additional cables to be put out to sea from the Potrimpos to these anchors she will be floated in less than thirty days.

Pumps are at work loosening the sand in which the vessel lies by hydraulic pressure through the hold of the ship by means of 32½-inch holes in the bottom, through which the water is forced into the sand. It is expected she will go into the Alaska trade.

SOUGHT TO SLAY JUST FOR MONEY

Wilfred Glover Tells of the Shooting of Dr. Moore.

Thought It Would Be Easy to Murder and Rob the Physician.

Manifests Neither Remorse Nor Regret for His Cold-Blooded Crime.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 9.—Wilfred Glover to-day told THE CALL correspondent, without the slightest indication of remorse or regret, how he had deliberately planned the murder of Dr. Moore and why he had selected the doctor for his victim instead of Moore's brother, who was with him in the same vicinity at the time the 15-year-old assassin fired the shot which he intended should close the career of Moore.

Glover has a secluded cell at the City Prison, where he manages to pass the time away, and, although he has never before been imprisoned, his conduct would indicate that he had spent years behind prison bars.

"Oh, I just wanted money, and I thought that if I killed the man I would get it," said Glover in a matter-of-fact way, as if he were talking about a baseball game. "When I first met the doctor and his brother I did not think about killing him. But when the idea came to me that I could kill him and then take his money, I had a revolver with me, so I took aim and fired at his skull. If the ball had hit his hair an inch lower it would have done him. Just as I fired the doctor stepped forward and bent his head, and this threw me off my aim."

"The reason I picked the doctor instead of his brother was because I thought he had the most money. The reason I did not try to take anything away from him after I shot him was because he came to his senses at once. He commenced to call for his brother. This frightened me and I ran, because I was afraid if he would suspect me I have stolen money before. I took $15 from one man, and with $10 of it I bought the revolver I had with me."

Glover says that he is sorry for what he has done, but adds, in the most cold-blooded way, that it cannot be helped now.

The police detectives do not believe Glover's story as to momentary impulse. They hold to the theory that he deliberately planned the separation of Dr. Moore from his brother for the purpose of committing the murder.

After the shot was fired Glover endeavored to misdirect the brother as to the doctor's whereabouts, and this is regarded as proof that the young villain intended, if the brother had followed the wrong trail, to return and finish his victim.

Dr. Moore's condition this evening was improved, and unless complications now foreseen arise he will recover.

been formally presented to the Judges, this procession went to the Court of Appeals, and was received by the Master of the Rolls and the Appeal Judges, attired in their robes of black and gold. The ceremonies here were merely formal. The judges then returned to their coaches and resumed the march to the City.

At the banquet in Guildhall this evening the speech was made by the Marquis of Lansdowne, Secretary of War, and by Premier Salisbury. Questions of importance to England were reviewed at length. In concluding his speech Lord Salisbury said:

"One hope we have of preventing the competition of armaments among European powers, ending in a terrible and actual struggle, is that the powers may gradually be brought to act together in a friendly spirit as to all questions that may arise, until at last they shall be welded into something like a single world which will give the world, as a result of their great strength, a long spell of unfeeling commerce, prosperous trade and continual peace."

PREPARING FOR THE WORK. Only Preliminary Work Done by the General Assembly of the Knights of Labor.

LOUISVILLE, Nov. 9.—The General Assembly of the Knights of Labor was called to order to-day by Grand Master J. R. Sovereign.

About eighty delegates were present and about fifty more are expected before to-morrow noon. Among the delegates are the most prominent and energetic leaders in the movement in this country and abroad.

After the appointment of committees on credentials, press, etc., the meeting adjourned until their meeting again about 10 o'clock, and then immediately adjourned. The master workman was not ready to make his appointments, and, as the committee on credentials and the committee on the constitution were not ready to make a report, there was no business to be attended to.

SUICIDE OF AN ENGLISHMAN. Family Troubles and a Lack of Funds Caused the Deed.

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—Ernest Sharland, 25 years old, an Englishman, committed suicide in his room on Fifth avenue by turning on the gas. He left a letter addressed to W. Bernard, an actor now playing in this city.

Bernard said that despondency, caused by family troubles and lack of funds, had probably prompted the suicide. He said that he had met Sharland in New Orleans about two years ago, when they formed a close friendship. The suicide's mother, a few years ago, married Doughton, the proprietor of the famous Doughton pottery works in England.

When Bernard first met Sharland the latter had recently come into a fortune of about $25,000. He had also lately married a young woman of a Creole family in New Orleans. The pair were again about a year later in San Francisco, where Sharland was then engaged in the insurance business.

They met a few weeks ago at the opening of a play at the Bijou Theater, where Sharland called upon Mr. Bernard. Sharland said little about himself, but it was evident to Mr. Bernard that he had left his wife and child on account of trouble with her family.

Cannot Bear the Weight. DO YOU SEE HOW WEAK THAT POOR mortal is? And yet he is apparently a well-preserved man. He is a more tired. It is too much for him, though. He has a weak back. That is brought on by early excesses; and, no matter whether you have to carry anything on your shoulders or not, a weak back is a most distressing thing to have. It is most often caused by straining, draught and waste of vitality. It indicates loss of power and shows weakness. Usually it is accompanied by evil dreams and of entire loss of sleep. These things must be remedied, or you will find that complete nervous prostration will ensue. You cannot afford to risk that. But do not get disheartened. HUDYAN, the great remedio-treatment, will cure you and place you right on your feet again, no matter how badly you may have abused the gifts of nature. HUDYAN will give you that glorious feeling of strength and vigor which is most enjoyed by the strong. HUDYAN has done this for 15,000 poor sufferers in America alone. Would you not rather be strong and vigorous and be able to stand up like a man than to have to bend double like this poor mortal? Write and ask about the great HUDYAN. It will be a pleasure to the doctors to send you free advice. They want to help you. They want to do you good. They want to see you with bright eyes, strong nerves, and as full of power as a whole man should be. If you have blood taint, or any other disease—catarrh, kidney or liver trouble—write with equal confidence. All advice is free, and it is the best advice that can be had on this continent for love or money. Circulars and testimonials telling all about the great good HUDYAN has done, and "30-day blood cure circulars," absolutely free.
