

BOUND TO A TREE AND HUNG BY HIS NECK. A TREE AND HUNG BY HIS NECK.

Little Percy Lockyar the Victim of a Boy Fiend.

Body of the Child Found at the Bottom of a Creek.

Pierced by Knife Wounds and the Skull Crushed in by Heavy Blows.

THE GUILTY LAD IN JAIL.

Had Sought to Emulate the "Heroes" of Trashy Literature of the Day.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 16.—The body of five-year-old Percy Lockyar, who is believed to have been murdered on Friday night by 15-year-old Samuel Henderson, was today found in the bottom of "Reddie's" Creek, at Sixth and Catharine streets, and there seems little doubt in the minds of the police that young Henderson is guilty of the crime.

He is now locked in a cell at police headquarters. The body of the child, when found, was weighted by two heavy stones, one about his neck and the other around his ankles. His skull was crushed in and there was a knife thrust just above the heart and similar wounds on his breast, side and forehead, while on one side of his face was a long cut extending from below the eye to the chin.

From what the police have been able to learn, the crime seems to have been one of the most horrible character, and, if all details are true, it stamps young Henderson as a degenerate of the knife type. Yesterday after his arrest, he admitted a knowledge of the knife thrust, but said that it was due to the child accidentally coming against an open knife. Henderson became alarmed at this, he said, and threw the body into the creek. Today, however, when shown the mutilated body of the child, he admitted that he was responsible for the other cuts as well, but he still persisted that it was an accident.

The police believe it was a planned murder in which the guilty one purposely ending the life of another small boy, Willie Addison, aged seven years. Henderson, it is claimed, has been reading trashy novels of the wild west stamp, and has shown a desire to emulate the "heroes" of those tales. The police assert that Henderson accompanied Lockyar and Addison to the woods, as he told yesterday, but instead of any accident happening to Addison, Henderson, who was carrying a tree, Addison broke away and ran home. It was then, it is said, that young Lockyar's murder was accomplished. Dr. Morton, the coroner's physician, who explained the thrust to the heart, said that it caused the death of the little fellow.

The police searched for the body during all of last night, and it was not until after daylight this morning that the body of the child was found. It was given a hearing to-morrow morning. A fact that has come out in connection with Henderson's alleged crime is that his father, John D. Henderson, was on trial before Judge Reed in October, 1892, charged with killing a man named Christopher Nelson. The killing was the outcome of a quarrel. Henderson when arraigned pleaded guilty to manslaughter. He was remanded for sentence, but some time later it was shown that the death was largely accidental and there was no murderous intent. He was admitted to bail and is now a free man.

WEDDED IN A CLEAN WAVE.

Sausalito Justice Conducts a Marriage Service at Sea.

Between His Sea-Sick Spells He Makes a Couple Man and Wife.

Mary Campbell and M. S. Seibert Evade the Divorce Laws of the State.

Special Dispatch to The Call.

SAUSALITO, Jan. 16.—There was a romantic marriage on the high seas today, and Justice Beltrude of Sausalito, who has grown gray in service on the bench, officiated and a strange scene was witnessed. The Justice long since passed the half-century mark, and though he once could withstand the rolling of the ocean, the peculiar sensations of the sea now affect him. To-day the Justice suddenly gave way to his feelings as he was performing the ceremony that made a love-sick couple man and wife.

Mary Campbell had been the wife of a man named Burns and had procured a divorce from him last December. Then Mary Campbell, who preferred the maiden name for reasons best known to herself, fell in love with M. S. Seibert, whose residence is on Second street in the metropolis, and the love grew apace as the days went by. Both resolved that the law which the Legislature had framed to the effect that people who had been divorced had no maiden name for reasons best known to themselves, was a bit of foolishness. To circumvent it they decided to brave the ocean's wrath and the law's also, and so they came to Sausalito and hired the swift little cutter from Charles Forrest and put to sea.

It was 12:30 o'clock to-day when the tug, with the party on board, set out. In the party were Mary Campbell and the bridegroom, M. S. Seibert, the happy groom; Justice J. S. Beltrude of Sausalito, and H. Nelson, the engineer and captain of the little tug. Over the bounding waves, through the choppy sea, the tug sped to a point beyond the three-mile limit, the little tug swept. To the surprise of all the Justice grew sick at heart and the lunch he partook of before he left the peaceful port took occasion to distress him mightily.

When the captain believed he had reached the limit of the United States' jurisdiction he informed the little party and the ceremony of taking Campbell and Seibert in holy wedlock was performed. Justice Beltrude opened his mouth and commenced to utter the stereotyped words and the couple stood up in the rocking boat. Beyond the Justice experienced an attack that left him speechless. He tried hard to resist the ocean's tempest but failed, and in fits and starts performed the ceremony. When it was at last over, and Sausalito was again reached, the Justice thanked heaven and pocketed his fat fee, while the happy couple lost themselves in the crowd.

STRAINED RELATIONS OF CHILE AND ARGENTINA.

Recent Diplomatic Disclosures That Tend to Increase the Possibilities of War.

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—A Washington special to the Herald says: Little surprise is expressed in diplomatic circles at the announcement that Argentina and Chile are on the verge of a war. The friction between the two governments has been recently very great. It is known here that the hostile attitude of Argentina toward Chile in 1892, in offering the United States permission to use its territory for warlike purposes against Chile, became known to the Chilean Government only very recently, and the latter, it is said, has excellent information concerning the whole affair. The history of the Chilean case is told in the Herald of Monday last, and caused something of a sensation among the Latin-American diplomats. The Chilean Government is incensed over the disclosures, and it is believed when the facts reach the Chilean public the situation may become even more grave.

Minister Gan, the diplomatic representative of Chile in Washington, could not be seen to-night, but his son told that his father had no doubts that Chile was preparing to go to war with Argentina, and did not believe the remedy. The reason that men had been content to worship humanity as God was ascribed to the fact that they recognized a larger responsibility than that of man.

YOUNG DORA CLAY RETURNS TO WHITEHALL.

Her Aged Husband Is Much Affected Upon Receiving Her, and Exclaims, "Thank God, They Have Not Killed You!"

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—A special to the Herald from Valley View, Ky., says: Dora Clay was unable to walk to the home of her husband, General Cassius M. Clay, yesterday, and, after going a short distance, returned to the home of her sister, Mrs. Mary Kelly, where she remained all night under guard of her brothers, John and Tom. She walked across the fields, nearly a mile, to the home of Squire J. M. Mastin, to-day, and, although he refused to let her have a horse yesterday, she again importuned him. The squire, not having heard any more of Ciel Richardson, could not resist the pleadings of the girl-wife, who was so anxious to go and see her husband, and he loaned her a horse and driver. She told him she would return it tonight.

Jim Litterell, one of General Clay's hired men, says Dora arrived at Whitehall this afternoon in company with her brother, Will Richardson, who had been arrested at the place by General Clay and who had been accused by him with trying to keep Dora away. The general was greatly wrought up by the news, and exclaimed: "Thank God, they have not killed you."

FIVE THOUSAND SOCIALISTS ENGAGE IN A DEMONSTRATION.

Ominous Rumors of Trouble That Is Brewing in Hungary and Bo-

VIENNA, Jan. 16.—Five thousand socialist workmen made a demonstration today in front of the Rathaus because Dr. Lueger, the burgo-master, has forbidden them to hold a meeting in the building. The police dispersed them and made several arrests. There are ominous rumors of trouble in Hungary, and the Agrarian socialist movement in Hungary is serious, especially in the Szabolcs district, where the land owners are menaced.

VICTIM OF THE GENOA LYNCHERS.

Adam Uber was taken from the Genoa, Nev., prison on the night of December 6, and, after having been brutally tortured, was hanged to a tree by the roadside and his body riddled with bullets. The spot where the lynching occurred is two miles from the jail, and Uber was compelled to walk this distance through the snow while almost naked. He was pounded with clubs, and, it is said, one of his eyes was gouged out. Douglas County's Grand Jury is now investigating the tragedy, and it is probable that the members of the mob will be indicted.

Uber's crime was the killing of Hans Anderson in a Gardnerville saloon. Uber, while intoxicated, asked Anderson to "stand treat," and attacked Anderson when he refused. He was knocked down, and from his position on the floor fired the shots that ended Anderson's life.

The likeness of the lynched man here presented was reproduced from the only photograph of him in existence.

GODS' PENALTIES SELF-INFLICTED.

Dr. Jordan of Stanford on the Cause of Human Misery.

Man Prone to Selfishness and Disregard of the Laws of Right.

"Carries in His Own Breast the Key to His Own Heaven or His Own Hell."

Special Dispatch to The Call.

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Jan. 16. The announcement that Dr. Jordan would deliver this morning's sermon overcrowded the chapel with students, who were desirous of learning more of their president's religious views. The subject of the sermon was "The Human Reaction." Dr. Jordan prefaced his remarks by saying: "Lincoln once said that he would walk one thousand miles to join a church which believed in God and humanity. As a humble member, it may be, of some such church I would speak to you."

He first showed how the tendencies to worship humanity arose in the revelations of power that made for righteousness and came to us from the lives and acts of other men, who were the sons of God incarnate in the human flesh and a part of our common humanity. The reason that men had been content to worship humanity as God was ascribed to the fact that they recognized a larger responsibility than that of man.

OUTLAW MATT FREEMAN ESCAPES FROM HIS CELL.

Last of the Zip Wyatt Gang of Cutthroats Breaks From an Oklahoma Prison.

GUTHRIE, O. T., Jan. 16.—Matt Freeman, the last of the old Zip Wyatt gang of outlaws, escaped from jail at Taoliga, Friday night, it was learned to-day, for the second time in a year. Freeman and his wife formerly conducted a ranch in the Glass Mountains, and it was the headquarters for the gang. Mrs. Freeman was Wyatt's most trusted lieutenant. One time the gang was besieged for a week by deputy marshals. She rode out on her horse and carried the gang's ammunition. After speaking of how slow people were to recognize that nature had her own laws and purposes, he said that he was not the executor of human justice, he added: "We smile at the zealous clergyman who predicts the destruction of San Francisco by material earthquakes, because of her moral and political delinquencies. We stand aghast at the blasphemy of the clergyman in Pittsburgh who found in the death of a fireman, in a burning storehouse, in Chicago, a punishment for the opening of the exhibition on Sunday. God's penalties are self-inflicted, for the forces that punish sin are innate in the heart of man. Every man carries in his own breast the key to his own heaven or his own hell."

DR. JORDAN UNRUFFLED.

WON A BATTLE IN THE WATER.

Tacoma Belle Plunges Into the Waters of the Sound.

Rescued by a Longshoreman While Being Carried Out to Sea.

Handsome Bessie Anderson's Adventure Due to an Attack of Fever.

Special Dispatch to The Call.

TACOMA, Jan. 16.—Miss Bessie Anderson, the belle of Tacoma, escaped from her home last evening while delirious, went to the old Tacoma wharf, two miles distant, and jumped off into the bay. John Burns, a longshoreman, heard the splash when she struck the water. He called for help, got a rope and plunged in after her. She had been in the water nearly fifteen minutes when he succeeded in getting a rope about her and rescuing her.

A strong ebb tide was running, and Miss Anderson, who is an expert swimmer, was paddling with her hands out toward the sea when he caught her. Her clothing, together with her paddling buoyed her up until help arrived; otherwise she would not now be resting easily at the Fannie Paddock Hospital, with indications pointing to her speedy recovery.

Miss Anderson was taken ill with fever two weeks ago. Being on a strong constitution, the fever made but slight inroads, except to create in her an uncontrollable desire to get out of the house. This feature of her illness caused a strict watch to be placed on her by her mother and brother. On Friday night the latter kept vigil over his sister, and more than once had hard work to keep her in the house. Early last evening he was in the drawing-room with her when, upon the pretext that she wished to speak to her mother, she left the room.

She had no sooner closed the door than Mr. Anderson surmised her purpose, and, hurrying to the door, learned that she had gone out. Search was instituted, but proved unsuccessful until, just after he had notified the police, a telephone message announced Miss Anderson's rescue at Old Tacoma. She was hurried to the hospital in a hack. It is thought she had previously determined to go to the sound and plunge in, probably believing, in her delirium, that that was the best way to shake off the fever.

Miss Anderson is a daughter of General Adna Anderson, deceased, a prominent officer of the Engineering Department of the army during the Civil War. She is a seasonal blonde of athletic build, a leader at tennis, golf and cycling, and has attracted attention in New York society during her visits there.

A PETER THE GREAT "BOOM."

We are about to witness the outbreak of a boom on Peter the Great similar to that which has raged for some years round the person of Napoleon. Sir Henry Irving, with all the world open to him, has chosen a play on Peter the Great written by his son. With this drama the Lyceum season will open in January. Professor Irving is about to publish a life of the inevitable Peter; and Mr. J. M. Graham's historical novel, "The Son of the Czar," published by Harpers, has already attracted considerable attention. It is not likely to be widely read, as it gives a powerful presentation of Russian life at the most critical epoch of Muscovite history. There is something significant in this renaissance of Peter the Great. The empires of Europe are vanishing, one by one, and everything points to eventual collision between the Teuton and the Slav. In the meantime everything that Holy Russia and the appointed person of the Kaiser can do to magnify their respective missions will certainly be accomplished.—Harper's Weekly.

A Canadian sea captain has invented an apparatus with which he thinks whales can be killed by electric shock.

A harpoon is fixed at the end of a long metallic cable, properly insulated, and which serves in place of the usual rope. Through this cable an electric current of 10,000 volts is sent by means of a dynamo carried in the whaleboat.
