PILOTED TO VICTORY IN THE LAKESIDE STAKE BY CHARLEY THORPE.

The 8 to 5 Favorite, Judge Denny, Proved a Disappointment.

Four Favorites Tumbled Over-Joe Terry Somewhat of an Acrobat. Veragua Jumped Well.

The big crowd gathered at Ingleside track yesterday fully expected to see Judge Denny and Wheel of Fortune fight it out for the $1000 Lakeside Stake, at one and a half miles, and judge of their surprise when the brown gelding, Collins, carrying the colors of Dr. Rowell, won cleverly from Garland Barr, with the two favorites scrambling for third money.

For making an earnest effort to win the betting, and getting an overall ride, was never dangerous. Of Willie Martin's ride on the "Wheel" there is no solution. It was about as bad as the wizard ever furnished. Kept back in last position until all chance of victory was gone, she fought it out gamely to the end, finishing third. Collins and Garland Barr alternated in making the running. When a mile had been covered, the horse was scarcely perceptible. Other riders can't see their mounts all over the track and it is entirely overlooked. If the colored lad turns his neck while on the road to the wire he is rewarded with a fine. There is sense and justice in everything, and there is no just reason why it should be dealt out to Conley in the same proportion as it is to the balance of the riders.

The sport was bumpy and full of jagged points as usual. Certain cliques ran on some particular horse, and the misfortunes that some of the other starters that should be contenders meet with is truly marvelous. Two wins out of six starts was the showing made by the first choices. The betting keeps up well, and the books ought to be salting away some coin.

On Friday Sonrio, with a stable boy, could beat a prize bull at country fair, but getting in the cool end of a split race yesterday he was a very healthy article. Wawona and Claudina carried most of the money but the big crowd, in which Murphy, but neither showed to marked advantage. Sonrio, with Thorpe up, led from start to finish, and won cleverly from Claudina.

The educated ones tried to put King Willie over the plate in the six-furlong sprint following, and some wild and weird horsemanship was indulged in. There was a grand mixup turning into the backstretch, in which King Willie did not end as mapped out, and finishing strong in the stretch, the favorite, George Lee, overtook Fortunato and led him past the wire a head. Claudina came from the bushes, finishing in the show. Ridden to better advantage, the latter would probably have taken the purse.

A hard hurdle, over one mile and a half, resulted in an easy win for Veragua, backed down from two to 7-to-5 favoritism. With Huston in the saddle, he took all of the jumps in front, winning, hands down, from Monte, 8-to-1 chance, with T. Murphy up. J. O. C., with 154 pounds in the saddle, ran an excellent race, ending up in the show.

Kamsin seems to have secured a renewal of his former supply of speed. The original fifth race was declared off, and a six-furlong selling substituted in its stead, for which Mainstay, with "Skeets" Martin up, ruled an 8-to-5 choice. Claudina came from the bushes, finishing in the show. Ridden to better advantage, the latter would probably have taken the purse.

The educated ones tried to put King Willie over the plate in the six-furlong sprint following, and some wild and weird horsemanship was indulged in. There was a grand mixup turning into the backstretch, in which King Willie did not end as mapped out, and finishing strong in the stretch, the favorite, George Lee, overtook Fortunato and led him past the wire a head. Claudina came from the bushes, finishing in the show. Ridden to better advantage, the latter would probably have taken the purse.

A hard hurdle, over one mile and a half, resulted in an easy win for Veragua, backed down from two to 7-to-5 favoritism. With Huston in the saddle, he took all of the jumps in front, winning, hands down, from Monte, 8-to-1 chance, with T. Murphy up. J. O. C., with 154 pounds in the saddle, ran an excellent race, ending up in the show.

Kamsin seems to have secured a renewal of his former supply of speed. The original fifth race was declared off, and a six-furlong selling substituted in its stead, for which Mainstay, with "Skeets" Martin up, ruled an 8-to-5 choice. The big crowd, in which King Willie did not end as mapped out, and finishing strong in the stretch, the favorite, George Lee, overtook Fortunato and led him past the wire a head.
