Suicide of a Rancher's Son Near the Home He Had Not Entered in Months.

HOLLISTER, Feb. 9.—On the steps of the San Felipe church, Lionel Chase, a prominent young man of San Felipe, ended his life last night by sending a bullet through his brain.

It was a ghastly sight that greeted early travelers on the San Felipe road. On the steps of the pretty little church lay the corpse of the suicide, the right hand clasping a pistol and a gaping wound disfiguring the head.

There was a strange and unusual feature connected with this man's death. For the past two months he had been away from home, living in Los Angeles.

WOULD FIGHT THE SON OF BRECKINRIDGE

Aged Colonel Moore Issues a Public Challenge.

Angered by an Attack in the Young Man's Newspaper.

It Was Inspired and Probably Written by the Editor's Father.

EAGER TO BE AVENGED.

The Challenger Welves His Years and Demands That Satisfaction Be Given.

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE CALL.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Feb. 9.—Colonel W. C. P. Breckinridge and his son, Desha, have been challenged to mortal combat by Captain Thomas E. Moore of Shawhan, Ky., chairman of the Seventh Congressional District Democratic Committee.

This is only one of their many untruthful, unmanly, malicious attacks," says the writer, "dating from the time I refused to support their candidate for Congress."

Captain Moore says it has been suggested that their frequent attacks were for the purpose of bringing about a personal settlement, and if this is their purpose a news journal is not a proper place in which to settle such matters.

"To place myself on equal terms with my traducers I waive age," writes Captain Moore. "My assailants can place themselves on equal footing with me by making use of their left arm, I being disabled in my right arm."

Colonel Breckinridge's son, Desha, got control of the Lexington Herald shortly afterward, and the Colonel has been writing for it scathing editorials denouncing his father's opponent.

Desha Breckinridge announced in his paper last fall that he and no one else was responsible for the editorial utterances of the Herald.

"The Captain is a bit angry," the Colonel said, "but he will soon cool off."

Desha Breckinridge left town early this morning on a business trip and could not be seen to-day.

SCENES OF RIOT AT THE ZOLA TRIAL

Gowned Barristers Obstruct the Business of the Court.

The Judge Calls Upon the Soldiers to Clear the Room.

Violent Affray Follows and One Barrister Is Put Under Arrest.

RELEASED SHORTLY AFTER

Soldiers of France Determined to Tell Nothing to the Detriment of the Army.

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE CALL.

PARIS, Feb. 9.—In spite of special precautions, there was a repetition of the scenes witnessed yesterday, when the trial of Emile Zola and M. Perleux, who are being prosecuted by the Government for denouncing the Esterhazy court-martial, was resumed to-day in the Assize Court of the Seine.

Over two hundred barristers, in their robes, gathered at the public entrance and indulged in horse play.

The intervention of the military was ill received and led to a violent affray. The barristers rushed upon the Guards and struck them.

General Boisdeffre refused emphatically to testify, under the plea of professional and State secrecy.

M. Laborie protested against the limitation of the evidence of Mme. Dreyfus and denounced the scenes in court, the biased reports in the newspapers and the attacks on his client as being unworthy of France.

General Boisdeffre, replying, admitted that as Minister for War before he had testified at the Esterhazy court-martial he had received from Major Esterhazy a certain document which concerned the Dreyfus case, but he refused to give any further particulars on the ground of professional secrecy.

The general admitted that Colonel Picquart had been transferred to Tunis owing to his being favorable to Dreyfus, and the witness added that he, personally, was convinced of the guilt of Dreyfus, while other facts before and after the court-martial, which had come to his knowledge, made this conviction unshakable.

General Mercier, the former Minister for War, who was next examined, declared that he believed the documents extracted from the War Office had been communicated to the newspaper by the Dreyfus family.

M. Laborie immediately asked that Mme. Dreyfus be allowed to confront General Mercier and deny his statement, but the Judge refused to allow it.

General Mercier to say if it were true that a secret document had been communicated to the Dreyfus court-martial, but the general refused to reply.

M. Traireux, who was Minister of Justice at the time of the Dreyfus court-martial, was the next witness. After his evidence, which did not convey any startling facts, the court adjourned. The crowd outside the court cheered General Mercier, Boisdeffre and Gonz, while M. Zola was left almost unnoticed.
