

HENRY T. GAGE FOR GOVERNOR

Los Angeles Attorney to Be Put Forward for the Place.

May Profit by Not Having Editor Otis' Support Before Nomination.

Among Those Anxious to Succeed Senator White Are R. U. Bulla, U. S. Grant and A. Kinney.

Special Dispatch to The Call.

LOS ANGELES, March 3.—There is a strong and growing disposition on the part of the Southern California Republicans to get behind Henry T. Gage of this city for Governor. Mr. Gage has heretofore been frequently spoken of in connection with the United States Senatorship, to succeed White, and it was supposed he would enter the fight. It has, however, for some time been an open secret among Mr. Gage's friends that he had no disposition to strive for an office which, if secured, would take him out of California, and his friends say that he has definitely decided not to bother about the Senatorship. The same people assert that Mr. Gage would not be at all averse to accepting the nomination for Governor.

Gage is admittedly one of the strongest men in his party in this end of the State. He is a lawyer of marked ability, and is a man of great force of character. He possesses all the elements which will enable him to make a rattling campaign, including an ample private fortune. It is not believed that the relations between him and Colonel Otis of the Times, those who have been so much talked of, are so disastrous to his chances as a candidate for Governor as he was an aspirant for the Senatorship. In fact, Otis would probably decline to recede from his position in favor of the Republican candidate, but the Call correspondent can state with a degree of certainty that he will not refuse the support now being tendered him, and that his name will be presented to the next Republican State convention for the gubernatorial nomination.

This leaves the Southern California Senatorial field to Hon. R. U. Bulla of this city and U. S. Grant of San Diego, with a very strong possibility of going here that the Senatorship will go to the north. The Democrats believe that Senator White's successor should come from the south, and since that gentleman's name is always before them around for a suitable candidate. They believe they have found one in the person of Abbot Kinney, a wealthy resident of this city, who is one of the Kinney brothers who manufacture cigars. Mr. Kinney is always a prominent figure in politics here, and at present is one of Governor Budd's Yosemite commissioners. He is what is known as a reform Democrat, but it is believed that he would be easily persuaded to enter the Senatorial fight, and being in it it is believed that he would loosen up sufficiently to make it very warm for his opponents.

POLICE PROHIBIT ALL FESTIVITIES.

Russians Do Not Relish Celebrations in Honor of the Memory of a Great Polish Poet.

BERLIN, March 3.—A dispatch to the Lokal Anzeiger from Warsaw says the police have prohibited all festivities in connection with the centenary of the birth of the poet Adam Mickiewicz. The prohibition has made a great sensation. Mickiewicz, the Polish poet, was born in 1798, and died in 1855. In 1825 he visited the Crimea, which inspired a collection of sonnets greatly admired for excellence of rhythm and rich coloring. Three years later appeared his "Konrad Wallenrod," a narrative poem describing the battles of Lithuanians, the Russian order with the heathen Lithuanians. Here, under a thin veil, he represented the sanguinary passage-arms and burning hatred that had characterized the battles of Lithuanians and Russians and Poles. The objects of the poem, though evidently many, escaped the Russian censors, and it was suffered to appear. With his "Pan Tadeusz" usually considered his masterpiece, he did much to stimulate the efforts of the Poles to shake off their Russian conquerors.

HIS HOLINESS IS WARMLY ACCLAIMED.

Diplomatic Corps Accredited to the Holy See Congratulate the Pope. Commemorative Mass Held.

ROME, March 3.—The Pope to-day received in separate audience each member of the diplomatic corps accredited to the Holy See, who called to congratulate his Holiness upon the twenty-first year of his pontificate, which he celebrated yesterday in the Sistine Chapel. The Pope, wearing the triple crown, arrived in the Sedia gestatoria, the Pope's throne, surrounded by his guards and other officials. The galleries were occupied by the members of the College of Cardinals, the Knights of Malta and the Roman patriarchs. Cardinal Vannutelli celebrated mass and at its conclusion the Pope intoned the Te Deum and pronounced the apostolic benediction. There was an impressive and beautiful and his Holiness was warmly acclaimed.

Belgian Antarctic Expedition.

NEW YORK, March 3.—The Brooklyn Standard Union publishes a letter from Dr. Frederick A. Cook, surgeon of the Belgian Antarctic expedition, dated Ushuaia, Terra del Fuego, December 27. He wrote: "We have come in here to take our last supply of coal. To-morrow we will start south under steam, passing west of Cape Horn to the South Shetlands, thence to Cape Seymour, along the eastern border of Graham's land. After visiting some of the sub-Antarctic islands—Bonnets, Prince Edwards, Ker-ueland, the Belgica will be put into Melbourne to winter. There will be no wintering party left south until next year, unless the ship is held in the pack."

Appropriations Increased.

WASHINGTON, March 3.—The Senate Committee on Public Buildings and Grounds to-day made a favorable report on the following amendments to the sundry civil appropriation bill: Extension of the limit of the cost of the buildings at St. Paul to $200,000, extending the limit of the cost of the buildings at Stockton, Cal., to $150,000, and appropriating $50,000 for the purchase of a site for a public building at Butte, Mont.

PLEASURES OF PERISH AT SEA

Pleasure Craft Caught in a Squall and Capsized.

Entire Family From Bridgeport, Conn., Among the Victims.

Captain of the Schooner Loses His Three Little Boys—Only Four Survivors.

Special Dispatch to The Call.

KEY WEST, Fla., March 3.—The schooner Speedwell, Captain Collier, from Marco, Fla., for Key West, was struck by a squall to-day while off Marquesas, eighteen miles from here, and capsized. Nine persons were drowned out of thirteen on board.

Among the victims were three children of Captain Collier—George, Tom and Wilbur, aged respectively four, six and eight, and the entire Nichols family—Bradley Nichols and his wife, their son and the latter's wife, and two grandchildren. The family was from Bridgeport, Conn.

Those saved are: Captain Collier; Samuel Kates, deckhand; Jesse Green, deckhand, and R. W. Bates of Myers, Fla., a passenger.

The Nichols family is said to have been well-to-do. All had been staying for a month or two at a small hotel kept by Captain Collier at Marco, and they were on their way home.

The survivors say the Speedwell was making slow headway this morning against a head wind. About 7 o'clock Captain Collier was at the wheel and the Nichols family and the Collier children were in the cabin asleep. Suddenly a squall came howling up abeam. Kates and Green rushed to take in sail, but as the jib flapped loose the squall caught the schooner and bow overboard. The elder Mr. Nichols, the deckhands and Mr. Bates were swept into the sea, but caught the rigging just in time to save themselves.

The wind, rain and waves drowned the dying cries of the imprisoned Nichols family and the Collier children. They were penned down below like rats. The wife of the younger Nichols rose to the skylight. She waved her hand to the men, and that is the last they saw of her. The elder Mr. Nichols was the only one to get out of the cabin, but he was swept away and drowned.

The men who escaped lashed themselves to the rigging. After the sea subsided they got the dingy loose, bailed her out with a hat, broke a thwart into two pieces and with these for oars rowed toward Marquesas. After going three miles they were picked up by a fishing sloop and brought here about 4 o'clock this afternoon. Soon after being in port Captain Collier and Jesse Green went out on the yacht Buccaner, accompanied by a diver, to try to recover the bodies.

PROBABLY FATAL FALL DOWN A MINING SHAFT.

George Jennings of San Jose Badly Injured at the Senon Gravel Mine.

SAN ANDREAS, March 3.—George Jennings, a son of Byron Jennings of San Jose, who is operating the Senon gravel mine, half a mile west of town, was seriously injured in a fall from a shaft to-day. The young man was employed in the shaft, which is about seventy-five feet deep, with a sump of twenty feet, superintending the repairing of a large pump. When he started to scale the ladder to go on top he evidently slipped his foot, and he fell to the landing below and rolled through the manhole into the sump.

BLACKMAN CONVICTED OF EMBEZZLEMENT.

As Secretary of the Los Angeles Lighting Company He Purloined $3000.

LOS ANGELES, March 3.—At 11 o'clock this evening a jury, after being out five hours, found W. R. Blackman, ex-secretary of the Los Angeles Lighting Company guilty of embezzlement. Blackman was for many years in the employ of the company. He was an expert accountant and it was a great surprise to the people of this city when some time ago he was found to be an embezzler. Blackman was admitted to the officers of the lighting company, stating that he had taken some property, and another son promised to put on a little too much flesh. Otherwise his appearance is always one of supreme elegance—an elegance increased by esthetic originality.

AGED MOTHER AGAINST SON

Mrs. Flannelly's Story of the Redwood City Tragedy.

Prisoner Listens With Stolid Indifference to Her Testimony.

Sister of the Parricide Also Relates the Circumstances of the Crime.

Special Dispatch to The Call.

SAN JOSE, March 3.—The story of the killing of Patrick Flannelly by his son Thomas Flannelly at Redwood City on October 26 last was told in Judge Lorigan's court to-day by the defendant's mother and sister. Flannelly sat beside his attorneys and showed not the least bit of emotion. He did not look up as his aged mother entered the courtroom weeping. He sat impassively through the proceedings, and not once did he voice as the story of his horrible crime was retold.

The courtroom was crowded with spectators. When court opened this morning District Attorney Walker of San Mateo County made the opening statement of the case for the prosecution. His outline was a repetition of the facts of the crime as told before.

W. P. Gilbert, County Surveyor of San Mateo County, was the first witness. He produced a map of the house of Patrick Flannelly, where the homicide occurred, and explained the drawing.

John Kerr, brother-in-law of Flannelly, then took the stand. He lived at the home of his wife's father and was in the house at the time of the murder. The witness said Flannelly came to his house about 8:30 o'clock that night and asked "Where is Pop?" On being told that his father was in bed the defendant rushed upstairs. Then there were some words between father and son. Flannelly was heard to say, "You have served some papers on me and I told you not to do it when you served some papers on me before." The father replied to the effect that he did not wish to annoy his son personally by what he had done. His sole object had been to compel the father to get out of the business. Then the son said, "Take these back," repeating the words in a loud tone three times. These exclamations were followed by the words, also repeated three times, "Do you see this?" and three times "I told you so." After the shooting the son ran downstairs and rode away to the ranch.

Mrs. Kerr gave similar testimony to her husband. She said that when her brother started to ask her to help him if he had shot his father and he replied, "Yes, I shot him—shot him right through the brain." She said her father kept a pistol between the mattresses. She denied that four shots had been fired.

Mrs. Catherine Flannelly, widow of Patrick Flannelly and mother of the accused, was then supported to the stand. She was heavily veiled and was weeping as she took the stand. She did not look toward her son. Her story was as follows:

"My husband retired about 6:30 o'clock that night. About 8:30 Tom came up the stairs. He came into my room, lighted a cigar and went to my husband's room. He left the door open, so I could see what was happening. Tom asked his father why he had the papers served upon him, and his father replied that as far as he was concerned it was all right, but that he did not want Doyle to stay there without paying rent. Tom was furnishing the family with milk and butter. When Tom asked his father to take the papers back his father told him to go away, as he was drunk. Tom said he was not drunk, and then pulled out a pistol. His father said: 'Don't point that at me,' but Tom began shooting right away. I saw him hit the pistol in his hand and saw the shots fired. At the time he was shot Mr. Flannelly was leaning on his elbow, and his other hand was at his side. He did not do anything to prevent Tom from shooting him. The bed covers were lying on him except on his shoulders. There was a pistol under the mattress, but I am sure he never had it out. About two weeks before I told Tom that if he would not have anything more to do with Doyle there would be no more trouble."

Mrs. Flannelly said that Tom had always been dutiful and obedient up to the time of the sad occurrence and had never done anything to give pain to his parents. Tom had always been a hard working boy. He worked six years on the ranch, and before that had been for many years in the employ of the Spring Valley Water Company in San Francisco. Besides furnishing the family with milk Tom paid the insurance and taxes on the dairy property. She said she had not seen her son since the night of the crime. She said that in conversation with Tom weeks before her husband had told Tom that he did not want Doyle to remain on any of the property, and that he would get rid of Doyle as soon as he could get some one to take his place.

New Island Thrown Up.

PARIS, March 3.—An island, it is announced here, has suddenly appeared on the northwest coast of Borneo, opposite the town of La Buau. HEALTH OFFICERS OF LOS ANGELES ON THE TRAIL OF BUTCHERS.

Colts Cut Up and Sold to the Public as Choice Veal.

Two Markets Found to Contain Flesh Wholly Unfit for Human Food.

Special Dispatch to The Call.

LOS ANGELES, March 3.—Horse meat and the flesh of colts has been sold in Los Angeles markets for veal and nice cuts of beef. Not until to-day was this fact clearly established beyond any doubt, although the police and health departments have for some weeks been aware of the fact that extraordinary flesh of some kind was being worked up on the public.

Meat Inspector Hughes has discovered that B. Gatterez, who owns and conducts a meat market at Ord and New High streets, is one of the syndicate who have been disposing of choice roasts off young colts and steak that came from the body of old and decrepit mustangs. At an early hour this morning Gatterez was held up by Police Officer Lennon. He was driving a double team at the time, and when asked what he had in his wagon said that it was a carcass of a calf which he had purchased with the cow that was leading. The officer only made a superficial examination, and when Gatterez gave his place of business and that he had purchased the calf from a dairyman named Andorf, in Eagle Rock Canyon, he was allowed to go his way. It was quite dark at the time, but whether the officer's suspicions were aroused by the peculiar appearance of the animal, which afterward turned out to be a yearling colt, or some other cause, he reported the matter to headquarters when he went in.

As soon as Detectives Auble and Flammer came in they were notified, and, knowing that Gatterez was under suspicion, they, with Meat Inspector Hughes, at once commenced an investigation. Flammer drove out to Andorf's place and found that Gatterez had purchased two colts there the evening before. This fact being established Auble went to Gatterez's shop, and after making some inquiries went out into the back yard where he found one of the colts tied up. There was what appeared to be a pile of gunny sacks lying on the ground, and three of the colts were curled up in a headless carcass of the other colt was found. The first joints of the legs had been removed, evidently at the place where the colt was butchered, as no traces of a hoof or hoof print were found about the place the missing head was found in a barrel.

Later Inspector Hughes returned on a new trail. He had traced another horse last night to a house, where a butcher named Cicci, who runs the Arizona market. The house contains three rooms and is fifth in the block. In one of the sleeping rooms there was indisputable evidence that some sort of a carcass had been butchered during the night. There were numerous bloodstains on the floor, which Inspector Hughes unhesitatingly pronounced horseflesh.

Another visit to Gatterez's shop disclosed the fact that a cow which was being prepared for sale had been cut up for customers. This was condemned and carried away. Meat Inspector will push his investigation and the sale of horseflesh and other products will become a demoralized local industry.

WAKE UP!

HOW MUCH LONGER do you propose to dream? Do you feel yourself becoming weaker day by day? Do you propose to do anything about it, or do you propose to lie down and die? You have your own future in your own keeping, and do you really mean to say that it is pleasant to know that you are but half a man? If you heard some one say that about you in the sidewalk you would be annoyed—but it's the truth. Why not be a man? Are you ashamed to ask help? A few thousand people felt in just the way you do. But each one of them decided that it was better to seek help, if help could be had. Do you want to know who they were? A 2-cent stamp will bring you a heap of circulars and testimonials telling you all about "HUDYAN," the great remedial treatment. "HUDYAN" has cured over ten thousand people. Do you imagine that your case is the worst the world has ever seen? Cease your fretting. It matters not as to whether you have blood taint, catarrhal trouble or kidney disease, a perforated liver or a fit of nervous depression; all alike are very promptly helped by the doctors of the Institute. But you have got to make the first effort. Why not make it TODAY? If you want to continue to be puny, you certainly can do so, but any human being, if he has his faculties unimpaired, wants to

A NEW ERA IN GOLD MINING

Unique Reduction Works to Be Established at Barstow.

Important Event in Southern California's Mining History.

Capital Invested in Low Grade Ore Ledges Will Soon Begin to Yield Returns.

Special Dispatch to The Call.

POMONA, March 3.—A most important event in Southern California mining is the contracting for a fifty-stamp mill, combined with a modern cyanide and smelter, at Barstow, in San Bernardino County. The contract for the reduction works has been signed this week, the Colorado Iron Works of Denver getting it. Stamps will be set up by June, and the whole reduction plant will be ready to do business by August.

F. M. Moers and C. D. Burcham, who have made fortunes in Randsburg and desert mines, back the enterprise, and the Santa Fe Railroad Company has also aided the project. In some particulars the cyanide works will be unique.

Samuel W. Belding of St. Louis, who bought the White Granite group of low-grade gold mines on the Mojave desert several weeks ago for $400,000, said to-day: "The reduction works at Barstow will be the best that money can provide. The works will do much toward the development of the mining industry of Southern California. The opening of this plant will mark a new era in gold mining in this region. Tens of thousands of dollars now invested in low-grade ledges will begin to yield returns because of the machinery installed. It will be able to handle 500 tons of ore a day by the three reduction processes, and by some additions at any time the capacity may be increased to 800 tons. Some of the machinery is loaded at Denver now and the grading for the spur railroad which will connect the reduction works with the Santa Fe Railroad is progressing.

DECISION TO BE TESTED.

Are the Los Angeles Police Courts Illegally Constituted?

LOS ANGELES, March 3.—The decision of Judge Van Dyke declaring the Police Courts of this city to be illegally constituted is to be tested in the Supreme Court of the State. George Mitchell was tried by Police Judge T. T. Owens and convicted of disturbing the peace, receiving thirty days sentence therefor. His attorneys have filed a petition for a writ of habeas corpus, and filed it with the clerk of the Supreme Court. The writ is asked for on the ground that the Police Courts of this city are constituted in violation of the constitution, and also inapplicable to the case, which has a population of over 100,000 people.

VARSITY TEAM AGAIN BEATEN.

PALO ALTO, March 3.—To-day the Stanford Varsity again met defeat on the football field. This time, in place of the team which was defeated by the Santa Clara team last week, it was the team which was defeated by the Santa Clara team 9 to 4. The difference in the play of the two teams was marked. The Santa Clara team showed a more aggressive and particularly clever with the stick, relying for hits for the most part on punts. The Stanford players were more nervous and seemed over anxious when batting. This resulted in Kelly striking out eight men, while the Stanford team only had a beltry. In holding the Santa Clara boys played a better game, covering more ground and rarely missing a play. A new man was tried out in the Stanford back, Wrigley '01 pitched nine innings for, but his work was not so steady, as he walked but one man.
