

DIAMOND KING... Strange Conduct of Governor Rogers of Washington.

He Pigeonholes Without Explanation a Requisition From This State.

Attorney for the Swindler Confident That He Will Obtain His Liberty.

SEATTLE, March 12.—Great interest is manifested here and many complications have arisen over the arrest of Joseph Schwartz, the diamond king, who is charged with larceny in San Francisco.

This comment on the action of the Governor in granting a continuance from several days back to Monday was one of the interesting features of the preliminary examination of the diamond king this afternoon.

Mr. Fulton then said that in view of the fact that the case would come up before Governor Rogers Monday he would ask that the case be continued until next Thursday.

After the Justice had decided to hold the prisoner until the Governor's decision, Mr. Schwartz was a long argument as to whether it should be pending the decision by the Governor or until a certain date.

Attorney Winstock returned last night from San Francisco, where he has been in an effort to secure affidavits that would go over until next Tuesday.

The courtroom was crowded when the case was called at 10 a. m. by Judge Hamlin. The special venire of fifty jurors summoned to appear in court were all on hand, and the court and attorneys proceeded to secure the remaining three men needed to complete the jury.

An adjournment was taken to Monday at 2 o'clock a. m. At that time District Attorney Bell will make the opening statement for the State, and the taking of evidence will begin. There will be twenty-six witnesses examined for the prosecution, and five have been subpoenaed for the defense.

LOS ANGELES, March 12.—A large party of representative citizens left here this morning upon the invitation of Captain John Cross to attend a celebration at Nordhoff, Ventura County. The occasion was the running of the first train over and opening for business the Ventura and Ojai Valley Railroad.

After a trip of sixteen miles through beautiful valleys and past unequalled mountain scenery the train pulled into the town of Nordhoff, in the midst of Ojai, one of the largest and most fertile valleys in this part of the south.

The Ventura and Ojai Valley road is the enterprise of Captain John Cross of this city, backed by a general body of citizens of the State.

PURSER'S BODY FOUND AT SEA SANTA ROSA'S JUBILEE WEEK

A Relic of the Ill-Fated Steamer Clara Nevada.

Papers in the Pockets Establish Identity Beyond a Doubt.

SEATTLE, March 12.—The steamer Cottage City, which arrived from Alaska this evening, brings news of the finding of the body of Purser George Foster Beck of the ill-fated steamer Clara Nevada, which came to grief a month ago on Vanderbilt Reef. This is the first body found, and it was accidentally picked up by the steamer Rustler on Sullivan Island last Tuesday.

Papers found in the pockets gave conclusive evidence of it being the remains of the unfortunate purser. After a careful investigation of the clothing it was discovered that a portion of his coat and trousers had been burned, showing every indication of a fire being aboard the vessel at the time of her wreck. The body was in a perfect state of preservation and his features could be recognized by all who knew him.
