

DEVAKY TAKES A FLING AT MAYOR PHELAN Declares That He Is Not an Expert in the Art of "Hefting" Sacks of Money.

Another Step Made Toward Extracting Money From the City Treasury for the Proposed Monkey Ranch in the Mission.

Even the war, with all its attendant sensational reports of impending battles and captures of prizes, could not keep the lobby and gallery of the Board of Supervisors' chambers from being crowded by those who are endeavoring to unload upon the city a "gold brick" in the real estate line.

After a free-and-easy discussion between the Supervisors and a number of citizens, which lasted for more than three hours, another blow was struck by the wedge that is designed to break open the city treasury for the extraction of a sum of money that will not be less than a quarter of a million dollars.

Even the war, with all its attendant sensational reports of impending battles and captures of prizes, could not keep the lobby and gallery of the Board of Supervisors' chambers from being crowded by those who are endeavoring to unload upon the city a "gold brick" in the real estate line.

After a free-and-easy discussion between the Supervisors and a number of citizens, which lasted for more than three hours, another blow was struck by the wedge that is designed to break open the city treasury for the extraction of a sum of money that will not be less than a quarter of a million dollars.

Even the war, with all its attendant sensational reports of impending battles and captures of prizes, could not keep the lobby and gallery of the Board of Supervisors' chambers from being crowded by those who are endeavoring to unload upon the city a "gold brick" in the real estate line.

After a free-and-easy discussion between the Supervisors and a number of citizens, which lasted for more than three hours, another blow was struck by the wedge that is designed to break open the city treasury for the extraction of a sum of money that will not be less than a quarter of a million dollars.

Even the war, with all its attendant sensational reports of impending battles and captures of prizes, could not keep the lobby and gallery of the Board of Supervisors' chambers from being crowded by those who are endeavoring to unload upon the city a "gold brick" in the real estate line.

After a free-and-easy discussion between the Supervisors and a number of citizens, which lasted for more than three hours, another blow was struck by the wedge that is designed to break open the city treasury for the extraction of a sum of money that will not be less than a quarter of a million dollars.

Even the war, with all its attendant sensational reports of impending battles and captures of prizes, could not keep the lobby and gallery of the Board of Supervisors' chambers from being crowded by those who are endeavoring to unload upon the city a "gold brick" in the real estate line.

After a free-and-easy discussion between the Supervisors and a number of citizens, which lasted for more than three hours, another blow was struck by the wedge that is designed to break open the city treasury for the extraction of a sum of money that will not be less than a quarter of a million dollars.

Even the war, with all its attendant sensational reports of impending battles and captures of prizes, could not keep the lobby and gallery of the Board of Supervisors' chambers from being crowded by those who are endeavoring to unload upon the city a "gold brick" in the real estate line.

After a free-and-easy discussion between the Supervisors and a number of citizens, which lasted for more than three hours, another blow was struck by the wedge that is designed to break open the city treasury for the extraction of a sum of money that will not be less than a quarter of a million dollars.

Even the war, with all its attendant sensational reports of impending battles and captures of prizes, could not keep the lobby and gallery of the Board of Supervisors' chambers from being crowded by those who are endeavoring to unload upon the city a "gold brick" in the real estate line.

After a free-and-easy discussion between the Supervisors and a number of citizens, which lasted for more than three hours, another blow was struck by the wedge that is designed to break open the city treasury for the extraction of a sum of money that will not be less than a quarter of a million dollars.

Attention to the organized and persistent efforts made by the best people of the Mission and of the city to prevent the consummation of the purchase. "Why are these people so anxious to have us spend our money?" he asked. "Where had the project its origin? The scheme was concocted in the law office of the city, where about a dozen men were present, about a year ago. I have been informed that it was the idea of the late Mayor, who had a certain real estate agent for $300,000, yet an attempt is being made to force the city to pay for it $375,000."

He asserted that the money asked for the purchase of this tract would be used for the erection of schoolhouses, for the paving of streets, for a new hospital and for improved sewerage, and advised that not less than $200,000 would be required for the maintenance and improvement of the tract.

He stated that the owner of the tract was a resident of the city, and that he was opposed to the sale of the tract, and that he was the hardest case he had ever known.

He stated that the owner of the tract was a resident of the city, and that he was opposed to the sale of the tract, and that he was the hardest case he had ever known.

He stated that the owner of the tract was a resident of the city, and that he was opposed to the sale of the tract, and that he was the hardest case he had ever known.

He stated that the owner of the tract was a resident of the city, and that he was opposed to the sale of the tract, and that he was the hardest case he had ever known.

He stated that the owner of the tract was a resident of the city, and that he was opposed to the sale of the tract, and that he was the hardest case he had ever known.

He stated that the owner of the tract was a resident of the city, and that he was opposed to the sale of the tract, and that he was the hardest case he had ever known.

He stated that the owner of the tract was a resident of the city, and that he was opposed to the sale of the tract, and that he was the hardest case he had ever known.

He stated that the owner of the tract was a resident of the city, and that he was opposed to the sale of the tract, and that he was the hardest case he had ever known.

He stated that the owner of the tract was a resident of the city, and that he was opposed to the sale of the tract, and that he was the hardest case he had ever known.

He stated that the owner of the tract was a resident of the city, and that he was opposed to the sale of the tract, and that he was the hardest case he had ever known.

He stated that the owner of the tract was a resident of the city, and that he was opposed to the sale of the tract, and that he was the hardest case he had ever known.

He stated that the owner of the tract was a resident of the city, and that he was opposed to the sale of the tract, and that he was the hardest case he had ever known.

of absence from the State, to take effect whenever he responds to the call of the general Government for the service of the National Guard of this State, the said leave of absence to continue during the time his services are so required.

Supervisor Clinton introduced the following resolution: Whereas, it has been declared by this body against Spain, the prime cause of which was the cruelties practiced in Cuba by the Spaniards that island was becoming depopulated;

Whereas, the people of all classes and denominations and the utter disregard paid to the rights of the people by Spain, who, by her barbarous and inhuman rule, had succeeded in almost decimating Cuba; and

Whereas, the United States policy of intervention had been adopted by our Government still further horrors would have shocked the humanity of the world;

Resolved, That this board is in entire sympathy with the policy adopted by our Government and will to the extent of its power aid, by such appropriations of money as may be required, to relieve the most city officials in necessitous circumstances who may resign their positions to give their services to the National Government.

It was referred to the finance committee. A resolution, introduced by Supervisor Rottanz, requesting the Market Street Railway Company and the Suto Railway Company to file annual statements of their operations for the year ending June 30, 1898, was adopted.

A resolution was adopted calling on the City Attorney for further information in the case of the City of San Francisco, who had lost certain property along Mission Creek, by reason of the "neglect or design of the City Attorney's predecessor."

The object of the resolution is to ascertain if the case can be referred to the Board of Public Works, and if so, to hold monthly entertainments of boxing and wrestling in its club rooms, to the benefit of the city.

The privilege was accorded the Occidental Handball and Athletic Club to give entertainments in its club rooms at 120 Grove street, between the 15th and 30th of May, 1898.

The heads of the various municipal departments were requested to report to the board on or before the 15th of July, 1898, the condition of their respective departments for the year ending June 30, 1898, embracing all their operations, receipts and expenditures.

It was ordered that the contract for one year, ending June 30, 1899, for supplying the Fire Department, public offices and departments with coal, be referred to the board for its consideration.

That it is expressly understood that the city shall not be held responsible for deliveries under this contract.

Clerk John A. Russell was granted a leave of absence for thirty days, he to select the time for his vacation. This was tendered him as a mark of appreciation for his thirty years of continuous service.

Supervisor Devaky, as a member of the Finance Committee, treated the members of the board and the large assembly of spectators to a timely and very interesting dissertation on the art of "hefting," using the Mayor as a living illustration of what constitutes a failure in that respect.

Supervisor Devaky, as a member of the Finance Committee, treated the members of the board and the large assembly of spectators to a timely and very interesting dissertation on the art of "hefting," using the Mayor as a living illustration of what constitutes a failure in that respect.

Supervisor Devaky, as a member of the Finance Committee, treated the members of the board and the large assembly of spectators to a timely and very interesting dissertation on the art of "hefting," using the Mayor as a living illustration of what constitutes a failure in that respect.

Supervisor Devaky, as a member of the Finance Committee, treated the members of the board and the large assembly of spectators to a timely and very interesting dissertation on the art of "hefting," using the Mayor as a living illustration of what constitutes a failure in that respect.

Supervisor Devaky, as a member of the Finance Committee, treated the members of the board and the large assembly of spectators to a timely and very interesting dissertation on the art of "hefting," using the Mayor as a living illustration of what constitutes a failure in that respect.

Supervisor Devaky, as a member of the Finance Committee, treated the members of the board and the large assembly of spectators to a timely and very interesting dissertation on the art of "hefting," using the Mayor as a living illustration of what constitutes a failure in that respect.

Supervisor Clinton introduced the following resolution: Whereas, it has been declared by this body against Spain, the prime cause of which was the cruelties practiced in Cuba by the Spaniards that island was becoming depopulated;

Whereas, the people of all classes and denominations and the utter disregard paid to the rights of the people by Spain, who, by her barbarous and inhuman rule, had succeeded in almost decimating Cuba; and

Whereas, the United States policy of intervention had been adopted by our Government still further horrors would have shocked the humanity of the world;

Resolved, That this board is in entire sympathy with the policy adopted by our Government and will to the extent of its power aid, by such appropriations of money as may be required, to relieve the most city officials in necessitous circumstances who may resign their positions to give their services to the National Government.

It was referred to the finance committee. A resolution, introduced by Supervisor Rottanz, requesting the Market Street Railway Company and the Suto Railway Company to file annual statements of their operations for the year ending June 30, 1898, was adopted.

A resolution was adopted calling on the City Attorney for further information in the case of the City of San Francisco, who had lost certain property along Mission Creek, by reason of the "neglect or design of the City Attorney's predecessor."

The object of the resolution is to ascertain if the case can be referred to the Board of Public Works, and if so, to hold monthly entertainments of boxing and wrestling in its club rooms, to the benefit of the city.

The privilege was accorded the Occidental Handball and Athletic Club to give entertainments in its club rooms at 120 Grove street, between the 15th and 30th of May, 1898.

The heads of the various municipal departments were requested to report to the board on or before the 15th of July, 1898, the condition of their respective departments for the year ending June 30, 1898, embracing all their operations, receipts and expenditures.

It was ordered that the contract for one year, ending June 30, 1899, for supplying the Fire Department, public offices and departments with coal, be referred to the board for its consideration.

That it is expressly understood that the city shall not be held responsible for deliveries under this contract.

Clerk John A. Russell was granted a leave of absence for thirty days, he to select the time for his vacation. This was tendered him as a mark of appreciation for his thirty years of continuous service.

Supervisor Devaky, as a member of the Finance Committee, treated the members of the board and the large assembly of spectators to a timely and very interesting dissertation on the art of "hefting," using the Mayor as a living illustration of what constitutes a failure in that respect.

Supervisor Devaky, as a member of the Finance Committee, treated the members of the board and the large assembly of spectators to a timely and very interesting dissertation on the art of "hefting," using the Mayor as a living illustration of what constitutes a failure in that respect.

Supervisor Devaky, as a member of the Finance Committee, treated the members of the board and the large assembly of spectators to a timely and very interesting dissertation on the art of "hefting," using the Mayor as a living illustration of what constitutes a failure in that respect.

Supervisor Devaky, as a member of the Finance Committee, treated the members of the board and the large assembly of spectators to a timely and very interesting dissertation on the art of "hefting," using the Mayor as a living illustration of what constitutes a failure in that respect.

Supervisor Devaky, as a member of the Finance Committee, treated the members of the board and the large assembly of spectators to a timely and very interesting dissertation on the art of "hefting," using the Mayor as a living illustration of what constitutes a failure in that respect.

Supervisor Devaky, as a member of the Finance Committee, treated the members of the board and the large assembly of spectators to a timely and very interesting dissertation on the art of "hefting," using the Mayor as a living illustration of what constitutes a failure in that respect.

Supervisor Devaky, as a member of the Finance Committee, treated the members of the board and the large assembly of spectators to a timely and very interesting dissertation on the art of "hefting," using the Mayor as a living illustration of what constitutes a failure in that respect.

Supervisor Clinton introduced the following resolution: Whereas, it has been declared by this body against Spain, the prime cause of which was the cruelties practiced in Cuba by the Spaniards that island was becoming depopulated;

Whereas, the people of all classes and denominations and the utter disregard paid to the rights of the people by Spain, who, by her barbarous and inhuman rule, had succeeded in almost decimating Cuba; and

Whereas, the United States policy of intervention had been adopted by our Government still further horrors would have shocked the humanity of the world;

Resolved, That this board is in entire sympathy with the policy adopted by our Government and will to the extent of its power aid, by such appropriations of money as may be required, to relieve the most city officials in necessitous circumstances who may resign their positions to give their services to the National Government.

It was referred to the finance committee. A resolution, introduced by Supervisor Rottanz, requesting the Market Street Railway Company and the Suto Railway Company to file annual statements of their operations for the year ending June 30, 1898, was adopted.

A resolution was adopted calling on the City Attorney for further information in the case of the City of San Francisco, who had lost certain property along Mission Creek, by reason of the "neglect or design of the City Attorney's predecessor."

The object of the resolution is to ascertain if the case can be referred to the Board of Public Works, and if so, to hold monthly entertainments of boxing and wrestling in its club rooms, to the benefit of the city.

The privilege was accorded the Occidental Handball and Athletic Club to give entertainments in its club rooms at 120 Grove street, between the 15th and 30th of May, 1898.

The heads of the various municipal departments were requested to report to the board on or before the 15th of July, 1898, the condition of their respective departments for the year ending June 30, 1898, embracing all their operations, receipts and expenditures.

It was ordered that the contract for one year, ending June 30, 1899, for supplying the Fire Department, public offices and departments with coal, be referred to the board for its consideration.

That it is expressly understood that the city shall not be held responsible for deliveries under this contract.

Clerk John A. Russell was granted a leave of absence for thirty days, he to select the time for his vacation. This was tendered him as a mark of appreciation for his thirty years of continuous service.

Supervisor Devaky, as a member of the Finance Committee, treated the members of the board and the large assembly of spectators to a timely and very interesting dissertation on the art of "hefting," using the Mayor as a living illustration of what constitutes a failure in that respect.

Supervisor Devaky, as a member of the Finance Committee, treated the members of the board and the large assembly of spectators to a timely and very interesting dissertation on the art of "hefting," using the Mayor as a living illustration of what constitutes a failure in that respect.

Supervisor Devaky, as a member of the Finance Committee, treated the members of the board and the large assembly of spectators to a timely and very interesting dissertation on the art of "hefting," using the Mayor as a living illustration of what constitutes a failure in that respect.

Supervisor Devaky, as a member of the Finance Committee, treated the members of the board and the large assembly of spectators to a timely and very interesting dissertation on the art of "hefting," using the Mayor as a living illustration of what constitutes a failure in that respect.

Supervisor Devaky, as a member of the Finance Committee, treated the members of the board and the large assembly of spectators to a timely and very interesting dissertation on the art of "hefting," using the Mayor as a living illustration of what constitutes a failure in that respect.

Supervisor Devaky, as a member of the Finance Committee, treated the members of the board and the large assembly of spectators to a timely and very interesting dissertation on the art of "hefting," using the Mayor as a living illustration of what constitutes a failure in that respect.

Supervisor Devaky, as a member of the Finance Committee, treated the members of the board and the large assembly of spectators to a timely and very interesting dissertation on the art of "hefting," using the Mayor as a living illustration of what constitutes a failure in that respect.

HARTMAN IN "THE PURSER" The Farce a Good One, but the Star Funny, but Immoderate.

"Nancy Hanks" Shows Jansen and Company in a Better Light.

Very Gay Parisians at the Alcazar and Sumptuous Melodrama at Morosco's.

The general George Bowles, impresario, entrepreneur and jollier of the press—in a word, the Bowles who re-created bathed Anna Held in the newspapers of San Francisco—introduced at the Baldwin last night a new star in the shape of our old Tivoli friend, Ewria Hartman, and a new national musical farce of British origin called "The Purser," and which never had been presented before in this country.

Mr. Bowles prepared the American presentation with quiet legitimacy. He exploded no advance torpedoes about the play and if his star has acquired the practice of bathing daily in sixty-four quarts of Dockery-proof milk, the fact has been kept out of the newspapers.

Hartman and "The Purser" were offered simply on their merits, and as far as the flowers and enthusiasm of the Hartmanite audience would permit, were given a fair trial. "The Purser" is worth seeing, and Hartman is just as good a comedian as he used to be in the old Tivoli days.

The plot of the piece is quick and easy. Just as the purser and his bride were about to settle down to several months of stationary honeymoon he was ordered off to sea; and sooner than he could get aboard the male passenger and the ship's doctor are soon paying their several devotions to the purser's bride, under his anguished eyes; Mrs. Stanley is getting caught in the purser's stationery, repairing his underwear, under the wife's eyes; finally the captain becomes so warm in his attentions to Mrs. Purser that her indignant spouse throws discretion to the winds and knocks him down, and is ordered under arrest, whereupon both women faint in his arms.

The disentanglement, like the earlier situations, is done in the widely hopeful way of irresponsible farce, but with considerable realism and situation. In fact, the situations are very clever in invention, and as the probability of the piece is never insisted on, one does not mind the careless manner in which they are tied up. Perhaps the dialogue is more distinguished than that of the usual contemporary farce-comedy, and the characters are, for the greater part, quite sharply drawn.

Although the explanatory aside and the confidential soliloquy are a bit too prominent, "The Purser" is happy enough in point of construction to be played as straight farce without any musical embellishments, and without any funny-man antics on the part of its principal comedian. The two large vital mistakes made by Mr. Hartman are that he is forever coming out of the part to make mugs at the audience and that he sings all the time. Perhaps in the "concert" scene in the second act a single song from Hartman would not be remarkably disastrous, but the present arrangement which permits him to sing at every opportunity is directly against the fortunes of the production.

I know that Mr. Hartman used to sing yards and yards of all sorts of comic songs at the Tivoli, and that he was never so popular as when he sang directly against the fortunes of the production.

With the exception of the "concert" scene in the second act a single song from Hartman would not be remarkably disastrous, but the present arrangement which permits him to sing at every opportunity is directly against the fortunes of the production.

With the exception of the "concert" scene in the second act a single song from Hartman would not be remarkably disastrous, but the present arrangement which permits him to sing at every opportunity is directly against the fortunes of the production.

With the exception of the "concert" scene in the second act a single song from Hartman would not be remarkably disastrous, but the present arrangement which permits him to sing at every opportunity is directly against the fortunes of the production.

With the exception of the "concert" scene in the second act a single song from Hartman would not be remarkably disastrous, but the present arrangement which permits him to sing at every opportunity is directly against the fortunes of the production.

With the exception of the "concert" scene in the second act a single song from Hartman would not be remarkably disastrous, but the present arrangement which permits him to sing at every opportunity is directly against the fortunes of the production.

With the exception of the "concert" scene in the second act a single song from Hartman would not be remarkably disastrous, but the present arrangement which permits him to sing at every opportunity is directly against the fortunes of the production.

With the exception of the "concert" scene in the second act a single song from Hartman would not be remarkably disastrous, but the present arrangement which permits him to sing at every opportunity is directly against the fortunes of the production.

With the exception of the "concert" scene in the second act a single song from Hartman would not be remarkably disastrous, but the present arrangement which permits him to sing at every opportunity is directly against the fortunes of the production.

With the exception of the "concert" scene in the second act a single song from Hartman would not be remarkably disastrous, but the present arrangement which permits him to sing at every opportunity is directly against the fortunes of the production.

candor be said that the very large audience that filled the auditorium at the Alcazar last night to laugh at the "Gay Parisians" missed none of the innocent though a trifle suggestive sparkle of the best of French farces. The piece went with a snap and a crisp adroitness that left no time for pause between the constant bursts of merriment which greeted the funny situations.

Stockwell was in his best vein as the middle-aged deceiver, and Wallace Shaw as the stutterm gave him able support. The play was a comedy-drama that permits of a number of specialty introductions. The sweet melodies of the Emerald Isle were well rendered by the Acme Quartet and a number of the members of the company. But Miss Le Vyne, with an especially sweet contralto voice, was the stellar attraction and made an instantaneous hit. Her rendition of an Irish colleen was subdued, well-sustained, and melodious. She introduced among other numbers, the new patriotic song, "Remember, Boys, the Maine."

Perhaps Hartman at the Baldwin accounted for the small audience at the Tivoli last night to see the second edition of "Sinbad the Sailor." A number of new songs and specialties have been added, and altogether "Sinbad" is well worth a second visit.

"Tribly" will close with the Saturday matinee, as Melba sings on Saturday night in acts from operas in which she has never been heard here. The sale of Melba tickets commences to-morrow morning.

The new bill is attracting the usual large crowd. The living pictures are in smoother working order than at the opening.

Joseph Roder, who was taken into custody recently for having deceived Elizabeth Griffiths, a resident of Stewardville, Contra Costa county, was discharged yesterday after wedding the fair complainant.

Settled by Marriage.

Joseph Roder, who was taken into custody recently for having deceived Elizabeth Griffiths, a resident of Stewardville, Contra Costa county, was discharged yesterday after wedding the fair complainant.

Settled by Marriage.

Joseph Roder, who was taken into custody recently for having deceived Elizabeth Griffiths, a resident of Stewardville, Contra Costa county, was discharged yesterday after wedding the fair complainant.

Settled by Marriage.

Joseph Roder, who was taken into custody recently for having deceived Elizabeth Griffiths, a resident of Stewardville, Contra Costa county, was discharged yesterday after wedding the fair complainant.

Settled by Marriage.

Joseph Roder, who was taken into custody recently for having deceived Elizabeth Griffiths, a resident of Stewardville, Contra Costa county, was discharged yesterday after wedding the fair complainant.

Settled by Marriage.

Joseph Roder, who was taken into custody recently for having deceived Elizabeth Griffiths, a resident of Stewardville, Contra Costa county, was discharged yesterday after wedding the fair complainant.

Settled by Marriage.

Joseph Roder, who was taken into custody recently for having deceived Elizabeth Griffiths, a resident of Stewardville, Contra Costa county, was discharged yesterday after wedding the fair complainant.

Settled by Marriage.

Little Paloma Schramm gives the first of four supplementary recitals to-night at the Sherman and Clay Hall.

He Will Appoint an Entirely New Staff of Assistants in the Treasurer's Office.

Christian Reiss, the newly elected City Treasurer, qualified for his office yesterday. He filed a bond for $100,000 with Julius C. Reiss, Ferdinand Reiss, George T. Marry Jr. and Samuel Davis as sureties.

The office was closed yesterday, and may not be opened until to-morrow, as the new Treasurer is engaged in recounting the money in the office before he takes formal charge.

All the old attaches of the office will be dispensed with at once, except Deputy de la Montanya. Chas. Wilson will take the place of bookkeeper, Allen St. John Bowie will be one of the deputies, and Christian Reiss will be chief deputy. De la Montanya will serve as a deputy until the 1st of May, when a new man will be named for his position.

Violently Insane.

Mrs. M. Van Burkle, living at 223 Hayes street, was arrested by Officer Coleman last evening at the instigation of her brother, W. Cochran, and locked up in the insane ward at the Receiving Hospital. For months past the arrested woman has been acting in a violent manner, repeatedly striking members of the family and otherwise showing signs of a deranged mind. Mrs. Cochran states that she has spent thousands of dollars in vainly endeavoring to cure his sister. The unfortunate woman will appear before the Board of Insanity Commissioners at their next meeting.

Try our 21 Eyeglasses, 710 Market & 11 Geary.

Settled by Marriage.

Joseph Roder, who was taken into custody recently for having deceived Elizabeth Griffiths, a resident of Stewardville, Contra Costa county, was discharged yesterday after wedding the fair complainant.

Settled by Marriage.

Joseph Roder, who was taken into custody recently for having deceived Elizabeth Griffiths, a resident of Stewardville, Contra Costa county, was discharged yesterday after wedding the fair complainant.

Settled by Marriage.

Joseph Roder, who was taken into custody recently for having deceived Elizabeth Griffiths, a resident of Stewardville, Contra Costa county, was discharged yesterday after wedding the fair complainant.

Settled by Marriage.

Joseph Roder, who was taken into custody recently for having deceived Elizabeth Griffiths, a resident of Stewardville, Contra Costa county, was discharged yesterday after wedding the fair complainant.

Settled by Marriage.

Joseph Roder, who was taken into custody recently for having deceived Elizabeth Griffiths, a resident of Stewardville, Contra Costa county, was discharged yesterday after wedding the fair complainant.

Settled by Marriage.

AYES—DEVANY, HASKINS, DELANEY, SHEEHAN, DODGE, ROTTANZI, MORTON, BRITT, RIVERS. Total, 9.

Noes—Smith, Clinton, Total, 2.

Supervisor Devaky, as a member of the Finance Committee, treated the members of the board and the large assembly of spectators to a timely and very interesting dissertation on the art of "hefting," using the Mayor as a living illustration of what constitutes a failure in that respect.

Supervisor Devaky, as a member of the Finance Committee, treated the members of the board and the large assembly of spectators to a timely and very interesting dissertation on the art of "hefting," using the Mayor as a living illustration of what constitutes a failure in that respect.

Supervisor Devaky, as a member of the Finance Committee, treated the members of the board and the large assembly of spectators to a timely and very interesting dissertation on the art of "hefting," using the Mayor as a living illustration of what constitutes a failure in that respect.

Supervisor Devaky, as a member of the Finance Committee, treated the members of the board and the large assembly of spectators to a timely and very interesting dissertation on the art of "hefting," using the Mayor as a living illustration of what constitutes a failure in that respect.

Supervisor Devaky, as a member of the Finance Committee, treated the members of the board and the large assembly of spectators to a timely and very interesting dissertation on the art of "hefting," using the Mayor as a living illustration of what constitutes a failure in that respect.

Supervisor Devaky, as a member of the Finance Committee, treated the members of the board and the large assembly of spectators to a timely and very interesting dissertation on the art of "hefting," using the Mayor as a living illustration of what constitutes a failure in that respect.

Supervisor Devaky, as a member of the Finance Committee, treated the members of the board and the large assembly of spectators to a timely and very interesting dissertation on the art of "hefting," using the Mayor as a living illustration of what constitutes a failure in that respect.

Supervisor Devaky, as a member of the Finance Committee, treated the members of the board and the large assembly of spectators to a timely and very interesting dissertation on the art of "hefting," using the Mayor as a living illustration of what constitutes a failure in that respect.

Supervisor Devaky, as a member of the Finance Committee, treated the members of the board and the large assembly of spectators to a timely and very interesting dissertation on the