

SANTA FE TO CONNECT WITH VALLEY ROAD

General Manager Nevin's Trip East Is Full of Significance.

Junction to Be Made at Bakersfield and a New Overland Line Established.

LOS ANGELES, July 8.—Santa Fe officials now in this city are very reticent when questioned about the extension of the Santa Fe system to a junction with the Valley Road at Bakersfield. The reason for this silence is quite apparent when it is stated that General Manager W. G. Nevin has been in the East and is now en route home. It has leaked out, however, that the object of Mr. Nevin's journey to the East at this time was to consult with the Santa Fe directors and to receive certain instructions regarding the proposed intentions of the company to construct a link of track which will give Southern California a rival route into San Francisco and which will also give that portion of the State south of the Tehachapi Mountains a competing overland line to the East.

SAUSALITO'S MERRY WAR

Town Trustees Defied by Schwartz.

SAYS HE WILL DO BUSINESS EVERYBODY IS LOOKING FOR TROUBLE.

Ex-Marshal Creed Too Handy With His Gun—Predictions That He May Die With His Boots On.

SAUSALITO, July 8.—Henry Schwartz declared emphatically this evening that no matter what the Town Trustees may do at their meeting next Tuesday evening, he will remain and do business. He is very bitter against the Trustees, claiming that the latter are trying to force the Western Union Telegraph Company that the new firm showed no desire to act fairly and get a license.

General Dickinson said to-night that the Santa Mateo firm will have to leave in a short time because they wish to stay near the other rooms, thus making it necessary for them to travel through a lot of gamblers on the streets. The feeling is growing intensely bitter and everybody expects trouble of some nature before long.

AN INDIAN PRINCESS DEAD. Mrs. Zerriah Gould Mitchell, an Indian princess, died in her daughter's home at North Abington, Mass., recently, at the age of 81. She had lived on the shore of Lake Assawamset, about forty miles from Boston, for many years. She and her children were the only living descendants of the Indian chieftain Massasoit, whose tribe at one time numbered 30,000. Massasoit always remained friendly to the colonists in the face of many wrongs received at their hands.

AN UNFORTUNATE PRINCESS. We are very far from having heard the last of the scandal in connection with Prince Philip of Belgium and his wife, Princess Louise of Saxe-Coburg, in the first place the criminal authorities of Austria have declined to hold Captain Klevitch on the charge brought against him by Prince Philip of being concerned in the forgery of promissory notes bearing the name of Princess Louise and of her sister, Crown Princess Stephanie.

Writes in Next Sunday's Call How Millions Crushed a Man.

TWO STORITTES. One of the late James Payn's stories concerned a dean, famous as a gourmet, who, in his dinings out, was, of course, asked to say grace. The worthy dignitary first scanned the menu. If it was an ordinary repast, the dean began, "Lord, we thank thee," but, if it was Payn, "if there was turtle soup the invocation commenced, 'Bountiful Creator!'"

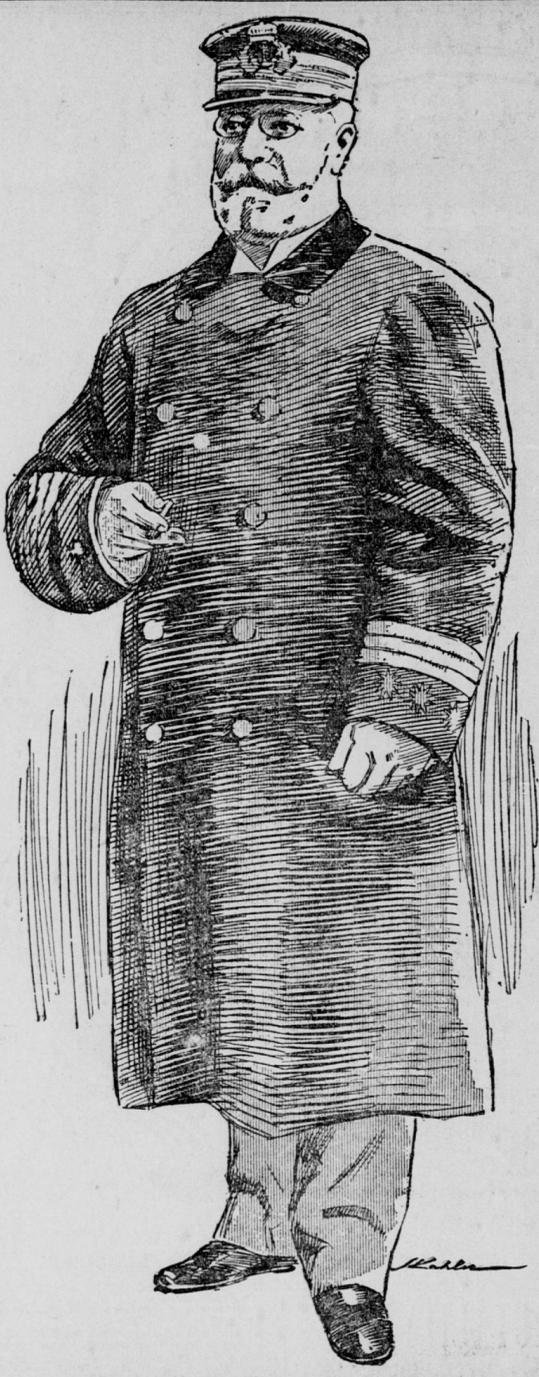

THE LATTER BARON BAUER BY NAME, is the most intimate friend of Prince Philip and acted as his second in the duel which the prince fought with the captain some months ago at Vienna. There is, therefore, a very strong suspicion that the prince has used his influence with the Minister of War to get the captain placed under restraint as a lunatic, although he is perfectly sane.

MAHER BESTS JOE GODDARD

Awarded the Decision in the Eighth.

BOTH ARE BADLY PUNISHED

PETER FREQUENTLY FLOORS HIS OPPONENT.

Wearry of Being Punched, the Barrier Champion Finally Declares That He Has Had Enough.

Special Dispatch to The Call.

NEW YORK, July 8.—Peter Maher defeated Joe Goddard to-night in eight rounds at the Lenox Athletic Club. The fight had been scheduled for twenty-five rounds, with five-ounce gloves. Goddard had defeated Maher on two previous occasions, and was the favorite among the sporting element previous to the fight.

Goddard administered a lot of hard punishment to his adversary, but received a terrific pounding while he was doing so. He was out a couple of times, but the bell saved him, and when he quit toward the end of the eighth round he was scarcely able to stand on his feet.

At the same time the fast work which both had gone through from the beginning had told on Maher, and he was unable to land a blow heavy enough to finish the Australian.

In the first round, in a lively exchange, Maher hooked his right to the forehead of his opponent, and Goddard's nose was bleeding when the gong sounded.

In the second Goddard's defense was bad, and Maher got at him frequently, but did no great damage. After some rough fighting in the third, Goddard went down again from a left swing on the face. When he got up Maher sent him down again. At the close of the fourth Goddard got in a couple of lefts on the head that staggered Maher.

Round five saw Goddard lying on the floor, and he stayed down nine seconds. Maher repeated the performance when Joe got on his feet, and the latter again took nine seconds' rest before rising.

The next two rounds were full of hard hitting on both sides, but in the eighth Maher brought his man to his knees.

The final round started lively, Goddard trying hard to reach Maher effectively, but Peter landed repeatedly on head and face. Goddard was now unable to defend himself and held his head down with the arms crossed in front of his face. Maher went at him, but could not land a knockout blow. Goddard backed away and stretched out his hands, saying as he did so: "This is more than nature can stand."

The referee then awarded the fight to Maher. Time of round 2 minutes 55 seconds.

GLOOM

Is the lot of the man who is a weak and puny mortal. Watch for the drawn face and the tired limbs. See those trembling hands. Notice the uncertain look in the eye. What brings men to this pass? The thing principally to blame is indiscretion. If you eat too much rich food you will sooner or later have dyspepsia. If you drink too freely other troubles quite as serious will face you. If you go to excess of any nature you must pay the penalty. You stunt nature and you become a weakling—a half-man. Nature resents abuse of all faculties. There is, however, relief for you if you are "down" and "all gone" to-day. You have only to ask for relief and you get it.

Then the system responds in a grand way. Life is again a pleasure. Sprits rise and full strength and fire reappear. "Hudyan" does this for the weak at all times and in all places. It has never been known to fail—indeed, it cannot fail. Circulars and testimonials are sent freely to all inquirers. These show its wondrous power in a manner that cannot be doubted. A great army of men have been restored to the full enjoyment of youthful energy by it. It makes men full of

Outcome of a Quarrel on Bouldin Island.

FERRYMAN SHOTS ANOTHER

THEN BLOWS THE TOP OF HIS OWN HEAD OFF

Steve Gordon, the Wounded Man, Will Recover—Charles Swanson, His Assailant, Had Been Drinking.

Special Dispatch to The Call.

STOCKTON, July 8.—Charles Swanson of Bouldin Island, who runs a ferry from Central Station to Andrews Island, discharged two loads from a double-barreled shotgun, this morning, into Trinity Gordon, agent for the California Navigation and Improvement Company. The shooting took place about 9 o'clock on the Sacramento side of the river, and the wounded man was brought to Stockton this afternoon on the Clara Crow. After this afternoon on the Clara Crow. After the shooting of Gordon, Swanson went into his ark, when another shot was heard. As Swanson has not been seen since it is believed he has committed suicide. The shooting was the result of a quarrel, in which Swanson was the aggressor. Gordon is not dangerously wounded. Swanson has since been learned that after firing the two shots Swanson returned to his ark and, locking the door, blew the top of his head off. The quarrel was over the fact that Gordon had carried a man across the river in a skiff after Swanson had refused to answer a signal to come after him. Swanson had been drunk for two or three days and was ugly.
