

DAWSON HAS A BUSTLING RIVAL IN ATLIN CITY

Steady Rush to the New Diggings.

IT'S A POOR MAN'S LAND

SURFACE PROSPECTS VERY PROMISING.

In Claims Within a Large Area From Eight to Twenty Dollars a Day Can Be Taken Out With Pan and Rocker.

BY HAL HOFFMAN.

Special Correspondence of The Call.

LAKE BENNETT, Alaska, Aug. 22 (by steamer) Farallon to Port Townsend, Aug. 23.—For the first time in over a year interest in the Klondike gold creeks is overshadowed by something else, the discovery of new gold diggings about 500 miles north of the El Dorado in the Yukon valley.

Reports which continue to come up from the lakes from Atlin Lake are very encouraging. Men are rushing into the region and have been since my first report of two weeks ago. Travel by steamer is very expensive, especially when one carries along an outfit sufficient for a season. Many have come to Lake Bennett and found they did not have money enough to go farther, or food enough to last them while they built a boat. They have, consequently, gone back to Dyea, Skaguay or Juneau for more money and more grub. Beyond question there will be a large-sized winter camp at the new diggings—perhaps three of them. Three towns have already been started. One is at Discovery Camp, eight miles up Pine Creek, another at the mouth of the creek, and the third at the head of Atlin Lake, the water communication between the Takou arm of Lake Tagish and Lake Atlin.

Lumber is exceedingly scarce. The erection of buildings is greatly impeded. Communities of tents are springing up as they did at first at Dyea, Skaguay and Dawson, to develop into permanent settlements. It is hardly enough lumber to construct sluice boxes for the claims. Every board shipped in is gobbled up before it leaves the water or is bought ahead. A small saw mill is making proportionately as much money as can be taken out of the best diggings in Alaska.

A half dozen other creeks which have been prospected in rich colors to the pan on the surface. All are reported to present a large area of gravel which at the surface prospects indicate that from $8 to $20 a day may be taken out with pan and rocker. In this respect it holds up a large area of the Atlin Lake district will be a poor man's country. This is already beginning to be quite generally realized.

First reports of the Atlin diggings were exaggerated by those coming out. The fact is, however, that there is gold in the Atlin diggings, possibly in Spruce creeks; that bedrock has been reached in but half a dozen places, and the surface prospects of the entire region, hundreds of miles in extent, are very promising. It is quite possible that by next spring Dawson may have a very lively rival in Atlin City, at the mouth of Pine Creek.

Real estate speculators are sending the wildest kinds of reports out and making desperate efforts to get them printed in the San Francisco and Seattle newspapers. Twenty thousand dollars is said to have been offered for Discovery claim on Pine Creek and refused. Jungas has sent on an expedition to prospect in the Atlin diggings, near that place, to Atlin, a short and comparatively easy route to Lake Atlin.

FORTUNES BROUGHT BY THE FARALLON

Returned Klondikers Carry Seven Hundred Thousand Dollars in Gold and Checks.

BY HAL HOFFMAN.

JUNEAU, Aug. 25, by steamer Farallon to Port Townsend, Aug. 28.—The Farallon brings down from Lynn Canal twenty-five Klondikers, who came up the river from Dawson. The population in Dawson is greatly congested, but it soon will be relieved, as hundreds are returning to their homes in the East by both up and down river routes.

Several were on board who had run up to the new diggings on Atlin Lake. With two or three exceptions they report the Atlin Lake region a country of great possibilities in placer mining. Most of the Klondikers aboard the Farallon are men who went in last summer and are going back home. They have no gold, except what they took in with them. A. Jinto of Douglas Island, who owns a claim at Dawson, brought out $125,000 in checks and is bound for Seattle and San Francisco. James Jensen has, his friends say, about $50,000 in checks on San Francisco and Seattle. The Farallon carries at least $700,000. The Alaska Commercial Company and the North American Trading and Transportation Company are doing most of the exchange business, for which they charge 5 per cent.

Speculators who succeeded in taking in fancy guesses and fruit this summer have turned out a profit that would make a San Francisco business man's eyes pop out and his mouth widen into a grin of astonishment as wide as a Teton. Many opportunities in this way are still open, but the greatest obstacle to overcome is to keep posted on what things are immediately needed as a good chance of being made a profit. There is considerable speculation between Juneau and Skaguay and Dawson, and a few men have turned over small fortunes in a time as short as thirty days by getting into Dawson with the right article at the right time.

MAJOR WALSH ON THE YUKON OUTPUT

Canadian Ex-Commissioner Says It Will Continue to Increase From Year to Year.

SEATTLE, Aug. 23.—The steamer South Portland arrived in port this morning from St. Michael, having left there on August 15. Purser Worm estimates the amount of gold dust on board at $150,000. Among the fortunate returned Klondikers were J. A. Walsh of Redland, Cal. He had about $12,000 in dust and nuggets. E. J. Linnen of San Francisco and his partner, Bert Floyd, about $10,000 each. Various others had amounts ranging from $100 to $13,000.

SAGASTA SAYS THAT SPAIN IS STILL AT WAR

Hostilities Are Merely Suspended.

DISCUSSION IS NOT IN ORDER

SO THE PREMIER INTENDS TO CURB THE CORTES.

A. Present the Supreme Councils of War and Marine Will Have Exclusive Control of all Peace Matters.

MADRID, Aug. 28.—Senor Sagasta, the Premier, is quoted as having, in the course of an interview, made statements declaring that it was the Government's intention to repress the discussion of war topics in the Cortes. He said that as soon as the Cortes met the Government would submit a bill authorizing peace negotiations and next a measure relating to the suppression of the constitutional guarantee.

Although Senor Sagasta did not state the nature of this measure it is supposed it will provide for the continuation of war.

"The Government," said the Premier, "will not discuss in any form the questions of peace or war. Indeed, the Deputies would be entirely lacking in the material necessary for a decision. The debate could not be issued on concrete positive facts, founded on indisputable documents, since the necessary information has not yet arrived. I believe no discussion of the surrender of Santiago and Manila will occur, nor of the destruction of the Spanish fleet, unless trustworthy data and exact proofs are at hand. Moreover, no discussion is permissible of matters at present under consideration of the supreme councils of war and marine. Mistakes or blunders may have been committed, but thus far we have not sufficient material to judge."

"Another reason why questions of peace and war should not be discussed is that the diplomatic relations are now being carried on and a debate on these subjects might be provocative of complications. It must not be said that peace is signed and discussion allowable. Peace is not signed. Spain is still at war with the United States. The two nations have merely concluded a suspension of hostilities in order to negotiate peace. These negotiations may be brought to a successful issue, but it might happen that hostilities will be recommenced."

"That is why I think the Cortes will only be able to discuss strictly non-political questions; that is, to make itself acquainted with the situation of interests now at stake which are so important for the future of the country. In debate which would assume such proportions as to infringe upon the discretion which the gravity of the circumstances requires of the Government, I should like to have the documents concerning the surrender of Santiago and Manila and the destruction of the fleet now in the Government's possession. The Government would not accede to the request. These papers are in the hands of the supreme councils, which alone, before the proclamation of peace, can conduct inquiry and establish responsibility. The inquiries may result in acquittals or severe sentences, even the capital penalty."

CAPTURED GUERRILLAS MACHETED BY CUBANS

Jibaro Taken by Assault With Cannon, the Spaniards Losing Eighty Killed.

HAVANA, Aug. 28.—The village of Jibaro, near Sancti Spiritus, Province of Santa Clara, was recently taken by the insurgents, who, it is said, captured eighteen Cuban guerrillas in a most barbarous manner, and because they were natives of the island.

Later advices from Jibaro say that on July 1 the place was attacked by insurgents under Brigadier Jose Maria Gomez, who employed cannon in the assault upon the forts, which were defended by Spanish forces. The attack was successful and the insurgents captured the place. Of the Spanish forty were killed, seventy wounded and the remainder taken prisoner.

The capture is reported to have taken place on August 12 at Brujo, Pinar del Rio Province, and was successful and the insurgents under the leader Colazo. The insurgents lost four killed and a number of wounded. They had taken place on the same day near Dona Juana between troops from Santiago Las Vegas and insurgents.

Mr. Bruzan is daily in receipt of letters of inquiry regarding the scheme, and has been writing to the United States, and many have signed a determination to go. Assistant secretary of the War Department, William J. Bryan, has been written to by the projector for information as to the character of the climate and soil of the island. Should the scheme be approved, Mr. Bruzan estimates that at least 500 families will at once embark for Porto Rico.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Aug. 28.—The preparations for a peace jubilee this fall promise to evolve the greatest demonstration Kansas City has ever seen. The movement is already well under way and a universal desire is shown to express in a fitting manner the satisfaction felt over the achievement of the armistice and the culmination of peace. Mayor Jones has appointed a committee of representatives from the various churches, clubs and societies to have general charge of the demonstration.

POSSIBLE AS Aged Mrs. Morse May Not Be Avenged.

HER SONS LOSING HOPE

SEARCH FOR THE FIEND HAS BEEN UNAVAILING.

Belief That the Death of Le Grand Morse, and Not His Mother, Was Sought by a Ring of Conspirators.

Special Dispatch to The Call.

POINT ARENA, Aug. 28.—The sons of Mrs. Morse have about given up hope of ever apprehending the fiend who murdered their aged mother. In a few days they will disperse with the services of the private detective who has been working on the case, realizing the futility of further search for the poisoner.

Downs, the blacksmith, vigorously proclaims his innocence of any connection with the crime. He declares that little Miss Bishop was mistaken when she pointed out as the man she had seen leaving the Morse residence on the evening preceding the tragedy.

Many of the residents of this place who at first refused to discuss the crime have at last given rein to their tongues and declare that Mrs. Morse was the victim of a deep-laid conspiracy. They believe there were two or more persons implicated and that the plan was to get rid not only of Mrs. Morse but of her two sons also. When asked what motive could have prompted the murder of the entire family these wisecracks suddenly become uncommunicative, stroke their chins and walk away. Lewis Morse ridicules the suspicion that the person or persons who committed the crime intended to poison him.

"In the first place," he remarked yesterday, "I never eat mutton and as arsenic was placed in the oatmeal only, it is evident that my life was not sought. Our relatives, and in fact everybody in town is aware of the fact that I am not in justice. As it appears now the awful crime will go unavenged, unless the criminal in after years, stricken by remorse, voluntarily surrenders himself prepared to meet the punishment that is awaiting him."

Mr. Morse, like his brother, Le Grand, cannot believe that Downs, the son-in-law of Le Grand, was taken up by the murder. "I know some people have placed him under the ban of suspicion," he remarked, "but for what reason I am at a loss to understand. It was never my mother, who was considered one of the family by her. He is troubled with heart failure, and being unable to do heavy work, he frequents the store which is owned by my brother. It is true that he had access to the bottle containing arsenic, which is in my brother's store, and could have done so without my knowledge. It was the irony of my fate," he remarked.

"When I picked up one of the records of the day before last, I was surprised to find that the name of Downs had been placed in the graphophone. I heard that plaintiff Mr. The Vacant Chair." Little did I think that on the following day my poor mother would meet her death at the hands of the same man.

Mrs. Spaulding remains in her room, refusing to receive visitors and breathing vengeance against the citizens who accused her of the crime. At the request of the coroner, she has been investigating the murder, Harry Morse's agency of San Francisco has wired the authorities of El Paso, Texas, asking them to trace the movements of Mrs. Spaulding's daughter a short time past to the murder. Information is desired simply to convince several of the citizens who are so anxious to believe that she had a hand in the tragedy.

DIRE THREATS MADE BY THE DEMOCRACY

Bryan to Be Renominated for President and Silver to Be the Issue in 1900.

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—Leading members of the Democratic National Committee declare with marked unanimity that William J. Bryan will be nominated for President in 1900 and that the silver question will be the main issue of the campaign.

Democrats who controlled the Chicago convention have sent dispatches to the Herald in response to a request for their opinions upon an interview in which former Governor Stone presented the nomination in 1900, saying that silver would again be the predominant issue and warning New York Democrats that they would be without standing in the National Convention if the Chicago platform next month should fail to uphold the Chicago platform or should nominate a man who would not support it.

All of the replies thus far received are from party leaders in the Southern and Western States. It is expected that the campaign of 1898 is being maintained, and silver leaders give renewed evidence of their determination to force the New York Democracy to get into line with them.

Sugar Factory to Reopen.

DECATUR, Aug. 28.—The sugar factory at Alvarado will start on the season's run to-morrow. About 2000 tons of beets have arrived from Pleasanton and the harvesting is well advanced. It is expected this year will be short, as the crop in this section is light. Many improvements have been made on the mill this year.
