

WILL DECIDE AS TO REVISION OF DREYFUS' CASE

Experts Will Go Over All the Evidence Against the Imprisoned Captain.

Many Dark Secrets Probably Locked Up in the Archives of the French Intelligence Department.

PARIS, Sept. 10.—Expectation was disappointed to-day. The Ministerial Council was to have held a special sitting with the object of hearing the War Minister's account of the Dreyfus case and the newly discovered delinquencies of the staff officers. But General Zurlinden, finding he had not yet the ground upon which to form a sound opinion, asked for an adjournment. He is a serious honorable-minded, worthy colleague of the conscientious Brisson, and was chosen to investigate the Dreyfus affair as War Minister because he is not biased and is weighted with a sense of the responsibility involved in the matter. Being a Protestant and of Bourgeois breeding, he does not share the ultra-Catholic, anti-Jewish feeling noticeable at the War Office. Having been a prisoner of war in Germany in 1870 and being an Alsatian, he is warmly patriotic and would sympathize with the military judges of Dreyfus should he find evidence of guilt. General Zurlinden was to have given a verdict to-day. If against reopening the case he would have retired to leave the Government a free hand.

LY, President Faure took him to St. Petersburg to assist in the preparation of the Franco-Russian treaty. Why such a great personage deems himself guilty with Henry and resigns a splendid post passes comprehension. The reopening of the Dreyfus case may solve the puzzle. EMILY CRAWFORD.

ZURLINDEN SATISFIED OF DREYFUS' GUILT

PARIS, Sept. 10.—The Liberal says the examination of the documents in the Dreyfus case had led General Zurlinden, the Minister for War, to the conclusion that the prisoner is guilty, "as it did his predecessors," and that, consequently, the general has decided to resume the military governorship of Paris next week. A semi-official note, issued this evening, says the Minister for War has handed to the Minister of Justice the papers in the Dreyfus case, with his definite opinion thereon. The council, it is added, will on Monday decide definitely upon the course to be pursued.

A Historical Lecture. Leo Assembly No. 4, Young Men's Catholic Union, will entertain its members and friends in their hall next Thursday with a grand descriptive stereopticon lecture by Frederick I. Mosen on the monuments of the prehistoric race of America and original Catholic missions of Arizona.

ALBRECHT'S DUPE DENOUNCES HIM

Bigamist's Bride Wants Justice Done.

WILL NOT STAND IN THE WAY

TELLS THE SAD STORY OF HIS DECEPTION.

First Wife of the Culprit Identifies Him and He Is Formally Accused in Santa Rosa Courts.

Special Dispatch to The Call.

SANTA ROSA, Sept. 10.—Charles Albrecht, the San Francisco architect who has figured so prominently in the police circles of this city for the past few days because of his recent arrest for having issued a bogus check upon the First National Bank of San Francisco, was formally charged with bigamy in the courts here to-day. The complaint is sworn to by M. V. Marshall, the father of the young lady Albrecht married here on Tuesday, and the charge is the first direct outcome of the visit of Mrs. Albrecht, No. 1 to this city yesterday. The identification of the runaway spouse was complete, the wife swearing positively that Albrecht was her husband. The hearing was to-day set for Thursday morning. The case has created much comment in this city, where both the bride and her family are well and favorably known. The greatest sympathy is expressed for the unfortunate young lady. In speaking of her position the bride, otherwise known as Mrs. Albrecht No. 2, said:

"It is a painful thing to tell my story, but I will keep back nothing. About the 9th or 10th of July I met Charles Albrecht. At that time I was in San Francisco engaged by ex-Minister Hatch as nurse for his children. On that day I was giving the little ones an outing in the Geary-street park. A man, a stranger, sat down upon the bench I was occupying. He engaged in conversation with one of the children. He said to me: 'Is that your boy?'"

"This opened a conversation which I permitted because he seemed a gentleman, but I was unused to city ways

THOSE WHO MAY INVESTIGATE THE CONDUCT OF WAR

Prominent Men Offered Places on the Committee by President McKinley.

It Is the Chief Executive's Desire That the Truth Shall Be Ascertained and Made Known.

Special Dispatch to The Call.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Will you render the country a great service by accepting my appointment as a member of the committee to examine into the conduct of the Commissary, Quartermaster and Medical bureaus of the War Department during the war and into the extent, causes and treatment of sickness in the field and in the camps? It is my desire that the full and exact truth shall be ascertained and made known. I cannot too strongly impress upon you my earnest wish that this committee shall be of such high character as will command the complete confidence of the country, and I trust you will consent to serve.

WILLIAM MCKINLEY.

This is the message which the President addressed to each of the following gentlemen in compliance with the request of Secretary Alger that there be an investigation of the conduct of the war:

- Lieutenant General John M. Schofield. General John B. Gordon. General Granville M. Dodge. D. C. Gilman. General Charles F. Manderson. Hon. Robert T. Lincoln. Daniel S. Lamont. Dr. W. W. Keene. Colonel James A. Sexton.

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—A Washington special to the Herald says: President McKinley is waiting to hear from the men he has asked to serve on the committee to investigate the conduct of the war before announcing his selections. Among those who have been asked to serve are Lieutenant General John M. Schofield, retired; General John B. Gordon of the Confederate army; General Granville M. Dodge; President D. C. Gilman of Johns Hopkins University; General Charles F. Manderson; Former Secretary of War Robert T. Lincoln; Former Secretary of War Daniel S. Lamont; W. W. Keene, M.D., of Philadelphia, and Colonel James A. Sexton, commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic.

SECRETARY ALGER IS NOT ANXIOUS TO TALK

DETROIT, Sept. 10.—Secretary Alger arrived at the Michigan Central station from the East at 9:45 to-day. After arriving home General Alger said he expected to remain until a week from tomorrow. Being asked to make a statement for publication relative to the charges against his administration of the War Department, the Secretary replied: "Now, what do you want me to do? Get down in the sewer with these sensational people? They are not worrying me. There is nothing to the charges excepting somebody's desire to make political capital. I have asked the President to appoint the strongest commission it is possible to secure to conduct an inquiry into the conduct of the war. It will be made up of some of the ablest army officers and its work will be of the greatest importance, as applied to the past and as affecting the future. Its greatest value will be in perfecting the entire organization of the army and applying in this provision the lessons of the past."

At Pompeii a mosaic life-size portrait of a woman, the first antique portrait in mosaic ever discovered, has been found in the house of the Vestal. The workmanship is so fine that it is difficult to discern that it is not a painting. Advances made on furniture and pianos, with or without removal. J. Noonan, 1017-1023 Mission.

HOSPITALS WERE NOT PROPERLY EQUIPPED

CHICKAMAUGA NATIONAL MILITARY PARK, Sept. 10.—The reports of Generals Sanger, Mattocks and Roe, giving in detail the result of their investigations of camp hospitals, have been made public by General Breckinridge. The three generals, who worked some time as hospital and camp examining corps, report that the conditions in the various hospitals were found very unsatisfactory. They state the hospitals were not provided with the proper necessities; that they did not have a sufficient number of attendants; that they were badly located, and that they were in every way inadequate.
