Double Tragedy Near Lake Teslin.

MINER KILLED AS HE SLEPT

COMPANIONS SOON AVENGE HIS DEATH.

Murderer Is Biddled With Bullets by Pursuers, His Brother Assisting in Meting Out Justice.

Special Dispatch to The Call.

VICTORIA, B. C., Oct. 2.—Charles Wain, an Englishman, who has just returned from a prospecting trip up the Hootalinga, tells of a tragedy enacted about thirty miles down from Lake Teslin. A party of French Canadians who went in by the Skeena route last winter were encamped there. One of their number, Alphonse Leclair was murdered by Xavier Lauzon, another of the party. All members of the party hail from Quebec. The victim had won about $15 from the murderer at cards. Lauzon alleged that he cheated and swore to be avenged. That night it was about eight weeks ago—the murderer crept to where his victim lay asleep in his sleeping bag and plunged a hunting knife into his prostrate form several times, killing Leclair almost instantly. Lauzon then fled. On discovering the horrible crime in the morning the other members of the party soon connected Lauzon with the murder, for they had heard his threats, and at once organized a pursuit. Lauzon was captured after a chase of about five hours and riddled with bullets by his late comrades. One was his brother who, forgetting his cowardly murder, helped the lynchers. The miners did not report the tragedy to any of the authorities on the west, but it is expected they will make a full report on reaching Dawson.

QUARTZ FINDS ON DOMINION CREEK

VICTORIA, B. C., Oct. 2.—There are about sixty Klondikers on the steamship Dirigo, which reached Victoria this evening from Skaguay, but the men they brought big fortunes, the majority being men hurrying out before winter shall have caught them in the interior without work.

The miners who left Dawson City on September 14, coming up the river on the sternwheeler Ora, bring news that Dawson City was electrified just prior to their leaving by big finds of quartz. Great ledges and gold-bearing lodes were found on the bench of Hunkler and Dominion creeks. The reports concerning the more recent discovery near Dominion are of such a character as to arouse great interest in quartz prospecting.

The main find, which is situated in the locality of the Dominion, from which most of the creeks derive their source, is sixteen feet in width and of a homogeneous nature, carrying quantities of galena and chloride. The assays give $11.40 silver and $3.60 gold. The discoverer of the Dominion find was W. J. Partridge, lately a hotel keeper of this city. He has disposed of four-fifths of his interests to the North American Transportation and Trading Company. The properties are being vigorously worked, and it is expected will give big results.

GENERAL PRECIPITATION. Rain and Snow Descend Upon the Mountains.

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 2.—Several showers fell here to-day, and at the railroad office it is learned that during the past two days there has been a generous fall of rain and snow in the mountains. Above the Blue Canyon snow fell for over thirty hours, but as it thawed nearly as fast as it came down, only a thin coating now covers the ground. Below Blue Canyon and along the foothills the rain came down steadily through the night and day. On Thursday last the rain came down all day in the Mount Shasta region and a new record for the season was made. It is believed by farmers that grapes on the vine will be considerably damaged by the rains, and that late peaches also will suffer, though to what extent can only be surmised.

DAUDET AT HOME.

Everybody has heard or read of the famous comfortable house and big garden of Champrosay, almost a park, on the edge like the forest of Fontainebleau, within view of the long, white road of Corbeil. No one but is familiar now with the little study and the cane-bottomed chair before the small writing table, with the piano, Mme. Daudet's work table, with all the details of laborious and agreeable solitude-a-deux. Happy artist! His bright, expansive nature bade him shun the embittering and morose and gloomy solitude of a life of letters. He lived, talked, gesticulated, in flying phrase his works, with even his faithful audience, his counsel, chorus and critic in the study and the cane-bottomed chair before him. Here he worked assiduously, when he was not running riot among the Seine before rheumatism held him captive; and when the light went, there were the tranquil evenings with his wife in cheerful lamplight while she darned little Leon's socks, and he invented talks for the child upon his knees. And study and the cane-bottomed chair before him.
