NEWSPAPER MEN IN THE BATTLE

WALKER, Minn., Oct. 5.—A hard fight with the Indians occurred to-day at the reports from the scene of the battle, on the other side of Leech Lake, are somewhat conflicting, although all reports agree that the result has been considerable shedding of blood and some loss of life on both sides. No word has come from the front for several hours, which fact is considered somewhat ominous.

The most serious report is that the detachment of troops with General Bacon was massacred. The general himself being said to be among the dead. Three newspaper correspondents, Brill of the St. Paul Pioneer Press, Beaton of the Minneapolis Tribune and Knapp of the Minneapolis Times, are known to have been in the fight, and one report is that they were killed, while another says they are now prisoners in the hands of the Indians. This little town has been full of excitement all day, and as the reports from the other side of the lake came in the people became frantic and efforts were made to get up a force to go to the help of the troops. This will be sent in a few hours, with reinforcements coming on a special train from Brainerd. However, additional soldiers are most needed, and the feeling is general that they cannot come too soon.

Brill of the Pioneer Press, Beaton of the Tribune and the Times correspondent had landed prior to the arrival of the soldiers, a previous experience having made them believe the danger was slight. They were thus brought into the thick of the fight and fought with the soldiers. The men on the steamer saw them in the fight, taking vigorous part with their revolvers until they were compelled to flee, closely pursued by the painted savages. To-night an Indian who arrived from Bear Island stated that all the men out of uniform had been killed, but that he could not tell how many soldiers had been shot. The outlook for this hour is that the agency Indians may get on the warpath at any moment. They have been holding council all night and receiving reports every half hour by runners describing the condition of affairs.

Two of the old chiefs want war, but there are others who are trying desperately to stem the tide of discontent and to prevent any conflict with the troops.

SECRETARY ALGER ORDERS REINFORCEMENTS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—Official dispatches received here to-night brought to the authorities the sudden realization of an Indian uprising of more than ordinary dimensions. The dispatches began coming about 6 p. m., two of them coming to Secretary Bliss, who, as head of the Interior Department, has charge of Indian affairs, and a third to Attorney General Briggs, from one of the United States Marshals at the seat of the uprising. The first dispatch to Secretary Bliss was as follows:

WALKER, Minn., Oct. 5.—Secretary of the Interior, Washington: The Indians twenty-five miles from here on the mainland of North Bear Island opened fire on the troops under command of General Bacon, without warning this morning. The situation is such that the field is not strong enough to subdue the Bear Island Indians. How many are hurt on their side I cannot now tell. A large force should be sent here at once. If now war, the Government must protect the people. I have a slight scratch on the arm and left leg. Please wire me instructions.

TINKER, Inspector. Another dispatch from Inspector Tinker followed afterward as follows:

To Secretary of Interior, Washington: Trouble was caused by Indians firing on the troops in a situation which was not feeling among Indians hostile and mean to fight to the end. More troops needed at once. They cannot get here too quick.

Immediately upon receipt of these dispatches, Secretary Bliss went to the residence of Secretary Alger and had a talk with the head of the War Department as to the military steps which should be taken. While they were together, a representative of the Associated Press called and handed them the press dispatch giving more extended details of the sanguinary engagement between the troops and the Indians this noon. General Alger read the dispatch aloud, punctuating it with his own observations on the gallantry of the men and the efficacy of the Red Cross, the latter being mentioned in the press dispatch as caring for some of the wounded. The two secretaries agreed that the situation had reached a stage when energetic steps were needed. Turning to his military aid, Major Hopkins, Secretary Alger said: "Take those dispatches to Adjutant General Corbin and tell him to have ample reinforcements sent immediately. If need be, have a special train secured and the reinforcements sent forward without delay. If it seems desirable to send along a Gatling gun, let that be done also."

General Corbin was inclined to believe that the reports were magnified. General Bacon is the commanding officer of the Department of the Dakotas, with headquarters at St. Paul, and the Third Infantry is stationed at Fort Snelling, just outside St. Paul, so that, if need be, this large force could be called to General Bacon's assistance. As commanding officer of the department, it was pointed out that General Bacon has full authority to move all the forces within his department if he deems such action necessary to meet the emergency. Aside from the Third Infantry, there are cavalry troops within reach of St. Paul and the seat of the trouble, although it was the view at the War Department late to-night that General Bacon would not have any need for any cavalry, if, indeed, he needed any infantry beyond the hundred men now at the front. General Corbin inclined to the view that a hundred regulars were more than a match for all the Indians which could be assembled at the place of the present trouble. General Bacon will be given a free hand, however, and every facility afforded him by the authorities if he feels in need of reinforcements.

TROOPS TO BE SENT ON A SPECIAL TRAIN

Monterey's Victory at Los Angeles.

FOUR HARD-FOUGHT HEATS

SIDNEY'S SON WINS AFTER LOSING IN THE FIRST.

Special Dispatch to The Call.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 5.—The big 2:10 trot was the feature of the racing at the track this afternoon and the management expected a great crowd to be present. The attendance was a disappointment, but the race proved one of the grandest ever trotted in the State, four heats being reeled off in 2:10, 2:12, 2:11 1/2 and 2:10 1/2. Monterey, the chestnut son of Sidney, driven by Pete Williams, proved the victor after dropping the first heat to Toggles, the fast Fresno gelding, which stepped the race for from the winner, but he was unable to lower his record of 2:09 1/4.

Of the four running events decided favorites in the betting captured two. The maiden plate for two-year-olds fell to Correct, carrying the colors of "Curly" Shields and ridden by Mike Hennessey. Unfortunately in this race the 3-to-5 favorite, Midlove, from the Burns & Waterhouse stable, was left at the post. In the final mile dash Moringa, with 98 pounds in the saddle, skated around the ring in 1:40 flat, a track record. The track is as smooth and hard as the surface of a billiard table and the air will soon be permeated with the odor of liniment.

The five contestants for the 2:10 trot were called at 1:30. In the auction betting Monterey sold an even-money choice over his field, but in the books Toggles was favorite for the first heat. Galette drew the pole, but the black mare was very unsteady and was in the air when the horses got the word. At the turn Prince Gift took the pole, maintaining the front position to the far turn, where he stepped on a tack and was passed by Toggles. The Fresno horse held the lead to the end, passing the wire over two lengths in front of the favorite, Zombo, who was fourth, behind Prince Gift.

Monterey made such an impressive showing that he was now an auction-bidding choice, both in the betting and in the books. He took the
