

the document been presented to me I would certainly have refused to sign it, for with me it is anybody but Burns.

HENRY J. CROCKER—I signed the petition favoring Burns' candidacy for the very reasons set forth in the paper. Without in any way slighting the other candidates, some of whom are my personal friends, I believe that Burns would make a creditable representative and that the interests of the State would not suffer in his hands.

SIGMUND GREENBERG, manager of the London, Paris and American Bank—I signed the paper written in the interest of Burns for Senator because he is a particular friend of mine. I am a Republican in politics, and in affixing my name to the recommendation I simply believe that it acted for the best interests of the party and the State's welfare.

LOUIS CAHEN—I signed the document recommending the election of Burns for Senator because he is a personal friend of mine. It was not at the solicitation of the Southern Pacific Company that I affixed my signature, though if that corporation should ask me to subscribe to any proposition that would not go against the grain I would certainly comply with the request, because it has always treated me properly. I can safely say that I was influenced simply by my personal friendship for Dan Burns, whom I have known many years and for whom I have a great regard.

MEYERSTEIN & CO., 6 Battery street—The so-called endorsement recommending Burns was signed by Alfred L. Meyerstein, a young man just turning the age of 21 years, and son of Lewis Meyerstein, the senior member of the firm. The young man had no authority from the house to put the firm's name to any such document, and, furthermore, had the senior member been consulted, he says he would have objected to the firm going on record as endorsing a man for United States Senator whom he does not know.

CROWN DISTILLERIES COMPANY, LOUIS HAAS, Secretary—Our house signed the paper at the request of a business friend who brought it in. No, I do not care to mention any names, but I presume it was presented by the same gentleman that visited other firms in this section of the city.

JOHN A. HAMMERSMITH of HAMMERSMITH & FIELD—Yes, I signed for the firm. Not that I wanted to take any hand in the contest, but Mose Gunst came to me and asked as a personal favor to sign. That is the only reason there is for our name appearing on the list.

C. W. CRAIG of C. W. CRAIG & CO.—A business friend of mine brought the paper to me and I signed it. I told him at the time that I did not consider that it amounted to anything, but at his solicitation attached my firm's name. I took no particular interest in the matter and am now sorry I signed.

WILLIAM WOLFF of WILLIAM WOLFF & CO.—I signed the document at the earnest request of a friend—Mr. Andrew of the Shasta Mineral Water Company. No it was not because I knew anything about Burns personally, but because I did not like to refuse the request of a friend. That was all the interest I had in the matter.

WILLIAM CLUFF of WILLIAM CLUFF & CO. personally signed the document. I believe it was presented to me by Mr. Andrew of the Shasta Water Company. Yes, I think Burns would make a good Senator. I have not neighbor to him a long time and know his family very well. He is a personal friend of mine and I had no hesitation in signing.

AGUINALDO ATTACKS THE AMERICANS

not known, as no estimate can be made of the effect of the American bullets.

As soon as the conditions were reported to Admiral Dewey he immediately supported the troops in resisting the attack. The Charleston, Monadnock and Callao were moved forward from Cavite, and once the positions were made out a vigorous fire was opened from the warships, and at this writing they are pouring a rain of shell upon the positions of the insurgents at Malabon and Malate.

Pennsylvania's Delect. HARRISBURG, Pa., Feb. 4.—Only twenty votes were cast for United States Senator at today's session of the joint Assembly. Senator Quay received 17, G. A. Prune Growers Name Delegates. SANTA ROSA, Feb. 4.—A meeting of prune growers of Sonoma County was held at Santa Rosa this afternoon. Colonel McDonald and N. C. Finley of Santa Rosa and Dr. N. E. Coffman of Healdsburg were elected delegates to the State fruit meeting in San Jose next Saturday.

SEVEN PINES CIRLE, L. G. A. R. Last Monday night the members of Seven Pines Circle No. 3, Ladies of the Grand Army of the Republic, gave a donation party to procure provisions for the relief of the families of needy old soldiers of the war of the rebellion. The circle's hall in the Native Sons' building was filled with ladies and gentlemen who each brought a contribution in the shape of one pound of goods in the grocery line. A most varied and interesting entertainment and then a dance.

MERRITT DECINES TO DISCUSS THE BATTLE

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—General Wesley Merritt, who was in command of the land forces and Military Governor of Manila at the time of the American occupation, is at the Waldorf. News of the attack by the insurgents was sent to his room last night by a reporter, but General Merritt declined to discuss it.

American troops has produced so great an impression that but little apprehension is felt as to their ability to resist the insurgents.

A consultation was held in regard to providing measures for the safety of non-combatants, and it was finally decided, in view of the possibility of danger from chance missiles, that asylum should be given the women on board the transports.

All the American women in the city, and many Europeans, have accordingly been placed in safety. The transfer was accomplished without disorder, a detail of soldiers being provided to escort them to boats at the Puente Espano and the Old City front, whence they were ferried over to the fleet.

Occasionally a spent shot from the insurgents' lines falls within the city, a testimony to the inferior quality of the ammunition with which Aguinaldo's men are supplied.

The greatest cheerfulness prevails among the American troops. The idea of Aguinaldo's success is not contemplated. It is known that, although he has in the neighborhood of 30,000 men, not more than half of his men are equipped in anything like a serviceable manner, and it is felt that with 20,000 well disciplined, well equipped Americans General Otis has the situation well in hand.

General Otis' present available force in this city is as follows:

Volunteers—First Colorado, First Idaho, Fifty-first Iowa, Twentieth Kansas, Thirteenth Minnesota, First Montana, First Nebraska, First North Dakota, Second Oregon, Tenth Pennsylvania, First South Dakota, First Washington, First Wyoming, First California, First Tennessee, two batteries First California Heavy Artillery, one troop First Nevada Cavalry.

Regulars—Fourteenth, Eighteenth and Twenty-third Infantry, Company A Engineer Battalion, detachment Third Artillery, detachment Sixth Cavalry.

The Third, Fourth, Eighteenth and Twentieth Infantry and Companies B, D, F, H, I, K, L and M of the Seventeenth Infantry are now on their way to the Philippines.

The ships under Admiral Dewey's command include the cruisers Olympia (the admiral's flagship), Boston, Baltimore, Charleston and Raleigh, the monitors Monadnock and Monterey, the auxiliary cruiser Buffalo and the gunboats Concord and Petrel, besides the Callao and such other of the captured Spanish ships as he has been able to repair and put in commission. The naval force foots up more than 100 officers and about 2000 men.

The land forces under General Otis number about 15,000 men.

SHARKEY MUST FIGHT NOW Fitzsimmons Will Not Agree to Wait a Year.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Feb. 4.—Before leaving for Michigan, Fitzsimmons made in reply to Sharkey's announcement that he will not fight in less than a year.

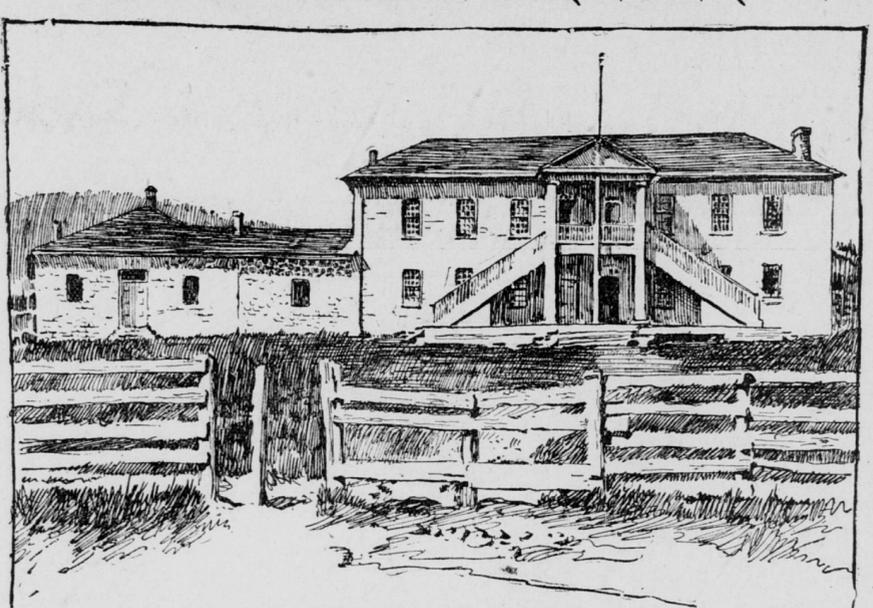

He will fight now within a reasonable time or not at all. Six weeks is time enough, if Sharkey will not agree to that he will be dropped and we will take on Jeffries.

FAMOUS COLTON HALL SHOULD BE PRESERVED

MONTEREY, Feb. 4.—For the second time in this decade an effort is being made to interest the State in the preservation of and proper veneration for old Colton Hall, the most historic building in California, except perhaps Monterey's other celebrated landmark, the Custom House. Mayor R. F. Johnson of this city has been in close correspondence with Monterey's Assemblyman, F. P. Felz, since the opening of the Legislature, laying before him all the data connected with the history of the famous old building, the momentous events that occurred within its walls, its present condition and uses, and from this material Mr. Felz has formulated a bill to be presented for the consideration of the Legislature. The bill provides for the appropriation of a certain sum annually from the State fund to complement the sum raised by the citizens of Monterey city and county, the entire amount to be used in keeping the valuable old structure in a state of preservation.

In 1893 a similar bill was presented in the State Legislature and passed both houses, but was vetoed by Governor Markham and no further effort was made to bring it to life.

Colton Hall is beyond question the most important building in the State, from the standpoint of the amount and character of State history that was made on the floors of its quaint old rooms. The building was begun in 1846 by a company of Mormons who came to Monterey in that year, intending to form a Mormon colony here, and was first designed for a Mormon temple. The funds gave out, absolutely however, and the Mormons were obliged not only to discontinue building when little more than the foundation had been completed, but to dispose of the property in order to get means for moving to another locality. They went from here to a place near San Bernardino and from there drifted into Arizona or joined their brethren at Salt Lake.

The grounds and foundation of the building were bought by Rev. Walter Colton, the first American Alcalde of Monterey, and the edifice completed by him to be used as a City Hall. It is said a large portion of the money used in the building of it was obtained by the seizure of the winnings of gamblers when Monterey undertook to put down gambling after the American occupation. The hall was, when completed, dedicated to the city of Monterey. This deed brought about long litigation after Colton's death, his heirs wanting the land upon which the building stands and endeavoring to wrest it from the city. This case was finally settled in favor of the city about three years ago. One of the most important events in the edifice was the assembling and deliberating of the famous constitutional convention in 1851, the convention that drafted and signed the first constitution of the State of California—that constitution that has been so widely copied in framing the constitutions of younger States and amending those of the older commonwealths of the Union. Sutter's Fort, a building of not half the interest and significance of Colton Hall and one that is scarcely ever seen by visitors to California, has had large sums expended upon it by the State, and the Monterey people feel that it is no more than justice that they should at least be assisted in their efforts to preserve the edifice that is the most historic monument in the city. The men who labored to make California the great State it now is.

At about 11 o'clock Melovich left the room and strolled up and down the lower dock. He conversed with Watchman Lennox and a dockhand named Silva for a while and then walked off the boat with the remark that he intended to get a drink. That was the last seen of him by his friends.

Superintendent Shoemaker became alarmed when the fireman did not appear on Wednesday and communicated with Chief Lees. Detectives were set at work on the case, but so far no clew has been discovered as to the missing man's whereabouts. "The theory of the detectives," said Mr. Shoemaker, "is that Melovich was 'shanghaied.' They assert that sailors on a very scarce and think he was enticed into one of the water-front grog shops and drugged. Three deep-water ships sailed next day and he may have been taken away on one of them.

Supervisor of the fireman's friends scoffed at this theory. They say they are known to have a small sum of money on his person when he disappeared and that for this he was rugged, robbed and thrown into the bay. The members of the retiring Embassy-dor's family are now in Berlin and will spend some time in Italy and at Constantinople. Mr. Hitchcock will assume the duties of his new position immediately upon his arrival in Washington.

Regarding his selection by President McKinley as Mr. Bliss' successor, he remarked: "My appointment was as much a surprise to me as it could have been to the public."

Property Owners Comply. Chief Sullivan of the Fire Department is well pleased at the cheerful compliance of property owners with the enforcement of the fire ordinance providing fire escapes on all buildings of three stories and over. Over 250 notices have been served on owners of property in this city. Of this number 80 per cent are in the district under charge of John Willis, assistant engineer, which comprises the commercial section of the town. Out of the number notified to place escapes on their buildings contracts have been let and work commenced on over 175 buildings. In no case has either Chief Sullivan or his assistants met with refusals to comply with the ordinance.

It is calculated that there will be upward of 500 buildings provided with escapes by the time Chief Sullivan has all his reports collected from his assistants.

Piccoli's Victim Dies. Manuel Silva, the barber, who was shot by Luigi Piccoli, at 1343 Dupont street last Friday evening, died at a quarter-past 11 o'clock yesterday forenoon. Deceased was a native of Boston, Mass., 38 years of age. In the case of the death of Piccoli, who cut his throat immediately after the shooting, the coroner's jury yesterday returned a verdict of suicide.

Bay Pirates Are Held. John Hallin, Martin Skougland, Gus Nelson and Arthur Dantli were held to answer yesterday by United States Court Commissioner Hancock, with bonds fixed at $1000. The charge against them is grand larceny. They stole $50 worth of copper snags from the Mare Island Navy-yard.
