

SPANISH TREASURE
DUG UP IN TEXAS
Discovery of an Oak Box and
Three Kegs Filled With Gold
Dobloons.

SAN ANTONIO, April 8.—C. P. Klein, a Justice of the Peace, this morning found buried Spanish treasure on a ranch at Devine. Klein was led to believe some weeks ago there was buried gold on the property, and, after much digging and hard labor, he struck an oak box and three kegs. The oak box was bound together with brass staves. When opened it was found to be full of gold Spanish doubloons and jewelry containing valuable settings. There were 1000 doubloons in the box, the money alone being worth $15,000. The kegs have not yet been opened, and what they contain is only a matter of conjecture, but it must be a large fortune. The money is old, some of it being dated back as far as 1700. The box also contained a packet of papers, written in Spanish and covered with official-looking seals. These have not yet been deciphered, and when they are considerable light will undoubtedly be thrown on the finding of the treasure. Among the jewels was an ebony cross five inches long with rare settings.

ARRIVED HERE
IN THE THIRTIES
Death of John Rose at Aply Piloted by Henry Smartsville.

MARYSVILLE, April 8.—John Rose, who died at his home near Smartsville last night, was beyond doubt the pioneer of California pioneers. He came to California as a ship carpenter on board the Mexican trading bark Clarita in 1834, sailing from his native town, Leith, Scotland, and arriving in San Francisco, then Yerba Buena, a village of eleven shanties, in October of the same year. At that time the streets of San Francisco were paths or tracks, and Mission Dolores was considered three miles out of town.

Mr. Rose took great delight in describing the people he met in Yerba Buena in those early days. They were for the most part Spanish, who dealt in hides and tallow, but there was an occasional Englishman, Swede or Frenchman who came to the coast to try his fortune. The native Californians at that time were engaged in ranching, raising horses and cattle and a few sheep, and just sufficient cereals for their own use.

It was Mr. Rose who built the first sawmill on California soil, intended for use in California waters. Among the first he met who could speak English was General Vallejo. With the exception of a few trips down the coast Mr. Rose remained in California continuously since 1835. He came to Yuba County in July, 1848, and settled near the place where he died. Rose Bar Township and Rose School District in this county were named in honor of the sturdy pioneer. He was at one time the possessor of a Mexican grant that included land on both sides of the Yuba River from Bear River to Bullards Bar. He engaged in mining from time to time, but in recent years made his living at the carpenter trade. A widow, three daughters and three sons survive him. The funeral will be held on Sunday afternoon.

TORONTO, Ont., April 8.—At the Empire Athletic Club to-night Joe Walcott and Jim Judge were to have gone twenty rounds, but the bout came to an end in the eleventh, Walcott finishing his man with a terrible right on the point of the jaw. The men fought hard all through, and in the opening rounds Judge seemed to be meeting Walcott's rushes well. From the fifth it was Walcott's fight, and eventually Judge took the limit when floored.

THE TREASON
AND INCENDIARISM
Revenge That Caused
Thirteen Deaths.
THREATS HAD BEEN MADE
AND WARNING SENT TO THE ANDREWS FAMILY.

An Intrigue of Servants Seems to Have Led Up to the Disastrous Fire among the Residences of Gotham Millionaires.

Special Dispatch to The Call.
NEW YORK, April 8.—Despite reticence on the part of the police facts became public to-day which made it apparent that the fire which destroyed thirteen persons was of an incendiary origin. It transpired that a few hours before the flames were seen a policeman was sent for from the Andrews house and was mysteriously dismissed by a servant, who said he was not wanted. Letters threatening the lives of the Andrews family and the children of Mrs. St. John were found.

It is believed that the motive for incendiarism was revenge, and that the affair arose out of a quarrel among the servants. Feely, the butler in the Andrews family, is under surveillance and the police are hard at work investigating the clues which chiefly rest upon the anonymous letters.

Mary Flanagan, the dead maid servant, seems to have been a central figure in this alleged plot and the chief object of the supposed perpetrators was hate.

The police to-day gave out three scurrilous letters which had been sent to members of the Andrews household. One was addressed to the servant, Mary Flanagan. The letters made charges against Mary Flanagan and the butler. In a letter addressed to Mrs. St. John the writer said: "I hope you and Mrs. Andrews don't think for a moment that I am reconciled or pacified with Mary Flanagan. For, indeed, I am not, and what is further, I will not be until I get my revenge. I feel that I have given her for her life, and because you and Mrs. Andrews did not give heed to my warning I'm going to fix you, too. I'm going to make some one throw some stones in your window, and give you a face that will disgrace them and eat all the flesh to the bone. This I will do for spite, because you did not let Mary go as I told you. You had just as well let her go first as last. You will have her for a live when I get through with her."

MEANS A BOOM FOR THE TOWN OF MADERA

New Flume and Lumber Company Planning to Conduct Extensive Operations.
MADERA, April 8.—Nearly fifty miles of flume and thirty acres of Madera real estate, formerly owned by the Madera Flume and Trading Company, have become the property of a new corporation which will be known as the Madera Flume and Lumber Company. The purchasers have already commenced operations and are planning to build a dam and a general rebuilding of the property. A sawmill, having a capacity of 200,000 feet of lumber a day, will be erected in the mountains and the lumber floated to Madera, where an extensive box factory and planing mill will utilize a portion of the products. The remainder will be placed on the market. This enterprise will do much to make Madera one of the most important cities in the State, as the new proprietors of the mills and flume have over 20,000 acres of timber land under their control, which will supply them with raw material for each twenty years. It is said the payroll of the company for the next year will amount to near $1,000,000, besides the amount that will be expended for machinery. Roads will have to be built through the mountains to the new mill site, machinery freighted in, and five miles of new flume built and forty miles repaired. A telephone line will be put in between Madera and the works in the mountains.

THEIR BOAT CAPSIZES.

Two Men Drowned in the North Fork of Feather River.
OROVILLE, April 8.—John D. Simms and Leonard Hale were drowned at Shores Bar, on the north fork of Feather River, this morning. They attempted to cross the stream in a small boat, but the rough, in a new canvas boat. The boat upset and they were thrown into the water. They were wearing life jackets, and later their bodies were seen floating down the current. Hale was a son of Editor Hale of the National Bulletin at Quincy, Cal. The men were working at the De Long mine, in a deep gorge of the Sierra, where the stream is confined in a rocky canyon.

The court has ordered Mr. Smith to pay her $35,000 alimony.

License Ordinance Defeated.

SANTA CRUZ, April 8.—At a meeting of the City Council the ordinance imposing a license on merchants was rejected. Another ordinance placing restrictions on saloons failed of passage. It was a vote and Mayor Lamb cast the deciding vote in the negative. The ordinance proposed to make saloon men give a bond of $1000 as a guarantee that they would comply with the requirements of the ordinance, and that a petition for a permit would have to be signed by ten residents of the block in which it was proposed to locate the saloon. It abolished side entrances.

PRINCE BISMARCK
MEDITATED SUICIDE
According to Her Hardened
Chancellor Had Nothing to Live For as His Wife Died.

BERLIN, April 8.—Herr Harden publishes some touching sentiments on Bismarck, where the great man philosophizes upon the utter uselessness of further living; how every interest in life has gone; how his only care for living further has been for the sake of his wife and when she had gone his wish to live ceased. Suicide he considered, but in these days such a course was looked upon as wrong. Just fancy what a tragedy it would have been had the great Bismarck committed suicide. Yet it was in his thoughts, if we believe Professor Harden.

COLONEL STONE
SUCCEEDS PEELER
Will Become Adjutant General.

Special Dispatch to The Call.
LOS ANGELES, April 8.—Governor Henry T. Gage is to return to Sacramento on Wednesday or Thursday next. His vacation has been spent on his farm and in fishing excursions. He has been accompanied on several fishing trips by ex-United States Senator Stephen M. White. When Gage returns to Sacramento, it is said by those who "speak by the card" he will name Colonel George Stone of San Francisco as adjutant general, relieving General Peeler. It is also said vacancies in the State Board of Equalization and those existing in the Whittier Reform School Board will be filled before his departure for the north.

That Gage came down to his Downey ranch to be alone and absolutely free from outside influences is claimed by political friends, who are convinced that the Governor has fully matured his plans for the future; that every office which is still to be filled has received attention, and that the states are well marked with names of the fortunate. While the Governor's mail has been heavy and the telegraph operator at Downey has had his hand at the key many hours of the day, the "push" is rather sore that the latching has been cut short and that the path to the Governor's front door is covered with new-grown grass.

Gage is yet annoyed over the rumor that he is going into the newspaper field, and reiterates with emphasis his denial. In reply to a direct question he is reported as having said: "Do you think I would have signed those anti-censor and signature bills if I had had any thoughts of descending to the newspaper level? Another thing, my administration needs no organ to bolster it up. It will speak for itself, and I will pay just the same attention to the newspapers as I will to various sundry people who thought they would control me when I became Governor."

PACKERS OF PRUNES
JOIN THE COMBINE

Settle the Terms of Agreement With the Pacific Coast Fruit Association.
SAN JOSE, April 8.—Prominent fruit shippers and packers of this vicinity will join the Pacific Coast Fruit Association, which was recently organized here to handle the prune crop of the coast. This was really decided on at a meeting held this afternoon, when some details yet remain to be settled. About twenty packers met with the directors of the fruit association, and the latter association, in the latter association presided. This corporation of packers will strengthen the "prune growers' organization" materially. The terms of agreement will be as follows: A bond will be required of warehousemen who are not owners of the fruit stored. Packers will charge 20 cents per 100 pounds for packing in 25-pound boxes, un-faced, and 60 cents per 100 pounds for packing in 25-pound boxes, single faced. These prices include grading, packing and placing in cars. Warehousemen who have rejected the loss must fall upon the packer and not the seller. Sales must be absolute for cash before the cars leave the warehouse. Each packer will have strict control of his own brand. The fruit association will pay an inspector, whose duty it shall be to stamp the place of packing and date on each box, and no goods controlled by the association shall be shipped un-stamped. Goods for delivery shall include sizes 45 and 46 when processed and 45 and 47 when not processed. Grading will include not only size but quality. A reserve of 2 1/2 per cent commission may be paid at the end of the season.

TOMALES AS A
BEET CENTER
Marin Farmers to Plow
Up Their Potatoes.

Special Dispatch to The Call.
TOMALES, April 8.—The farmers of this section of Marin County are about to engage in the culture of sugar beets on a large scale. Seeds have already been received and distributed and the example has been set by such prominent ranchers as Messrs. Burbank, Hubbell and Dillon plowing up their potatoes and planting the seeds of the beets. It was only a short time ago that a representative of the farmers called upon Secretary Huntington of the California Beet Sugar Company with regard to the culture of sugar beets near Tomales. He was agreeably surprised to learn that the region lying around Tomales, Bloomfield, Valley Ford and the Shafter estate was especially adapted to this industry and that beets grown here would yield a large percentage of sugar, while good crops would be insured every year on account of the moist climate. Every encouragement was given the farmers to spur them on in furthering the project. It is said on good authority the company has agreed to pay $4.50 a ton for the beets and will make all contracts at the beginning of every season, so the growers need have no fears about fluctuations in the market. As from fifteen to twenty tons can be produced to the acre, while only $30.20 is required to dump the beets on the factory wharves—reckoning on a basis of fifteen tons to the acre—the growing of potatoes dwindles into insignificance in comparison as a financial proposition. Attorney J. W. Keyes, who is an ardent promoter of local beet culture, was told last year by Secretary Huntington that some beets grown on the Shafter estate were fine examples, but that railway transportation was much too costly to put the beet business in this section on a paying basis. To obviate this difficulty Keyes has endeavored to have rates satisfactorily adjusted by the North Pacific Coast Railway Company and has been informed by W. F. Russell, the general freight agent, that every effort will be made by the company to encourage the development of this section. Shipment of the beets probably will be by rail to San Quentin Point, thence on barges to the factory at Crockett, Contra Costa County. The first decisive movement toward beet culture will take the form of a called meeting of all the owners and renters of land along the line of the railway in this region, which will be addressed by a representative of the California Beet Sugar and Refinery Company and the growing of beets and their manufacture into sugar explained fully, in order that those interested may make an auspicious beginning as growers.
