WOODMEN OF THE WORLD. At the monster open meeting and reception tendered to Head Consul Falkenberg on the last Saturday night in May in Mechanics' Pavilion the head consul, on behalf of a number of the members of the several local camps, presented to Special Organizer Garrett a beautiful gold watch in appreciation of the work he has done for the order during the past few months.

Last Monday night the announcement was made in Golden Gate Camp that as a result of the recent open meeting that camp had received sixty applications. During the evening the following named were initiated and ten additional members were presented and one candidate elected: Charles Welch, W. Reed, A. Fandler, D. Riley and F. Hyman. The camp took to the army of the order of procuring medals to be presented to Woodmen who are in the service of the United States, the army of the order of the Philippines. It is proposed after their return to this city to hold a public meeting and present medals to the interest of the following as officers for the next term: J. Phelps, J. Quinn, A. L. L. Elkins, E. T. W. Gates, J. E. Brown, S. J. Bright, M. These officers will be unveiled a monument over the grave of the late D. J. Rogers on the 18th of June.

KNIGHTS AND LADIES OF HONOR. One of the principal events that have recently occurred in the ranks of the Knights and Ladies of Honor was the presentation to Mrs. H. W. Qutzow of Bay City Lodge of a magnificent diamond-encrusted emblematic badge or jewel of the order offered the member in the jurisdiction of California who brought in the greatest number of members, she having seventeen to her credit. The presentation was in the presence of many members and a number of the grand officers. Another important event was the presentation of a handsome silk American flag to Martha Lodge by his long services as treasurer of the lodge. The presentation was a genuine surprise to Mr. Summers, but he survived the shock and responded in a neat speech. Professor Philip Pjor read

Markham's "Man With the Hoe"; M. L. Rowe rendered some of the "auld Scotch songs," and Grand Dictator Archibald gave an excellent address on "Our Order."

the result of an illness at the zoological gardens at Frankfort-on-the-Main. A female elephant there suddenly refused food, groaned continually, "wret"; it is said, and became weaker and weaker. She was given draughts of brandy (pints) and reduced to a diet of gruel three times a day, each draught containing forty quarts. She soon recovered, but the dieting still continued, and the last bulletin describes her present diet as thirty bushels, a hundredweight of hay and suitable drinks.

In nearly every street in Japanese cities is a public oven, where, for a small fee, housewives may have their dinners and suppers cooked for them.

Luck in the Finger Nails. In early times it was considered that bad luck would certainly attend any person who neglected to either burn or bury the parings of his finger nails. Among the Hebrews it was the custom to pare the nails on a Friday, and the operation had to be conducted in a certain manner. The little finger on the left hand had first to be operated on, then the middle finger, followed by the fourth finger, thumb and forefinger. The nail of the middle finger of the right hand had next to be cut; then came the thumb, then the forefinger, and afterward the fourth and little finger. When fortune telling was more in vogue than at present the shape and appearance of the finger nails were looked on as having reference to one's destiny. The nails were first to be treated with a mixture of wax and soot, and, after being thus prepared, were held so that the sunlight fell full upon them. On the sunny, transparent substance were supposed to appear signs and characters from which the future could be interpreted. Those persons, too, with certain descriptions of nails were supposed to possess certain characteristics. For instance, a man with red and spotted nails was of a fiery, hot-tempered disposition, while pale, lead-colored nails denoted a melancholy temperament. Ambitious and quarrelsome people were distinguished by narrow nails, while lovers of knowledge and liberal sentiment had round-shaped nails. Conceited, obstinate and narrow-minded persons were possessed of small, red, lazy, indolent individuals of fleshy nails, and those of a gentle, timid nature of broad nails. Those persons whose nails grow into the flesh at the sides are generally luxuriously inclined, while those with angry pale nails are subject to both bodily and mental suffering—Woman's Life.
