

JOE BIGGOTT PLOTS THREE NEW GAMES

First on Carlonian, Lodestar and Hard Knot at Tanforan.

Another Good Day for the Books, as Four Favorites Were Slaughtered—The Lady Met With Success.

It was Joe Biggott's day to shine in the saddle at Tanforan yesterday. The young man landed first at the wire with Carlonian, an outsider, Lodestar, a lukewarm choice, and Hard Knot, while incidentally dropping the second string.

The Baldwin pair of youngsters, Maldonado and Oscar Tolle, coupled, closed favorite for the two-year-old scramble. Most faith was reposed in the former, but he was disappointed.

After a somewhat lengthened vacation Al Stemer started Lodestar in the six-furlong run following, and got the money. Backed from 2 to the chestnut horse caught True Blue at the paddock, winning out by less than a length.

Floralind, ridden by Biggott, gave The Lady, a 7 to 10 chance, quite an argument in the mile and a sixteenth run. Marty Bergen piloted the favorite and was compelled to ride out to the Shulte entry. Freeman took third place from Red Pirate, the only other starter.

Why Arabes on the strength of his recent showing was made favorite for the mile was a mystery, still Stemer's horse closed an even money choice. Hard Knot, with Biggott in the saddle, in front from the jump, won ridden out from Scotch Pine.

A poor start beat Silver Tone, favorite for the seven furlong haul. Gauntlet, at half a mile, moved up perceptibly, affecting the decision by half a length at the stand from Mondia. Silver Tone was fourth, behind Momentum.

Red Pirate, at 5 to 1, captured the closing mile run in a gallop. Perseus took the place from Esplanade.

Advertisements. Discarded. The Old Methods of Treating Piles and Rectal Diseases Supplanted by the Pyramid Pile Cure.

The old methods of treating piles by ligature, by the knife or by the cruel methods of dilatation, besides causing intense pain and frequently collapse and death, are now known to be but mere makeshifts as far as a cure is concerned.

The relief from pain is so immediate that patients sometimes imagine that the Pyramid contains opiates or cocaine, because the relief is so instantaneous, but the Pyramid Pile Cure is guaranteed absolutely free from any opiate or mineral poison whatever.

The relief is the result of the astringent properties of the remedy, which causes the little tumors and congested blood vessels to contract and a normal circulation is established.

The Pyramid Pile Cure is strictly scientific, both in its composition and in its therapeutic action, and the best feature of it is that it is perfectly safe and harmless. No ill effects ever result from its use, but only positive benefit.

A singular fact, in view of the large number of patent medicines before the public, is that the Pyramid is the only pile cure of national reputation. It is the only pile cure popular enough and meritorious enough to be found in every drug store in the United States. It sells at 50 cents a package.

GANS DEFEATED BY A PUNCH FROM ERNE

Hard Blow Starts the Colored Lad's Left Optic From Its Socket.

NEW YORK, March 23.—Frank Erne of Buffalo successfully defended his title of lightweight champion of the world against Joe Gans (colored) of Baltimore before the Broadway Athletic Club to-night.

Erne did most of the heavy fighting, displaying greater judgment and more skill than his opponent. Gans received his punishment gamely until the twelfth round, when his left eye was started from its socket by a terrific right-hand swing from the Buffalo boy.

Gans was helpless and there was no alternative for the referee but to award the decision to Erne.

The contest drew an enormous crowd to the Broadway Athletic Club. There were many who wagered large sums of money the Gans would carry away the championship. There was so much Baltimore money in sight that Gans was made a favorite at 100 to 90 a week ago, and to-night the confidence of the Maryland people was so well established that they bet on their man at odds of 100 to 1.

Erne's seconds were Frank Zimpter, Jim Fitzpatrick and George Salter. Gans was accompanied by Al Herford, Harry Lyons and Caleb Bond. Before the men began the fight, Gans announced that George McFadden of this city would challenge the winner. The men agreed to have a rematch, no matter which won. Straight Queensberry rules governed.

Erne began rushing in the opening round, forcing Gans into his corner, but was unable to land a telling blow. In the second, third and fourth rounds Erne continued to ring, and the fighting repeatedly drove the negro to his corner; but Gans blocked cleverly and avoided heavy punishment.

Erne's first hard blow was landed in the fifth round, when Gans put a light left to the face and Erne returned a jolting left straight to the forehead of the negro. In the sixth round, after Gans had been forced to break ground, he stopped suddenly, cutting in. Gans then went in, sending right and left swings to Erne's head. Erne surprised the body by replying with similar blows. Erne continued to slam both hands on the negro, forcing the latter's head back a dozen times, stopping Gans' rushing and forcing the negro to break away. Erne was bleeding from the mouth at the end of the round.

At the beginning of the seventh round Erne rushed and staggered Gans with a right swing to the head, and then stepped and shot his right up to Gans' chin. Erne sent a hard left to the body, and Gans swung his left to the jaw and Erne staggered but quickly recovered and rushed back with left and right, striking Gans on the defensive.

Erne jumped right to his man in the eighth. He put a straight left to the face and hooked it again to the ear. Gans failed to counter, and Erne reached the body with a right, forcing Gans to break ground. Gans stepped in after falling short with the left and uppercut Erne rushed again in the ninth, sending his right over to the head. Gans landed a right to the forehead, but Erne, who had both men by their arms, got like windmills. Erne having decidedly the better of the mixup.

In the tenth round Erne reached the body with the left lightly. Erne had all the better of this round.

Erne opened the eleventh with a right hook on the head, Gans countering on the body. Erne landed a right to the head, and Erne attempted right and left swings for the head, but missed, and Gans sent right and left to the body. Erne jumped in with left to the body and right to jaw. Erne came like a whirlwind, starting Gans with a left swing on the jaw, and both went at it hammer and tongs until the bell separated them, with Erne having all the better of it.

Erne opened the twelfth with a left smash on the eye and followed with one right to the head and another straight right to the stomach, and Gans started toward Frank's corner, staggering blind. "I'm blind, I can't see any more," cried Gans, and Erne stepped in and White threw up both hands and told Erne to go to his corner. He then led the colored man to his corner and for the first time saw that Gans' left eye was out of its socket.

"Erne wins," shouted White, as Dr. Creamer jumped into the ring and replaced the injured optic.

"My right did the trick," said Erne as he left the ring, and the Buffalo crowd carried him to his dressing-room.

PARKER DEFEATS DALY. Denver Pugilist Scores a Knock-Out in the Second Round.

DENVER, March 23.—Kid Parker of Denver knocked out Wilmington Jack Daly in the second round of what was to have been a ten-round go before the Colorado Athletic Association to-night. George Greener refereed the bout. Three thousand persons witnessed it. The betting at the ringside was 10 to 6 in favor of the kid, and a large amount of money was offered on these odds. A considerable amount changed hands.

The first round was tame. In the second Daly opened with a stiff left jab to Parker's chin. A clinch was followed by a sharp right after the break, during which Parker put a short right uppercut over Daly's head, sending him to the floor for five seconds. When Daly got up he led again with his long left. Parker ducked and hammered Daly's body with right and left in the region of the heart. Daly dropped again, remaining on the mat for several seconds. Parker bore in as Daly arose to his feet and hardly able to arise. Parker did not allow the weakened Daly a moment's rest and floored him three more times. The last time Daly fell he rolled over on his stomach with a groan and Referee Siler counted him out.

CHAMPION JIM JEFFRIES PROPS FOR A VISIT

Has Much of Interest to Say About Himself and His Movements.

The Big Fellow Is in Rude Health and Looks Forward With Pleasure to His Important Ring Engagements.

"It is too late in the day for Tom O'Rourke to accuse Sharkey of being a moral coward after all the fighting he has done," Jim Jeffries refused to go further into the matter, except to say that when boxers and their managers part company hard things are often said on each side.

The champion arrived here from Los Angeles yesterday, looking like a picture of a rugged, healthy athlete. His appearance sets at rest all talk about his decline in physical condition. In explanation of how the reports of his ill health started he told of suffering from ringworm on his face and chest before the Sharkey fight. Acting upon the advice of a physician, he applied copper cents soaked in vinegar to the affected places. A mild attack of blood-poisoning resulted, which gave rise to the stories of his having seen his best days in the ring.

I am in better condition now than at any time in my life," he said in reply to questions. "I have been enjoying myself in physical condition for the past few months. I weigh about two hundred pounds, and I have reduced the size of my legs by exercise and have increased the muscles from my waist up. It is evident Jeffries shares no general distrust as to the good faith of his prospective match with Corbett. He volunteered the statement that he would rather meet Sharkey again, as it would be more profitable. He said he would rather meet Sharkey than any other heavyweight, as he knew Sharkey could not whip him and some of the other heavyweights might "cop him off," as he expressed it. He explained the Sharkey fight as strong on his feet as Fitzsimmons, or at least could not use his strength to such good advantage as Fitzsimmons. Regarding his fight with the sailor, he said his poor showing was caused by a dislocation of his left arm sustained in training shortly before the bout. He said he had healed fairly well, but the first time he let it go at Sharkey it went wrong and he was deprived of his services. It was useless for purposes of guarding or in protecting himself when breaking away from Corbett. Appleton Receiver Appointed. Judge W. W. Morrow of the United States Circuit Court yesterday appointed J. Hampden Dougherty ancillary receiver of D. Appleton & Co. in the jurisdiction of the court. The appointment is made necessary by the bringing of a suit against the famous and now insolvent book company by Daniel Pritchard, a New York stockholder, claiming that he is a partner in the company in the jurisdiction of the Ninth Circuit Court of the United States. Bishop & Wheeler appeared as attorneys for Daniel Pritchard in the matter.

Three Houses Burned. A fire at 12:20 yesterday morning destroyed the two-story frame building No. 217 Twenty-seventh street, occupied as a French laundry and dwelling by Isadore Jausand. The flames also damaged to some extent the one-story cottage at 219 Twenty-seventh street, occupied by C. S. Lindenberg and A. P. C. Cooper. The total loss is estimated at $2000.

Said He Was Robbed. Some nights ago Frank Martin, who is regarded by the police as a bad character, insulted a man named John Cotter on East street. Cotter resented the insult and gave Martin a severe beating. Later evening Martin claimed that during the difficulty he had been robbed of $50, and charged Cotter with the crime. The latter was arrested and charged with robbery at the Harbor Police Station.

Friedlander Thanked. The mothers of the children participating in the recent production of "The Brownies in Fairyland" desire to thank S. H. Friedlander of the California Theater for his management of the affair, also his generous treatment of the little ones. The children themselves express the highest words of praise for the accommodations and a happy home.
