

DEATH CASES THE HAWAIIAN CHIEF JUSTICE

Passing of Albert F. Judd After Several Months' Illness.

Political Career on the Islands Began With an Appointment as Attorney General by King Lunalilo.

THE LATE CHIEF JUSTICE ALBERT FRANCIS JUDD OF HAWAII.

HONOLULU, May 22.—Albert Francis Judd, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Hawaii, died at his residence, Nuuanu Valley, on the 20th. He had been ill for several months and for the past week had been slowly sinking.

Albert Francis Judd was the son of Dr. and Mrs. Gerritt P. Judd, who came here under the auspices of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions on the ship Parthian, arriving at Honolulu on March 20, 1828.

His early education was carried on under the difficulties that surrounded the education of the children of the early missionaries, a vivid but sympathetic account of which has been given by the late Chief Justice's mother in a little volume published about 1861.

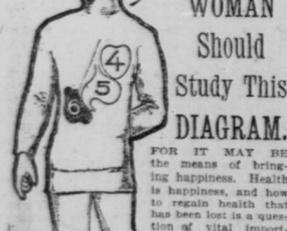

He attended the Royal School, then a school for the education of the children of Honolulu, where he began the practice of law. He afterward traveled in Europe, and it was while on this tour that he met Miss Agnes E. Henry, who became his wife.

Chief Justice Judd's political career began with his appointment as Attorney General of the Kingdom under King Lunalilo in 1874.

THE GRAY REUNION President McKinley Participates in a Memorial Day Ceremony Cementing the Reunion of Opposed Warring Factions.

AGERSTOWN, Md., May 30.—Another link in the chain which binds together the warring factions of the North and South was forged to-day by the dedication of a monument erected to the memory of men who wore the gray as well as those who wore the blue, and who died in mortal combat on the bloody field of Antietam.

The event, which probably is without a parallel in the history of the world, was graced by the presence of the President of the United States, accompanied by many members of his Cabinet, a score or more of Confederate Senators, thirty or more members of Congress, the Governor of Maryland and prominent men from all parts of the country.

The train which brought the President, the members of his Cabinet and the Congressional party from Washington reached the scene of the reunion at 10 o'clock, welcomed by Governor John Walter Smith of Maryland and his staff, Adjutant-General Saunders, a delegation of the officers of the Maryland National Guard, several posts of the Grand Army of the Republic and the Division of Maryland and the Herbert Camp, Confederate Veterans.

The dedicatory ceremonies were opened by Colonel Benjamin E. Taylor, who introduced General Henry R. Douglas, director of the reunion, and was followed by the Rev. B. F. Clark, who was followed by Governor John Walter Smith in an address of welcome.

Colonel Taylor, as president of the Antietam Battlefield Commission of Maryland, then presented the monument to the National Government. The Hon. Elihu Root, Secretary of War, then introduced the address, accepted it on behalf of the United States. Then followed short addresses by the Rev. B. F. Clark, the Rev. J. M. McKimley, and the Rev. J. M. McKimley.

The address was followed by the Rev. J. M. McKimley, who introduced the address of the Rev. J. M. McKimley, who introduced the address of the Rev. J. M. McKimley.

ADVERTISEMENTS.

Famous Generals Recommended Peruna

Of the great Generals of the Confederate army in the United States few remain. The most conspicuous figure among these is General James Longstreet, of Gainesville, Ga.

"I join with my comrade, General Wheeler, in testifying to the merits of Peruna, both as a tonic and a cathartic remedy. Peruna enjoys the greatest reputation as a cathartic remedy of any medicine yet devised."

General Longstreet's reference to General Wheeler in commenting upon Peruna was occasioned by a public statement of General Wheeler some time prior, in which he had praised Peruna as a cathartic remedy and tonic.

"I have used Peruna in my family and have found it a valuable medicine, and take pleasure in recommending it to all who suffer from catarrh of the stomach or who require a tonic of efficiency."

"I desire to say that I have found Peruna to be a wonderful remedy. I only used it for a short time and am thoroughly satisfied as to its merits. I cannot find words to express my gratitude for the results obtained. As a cathartic cure I shall gladly recommend it to all sufferers."

answer the queries of Mr. McCormack, for the reason that he believed the matter to be beyond his jurisdiction. The question could better be answered, in his opinion, by the Interstate Commerce Commission, which might overrule the health authorities of Texas.

Dr. Williamson stated that a meeting of the local Board of Health will be held to-day. The board is framing some ordinances that are aimed to enforce better sanitary conditions among the Chinese. One of the measures would be to compel the Chinese residents to sleep above ground and desert their foul cellars.
