

HELPING WORK OF THE PRESBYTERY

Second Day's Session of the United Ministers in First Church.

Money Voted to Assist in the Interior Counties—Meeting of Young People's Society.

The second day's session of the United Presbyterian Presbytery opened yesterday morning with a business meeting. It was decided to allow $200 for the Fresno mission and $500 for repairs on the church at San Jose. A new man will be assigned to the work in Alameda to take the place of Rev. W. H. Fulton, who has been compelled to go East, and a new man, Rev. Paul Stewart of Spring Hill, Ind., will be assigned to Oakland. He will preach his first sermon November 18. Reports from the various churches of the city were received. They showed the denominations to be in excellent condition in every way. The afternoon session took the form of a meeting of the Presbyterian Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor, Rev. W. E. Dugan of San Francisco presiding. The theme of the afternoon was "The Onward Sweep of the Young People's Movement." Rev. S. A. Shaw of San Diego spoke first on "Our Great Bearings." He was followed by Rev. C. J. Hanley of Fresno on "Our Perils." Miss Jean Lauriston of San Francisco spoke on "A Brief Review of the Year's Work," and Rev. H. A. White of Fowler spoke on "Plans for the Coming Year." These addresses were followed by a general discussion, an offering for the Indian famine sufferers and a social hour.

MASONIC GRAND LODGE

One Salary Is Increased and Committees Are Appointed.

At the second session of the Grand Lodge of the Free and Accepted Masons yesterday it was reported that during the year two charters were granted, one to Santa Maria and the other to Esperanza lodge. The salary of the grand lecturer was increased to $200 and accepted, but a proposition to increase his salary in this sum as to enable him to devote all his time to the office failed to carry. JUSTICES GO ON THE TICKET.

City Attorney Lane informed the Election Commission yesterday that the absence from the Governor's proclamation of the office of Justice of the Peace in the call for an election does not in any way affect the duty of the commission to place the names of candidates for Justice of the Peace upon the ballot, and he advises that this be done. Lane says he is not prepared to agree that the various provisions of the law the term of Justice is now four years.

GAYLY THE SHRINERS SET OFF FOR PARADISE FOR PARADISE Cheers, Waving Flags and Music Mark Departure of the Pilgrims for Hawaiian Islands.

EVERY vessel in the bay that had steam up blew a whistle and every person of the thousands on Pacific-street wharf who could cheer or call out "good-by, good luck to you," did so as the gayly decorated steamer Zealandia backed out of her berth at 12:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon and turned toward the Gate to begin her voyage to the Hawaiian Islands, carrying a number of nobles of the Ancient Arabic Order of the Mystic Shrine and their wives and lady relatives, who are to be gone on a three weeks' pilgrimage to the Paradise of the Pacific.

THE GALLANT STEAMER WAS DECKED FROM STEWART AND FROM TRUCK TO TAFFRAIL IN THE BAY OF SAN FRANCISCO. FROM THE PACIFIC-STREET WHARF AND ADJACENT ONES ALMOST EVERY ONE RESPONDED TO THE FLUTTER OF THE FLAGS ON BOARD BY WAVING HANDKERCHIEFS. A LONG, SHRILL BLAST FROM THE STEAMER'S WHISTLE AS SHE PASSED OUT OF VIEW OF THOSE ON THE WHARVES WAS "GOOD-BYE" BY ALL FROM THOSE WHO HAD STARTED ON A ROUND OF UNINTERRUPTED PLEASURE THAT HAD BEEN PROGRAMMED FOR SEA AND SHORE. BEFORE 9 O'CLOCK IN THE FORENOON THE SHRINERS WENDED THEIR WAY TO THE STEAMER TO ARRANGE THEIR BELONGINGS IN THE QUARTERS ASSIGNED TO THEM. THEN CAME HUNDREDS UPON HUNDREDS TO BID THEM A FOND FAREWELL AND TO TAKE A DAYLIGHT VIEW OF THE SHIP AND ITS "FRIENDLY" WIFE, E. SLOAN, R. LOWE, J. A. LAUGHTON, C. J. MONROE AND W. H. SIFFORD.

GRAMME FOR THE FIRST DAY WILL GIVE AN IDEA OF THE CHARACTER OF THE MUSICAL TREAT. AFTERNOON-OVERTURE, "ORPHEUS" (ORFEBACH); SPANISH INTERMEZZO, "SALOME" (LOVAIN); CONCERT WALTZ, "VIENNE BLUE" (STRAUSS); SOLO CORNET, selected, George W. Bennett; collection of popular songs (Witmark); march, "Moslem Herald" (Bennett); Evening-Overture, "Hungarian Rhapsody" (Liszt); intermezzo, "Cavalleria Rusticana" (Mascagni); cakewalk, "Cotton Blossoms" (Hall); quartet from "Rigoletto" (Verdi); patrol, "American" (Meacham); march, "The Oregon" (Mattingly).

The vessel is under command of Captain Thomas Donnell, and the most able and genial masters who ever took a ship out of the bay of San Francisco. He, of course, has a set of competent officers under him and a good crew, but in case of emergency he will be assisted by an organization on board styled the "Ancient Mariners," or "The Mystic 101," of which the following named are the officers: R. P. Hurlbut, Chief Shellback; B. D. Pike, Vice Chief Shellback; A. F. Gunn, keeper of the locker; George F. Neal, skipper; Thomas H. Brown, extraordinary sailing master; Fred Marsh, able seaman; James G. Spaulding, captain of marmes; J. H. Goldman, yardarm lookout.

These are likewise the executive officers of the pilgrimage committee.

FALLON DREW A KNIFE, SAYS COLE He Declares That His Victim First Attacked Him.

Curley Cole, the opium fiend who shot and seriously wounded Tom Fallon in "Billy" Abbott's lodging-house several days ago and was arrested in Sacramento, was brought back last evening by Detective Harry Reynolds. He was at once taken to the City Prison and charged with an assault to murder.

Cole will plead self-defense. He claims that when he accused Fallon of being too friendly with his female consort his rival drew a knife and threatened to make him a subject for the coroner. Then, Cole says, he whipped out his revolver and fired a shot which struck Fallon in the chest. He left the city, after some difficulty got as far as Yolo, where he stopped at the Chinese purchase some opium. Detective Fisher, who was on the train, and when he learned Cole was wanted here after him, finding him in Yolo, semi-unconscious from the opium he had been smoking. Fallon was at once arrested and taken to the Sacramento jail.

In explanation of why he carried the revolver with which he did the shooting Cole says that the night previous he met a stranger, who, after giving him a knock-out drug, robbed him of $45. Anxious to be revenged, he borrowed the pistol from a friend, intending to compel the fellow to give him back his money. After being released from prison for visiting an opium joint he went to his room, and finding Fallon making love to his female consort, he called him down. Fallon, he says, tried to stab him, and in self-defense he shot his assailant.

SOUGHT TROUBLE WITH HIS DIVORCED WIFE

Andrew Holden Charged With Malignant Mischief and Disturbing the Peace.

Andrew Holden, a plumber, who was recently divorced from his wife, got mad Wednesday night as he brooded over his troubles and started to drink. The more he drank the madder he got, and he determined to visit his divorced wife on Central avenue and have it out with her for securing the divorce.

When he reached the house, after 10 o'clock, he found the door locked. He knocked loudly, but no one answered. He went to the street, picked up a rock and threw it at the house. The rock crashed through a window and struck Miss Lillie Knott, a young lady who resides in the house. The crash was heard by Policemen Dunn and Mylar, and they arrested Holden on charges of disturbing the peace and malicious mischief.

BUGLE CALL SUMMONS SICK SOLDIERS TO GENERAL HOSPITAL BARBER SHOP

Colonel Girard Issues a "Hair-Cut" Order That Creates Mild Consternation Among Warrior Patients.

"All hands to the barber shop" is the new call now being set to music by the bugler at the General Hospital, Presidio. Early yesterday morning the strange call echoed and re-echoed through the wards and corridors of the hospital. When the sound of the last note had died away strange and startling were the scenes began to be enacted. From out the various wards issued boys in blue, some on crutches, some on invalid chairs and others being helped along by their ward masters.

The reason for all this strange parade of sick and wounded soldiers was an order issued by Colonel Girard that the patients must content themselves with the amount of hair allowed by army regulations, as the present invalid style of long hair was "unhealthy and unmillitary."

"Stand off the barber, but get it cut," said the colonel, and like brave soldiers that they are they obeyed orders. The lugubrious look on the face of the dusky wielder of the razor and shears was an assurance that the hospital patients were obeying the order literally.

All day long the only sounds that were distinctly audible around the hospital were the cry of "Next" and the monotonous snip of the shears. With each clip beautiful curls or wavy locks, that had by careful manipulation been trained to stay "just so" on the brow of a gallant boy in blue, fell to the floor. As the number of 10-cent "tags" increased the look of apprehension on the face of the barber and given way to a fendish grin.

Locks of hair that in the world of art are called Titan, but in army barracks entitle the wearer to the name of "Breck," soon littered the floor. Occasionally a curl of raven black appeared and not infrequently a lock of the kind known as "tow." Bold troopers entered the shop veritable Buffalo Bills and Captain Jack Crawford in appearance and emerged greatly resembling a ticket-of-leave man. The shorn soldiers were a disconsolate appearing lot as they sat around the verandas of the hospital, even the tender, sympathetic words of the nurses failing to cheer them.

"What's the use of being a sick soldier," said one whose head bore a close resemblance to a billiard ball, "if you can't wear your hair long." Reason for his remark was made evident by the look of pained surprise on the handsome face of a young lady who just then appeared in the ward. His only solace was the knowledge that the "other fellow" in the next ward had been treated likewise.

KINYOUN'S DAYS ON THE COAST ARE NUMBERED

Chamber of Commerce and British Consul Will Ask Removal of Quarantine Officer.

The San Francisco Chamber of Commerce, the Merchants' Association and in all probability the British Consul are taking a hand in the matter of Dr. Kinyoun, Federal quarantine officer in this port. Since the recent humiliating episode aboard the steamship Coptic, when passengers were subjected to the grossest indecencies, the feeling against the doctor and his brutal methods has been intensified by complaints from merchants whose business has suffered by reason of delays in the mail, attributed directly to Kinyoun.

"A repetition of the scenes that were enacted aboard the Coptic must be avoided, and nothing but the removal of Kinyoun will insure reform," said a member of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday. "If our committee finds that this man has overstepped his bounds, we will not hesitate to demand his dismissal or transfer by the Washington authorities."

The Chamber of Commerce trustees have taken up the matter at the urgent request of several of the members. A special committee has been named and the members are now investigating the charges made against Kinyoun. It found that a complaint had been made by Surgeon General Wyman of the Marine Hospital service, from whom Kinyoun takes his orders.

The British Consul in this city, W. Clayton Pickersill, is also likely to take some action in the matter. A number of British recent indignities have personally appealed to the Consul to take a hand in the matter, and it is understood he has written to the British Ambassador in Washington, who, in turn, will transmit the complaint to the Treasury Department,
