Its institutions, its meshes, its quarrels and its prejudices. They sought this country as a land of refuge to escape from the autocratic power of kings and petty despots. They felt they were creating something new and how well they did it is my purpose to tell these young men.

The lessons taught in these times of change, when steam and electricity draw together the ends of the world, when industrial activity is conquering everything, when corporations are absorbing other corporations, and labor unions are absorbing the laborer, and parties absorbing the voter, rolling with juggernaut moves what in God's name has become of the individual?

The duty of citizenship is one of the most sacred enjoyed by man. It is necessary to go into politics, but it is not necessary to go into a political office. Any young man who could make a success of a political office could do better in any business career. If you are fettered down to your bread and butter in a political office, you will soon be the loser. Government offices don't pay as well as business. Don't take up politics as a means of livelihood.

If in politics, don't put things into writing. Be honest. The man who keeps their words. If you make a political promise don't fail to keep the same. Some of our politicians are not as bad as they are painted, nor are our heroes as great as they are delineated. Don't bother with little things, but drive after the main issue. Many politicians have their careers wrecked by meddling with little things. Don't bother with personalities. Beware of the man who always speaks ill of his fellowman. Righteousness will take care of itself. Study the issues and leave the men alone. Don't jump at conclusions because your political adversary thinks differently from you. Study the matter and floor him by incontrovertible argument.

Don't beat about the bush. Use direct methods.

America floats the doctrine inculcated by Washington and the blessing of American civilization will be given to these people in accordance with the spirit of the words of Washington.

President Wheeler's address was frequently interrupted by applause, and he received quite an ovation at its close. The concluding numbers of the programme consisted of a recitation by Miss Charlotte E. Johnston, songs by J. H. Desmond and Miss Ella McCloskey and selections by the orchestra.

COURT TWIN PEAKS GIVES PLEASING JUVENILE SHOW

Court Twin Peaks of the Ancient Order of Foresters celebrated Washington's birthday by giving a children's night in Mission Turn Verein Halle on Eighteenth street, near Valencia, last night.

The hall was crowded and all were entertained with the several numbers on the programme presented by juveniles. There were fifteen numbers, made up of vocal selections, instrumental numbers, fancy dances and specialties. The youthful performers were Lila Phillips, Lucy Wilhoit, Lillian Hauschenback, May and Alice Holland, Master George Kroger, Flossie Beattie, Eva Smith, Emma and Walter Duffer, Ida Bennett, Robie Whitely, Rose and Bella Bennett, John and Henry Drescher, Blanche Treleas, Prossie Forrest and Claire Fox.

The programme was followed by a dance. Alexander Smith was master of ceremonies, Louis Marcus, accompanist.

one hundred and sixty-ninth anniversary of the birth of George Washington with a banquet last night at the Merchants' Club. Over one hundred and fifty members and invited guests met at the festal board and in addition to partaking of an birthday was commemorated by the Union League Club to-day by two events at the Auditorium. Five thousand children crowded into the Auditorium during the forenoon, a special programme having been arranged for them. Bishop Spalding of Peoria delivered an eloquent address on "Patriotism and Character."

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 22.—The faculty and students of the University of Pennsylvania to-day celebrated Washington's birthday in an elaborate manner. The students assembled on the campus at 10 o'clock this morning and marched to the Academy of Music, where the exercises were held. Bishop Whitaker opened the celebratory exercises with prayer, after which Frost Harrison delivered a brief address. Dr. S. Welr Mitchell, "public orator" in the annual conferring of honorary degrees, introduced each candidate to Frost Harrison, who conferred the diplomas in Latin and on each card placed the hood or gown peculiar to the degree.

DETROIT, Feb. 22.—To-night the Light Guard armory rang with patriotic sentiments expressed by prominent Republicans. The Michigan Club on their sixteenth annual celebration of Washington's birthday. Postmaster General Charles Emory Smith delivered the first address. The Rev. Howard Duffield of New York responded to the toast "The Legacy of Washington to the Twentieth Century." "A Century and a Quarter of Liberty and Law" was the toast assigned to Congressman Landis of Indiana. Ex-Secretary of War Alger made a short address.

LONDON, Feb. 22.—National flags were hoisted over the American Embassy and Consulate here to-day in honor of Washington's birthday, but the usual ambassadorial reception and the American Society banquet were abandoned owing to the Queen's death.

COAST TOWNS CELEBRATE

SAN JOSE, Feb. 22.—Washington's birthday was generally observed here, all the stores and business houses closing. The Old Settlers' Association of Campbell held a reunion and banquet. Several hundred persons were present. Rev. Eli McClish of this city delivered an address and Judge Myrick of San Francisco presided as toastmaster. The Happy Badgers, composed of Wisconsinites, enjoyed their annual banquet and reunion at the Unitarian church here. A fine musical and literary programme was rendered.

SANTA CRUZ, Feb. 22.—Washington's birthday was observed here as a holiday. This afternoon Father Yorke of San Francisco delivered an address at the opera-house, after which there was a flag raising at the Catholic Boys' School.

SAN RAFAEL, Feb. 22.—The convicts at San Quentin to-day were regaled with a fine dinner. Father Seson sang songs and entertained the prisoners with his phonograph. Convict Saville played accompaniments for the priest.

of all the diseases known with which the female organism is afflicted, kidney disease is the most fatal. In fact, unless early and correct treatment is applied, the weary patient seldom survives.

Being fully aware of this, Mrs. Pinkham, early in her career, gave exhaustive study to the subject, and in producing her great remedy for woman's ailments—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—was careful to see that it contained the correct combination of herbs which was sure to control that fatal disease, woman's kidney troubles. The Vegetable Compound acts in harmony with the laws that govern the entire female system, and while there are many so-called remedies for kidney troubles, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the only one especially prepared for women.

The following letters will show how marvellously successful it is:

Aug. 6, 1899. "DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I am failing very fast, since January have lost thirty-five or forty pounds. I have a yellow, muddy complexion, feel tired, and have bearing down pains. Menstrues have not appeared for three months; sometimes I am troubled with a white discharge, and I also have kidney and bladder trouble. . . I have been this way for a long time, and feel so miserable I thought I would write to you, and see if you could do me any good."—Miss EDNA FREDERICK, Troy, Ohio.

Sept. 10, 1899. "DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I have used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound according to directions, and can say I have not felt so well for years as I do at present. Before taking your medicine a more miserable person you never saw. I could not eat or sleep, and did not care to talk with any one. I did not enjoy life at all. Now, I feel so well I cannot be grateful enough for what you have done for me. You are surely a woman's friend. Thanking you a thousand times, I remain, Ever yours, Miss EDNA FREDERICK, Troy, Ohio.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I have taken five bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and cannot praise it enough. I had headaches, leucorrhoea, falling of the womb, and kidney trouble. I also had a pain when standing or walking, and sometimes there seemed to be balls of fire in front of me, so that I could not see for about twenty minutes. I felt as tired in the morning when I got up as if I had had no sleep for two weeks. Had fainting spells, was down-hearted, and would cry."—MRS. BERTHA OBER, Second and Clayton Sts., Chester Pa.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I cannot find language to express the terrible suffering I have had to endure. I had female trouble, also liver, stomach, kidney, and bladder trouble. I tried several doctors, also quite a number of patent medicines, and had despaired of ever getting well. At last I concluded to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and now, thanks to your medicine, I am a well woman. I can not praise your medicine too highly for I know it will do all, and ever more, than it is recommended to do. I tell every suffering woman about your Vegetable Compound, and urge them to try it and see for themselves what it will do."—MRS. MARY A. HIPLE, No. Manchester, Ind.

REWARD.—We have deposited with the National City Bank of Lynn, $5000, which will be paid to any person who can find that the above testimonial letters are not genuine, or were published before obtaining the writer's special permission. LYDIA E. PINKHAM MEDICINE CO.

POLITICAL "DON'TS"

formed the basis of the address of President Benjamin Ide Wheeler of the University of California at the celebration of Washington's Birthday at Metropolitan Hall last night, under the direction of the board of management of the Young Men's Institute. The gathering was a large one, every seat being occupied. President Wheeler made a striking impression upon his audience and close attention was paid to his remarks.

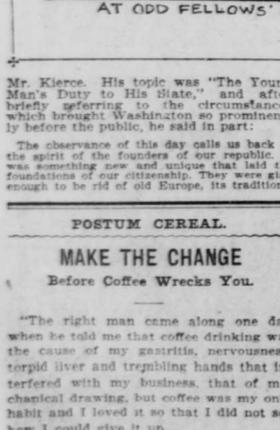

Robert Tobin, chairman of the board of management, introduced Supreme President Frank J. Kierce as the chairman of the evening. The latter spoke briefly, saying that the celebration of Washington's Birthday had been chosen as the most fitting occasion for a proper display of patriotism on the part of the members of that organization, and that it was due to a suggestion of Father York that the kindled fires of patriotism burned each year with more ardor in the breasts of those enrolled in it.

Kierce said he hoped that the success attending the opening celebration of the twentieth century was but a prelude to continued years of good work in the cause of "God and Country." A number of interesting musical selections were interspersed through the evening's programme. Signor Martinez rendered a piano solo. Miss Kittie McShane, accompanied by Miss May Stein, sang "When the Snow Begins to Fall." Oscar S. Frank rendered a baritone solo, and Walter Beach was heard on the cornet. President Wheeler was greeted with considerable applause when introduced by

Mr. Kierce. His topic was "The Young Man's Duty to His State," and after briefly referring to the circumstances which brought Washington so prominently before the public, he said in part:

The observance of this day calls us back to the spirit of the founders of our republic. It is something new and unique that laid the foundations of our citizenship. They were glad enough to be rid of old Europe, its traditions,

POSTUM CEREAL

MAKE THE CHANGE Before Coffee Wrecks You.

"The right man came along one day when he told me that coffee drinking was the cause of my gastritis, nervousness, torpid liver and trembling hands that interfered with my business, that of mechanical drawing, but coffee was my only habit and I loved it so that I did not see how I could give it up.

"If he had not been so enthusiastic regarding the relief in his case by leaving off coffee and taking Postum Food Coffee I could not have mustered up will power enough to abandon my favorite beverage.

"I left off coffee that day at lunch and had a cup of Postum. It was made good and had a rich, dark color, with a delicious flavor that I could not tell from regular coffee. It pleased the eye, smell and palate, so I had it each day at the restaurant for the noonday lunch, and discovered a decided improvement in my condition, but it was not until I left off coffee for breakfast and used Postum in its place that real relief set in. Now I am free from gastritis, headache, and fully appreciate the value of the 'nerve ease.' No more trembling hands and no more nervous prostration. I am well, and feel that I should say to others who are being poisoned by a beverage that they do not suspect, 'coffee.' Make the change before the poison works destruction in you."

This letter is from a New York mechanical draughtsman. Name can be furnished by the Postum Cereal Co., Ltd., at Battle Creek, Mich.
