

CHARTERED ARMY TRANSPORT ARAB RETURNS IN DISTRESS

DISCHARGING THE LIVING CARGO OF THE DISABLED HORSE TRANSPORT ARAB.

The chartered army transport Arab, which left here March 31 for Manila with 657 horses, came back to port in distress yesterday. When six days out some of the furnaces fell and the boilers around the others began to leak, putting out the fire and compelling Captain Williams to return for repairs.

The Arab was passed by the local inspectors at Seattle, and when she got here Captain Willis refused a second examination, as his vessel had been accepted as ready for sea on March 11 by the United States representatives.

The Arab got away early on Sunday, March 21. All went well for the first few days, and then the boilers began to leak. Patches that had been put on at Seattle would not stand the pressure and the engineers could not think them up.

The Arab was accordingly put about and headed for San Francisco. The Arab was accordingly put about and headed for San Francisco. The Arab was accordingly put about and headed for San Francisco.

Malt Breakfast Food combines the health-giving properties of pure malt with the strength-yielding virtues of the choicest wheat.

Prof. W. Mattieu Williams, of London, the greatest living scientist in the chemistry of foods, in "The Chemistry of Cookery," says:

"By mixing malt with a cereal in proper proportions an excellent and easily digested food is obtained,
