

BELVEDERE RESIDENTS REFUSE TO SUBMIT TO POSTOFFICE DEPARTMENT FOR RURAL DELIVERY SERVICE AND PURCHASE SOME THAT ARE LESS ARTISTIC BUT CHEAPER

Decline to Purchase Letter Boxes Approved by the Postoffice Department for Rural Delivery Service and Purchase Some That Are Less Artistic but Cheaper

BELVEDERE is in a furor over a question that some residents consider from a standpoint of art and others from the standpoint of their pocketbooks. And while the fun is going on it is not safe to ask a Belvedere resident, "How would you like to be the postmaster?"

The whole trouble centers around a mail box. The Postmaster has the boxes on sale and has kindly and politely invited the islanders to come and buy. With one exception, however, they have said him "No, nay," and have then proceeded at once to violate the sacred laws of art, for which aristocratic Belvedere is noted. The trouble has been brewing for some time. Late in March the Deputy Town Marshal O. M. Olson sent the following order throughout the length and breadth and height of the island and started the mischief-making ball a-rolling.

To Whom It May Concern: On and after Friday, April 1, 1901, no mail will be delivered to residences of Belvedere by Deputy Marshal unless letter boxes are provided at a convenient location on the line of the road for the collection of the mail.

Sample of letter box approved by the Postoffice Department for rural delivery service may be seen at the postoffice. It should also be borne in mind that the Postmaster reserves the right to refuse to deliver mail to the Deputy Marshal for delivery to the address.

O. M. OLSON, Deputy Marshal. Declares Boxes Inartistic. Belvedere did not take kindly to the edict. It declared that post boxes were inartistic and would have none of them. When, however, the Postmaster declared "No box, no mail delivery," it put aside all question of art, nailed cigar boxes and soap boxes at the very gates and laughed at the "box approved by the Postoffice Department for rural delivery service" at the rate of $3 per box.

Only one man followed the Postmaster's advice. He is the only one who has a letter box. The rest have none. The Postmaster has been very kind and has kindly and politely invited the islanders to come and buy. With one exception, however, they have said him "No, nay," and have then proceeded at once to violate the sacred laws of art, for which aristocratic Belvedere is noted.

The trouble has been brewing for some time. Late in March the Deputy Town Marshal O. M. Olson sent the following order throughout the length and breadth and height of the island and started the mischief-making ball a-rolling.

To Whom It May Concern: On and after Friday, April 1, 1901, no mail will be delivered to residences of Belvedere by Deputy Marshal unless letter boxes are provided at a convenient location on the line of the road for the collection of the mail.

Sample of letter box approved by the Postoffice Department for rural delivery service may be seen at the postoffice. It should also be borne in mind that the Postmaster reserves the right to refuse to deliver mail to the Deputy Marshal for delivery to the address.

O. M. OLSON, Deputy Marshal. Declares Boxes Inartistic. Belvedere did not take kindly to the edict. It declared that post boxes were inartistic and would have none of them. When, however, the Postmaster declared "No box, no mail delivery," it put aside all question of art, nailed cigar boxes and soap boxes at the very gates and laughed at the "box approved by the Postoffice Department for rural delivery service" at the rate of $3 per box.

Only one man followed the Postmaster's advice. He is the only one who has a letter box. The rest have none. The Postmaster has been very kind and has kindly and politely invited the islanders to come and buy. With one exception, however, they have said him "No, nay," and have then proceeded at once to violate the sacred laws of art, for which aristocratic Belvedere is noted.

The trouble has been brewing for some time. Late in March the Deputy Town Marshal O. M. Olson sent the following order throughout the length and breadth and height of the island and started the mischief-making ball a-rolling.

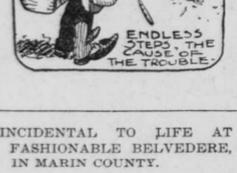

To Whom It May Concern: On and after Friday, April 1, 1901, no mail will be delivered to residences of Belvedere by Deputy Marshal unless letter boxes are provided at a convenient location on the line of the road for the collection of the mail.

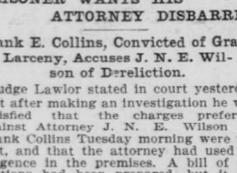

INCIDENTAL TO LIFE AT FASHIONABLE BELVEDERE, IN MARIN COUNTY.

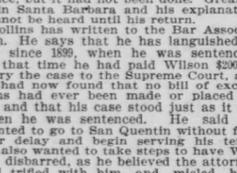

ENDLESS STEPS TO THE TROUBLE.

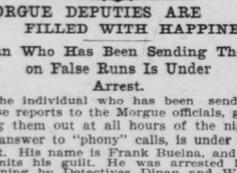

HOW HORRIBLY CHECKING A BEASTLY DELEGAR. BEING THOSE SWEET SCENTED NOTES.

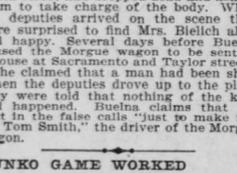

office Department for rural delivery service may be seen at the postoffice.

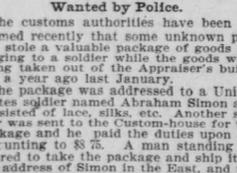

Declares Boxes Inartistic.

Only one man followed the Postmaster's advice.

The trouble has been brewing for some time.

To Whom It May Concern: On and after Friday, April 1, 1901, no mail will be delivered to residences of Belvedere by Deputy Marshal unless letter boxes are provided at a convenient location on the line of the road for the collection of the mail.

Sample of letter box approved by the Postoffice Department for rural delivery service may be seen at the postoffice.

suggestion. M. V. Lacaze gave up $3 for a box and placed it in a prominent position at the entrance to his home. Dr. Dunbar showed a disposition to follow the letter of the Postmaster's law, but that is as far as he has gone. Mrs. Mary Bailey, O. A. Bernard and Mr. Tilden went to town and bought iron lock boxes, which, according to the Postmaster, are not so neat as the one he offers, but costing only $1. R. Wheeler, J. H. Miller, R. W. Seely and Mrs. Fow have near little rustic boxes nailed up on the trees that guard the entrance to their respective places.

C. O. Perry has followed the advice of the Postmaster, but he did not buy one of his boxes. He got an old tin can and with a few deft touches turned it into shape so artistically that it looks like the real thing to every one but the Postmaster. Dr. Edward, Will Powning and J. D. Maxwell have agreed that a post box is inartistic and therefore a thing to be dispensed with. These gentlemen have no boxes and consequently are obliged to send to the postmaster for their mail.

Postmaster Behrmeister declares he cannot understand the artistic aristocratic residents of Belvedere. "It is not the matter of the post boxes that I am complaining of," he said. "It is the way the residents treat the postoffice. They expect splendid service and yet they do all they can to lessen the revenue of the office, the one way they can make the perfect service possible. Greatest among the grievances is this one: The residents carry all the letters to San Francisco and mail them there. Whereas if they mailed them in their own place they would only benefit the office but get prompter delivery."

The ladies of Belvedere have a grievance all of their own in the postoffice matter. They expect the mail carrier to be courteous enough on certain occasions to refuse to wait while the ladies put a reply to the letters he climbed several hundred steps to deliver to them. The ladies, however, have taken no account of the danger they have been heard to say that their private opinion of Olson is, but that is all.

is the way the residents treat the postoffice. They expect splendid service and yet they do all they can to lessen the revenue of the office, the one way they can make the perfect service possible. Greatest among the grievances is this one: The residents carry all the letters to San Francisco and mail them there. Whereas if they mailed them in their own place they would only benefit the office but get prompter delivery."

The ladies of Belvedere have a grievance all of their own in the postoffice matter. They expect the mail carrier to be courteous enough on certain occasions to refuse to wait while the ladies put a reply to the letters he climbed several hundred steps to deliver to them. The ladies, however, have taken no account of the danger they have been heard to say that their private opinion of Olson is, but that is all.

is the way the residents treat the postoffice. They expect splendid service and yet they do all they can to lessen the revenue of the office, the one way they can make the perfect service possible. Greatest among the grievances is this one: The residents carry all the letters to San Francisco and mail them there. Whereas if they mailed them in their own place they would only benefit the office but get prompter delivery."

The ladies of Belvedere have a grievance all of their own in the postoffice matter. They expect the mail carrier to be courteous enough on certain occasions to refuse to wait while the ladies put a reply to the letters he climbed several hundred steps to deliver to them. The ladies, however, have taken no account of the danger they have been heard to say that their private opinion of Olson is, but that is all.

is the way the residents treat the postoffice. They expect splendid service and yet they do all they can to lessen the revenue of the office, the one way they can make the perfect service possible. Greatest among the grievances is this one: The residents carry all the letters to San Francisco and mail them there. Whereas if they mailed them in their own place they would only benefit the office but get prompter delivery."

The ladies of Belvedere have a grievance all of their own in the postoffice matter. They expect the mail carrier to be courteous enough on certain occasions to refuse to wait while the ladies put a reply to the letters he climbed several hundred steps to deliver to them. The ladies, however, have taken no account of the danger they have been heard to say that their private opinion of Olson is, but that is all.

is the way the residents treat the postoffice. They expect splendid service and yet they do all they can to lessen the revenue of the office, the one way they can make the perfect service possible. Greatest among the grievances is this one: The residents carry all the letters to San Francisco and mail them there. Whereas if they mailed them in their own place they would only benefit the office but get prompter delivery."

The ladies of Belvedere have a grievance all of their own in the postoffice matter. They expect the mail carrier to be courteous enough on certain occasions to refuse to wait while the ladies put a reply to the letters he climbed several hundred steps to deliver to them. The ladies, however, have taken no account of the danger they have been heard to say that their private opinion of Olson is, but that is all.

is the way the residents treat the postoffice. They expect splendid service and yet they do all they can to lessen the revenue of the office, the one way they can make the perfect service possible. Greatest among the grievances is this one: The residents carry all the letters to San Francisco and mail them there. Whereas if they mailed them in their own place they would only benefit the office but get prompter delivery."

The ladies of Belvedere have a grievance all of their own in the postoffice matter. They expect the mail carrier to be courteous enough on certain occasions to refuse to wait while the ladies put a reply to the letters he climbed several hundred steps to deliver to them. The ladies, however, have taken no account of the danger they have been heard to say that their private opinion of Olson is, but that is all.

is the way the residents treat the postoffice. They expect splendid service and yet they do all they can to lessen the revenue of the office, the one way they can make the perfect service possible. Greatest among the grievances is this one: The residents carry all the letters to San Francisco and mail them there. Whereas if they mailed them in their own place they would only benefit the office but get prompter delivery."

THE CONQUERORS OF THE ALCAZAR

"The Conquerors" Having Successful Run at Alcazar.

James Neill's Splendid Company Coming—Other Performances.

"The Conquerors" at the Alcazar is the most important dramatic presentation of the week. Paul Potter's play is not milk for babes, but is a strong and stirring picture of the minor horrors of war, as felt by the French folk in Brittany during the battle of Sedan. "The Conquerors" is emphatically not a play for the young girl. It is coarse and brutal in places as befits the brutal subject, but in spite of that and the numerous sins of construction which have unquestionable truth and power. The play is well taken care of by the Alcazar stock company. Lila Convere, Joseph Kigour and Mrs. Bryant being in particular well seen. It is playing to standing room, and is apparently in for a run.

"Under Two Flags" at Morosco's Grand Opera-house is playing to good houses. Next week "Mr. Barnes of New York," a dramatic resident of New York, will be the bill, with Jack Webster in the title role. Miss Mathilde Choate as Marjia Paul and Miss Florence Stone as Edna Anstruther.

"The Evil Eye" is pleasing the California audiences this week with its acrobatic wonders and spectacular attractions. On Sunday next Mr. James Neill and his good company will be welcomed for a season at the California, the engagement to open with South Russell's charming comedy, "A Bachelor's Romance."

"A Fair Rebel" is the Central's bill this week, and pleases the melodramatically inclined with its thrilling situations and war-time pictures. Next week a grand revival of "Ten Nights in a Barroom" will be offered.

"The Idol's Eye" seems to be a perennial favorite at the Tivoli, for it has far outlasted the general run of comic operas in popularity, and there is no sign of its being replaced for some time to come. The entire day and those who go can either take part in the exercises or follow Alameda Creek and picnic in regular order in the State of California.

There will be special trains leaving San Francisco at 9 a. m. on Friday and Oakland at 9:30, and the return will be made leaving Fernbrook at 5:30 p. m.

There will be something of interest during the entire day and those who go can either take part in the exercises or follow Alameda Creek and picnic in regular order in the State of California.

There will be special trains leaving San Francisco at 9 a. m. on Friday and Oakland at 9:30, and the return will be made leaving Fernbrook at 5:30 p. m.

There will be something of interest during the entire day and those who go can either take part in the exercises or follow Alameda Creek and picnic in regular order in the State of California.

There will be special trains leaving San Francisco at 9 a. m. on Friday and Oakland at 9:30, and the return will be made leaving Fernbrook at 5:30 p. m.

There will be something of interest during the entire day and those who go can either take part in the exercises or follow Alameda Creek and picnic in regular order in the State of California.

There will be special trains leaving San Francisco at 9 a. m. on Friday and Oakland at 9:30, and the return will be made leaving Fernbrook at 5:30 p. m.

There will be something of interest during the entire day and those who go can either take part in the exercises or follow Alameda Creek and picnic in regular order in the State of California.

There will be special trains leaving San Francisco at 9 a. m. on Friday and Oakland at 9:30, and the return will be made leaving Fernbrook at 5:30 p. m.

NILES CANYON WILL BE THE SCENE OF A GRAND ODD FELLOWS' PICNIC

Eighty-Third Anniversary of Order to Be Observed by an Outing at Which There Will Be Special Exercises, Including Oration and the Conferring of Decorations

AKLAND, April 24.—The Odd Fellows of the bay district will celebrate the eighty-third anniversary of the order by a picnic and outing in Niles Canyon on Friday. There will be special exercises during the day, including oration by Grand Master W. W. Watson, the head of the country style. During the morning there will be dancing in the big pavilion. After luncheon at 1:30 o'clock the Decoration of Chivalry will be bestowed upon two or three prominent Odd Fellows as a reward of special services to Odd Fellowship during the year. The services will be most elaborate and will be conducted by Brigadier General H. O. Brower of the

MAJON GEORGE KIRK

LIEUT. COL. H. C. COLE

MAJON G. L. C. PAPER

MAJON G. L. C. PAPER

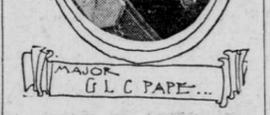

MAJON G. L. C. PAPER

MAJON G. L. C. PAPER

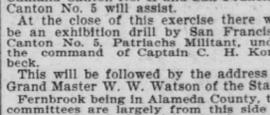

MAJON G. L. C. PAPER

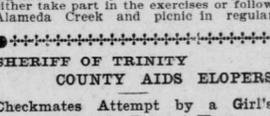

MAJON G. L. C. PAPER

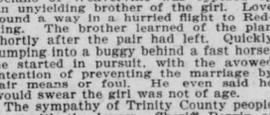

MAJON G. L. C. PAPER

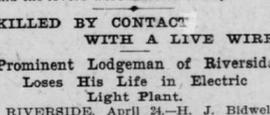

MAJON G. L. C. PAPER

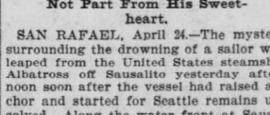

MAJON G. L. C. PAPER

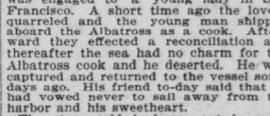

MAJON G. L. C. PAPER

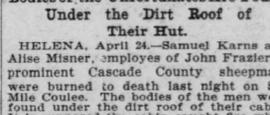

MAJON G. L. C. PAPER

MAJON G. L. C. PAPER

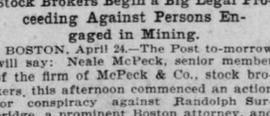

MAJON G. L. C. PAPER

MAJON G. L. C. PAPER

MAJON G. L. C. PAPER

MAJON G. L. C. PAPER

MAJON G. L. C. PAPER

MAJON G. L. C. PAPER

PROMINENT ODD FELLOWS WHO ARE MEMBERS OF THE COMMITTEE OF ARRANGEMENTS FOR THE PICNIC TO BE GIVEN IN NILES CANYON IN HONOR OF THE ORDER'S EIGHTY-THIRD ANNIVERSARY.

Patriarchs Militant of the State. The three to be rewarded are Chevaliers John H. Foster, George W. Farner and Christian T. Johnson. Brigadier General Brower will be assisted by four ladies of the Rebekah degree: Miss Jennie Wright of Oriental Lodge No. 90, Mrs. Lizzie Stanton of Jubilee Lodge No. 229, Mrs. Alma Jones of Temple Lodge No. 19 and Mrs. A. G. Beckley of Loyal Lodge No. 215. Little Jessie Harris, daughter of Colonel and Mrs. Harris, will be maid of honor.

Officers—Captain, C. H. Cole; lieutenant, George Kirk; clerk, John McVey; ensign, S. Samuels; treasurer, Thomas Powers. Chevaliers—E. R. Alden, G. T. Burtchell, A. G. Bussinetz, Thomas Cannon, William Chalmers, C. A. Chandler, William B. Eaton, F. H. Cook, Dirk Cornelius, L. W. S. Downie, H. A. Day, Robert Decker, J. W. Eber, F. M. Farwell, Percy R. Fox, W. Hamilton, Peter Jorgensen, S. P. Knight, H. F. Kinnard, H. C. Kibler, William L. McKay, C. Oakland, E. Samuels, C. F. Golden, Ralph Encampment No. 34, Oakland; M. J. Moore, D. D. G. M., Oakland; S. Madson, D. D. G. M., Hayward.

The officers and members of Oakland Canton No. 11, who have done much work toward making this event a success, are: Officers—Captain, C. H. Cole; lieutenant, George Kirk; clerk, John McVey; ensign, S. Samuels; treasurer, Thomas Powers. Chevaliers—E. R. Alden, G. T. Burtchell, A. G. Bussinetz, Thomas Cannon, William Chalmers, C. A. Chandler, William B. Eaton, F. H. Cook, Dirk Cornelius, L. W. S. Downie, H. A. Day, Robert Decker, J. W. Eber, F. M. Farwell, Percy R. Fox, W. Hamilton, Peter Jorgensen, S. P. Knight, H. F. Kinnard, H. C. Kibler, William L. McKay, C. Oakland, E. Samuels, C. F. Golden, Ralph Encampment No. 34, Oakland; M. J. Moore, D. D. G. M., Oakland; S. Madson, D. D. G. M., Hayward.

Advertisements. Sperry's Best Flour. 50-pound sack for 79c. Drifted snow. Golden Gate. Or Port Costa. For fifty years there has been no other "best."

Blue Ribbon Raisins. Seeded 4 pkgs 25c. Extra large fancy Raisins, carefully seeded. Reg. 2 for 25c.

Fancy Table Rice. Large, Plump, cooks white. pound 5c.

Java and Costa Rica Coffee. A favorite blend—strength and flavor. Reg. 30c. Jesse Moore Whiskey. Btl 65c.

St. Julien Claret. A very fine table wine—mild, smooth and palatable. Reg. 60c.

Port Wine or Sherry. Aged wine for table—Los Cerritos Vineyard. Reg. 50c. Beech Run Whiskey. bottle 65c.

American Club-Whiskey. full quart bottle 50c. Reg. 75c.

St. Lawrence Tonic Port. Healthful, cheering, strengthening stimulant. Thursday and Friday. Reg. 60c.

FOR STOMACH DISORDERS, GOUT AND DYSPEPSIA, DRINK VIGOR CELESTINS

Best NATURAL Alkaline Water.

WIFE AND CHILDREN OF SUICIDE SUFFER

Law Family Is Overcome by Recent Loss and Fears to Face Future. Mrs. Mary Law, wife of the machinist who committed suicide on Monday, because he could not endure seeing his wife and little ones starving, is prostrate as a result of anxious months of worry and privation, culminating in the shock of her husband's tragic death.

The immediate needs of the family have been removed by contributions from several people who have taken the account of the pathetic suicide in Tuesday's Call, and the efforts of President Coffey, J. Ulloa, J. Rose and Mrs. Klappner, who have been particularly kind and benevolent. One collection has already been taken up by that body and another is under way. In addition to pecuniary aid the union has also offered backs for use in the funeral, to take place at 10 o'clock this morning from Sull's undertaking parlors, on Mission street. The family is still, however, in a lamentable condition. Mrs. Law is ill and discouraged, and the family has no means of earning a living for weeks to come. The mother, who is not able to leave the house and who will be physically unable to earn a living for weeks to come. The mother, who is not able to leave the house and who will be physically unable to earn a living for weeks to come.

MORQUE DEPUTIES ARE FILLED WITH HAPPINESS. Man Who Has Been Sending Them on False Runs Is Under Arrest. The individual who has been sending false reports to the Morgue officials, getting them out at all hours of the night to answer to "phony" calls, is under arrest. His name is Frank Buena, and he has been arrested by Detectives Dinan and Wren in a restaurant at Tenth and Howard streets.

GRAPE-NUTS. CHEW FOOD. Chewing Preserves the Teeth and Helps Digestion. The finest specimens of teeth are seen in animals and human beings who chew the food thoroughly. Dentists agree that teeth must be used to properly preserve them and therefore they urge people to chew their food thoroughly, but the nervous, hurried manner of eating is altogether too common among people and when fed on soft mushes they are liable to swallow the food without chewing.

GRAPE-NUTS. CHEW FOOD. Chewing Preserves the Teeth and Helps Digestion. The finest specimens of teeth are seen in animals and human beings who chew the food thoroughly. Dentists agree that teeth must be used to properly preserve them and therefore they urge people to chew their food thoroughly, but the nervous, hurried manner of eating is altogether too common among people and when fed on soft mushes they are liable to swallow the food without chewing.

GRAPE-NUTS. CHEW FOOD. Chewing Preserves the Teeth and Helps Digestion. The finest specimens of teeth are seen in animals and human beings who chew the food thoroughly. Dentists agree that teeth must be used to properly preserve them and therefore they urge people to chew their food thoroughly, but the nervous, hurried manner of eating is altogether too common among people and when fed on soft mushes they are liable to swallow the food without chewing.

GRAPE-NUTS. CHEW FOOD. Chewing Preserves the Teeth and Helps Digestion. The finest specimens of teeth are seen in animals and human beings who chew the food thoroughly. Dentists agree that teeth must be used to properly preserve them and therefore they urge people to chew their food thoroughly, but the nervous, hurried manner of eating is altogether too common among people and when fed on soft mushes they are liable to swallow the food without chewing.

GRAPE-NUTS. CHEW FOOD. Chewing Preserves the Teeth and Helps Digestion. The finest specimens of teeth are seen in animals and human beings who chew the food thoroughly. Dentists agree that teeth must be used to properly preserve them and therefore they urge people to chew their food thoroughly, but the nervous, hurried manner of eating is altogether too common among people and when fed on soft mushes they are liable to swallow the food without chewing.

PRISONER WANTS HIS ATTORNEY DISBARRED

Frank E. Collins, Convicted of Grand Larceny, Accuses J. N. E. Wilson of Dereliction. Judge Lawlor stated in court yesterday that after making an investigation he was satisfied that the charges preferred against Attorney J. N. E. Wilson by Frank Collins Tuesday morning were unjust, and that the attorney had used all diligence in the premises. A bill of exceptions had been prepared, but it did not prove satisfactory to Assistant District Attorney Greeney. An order of the court was made last January for the court stenographer to write up the evidence, but it had not been done. Greeney is in Santa Barbara and his explanation cannot be heard until his return.

Collins has written to the Bar Association. He says that he has languished in jail since 1899, when he was sentenced. At that time he had paid Wilson $200 to carry the case to the Supreme Court, and he had now found that no bill of exceptions had ever been made or placed on file and that his case stood just as it did when he was sentenced. He said he wanted to go to San Quentin without further delay and begin serving his term. He also wanted to take steps to have Wilson disbarred, as he believed the attorney had trifled with him and misled him. He had received a letter from Wilson recently in which the lawyer said he was compelled to be absent from the city, but he had found he was still here.

MORQUE DEPUTIES ARE FILLED WITH HAPPINESS. Man Who Has Been Sending Them on False Runs Is Under Arrest. The individual who has been sending false reports to the Morgue officials, getting them out at all hours of the night to answer to "phony" calls, is under arrest. His name is Frank Buena, and he has been arrested by Detectives Dinan and Wren in a restaurant at Tenth and Howard streets.

GRAPE-NUTS. CHEW FOOD. Chewing Preserves the Teeth and Helps Digestion. The finest specimens of teeth are seen in animals and human beings who chew the food thoroughly. Dentists agree that teeth must be used to properly preserve them and therefore they urge people to chew their food thoroughly, but the nervous, hurried manner of eating is altogether too common among people and when fed on soft mushes they are liable to swallow the food without chewing.

GRAPE-NUTS. CHEW FOOD. Chewing Preserves the Teeth and Helps Digestion. The finest specimens of teeth are seen in animals and human beings who chew the food thoroughly. Dentists agree that teeth must be used to properly preserve them and therefore they urge people to chew their food thoroughly, but the nervous, hurried manner of eating is altogether too common among people and when fed on soft mushes they are liable to swallow the food without chewing.

GRAPE-NUTS. CHEW FOOD. Chewing Preserves the Teeth and Helps Digestion. The finest specimens of teeth are seen in animals and human beings who chew the food thoroughly. Dentists agree that teeth must be used to properly preserve them and therefore they urge people to chew their food thoroughly, but the nervous, hurried manner of eating is altogether too common among people and when fed on soft mushes they are liable to swallow the food without chewing.

GRAPE-NUTS. CHEW FOOD. Chewing Preserves the Teeth and Helps Digestion. The finest specimens of teeth are seen in animals and human beings who chew the food thoroughly. Dentists agree that teeth must be used to properly preserve them and therefore they urge people to chew their food thoroughly, but the nervous, hurried manner of eating is altogether too common among people and when fed on soft mushes they are liable to swallow the food without chewing.

GRAPE-NUTS. CHEW FOOD. Chewing Preserves the Teeth and Helps Digestion. The finest specimens of teeth are seen in animals and human beings who chew the food thoroughly. Dentists agree that teeth must be used to properly preserve them and therefore they urge people to chew their food thoroughly, but the nervous, hurried manner of eating is altogether too common among people and when fed on soft mushes they are liable to swallow the food without chewing.

CELEBRATE THE OPENING OF THEIR CLUBROOMS

San Francisco Typothetae Members Pass Pleasant Evening in Honor of New Organization. The newly organized San Francisco Typothetae celebrated the opening of its clubrooms at 605 Clay street last night. About sixty members present and they voted the occasion a most enjoyable one. The clubrooms consist of a billiard parlor, a reception and reading room and a card parlor.

The membership of the organization is made up of the employing printers who formerly composed the old San Francisco Typothetae, the Employing Printers' Association and the Printers and Allied Trades. The unification of these separate organizations is intended to promote better social relations between printers' employers and to permit of better settlement of general questions which from time to time present themselves to the printers. The following named officers have been recently elected: President, J. A. Bennett; Secretary, Robert W. Neill; Treasurer, Charles H. Bennett; Editor, H. S. Crocker Company, Frank Eastman & Co., Francis J. Brennan, Gabriel Printing Company, C. W. Nevin & Co., J. J. Davis & Co., C. A. Murdoch & Co., Sunset Press Stationery Company, Upton Bros. and Valteau & Peterson.

THOMPSON TELLS OF THE NEW HUNTER. Lecturer Shows Pictures and Tells Stories of Wild Animals at Home. Ernest Seton Thompson delivered his third lecture at Metropolitan Temple last evening and told in his sketchy but delightful way many facts and some interesting stories about "Wild Animals at Home."

Most interesting and charmingly put of all was his description of the new hunting and the new sportsman. "The new hunter," said Thompson, "carries a camera instead of a gun, and where the old hunter aims his rifle to trigger the new hunter snaps his camera." The lecturer illustrated his talk with a series of splendid lantern slides, the best of which were the natural results of the "new sportsman" in action. Thompson will deliver two lectures on Saturday, the first will bring his audience in contact with the matinee in "Wild Animals in Captivity," and in the evening he will speak on the "Minds of Animals."

BOSS BARBERS EFFECT PERMANENT ORGANIZATION. Elect Officers and Discuss the Indorsement of Their New Price Schedule. At a meeting of the boss barbers held last night a permanent organization was effected by the election of the following officers: President, L. E. Conrad; vice president, H. Bernard; secretary, M. J. Sliva; treasurer, S. Stearns; sergeant-at-arms, S. Oppenheim; trustees, J. Lehman, L. A. Webber and J. Bianchi.

At a meeting of the boss barbers held last night a permanent organization was effected by the election of the following officers: President, L. E. Conrad; vice president, H. Bernard; secretary, M. J. Sliva; treasurer, S. Stearns; sergeant-at-arms, S. Oppenheim; trustees, J. Lehman, L. A. Webber