

GAGE MAY NOW CHANGE HIS PLANS AND ENTER CONTEST FOR SENATOR

Alliance With Kelly and Crimmins Practically Puts Him Out of the Race for the Governorial Renomination--Allied Bosses Anticipating Defeat Offer to Compromise a District Fight--Progress of Primary League

GOV. GAGE (Singing to Martin Kelly)---"I Love You as I Never Loved Before."

In the Republican State Convention at Sacramento in 1888 the Northern California delegations were outvoted and outgeneraled. In the make-up of the ticket little or no recognition was given to the Republicans of that region. They accepted the decree of the convention, promised to stand by the ticket and fulfilled the pledge at the polls. Next year the northern delegations will demand recognition, and the wise politicians predict that the demand will be respected. One of the three nominations for the Supreme bench will probably go to a northern candidate. Edward Sweeney, Judge of the Superior Court of Shasta County, is in the field again as a candidate. It is supposed that he is in sympathy with the movement to displace W. H. Beatty and promote C. H. Garoutte to the office of Chief Justice of the Supreme Court. John F. Ellison, Superior Judge of Tehama County, is highly spoken of by the lawyers of Northern California. He is not a politician or a seeker of office. Ten years ago he served as a juror in the case of the response to a pressing demand for his services on the Superior bench. There is a sentiment among Republicans in the State that the party should have a candidate for Associate Justice of the Supreme Court. The terms respectively of W. H. Beatty, Chief Justice, and Charles N. Felton and Ralph C. Harrison, Associate Justice, will expire one year from next January. There is a movement to displace Beatty, Woodard and Harrison of San Francisco.

Gage and the Senatorship. There is yet some talk of Henry T. Gage going before the Republican convention of 1902 and asking for renomination for Governor. Reports from the interior are to the effect that Gage stock is in the decline. A definite announcement to the effect that he is not a candidate would not surprise the politicians. The contest for the United States Senatorship is assuming such peculiar shape that Gage may accept the original programme and enter the field as a candidate. It is supposed that Gage is a politician who is well disposed toward Gage and that there is no force in the State Bar of Examiners. It is also expert in making enemies for the administration. Gage himself can make so many political enemies without hurting himself that it is a wonder he allows Parker to get in on the job and help.

JUDGE NOYES OF CAPE NOME IS AFTER SCALP OF CLERK BORCHSENUS

Continued from Page One. jury box, so that he could detect them upon putting his hand in the box to draw the jurors. Another is that he detected the names of the jurors in a newspaper in a bunch, putting the bunch directly beneath the opening of the box and taking excessive care that the box was not shaken before the jurors were drawn. These rumors, bruited about among miners widely excited on account of litigation over the claims of the Ketchikan, Bismack and other districts lying north and west of Nome, as well as over the Topkok and other Nome reversionary cases, include stories of alleged irregularities on the part of Judge Noyes himself. Borchsenius is made sponsor for these charges also, and, as in the case of Reed, jury-fixing is the particular form of the alleged iniquity. It is claimed that District Attorney William Reed selected twenty-four names from the Grand Jury panel of 200 names to be drawn for last February. Judge Noyes, rumor has it, asked Borchsenius to draw those names, but the clerk refused to comply. Judge Noyes said in his opinion that the names drawn in the States it was usual for the clerk to ignore the jury box and make selections after scrutinizing the names of those panel entries that could be depended upon to give a verdict. Borchsenius, however, was obdurate and the names were regularly drawn. Borchsenius and reputable attorneys at Nome are recalling the fact that the grand jurors impaneled for the first term of court held at Nome by Judge Noyes did not suit the court and they were discharged. Neither did the next jury please the court, and the next jury, composed of names drawn from the jury box, was also rejected. Another favorite method employed by Judge Noyes, according to Clerk Borchsenius, was to direct the clerk to select three names from the jury box and then to issue a special venire from which to complete the panel both for grand and petty jury purposes. By such means the names of the grand jurors and discharging the recalcitrant members. Borchsenius claims, it was possible to obtain a jury that would be depended upon to find in favor of the claim jumper. Those who give credence to these charges are further convinced that though Judge Noyes had given public notice, on June 14, of a term of court to convene at Nome on July 15, and had set for trial two cases to take precedence over others on the calendar, up to the afternoon of July 12 no attempt had been made to impanel a jury for the trial. The inference was plain, the opponents of Noyes claimed, that the court was waiting until the grand jurors had been substituted for the obdurate Borchsenius. The clerk and Judge Noyes had a tilt over the handling of public moneys. The Treasury Department a year ago instructed Borchsenius by letter to send all moneys held by him to an outside government depository when at the end of any quarter it should exceed $3000. Noyes desired to keep these funds in Nome, subject to his orders. To checkmate the attempt of Borchsenius to comply with the department's order, the Judge made an order changing the beginning of the license year from July 1 to November 1 at the latest. Borchsenius was prevented under the new order from sending the license moneys in his charge beyond Noyes' jurisdiction.

Pettigrew Held for Murder.

The preliminary examination of Emmet P. Pettigrew on the charge of murder for killing Lafayette A. Walsh outside the Chutes early on the morning of July 15 was concluded before Judge Conlan yesterday, and the defendant was held to answer before the Superior Court without bonds. Pettigrew broke down completely and wept bitterly for several minutes. The witnesses examined yesterday were H. C. Nichols, Joseph Whalen, Percy Benetive, Harry Reynolds and Policemen F. Ford and J. E. Reade. None of them saw the stabbing, but Whalen testified that Pettigrew said to him inside the Chutes that he had stabbed Walsh. It was also stated by Whalen that Pettigrew said that Walsh had been very quarrelsome all that night.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

FAKE HAIR PREPARATIONS.

Do Hair No Good, but Often Cause It to Fall Out. Many hair preparations are "fake" because they are merely scalp irritants. They often cause a dryness, making the hair brittle and, finally, lifeless. Dandruff is the result of the use of such preparations. It is a germ disease. The germ makes scales as it digs to the root of the hair, where it destroys the hair's vitality, causing the hair to fall out. To cure dandruff the germ must be killed. "Destroy the germ, you remove the effect." Newbro's Herpicide is the only hair preparation that kills the dandruff germ, thereby leaving the hair to grow luxuriantly.
