

HEARST'S WREATH OF HYPOCRISY

New York Press Continues Castigation of "Red Journalist."

Had He Appeared With His Wreath Patience Would Have Snapped.

Special Dispatch to The Call.

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—Under the caption, "He Lay a Wreath?" the New York Press continues its editorial castigation of William R. Hearst, editor and proprietor of America's yellow journals. In its issue of September 20 it says:

But now the whole earth quivers with a single emotion. A shot was fired in Buffalo, and as if by an electric impulse, the flags of the world were raised to the top of the mast by the Ganges, the Volga and the Nile. The captive Filipino chieftain laid his tribute of homage on the tomb of his magnanimous conqueror. Boer and Briton joined in sorrow for the distant hero who had sacrificed with the sufferings of both, and the world murmurs to-day, "Rest in Peace." And the American people—his own people—to whom he gave his love and his life, echo reverently "Rest in Peace."—From the New York Journal of September 15, AFTER THE ASSASSINATION.

And among all these mourning tens of millions of his own people, these commiserating hundreds of millions of the world's people, there is just one who cannot find at this grave of McKinley's the place that the self-styled "scourge" of the London press found at Lincoln's. He calls it no wreath upon his bier like that which the repentant rhymester laid upon the other, withdrawing thoughts that had been keen but always clean. He is without the pale of penitence. He has spoken words that cannot be taken back. His name is Hearst.

Would he bid an "abject, weak, futile, incompetent poltroon" to "rest"? That is what he named McKinley. So he would have to bid McKinley. These are spots that will not out, echoes that will not die.

Would he join in "murmuring rest in peace" to him who was, "bar one, the most despised and hated creature in the hemisphere—his name hoisted, his figure burned in effigy"? Those are the words that the horrified mourners would have should this man's lips move in presence of that dead. The phrases of these consummated murderers are inseparable from the calumniator.

Would he "lay a tribute of homage on the tomb of a magnanimous conqueror"? Nay, he must lay it on that of a "politicastro," "a coward, shivering whitefaced at the footfall of approaching war"; a "jellyfish," but an obedient jellyfish; a creature whose "fat, willy hand has tossed to the starving American peasant the answer out of the White House window, 'A Trust can do no wrong.'" These must be the designations with which he would approach McKinley's bier. He has wrought his own spell as in the nursery tale. His words have turned toads and loathsome reptiles as they have left his mouth, and he has summoned his worst words will not change them into kems.

Why, it was his shot. It was the first shot in the "awful, bloody quarrel between the Commander-in-Chief and the peasant." It was he who plotted and prophesied that quarrel because "the Trusts control the present Commander-in-Chief of the Army and Navy of the United States." And what "single emotion" could he "quiver with" save that of supreme satisfaction? Had he not demonstrated that in a large number of cases, including the monster Marat, but the martyr Lincoln, "assassination had changed for the better the history of the world?"

These are plain truths, not tropes. Had the man Hearst or any one of his troupe of leading assassins presented himself in person yesterday with his wreath of tinseled and dyed muslin, his tawdry flowers of mawkish rhetoric, never would he have reached the graveyard gate. The bond of self-control would have snapped at last, and his illustrious victim's townsmen and neighbors would have served him as a Buffalo mob sought to serve his creature, Czolgosz. And he knows it. And knowing it, he saves his hide and fills his pockets. Behold the penitent huckstering his peccavi at the corner of the street!

and Judge Lewis began his address at 2:45. He pointed out to the jury that if there existed a doubt in their minds as to the evidence presented by the prosecution it was their duty to give the prisoner the benefit of the doubt. Their evidence must be conclusive. Lewis referred feelingly to the personality of President McKinley and the awfulness of the crime committed. "There is only one question for the jury to decide in this case," said Lewis. "The law mercifully provides that if reasonable doubt exists in your minds you must give the defendant the benefit of that doubt. Now we have been unable to present any defense. The prisoner has steadfastly refused to aid us in any way. If the jury could find in their minds that this man was irresponsible and give him the benefit of that doubt it would lift from the minds of the people of this country a great load. It would be better to think the act of this man was the act of a mad-

Miss Goodknight Says Good-By to a Hopeful Swain.

Farmer's Son Upsets Marriage Arrangements in Missouri.

Special Dispatch to The Call.

SEDALIA, Mo., Sept. 24.—Miss Ada Goodknight, a young teacher, and her sister, Miss Anna, were to have been married to-morrow at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Goodknight, ten miles from Sedalia, the former to George Suhl of Lincoln and Miss Anna to James D. Diehl of Rico, Colo. Last night Oscar Rhodes, a student at Hill's Business College and the son of a wealthy farmer, called upon Miss Ada, a former sweetheart, with whom he had quarreled a few months ago, and effected a reconciliation. Miss Ada agreed to discontinue this morning to inform him that the engagement was off. Rhodes came to Sedalia this morning with Miss Anna and they will be married this afternoon by the Rev. Frank O. Fannon, departing immediately for Denver, where they will live.

The change in Miss Ada Goodknight's plans will not interfere with the marriage of her sister, Miss Anna, who will become the bride of Diehl to-morrow.

man than that of an assassin slaying so noble a man in cold blood." Lewis broke down and again referred to President McKinley, and when he ended his speech tears flowed down his furrowed cheeks.

Reviews Terrible Crime. District Attorney Penney began the summing up of the case for the prosecution at 3:10. He reviewed the conclusive evidence of the terrible crime presented to the jury in a clear, concise manner. They had carefully avoided, he said, any unnecessary display of indecency.

The question is a simple one, said Mr. Penney. "No evidence has been presented here to show that this man is insane. Under the present law, if a man is sane we must consider him so. When you consider the frightful crime, the enormity of the offense, how short should be your deliberations. My remarks to you to-day shall be brief. It is not my intention to sway you by any expressions of mine. Let the evidence speak for itself. There is a certain class of people in this country who must be taught that the law is supreme. They must be given a terrible example of the majesty of the irresistible force of the law that they would fear to break it."

During the address to the court Czolgosz sat with flushed face, his head slightly inclined to one side. District Attorney Penney ended his address at 3:27.

Judge White then spoke in a clear voice. "This man," he said, "is charged with murder in the first degree. The law guarantees that he shall be tried by a jury of his peers, intelligent men. He has received such a trial. If you are satisfied that this man fired the shots that killed President McKinley, it is your duty to find him guilty. If any doubt rests in your minds he is entitled to the benefit of the doubt. You are the sole judges of all the facts presented in the court."

"Guilty," Finds the Jury. Judge White showed great emotion when he spoke of the life of President McKinley. He said that the jury had found the defendant did willfully, without cause, shoot and wound President McKinley and such assault was committed with premeditation; if such shooting and wounding resulted in the death of President McKinley, you will find this defendant guilty of murder in the first degree.

He explained to the jury the different degrees of murder. District Attorney Penney then asked the Judge to charge the jury that the law presumes every individual sane until proven otherwise. Judge White in reply said to the jurymen: "The law presumes the defendant in this case sane."

The jury retired to consider the evidence at 3:51 o'clock. At 4:28 the jury returned and announced a verdict of guilty of murder in the first degree.

The court adjourned at 4:28. Before adjournment Judge White announced that he would pronounce sentence upon the defendant on Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock. This was at the suggestion of District Attorney Penney. Czolgosz was immediately taken back to his cell, and to all appearances had been in no way affected by the result of the trial.

DECLARES HE A DED ASSASSIN.

When Chief Desmond returned to his office this afternoon Saffig was confronted with Thomas Pettit, the writer who stated positively that Saffig was in St. Louis on the day of President McKinley's assassination. Saffig, despite Pettit's positive statement to the contrary, said he was in Buffalo on the day in question. Saffig told a Call correspondent that he first met Czolgosz in Chicago, where he was known as Nelman. He had a letter of introduction from Harrigan, who, Saffig said, was a lawyer living at 307 West Twenty-sixth street, New York City. Saffig said he himself once lived in New York at 208 West Fifty-sixth street. The prisoner would not tell where or when he met Czolgosz in Chicago.

Is Probably a Lunatic. Asked if he knew Emma Goldman, Saffig said he never met her, but he had heard her speak in Paterson, N. J., in June, 1898, and elsewhere. As far as he

DEATH INTRUDES ON THE SESSION OF THE NAVAL COURT OF INQUIRY AND CALLS SCHLEY'S SENIOR LAWYER

Jeremiah M. Wilson Dies Suddenly in a Washington Hotel

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—Jeremiah Morrow Wilson, principal counsel for Rear Admiral Schley, and one of the leading lawyers of Washington, D. C., died suddenly in his apartments in the Shoreham Hotel shortly after 11 o'clock to-day. Heart failure, superinduced by an attack of acute indigestion, coupled with Bright's disease, caused his death. Although somewhat indisposed last night and this morning, the end came unexpectedly, as he was in conference with his associate counsel in the Schley case scarcely an hour before he died. He leaves a son, Charles S. Wilson, who has been associated with him in the law, and a daughter, Mrs. William Haywood, of this city. Judge Wilson was a native of Ohio and was 78 years of age.

Early in life he removed to Indiana, where he served with distinction on the Common Pleas and Circuit Court benches. He represented an Indiana district in the Forty-second and Forty-third Congresses. Later he formed a partnership with Judge Shellabarger and the firm soon took rank in the very front of the Washington bar. Among the well-known cases in which Wilson was counsel for the star route trials, the Holt will case, the Breckinridge-Pollard breach of promise case, the trial of Captain Howgate for embezzlement, the court-martial proceedings against General Swaim, the Oberlin M. Carter case and the Venezuela, Alabama, French spoliation and the La Abra Mexican claim cases. At the time of his death he was president of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company, a director in the National Fidelity and Deposit Company, and was largely interested in other corporations. He also had been attorney for the Union Pacific Railroad and the Mormon church.

Admiral Dewey said that he did not think the proceedings of the court would be interfered with greatly by Judge Wilson's death. There would be, he announced, another adjournment on account of the funeral, but beyond that he did not anticipate there would be further cessation of the proceedings.

Admiral Dewey's Tribute. "Judge Wilson's death," he added, "is a severe loss. It is a loss not only to the community at large, but especially to the knew, the prisoner said, he was not known to the Goldman woman. Henry Schneider, proprietor of the restaurant where Pettit was employed as a waiter, late this afternoon corroborated the statement made by Pettit that Saffig was in St. Louis on September 6.

Saffig, the police say, served a term in the workhouse for stealing a book and secured his release in August. Two days later he was taken from Union Station to the City Hospital suffering from internal injuries received in a fall from a Baltimore and Ohio train at Carlisle, Ill. Chief Desmond says he will hold Saffig until he is satisfied beyond a doubt that his story is untrue.

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—A call at 307 West Twenty-sixth street elicited the information that no one of the name of Harrigan has lived there since the occupancy of the premises by the present tenants, who have lived there for ten years. The house at 208 West Fifty-sixth street is vacant and has been for several months.

SECRET SERVICE MEN FIND ANARCHIST PAPERS

Government Officers Believe They Have Discovered Associates of Antonio Maggio.

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 24.—In the arrest here to-day of two Italians, Nicola Alessi and Francesco Governale, charged with counterfeiting, secret service officers have discovered what appears to be a circle of anarchists, believed to be identified with Antonio Maggio, now under arrest in New Mexico.

RELATIVES REACH BUFFALO.

Assassin Czolgosz's Father, Brother and Sister Arrive. BUFFALO, Sept. 24.—Czolgosz's father, brother Waideck and sister arrived here to-night from Cleveland and went alone to the police headquarters. Later Superintendent Cusack announced that he would have the family undergo an examination. Prosecutor Penney said that he did not send for the prisoner's family and that he did not know of any reason why they should come except to see the assassin. They probably would be granted this permission before the sentence of death is pronounced. The police discovered the story that they came to Buffalo to make the murderer reveal the alleged plot to kill the President.

The father, brother and sister were put through a rigid examination to-night by Assistant District Attorney Haller in the presence of Assistant Superintendent Cusack and Detectives Greary and Solomon of the Police Department. For an hour and a half they were under a searching fire of questions, which resulted in the information that they knew nothing about the dastardly plot; that they came from Cleveland to vindicate their own names, and if possible to aid the authorities to secure from the prisoner some reasons for the assassination. They will spend to-night at police headquarters, not as prisoners, but in hopes that the authorities will permit them to see the prisoner to-morrow.

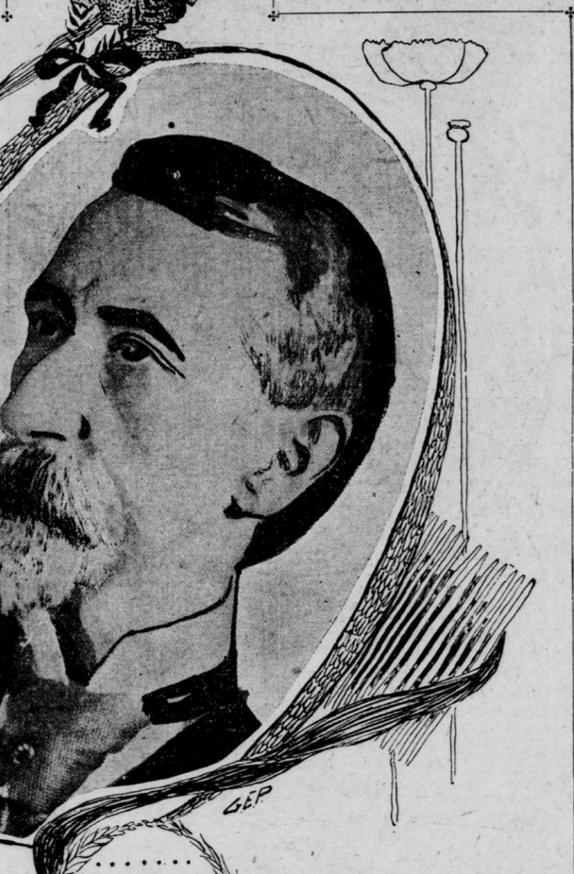

Great sorrow was expressed by the three because of the disgrace which Leon had brought upon the family. They expressed no sympathy for his plight and said that their sole purpose was to clear themselves and aid the authorities if possible.

Protecting Emperor William. BERLIN, Sept. 24.—Extraordinary precautions have been taken at Romonten for Emperor William's safety during the deer stalking there, according to a special dispatch. Troops have been stationed in the village near the Romonten forests. Passes are demanded from all persons going to the village of Romonten. All sightseers are excluded.

London Press Satisfied. LONDON, Sept. 25.—The conviction of the assassin of President McKinley is the subject of editorials in all the morning papers, which express satisfaction at the speedy nature of the trial. Expressions of sympathy with the United States are renewed.

the court all day yesterday, and while he had not participated to any great extent in the proceedings he had appeared physically active and wide awake to all that was said and done.

The report first reached Mr. Raynor in the shape of a rumor a minute or two after Machinist A. B. Claxton of the Texas, the second witness, had been put on the stand. Captain Parker and Mr. Tenge of Admiral Schley's counsel immediately went to the telephone. They returned in a few minutes, saying that the report had been confirmed. Mr. Raynor then made his announcement to the court and asked an adjournment for the day.

All the members of the court, including Schley, expressed the utmost surprise and sorrow over the news, while Admiral Schley himself said: "The news is so shocking that I cannot trust myself to give expression to my estimate of the man. I can only say I have lost not only a clear-headed and brilliant friend, I am shocked beyond measure at the news and find myself unable to accept the verdict."

First Class Machinist A. B. Claxton of this city, who had charge of the port engine of the Texas on the day of the battle of Santiago, had just taken the stand when the announcement of Judge Wilson's death was received. It had been expected by the Government that Claxton would confirm the statement of Commander Bates concerning the reversal of the engines of the Texas. During the short time that he was on the stand Engineer Bates was asked a few questions. One of these was by Captain Parker and was in regard to the steam log of the Texas. Bates said the log had been written up the day after the battle.

The other questions were by the court and related to the coal supply of the Texas on May 28, 1898, and second to the condition of the machinery of the Texas on the 31st of that month.

NOW FOR WAR ON ANARCHISTS

President Roosevelt Inquires Into Immigration Laws.

Commissioner General Powderly at White House Conference.

Special Dispatch to The Call.

CALL BUREAU, 1406 G STREET, N. W. WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—President Roosevelt is giving his personal attention to the solution of the problem of the more effective exclusion of anarchists from the United States. He wants to know first whether anything more can be done under the laws as they now stand, and for this purpose he had a conference at the White House this afternoon with Commissioner General of Immigration Powderly to learn exactly what is being done and whether there are any loopholes through which anarchists now come in which can be stopped without further legislation.

Upon the results of his talk with Powderly may depend very largely the character of the recommendations the President may make to Congress for the amendment of the immigration laws.

In addition to discussing the exclusion of anarchists, it is understood that President Roosevelt will confer with Powderly on the immigration situation in New York, though after leaving the White House Powderly would not say anything on the subject.

The report of the recent investigation into the immigration service at New York is still in the hands of Powderly, and it will not be made public for the present. It is understood that among other things it shows that in some instances passengers have been allowed to land at steamship docks as American citizens when they were carried on the manifests of the ships as aliens, and that proper officers to admit aliens at the dock as American citizens that the steward of a French liner was arrested. Disclosures then made led to the present investigation.

Porter, all of Fresno; H. A. Voorman, H. C. Tilden and A. C. Jewett, of San Francisco and Claus Kroeger, of Oakland. The authorized stock is $500,000, represented by 2000 shares, valued at $100 each. Of this amount $43,000 has been subscribed. An electric railway system forty-three miles long will be constructed.

Transport Buford Is Afloat.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—A cable message to-day from General Chaffee at Manila says that the transport Buford, which was grounded near Mindanao a few days ago, has been floated and is now being loaded the Twenty-third Regiment of Infantry, which she will bring to New York by way of the Suez canal.

No Stamps for Martyr President.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—The Postmaster General has decided that the proposition to issue stamps for general use in commemoration of the late President McKinley is impracticable.

Explosion Engine Kills Fireman.

JACKSON, Mich., Sept. 24.—Michigan Central engine No. 590 exploded to-day at New Buffalo, instantly killing Fireman Michael Wiley, Engineer J. B. Palmer and Brakeman F. J. Crouch were slightly injured. The explosion was caused by the blowing out of the crown sheet.

EMMA GOLDMAN IS AGAIN FREE

Case Against Woman Anarchist Dismissed in Court.

CHICAGO, Sept. 24.—Emma Goldman, the anarchist lecturer, was liberated to-day after two weeks' incarceration, following the assassination of the President. Attorney Owens, for the city, informed Magistrate Prindiville that the upper court had freed the men named as Miss Goldman's co-conspirators and that there was no evidence against her.

"Dismissed for want of prosecution; call the next case," said the Justice, briefly, and in a moment Miss Goldman was shaking hands with her anarchist friends, who were in court.

"I have practically no plans for the future at present. I have profited in my life to write articles for three magazines and journals, but otherwise my path is unmarked."

In company with Mrs. Abraham Isaak, wife of the anarchist editor, Miss Goldman entered a carriage and was driven to the Isaak home. A curious crowd watched her depart, but there was no demonstration.

Young Highwayman's Fate.

SANTA ROSA, Sept. 24.—Walter Thompson, a young man, 19 years of age, married, and the father of a child, was to-day sentenced to six years in San Quentin for highway robbery. A few weeks ago he relieved a stranger of several dollars and pleaded guilty when arraigned.

Made to order suits $10.00

Every day adds a new list of people who are satisfied that we make a suit to order for $10.00 that fits, looks and wears exceptionally well for the price paid.

And as our regular customers come time after time for suits at this price, it is pretty good evidence that the suits are worth the money.

It is the quality of the clothes that makes the regular customers buy.

It is our guarantee that makes the new customers try the suits.

Our guarantee is: Money back if you are not satisfied; or a year's repairing free if you decide to keep the suit.

We offer this liberal guarantee to overcome the prejudice some people might have against paying such a small price for a made-to-order suit.

Peoria, Ill., April 5, 1901.

I have been a sufferer every month since I have been a woman and have been treated by the best doctors and found no relief. The last doctor wanted me to go to the hospital and have my ovaries removed. He said: "This is the only remedy I can see for you, Mrs. Steele." "No, no, I will not," I said. Then I found a Ladies' Birthday Almanac and this is the way I found relief and I am not butchered up by the doctor. I don't wait for my woman friends to see your advertisement, but I go and tell them. I can't speak good enough for this wonderful Wine of Cardui. I am a strong woman and do all my work and ride my bicycle. I send word to ladies I hear are suffering and I saved one lady from losing her baby by giving her Wine of Cardui.
