ELECTRIC LIGHTS WILL BLAZE IN THE WONDERFUL DOLL HOUSE

Sawdust Lady's Mansion Boasts of All the Latest Modern Improvements and Is to Be Furnished in Fashion Worthy of Even the First Doll in the Land.

BY SALLY SHARP.

THE last nail has been driven into that wonderful doll's house that is sure to be one of the most interesting features of the forthcoming doll show. For three whole weeks carpenters were kept busy with the miniature mansion, and yesterday the painter and frescoer and paper-hanger took possession of the doll residence and will keep steadily at work at it until the house is painted and papered throughout. If the D. D.'s want to have that house ready and in place on the day the show opens they will have to impress upon their workmen that they have no time to lose. The house has yet to be wired throughout. There are eight rooms to be carpeted and furnished, a small task, for each room is to be different in its appointments.

There is not one modern improvement that will be found lacking in the doll house. It is to be all illuminated by electricity and the plumbing is to be of the latest and most approved of sanitary plumbing. The bathroom is all tiled and contains a magnificent porcelain tub. I have not yet seen the house, but am told that there is running water in all the bedrooms, a luxury heretofore never heard of in any sawdust lady's home. Miss McMillan and Mrs. Bryan's call for suitable articles for the fish pond and grab-bag has been most generously responded to. In anticipation of the extended business they are bound to do they have secured the following ladies to assist them in the work: The Misses Cliff, Miss Marie Wells, Miss Marie Sweet, Mrs. Rupert Blue, Miss Mabel Toy, Mrs. C. W. Slack, Mrs. J. Alva Ward, Miss Agnes Simpson, Miss Maud Simpson, Miss Elsie Fairchild, Miss Gertrude Dutton, Miss Mamie Polhemus and Miss Laura Taylor. The salable dolls are coming in thick and fast. Some magnificently gowned bisque beauties have been donated by Schoenwasser, Newman & Levinson, Magin, the Bon Marche and Wallace. All contributors to the salable dolls' counter are requested to send their dolls to Mrs. Frank Bates, 2322 Clay street.

Mrs. E. J. McCutcheon bought a second box for the show yesterday, which makes the thirty-seventh box sold. A formal reception will be given to-day at Stanford University in honor of Mrs. Leonard Stanford. The reception will be given in the large chattron in Enechia Hall. Preparations for the event, which is to be a most elaborate one, are being looked after by the university faculty.

FISH-PACKING FIRM SUED BY STOCKHOLDER

James Craig Asks That Hume Bros. & Hume Be Restrained From Fulfilling Contract.

James Craig, a stockholder in the firm of Hume Brothers & Hume, fish packers, filed a suit yesterday for an injunction to restrain the directors of the corporation from consummating a deal whereby the property of the incorporation is disposed of to the Pacific Packing and Navigation Company. Craig alleges that the outstanding indebtedness of the first-named firm at the time the contract was made was in excess of $280,000 and that the amount the terms of the contract provided should be accepted for the property was not in excess of the debt. He alleges that the proposed contract is subversive of the purposes for which the firm of Hume Brothers & Hume was incorporated, in that it contemplates the cessation of packing and packing of fish and the substitution thereof of a deal whereby the capital stock of the firm of Hume Brothers & Hume should be deposited in the bank. He prays the court to rescind the contract and to issue an order compelling the return of the property disposed of and for an order enjoining the bank from paying over moneys.

LADIES' TAILORING HOUSE YIELDS LARGE PROFITS

Mrs. Bowhay Claims It Pays $1500 Monthly and Her Husband Says $700.

The attorneys for Margaret May Bowhay, who is suing A. L. Bowhay, the ladies' tailor at 518 Sutter st., for divorce for cruelty, were denied an order yesterday directing Mrs. Bowhay to assume the management of the business by Judge Sloss. An exception was taken to the ruling by her attorneys and the court was notified that a bill of exceptions would be filed within ten days. Neither of the parties to the suit was present in court and the attorneys presented affidavits in support of their client's claims. Mrs. Bowhay claims that the ladies' tailoring establishment was her property; that her husband was in her employ when she married him and that since the commencement of the action for divorce the business was going to ruin because she was not directing it. She also claims that the profits amount to $1500 monthly. Bowhay, in his affidavit, admitted that half of the business was his wife's, but placed the profits at only $700. He denied that he was doing the work of two men in order to keep it up.

FREAK ADVERTISING BILL GOES BACK TO THE BOARD

Supervisors' Judiciary Committee Reports on the Measure Without Any Recommendation.

Supervisor Charles Wesley Reed appeared before the Supervisors' Judiciary Committee yesterday to urge the passage of a new ordinance prohibiting freak advertising. The old measure was declared invalid by a Police Court Judge because a proviso permitted certain advertising by beneficial organizations. Reed argued that the proviso invalidated the whole ordinance, but Brandenstein held differently. The committee finally decided to return the bill to the board without recommendation.

VEREIN EINTRACHT WILL CELEBRATE

An Entertainment and Ball Will Mark Its Thirty-Fourth Anniversary.

THE Verein Eintracht of San Francisco will celebrate its thirty-fourth anniversary tomorrow evening with a grand ball and entertainment in the society's newly renovated hall, 224 Twelfth street, near Polson.

President John Hermann of the Verein Eintracht has been ably assisted by the officers and members of the society, who have had the details of the celebration in charge, and the occasion is likely to be long remembered by all who participate. The guests will assemble at the hall tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock and the entire building will be inspected. A feature of the decorations is the electric light devices. After the inspection, the members and their friends will meet in the large hall, where the singing section will render the "welcome song." A grand tableau will then be shown, consisting of the singing section, the turner section and the sharpshooters, all of whom will be grouped on the platform. The sections will be garbed in distinctive costumes. August Klein will be in charge of the singing section, W. Scheepfer will lead the "turners," and Captain Fred Kuhls, who was president of the recent National Bundes Schutzen Fest, will be at the head of the sharpshooters. At the close of the tableau President John Hermann will deliver the address of the evening. Eight members of the Verein Eintracht will present the pantomime, "The White Statue," which has been carefully rehearsed under the direction of Caspar Ellenberger. This number will terminate the entertainment programme and the members and their friends will then enjoy the pleasures of dancing. The Verein Eintracht now numbers 700 members, representative of all classes of German-American citizens. In social, beneficial and athletic matters the society ranks as one of the most powerful of its kind in the country. Those who have charge of the celebration are as follows: John Hermann, president; Otto Ludwig, vice president; Frank Huber, treasurer; Caspar Miller, financial secretary; C. von Hartwig, corresponding secretary. Committee of arrangements—Adolph Wirtner, John Loeffler, William Scheepfer. Reception committee—August Klein, C. von Hartwig and Robert Scheel. Floor manager—Caspar Ellenberger. Assistant floor managers—A. Freund and L. Scheepfer. Floor committee—J. Hartmannshenn, Chris Goldene and Gus Audibert. Committee at large—K. Suchstedt, Louis Scheib, J. Dussard, Charles Wedemeyer, Fred Schwegasse, Caspar Miller, J. Johnson, J. Beck and Rhein.

ASSOCIATED CHARITIES WARN BENEVOLENT PUBLIC

Solicitors With Proper Credentials Should Alone Be Recognized When Aid Is Requested.

The fortnightly meeting of the Associated Charities was held yesterday afternoon at the rooms of the society, 801 Commercial street. A report was also made to the society of the arrest of "Marie Smith," who is supposed to be a "charity faker" and who is thought to have collected many hundreds of dollars from the business community, presumably for the Little Sisters' Infant Shelter. The officers of the Associated Charities desire to warn the charitable public against men and women who fraudulently collect aid for charities, and that no money or goods should be given to solicitors unless they are able to present proper credentials.

ROBERTSON RAFT COMPANY LOSES SUIT FOR DAMAGES

Judge De Haven Renders Judgment in Favor of the Owners of the Steamer Carina.

The Robertson Raft Company "goes hence" without damages, according to the decision of United States District Judge de Haven yesterday. The company had libeled the steamer Carina for the loss of a portion of a log raft which was being towed from Seattle to San Francisco. The libel was connected with the raft with which the steamer broke during the night when, within two days' voyage of San Francisco and some of the lumber was lost. The libelant placed the value of the lumber at $400, for which sum and for the services of tugs employed by the libelant in recovering the raft damages were demanded. Judge de Haven found that under the contract the Carina people had not contracted to deliver the raft at San Francisco, but to do their best to tow it to that port. Virginia has more educated negroes than any other State in the South in which disfranchisement for race reasons has been adopted or proposed.

ANOTHER GERM DESTROYER.

Herpicide Is Death to Dandruff Germs.

The germ burrows into the scalp, throwing up the cuticle in thin scales, called dandruff, or scurf, and digging at the root of the hair where it saps the hair's vitality. First comes brittle hair, then lusterless and deadlike hair, then falling hair, and finally baldness. Nine-tenths of the hair troubles are caused by dandruff. Without dandruff hair will grow luxuriantly, as nature intended. "Herpicide" kills the dandruff germ, leaving the hair to grow unhampered, as it does with the American red man.

Charitable Organizations Enriched

The will of R. E. Voigt, who died October 27, 1901, was filed yesterday. The document disposes of an estate of $23,000 in cash, consisting as follows: To Mrs. Ellen McKee of Alameda, $5000; $1000 each to the German General Benevolent Society, the San Francisco Protestant Orphan Asylum, the Ladies' Protective and Relief Society of San Francisco and the Boys' and Girls' Aid Society of San Francisco. The residue is bequeathed to nephews and nieces residing in Mexico.

Golden Jubilee Fair a Success.

Because of the immense crowd that has nightly frequented the Golden Jubilee Fair at the San Francisco Turn Verein Hall the management has been forced to adopt a policy of expansion. On the upper floor the library-room has been added to St. Paul, while on the lower part of the house the basement has been transformed into Auerbach's cellar. To-night an excellent musical programme will be rendered by the following clubs: Alpenrose, Walhalla, Harmonie, San Francisco Operatic Society and Professor Clarkson's Mandolin and Guitar Club.
