Water.

Special Dispatch to The Call.
LOS ANGELES, June 29.—The body of Mrs. Natalie Baker, widow of E. Percival Baker, who committed suicide in this city April 15, was found this afternoon floating in the surf in front of the North Beach bathhouse at Santa Monica. In the right temple was a bullet hole. The woman's right wrist was a small valve containing a bundle of papers, from which all the names had been torn. For several hours the body could not be located, but at the unobscured establishment to which the remains were taken a picture of E. Percival Baker was found, and the recognition of this is to the identification of the woman's body. This was her third attempt at suicide. With her husband she went to cheap lodging-house on Main street on April 15, and after writing a joint note, in which they stated that they had determined to die together, both took chloral and morphine in quantities sufficient to kill several persons. Mrs. Baker was dead when found, but her wife's life was saved. She then declared that she would join her husband, and three weeks later she went to another lodging-house and after closing all the cracks around the doors and windows turned on the gas. Again she was discovered before life was extinct and again her life was saved. This time she had been watched by friends, but Saturday night she slipped away from them, and although she searched for her all night she could not be found. She went to the end of the pleasure wharf at Santa Monica and leaning over the water shot herself through the temple and her body dropped into the ocean. She was a man of brilliant mind and for several years had been in the Chinese inspection service at San Francisco. He was a contributor to all the leading magazines and spoke eight languages fluently. In his efforts to secure the photograph of the bound foot of a Chinese woman he represented himself to be a United States official. He was indicted by the United States grand jury here for this purpose. His conviction was certain, and knowing this he made his wife's death his last act. He repeatedly asserted that she would keep her oath.

ADVERTISEMENTS.

Headache
kills, not necessarily suddenly, but SURELY. It creeps upon the intellectual powers more than we realize. It consumes the vitality faster than nature can replenish it, and we cannot tell just what moment a temporary or complete aberration of the mind will result. Headache and pain should be promptly removed—but properly. Many pain cures are more harmful than the pain. Beware. If you would be safe, take
Dr. Miles' Pain Pills.

As a result of neuralgia I lost the sight of my right eye, and the pain I have suffered is incomprehensible, being obliged to take opiates almost continually. A friend gave me one of Dr. Miles' Pain Pills and it promptly relieved me. I then purchased a box and now my trouble is gone. They have also cured my daughter of nervous headache, and I heartily recommend Dr. Miles' Pain Pills. W. J. COLLEY, Bremont, Texas.

Conflicting Orders of Committee Aid American-Built Meteor.

KIEL, June 30.—A. m.—Emperor William's American-built schooner yacht, the Meteor, the Cicly, owned by Cecil Quentzsch, which started in the schooner race today are drifting toward home. The Meteor is in the lead and the Cicly is second. The yachts, carrying full light-weather canvas, started at 11:35 yesterday in the following order: The Meteor, the Clara, the Cicly, the Iduna, the Nordwest and the Meteor. The wind was dead ahead for the entire distance to the first mark, twelve miles from the starting point. At the end of an hour the Meteor started out ahead of the Cicly, which had already distanced the other contestants. The Cicly challenged the Meteor for the weather berth, slowly passed her and lengthened her lead. The time at the first mark was as follows: Meteor, 2 hours 24 minutes 40 seconds; Cicly, 3 hours 20 minutes 20 seconds. As the wind had dropped a good deal, the sailing committee decided to shorten the course by one side of the Meteor and to instruct the yachts to come home direct from the first mark. The committee consequently borrowed all the available steam launches from the neighborhood and, with a member of the committee on board each, the launches started to intercept the Meteor and to advise them of the decision before they rounded the first mark. Acting under these instructions, the Cicly rounded the mark and started for home; but Emperor William objected to this change of the course because the Meteor was coming on the started on the Meteor show her best points. The sailing committee countermanded its previous instructions. The Cicly meantime had lost five minutes more in jibing. All the yachts with their spinnakers boomed out on starboard then started for the second mark, seven miles away. The Meteor rounded the second mark a long way ahead of the other yachts, who were at the start of the homeward leg of eleven miles it was almost completely calm. All the excursion yachts left the racers at this point. The Meteor was in the lead and the Cicly in view of the complications which arose from the change of orders. The Meteor finished 7 minutes 22 seconds ahead of the Cicly, but under her time allowance the English boat won by 1 minute and 11 seconds.

BERKELEY, June 29.—F. Louis Soldan, LL.D., Superintendent of Instruction of the Public Schools of Berkeley, and acknowledged as one of the foremost educators of the Middle West, is in Berkeley. He has come to conduct courses in pedagogy in the university summer school, which opens to-morrow. The presence of Dr. Soldan in the department of education of the vacation school at Berkeley lends a large amount of importance to that branch of learning, for his theoretical knowledge of the subject is backed by a record of thirty-nine years' active experience in every branch of the School Department of St. Louis. Dr. Soldan first made a name for himself as director of the St. Louis Normal School, one of the largest institutions of its kind in the country. After holding this position for twenty-four years he was elevated in 1882 to the office of Superintendent of Public Instruction, which position he now holds. Besides this he is a lecturer at Washington University and at the University of Missouri. The St. Louis educator's wide experience in school affairs will make his lectures at the summer session of the State Normal University authoritative. His two courses of lectures here on "Practical Education" and "School Administration" are of the highest quality and normal schools, functions of public and normal schools, functions of the school, and the curriculum of common schools and high schools. Dr. Soldan has much to say in praise of the school system of St. Louis. We feel that the highest position among the school systems of the country, said he, "because it was at St. Louis that the long-abandoned public gardens was first established, twenty-seven years ago, and there they have been the largest and most successful. Out of eighty-eight public schools, seventy have a kindergarten department attached. Every new schoolhouse erected includes a kindergarten department. The system of school administration is unique and during the six years of its existence has been emulated by all. All executive work is in the hands of the heads of departments. The Superintendent of Schools nominates, appoints and school employees and their names are accepted or rejected by the Board of Education. The same holds for all textbooks used in the schools. This is not Dr. Soldan's first visit to the coast. He has attended meetings of the National Educational Association, which have been held in San Francisco and Los Angeles.

By hard work the Fire Department got the blaze under control. Quite a large crowd visited the beach, the weather being ideal.
