

DR. PIERCE'S REMEDIES.

THE MAN IN ARMOR

Was no match for the microbe. Giants he might slay but this microscopic organism defied him, and in many a campaign more men were destroyed by camp diseases than by the enemy's sword.

The signs of impure blood are easy to read. Pimples, boils, and eruptions generally proclaim the blood to be impure. Scrofulous sores and swellings, salt-rheum, eczema, etc., are other signs of a corrupt condition of the blood.

Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery purifies the blood and cures diseases caused by the blood's impurity. It cures scrofulous sores, boils, pimples, eczema and other defiling and disfiguring diseases.

It gives me great pleasure to express my faith in the virtue of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I suffered everything for two years with humor on my face, which had been the work of some of the most noted physicians. Was at once advised to go to the hospital; was doctored there for three weeks without any benefit being discovered.

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send 21 one-cent stamps for the book in paper covers, or 31 stamps for the cloth-bound volume. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

THOUSANDS FLEE BEFORE FAMINE

Crowd Every Ship Sailing From the Ports of Australia.

Special Dispatch to The Call.

STOCKTON, Sept. 20.—Mrs. C. T. Hassellman, who is visiting in this city, has received a letter from her daughter in Australia telling of the impending famine there. The letter says:

On account of the drought in Queensland I am afraid there will be a famine shortly. Bullocks are selling on the markets for 225—about 212 each. There has never been known before in the history of Australia. Road beef is in luxury now. One has to pay as much as 15 for just a small rib of beef.

All of the Government employes have been cut down in their wages and the engine drivers still threaten to strike because so much has been deducted from their wages.

Things are beginning to look very serious indeed, in Melbourne, so bad, in fact, that they are going to prohibit the shipping men from publishing the lists of the out-going steamers.

Mrs. Hassellman is a native of Stockton, but has spent several years of her life in Australia. She says that the whole of Queensland, to the extreme north of Australia, is suffering from the drought. There has been no rain in three years and the people are being rapidly reduced to poverty and want.

"When I returned here," Mrs. Hassellman said this morning, "I made the trip overland from Melbourne to Sydney. The trip occupies about a day and a half. For miles and miles one could see nothing but stretches of barren waste. Cattle were dying by thousands from starvation all along the route."

"People are all flocking from Australia, being driven to emigrate to escape starvation. A great many of these are finding their way to South Africa. The steamers are all overcrowded and it is almost impossible for them to accommodate the passengers. The Government is very strict and is trying every way to conceal the fact from the outside world that there is such an exodus."

"You cannot imagine what a sensation passed through me when I got back to old California. Here everything indicates thrift and prosperity. Australia is not a bad country, though, was beautiful when I went there, but you can imagine the conditions when there has not been a drop of rain in three years."

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT SPEAKS

You must face this fact that only harm will come from a proposition to attack the so-called trusts in a vindictive spirit by measures conceived solely with a desire of hurting them without any regard as to whether or not discrimination should be made between the good and evil in them and without even any regard as to whether a necessary sequence of the action would be the hurting of other interests. The adoption of such a policy would mean temporary damage to the trusts, because it would mean temporary damage to all of our business interests, but the effect would be only temporary, for exactly as the damage affected all alike, good and bad, so the reaction would affect all alike, good and bad. The necessary supervision and control in which I firmly believe is the only method of eliminating the real evils of the trust must come through wisely and cautiously framed legislation, which shall turn in the first place to give definite control to some sovereign over the great corporations, and which shall be followed, when once this power has been conferred, by a system giving to Government the full knowledge which is essential for satisfactory action. It might be better if all the States could agree to work along the same lines in dealing with these corporations, but I see not the slightest prospect of such agreement. Therefore, I personally feel that ultimately the nation will have to assume the responsibility of regulating these very large corporations which do an interstate business. I am well aware that the process of constitutional amendment is necessarily a slow one, and one into which our people are reluctant to enter save for the best of reasons, but I am confident that in this instance the reasons exist.

PASSING EVENTS IN FOREIGN CAPITALS

SVERDRUP TELLS OF ADVENTURES

Skipper of the Fram Describes Exciting Voyage.

Ruined Village of an Olden People Found by Explorers.

CHRISTIANIA, Norway, Sept. 20.—Captain Otto Sverdrup, who reached Stavanger yesterday from the Arctic region on the steamer Fram, in an interview gave the following details of the expedition:

I spent the winter of 1898-99 in winter quarters at Ellesmerland, whence scientific expeditions were started with sledges. The summer of 1899 was unfavorable and the Fram was obliged to return and pass the winter at Ellesmerland. A great part of the surrounding region was mapped out. There was a serious fire on board the Fram in May, 1900. It was started by sparks from the funnel and spread to the kayaks (Arctic canoes), which were smeared with paraffine for their protection. The rigging and masts caught fire and the total destruction of the vessel was threatened, but we succeeded in mastering the flames.

In August, 1900, we traversed Jones Sound and Carlsberg Strait and took up winter quarters at 76 48 north and 89 west. The region was rich in reindeer and polar wolves, of which we brought back living specimens. The following winter was more than ordinarily cold and stormy, the average temperature being 45 degrees below zero. Sledge expeditions occupied the spring and summer of 1901 and the early part of 1902. On August 6 the Fram succeeded in breaking away from the ice and arrived at Godhavn August 18. We left Cape Farewell homeward bound on August 28.

Captain Sverdrup added that the members of the expedition met no Eskimos in the regions visited, but he said that many ruined dwellings belonging to former periods were seen.

PROVES VALUE OF AN AIRSHIP

Spencer Tells What Occurred in the Aerial Flight.

Flying-Machine Inventor Describes His Strange Vessel.

LONDON, Sept. 20.—Stanley Spencer, the aeronaut who yesterday traveled nearly thirty miles over London in an airship of his own invention, to-day furnished interesting descriptions of his flight among the clouds. He said:

"At one time I feared an explosion of the balloon, but the automatic valve prevented a catastrophe. The engine also threatened to ignite the gas of the balloon, but this danger I also overcame. I had the machine under perfect control and I could turn in any direction. The people in the London thoroughfares looked like lines of ants.

"When I alighted the machine came down so lightly that a child might have been under it without being hurt. The distance covered was much farther than at first reported, being fully thirty miles. I dropped balls as I went along. It shows what an army could do with an airship carrying bombs. My ship differs from Santos Dumont's in that it is propelled in front. Its speed is 7 1/2 miles an hour. My present ship is a one-man affair, but I can make one to accommodate any reasonable number of persons."

TAKES UP COMPLAINTS FROM THE MINING MEN

Mineralogist Aubury Will Investigate the Alleged Operations of Scrippers.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 20.—State Mineralogist Lewis E. Aubury, who is visiting the city for a few days, has something to say about the reported location of large tracts of mineral land throughout the State by "scrippers" and timber locators.

Aubury said that he had received a number of communications from the miners in Siskiyou, Shasta, Sierra, Plumas, El Dorado, Calaveras and other mining counties, in which it was stated that large corporations were intruding upon their rights and that much of the so-called timber land was mineral in character.

A number of these miners were too poor to make the necessary contests, and the State Mineralogist was appealed to in order to prevent the wholesale grabbing of the mineral lands. Aubury said that it was his purpose to send field assistants to the various sections from which complaints had been made, in order to verify the statements of the miners. Should these reports be verified, then the Mining Bureau will formulate the necessary protests and forward them to the Commissioner of the General Land Office in Washington.
